There is nothing wrong with catching up on hunting and baseball. But is it intellectual snobbery to suggest that it might also be rewarding to spend some of those retirement hours at catching up on Shakespeare, or listening to the great music that is a part of our cultural heritage, or reading the political philosophy of Thomas Jefferson?

If some retiring executive were to tell interviewers that he inteneded to spend some of his leisure time at such pursuits, that might be a sign that we were reaching maturity. The implication is not that hunting and football games—or, for that matter, golfing or speedboating or other such pleasures of retirement—are signs of immaturity.

Recreation is valuable, and eminently justified. But there are values and rewards, also, in things of the mind and spirit. These, too, should play their enriching part when a man has put aside the harness of daily work.

Since scientists of Communist and democratic countries seem to hit it off harmoniously, it has been suggested that they be allowed to run the governments. But then who would invent new bombs and other weapons?

HOMELESS HECTOR

The owner of the house answering the bell to find a friend whom he hadn't seen for some time was at the door along with a large shaggy and rather muddy dog. Inviting them in they sat in the living room and talked about old times. The dog, after sniffing around finally hopped on the couch and settled down for a nap much to the host's dismay.

Finally the guest rose to leave. "Aren't you forgetting your dog?" said the host.

"That's not my dog," said the guest. "I thought he was yours."—The Gilcrafter.

SURPRISE VISIT

The father, passing through his son's college town late one evening thought he would pay his son a surprise visit. Arriving at the son's fraternity house he rapped on the door but was unable to rouse anybody. Then from a second floor window came a sleepy voice.

"Whaddyah want?"

"Does Steve Jones live here," said the father.

"Yeah," replied the voice. "Bring him in."

THE RUN-AROUND

The five men were ordering breakfast.

"I'll have pancakes," said the first.

"Hotcakes," said the second.

"Wheat cakes," said the third.

"Griddle cakes," said the fourth.

The last man looked around, puzzled. "They're all synonyms, aren't they?" he asked.

"No," said the waiter, "If you want synonym I can give you a bun."—American Legion Magazine.

Bible Comment:

Joseph Wished Only To Forgive His Brothers

Among the great figures that stand out in history is Joseph. We first see him as a gentle and rather naive lad, somewhat in danger of being spoiled by the favoritism of his father.

He is well-intentioned, guileless and unaware of the great hatred that his brothers have for him which so quickly changes the easy circumstances of his life. But when tragedy strikes him, Joseph shows the spirit that is in him. He is not crushed by misfortune and shows himself capable of standing trial.

He is honest and industrious and earns himself a position of honor and trust. Then comes the crucial time in which not only his personal honor but also his position are endangered. Here, again, he stands the test, though it means prison and degregation.

Elevation and greater honor than before follows. Due to his foresight, there is plentiful food in Egypt while surrounding countries starve. Joseph is able to keep his father and family alive.

Later, Joseph has his brothers entirely in his power, able to inflict any punishment on them he chooses. But all along he has no other purpose than that of forgiving.

It was permissible to take the unique way he did of bringing home to his brothers their own sin and the fullness of their forgiveness.

He was testing them, too. There was another brother at home, the apple of Jacob's eye. Would the brothers be jealous of him? Did they hate him. Would they try to sacrifice him?

Their attitude entirely changes in the grand climax to one of the greatest stories in all literature.

As Other Editors See It

Confusion, Anybody?

If you are not hep nowadays, you are pretty much of a square.

We were watching the Chevy show. A girl named Janet Blair was singing.

Janet Blair, I said, isn't she the one who's in "The Vikings?"

No, I was told, that's Janet Leigh.

Oh, Janet Leigh, I said, I thought the movie actress was Vivien Leigh.

No, Vivien Leigh is a British actress. She was in "Gone with the Wind" with Clark Gable.

Vivien Leigh, I said, I saw her in "Guys and Dolls."

No, you didn't, I was told, you saw Vivian Blaine.

Funny, I thought the singer was named Leigh, pronounced Lee.

The Lee pronounced Lee is Peggy Lee and she is a singer.

I thought that was Patti Page.

No, now listen to Janet Blair and stop confusing us.

Is this the Janet Blair who may marry a Brazilian in Rio?

No, that's Salkie Blair.

How do you keep track of all these things?

It's easy, the same way you can tell the difference between Kirk Douglas and Paul Douglas and Lewis Douglas and Lloyd Douglas.

So I went back to spinning my hula hoop.

Linden Merchants Blast SS Business-Industrial 20 To 0

Lincoln Park the last two Sundays has been the scene of two rough football onslaughts both of which have left a bad taste in the mouths of the twice-defeated South Side Business and Industrial gridders.

This week's fall of the local team was to be a much smaller margin than the game of the previous Sunday. Linden Merchants walked over the SSB&I team Sunday with a final score of 22 to 0 for the Linden boys.

The week before, the South Siders were scalped 50 to 0 by the TAT gridders also in the Buckeye Lightweight League.

Charles Peake and Jerry Merchant, former South High footballers, played an outstanding game for the local team Sunday. Both of these men made the All-City team when they were with South's Bulldogs.

John LaCorte, former North High All-City halfback, starred for Linden. Linden's defensive was also upheld by Bruce Walker and John Page.

George Popabich scored two TD's for the visitors while teammate Bob Crosi marked up one touchdown and pulled down two points for extra points.

The South Siders will meet Columbus Merchants Sunday at Lincoln Park. Game time is 2 p.m. The public is invited and perhaps what our team needs is a bigger South Side cheering section at the games. Let's turn out and give the boys some backing.

The TAT's, another group of local gridders in the Buckeye League, broke their 50-point win average by smashing Columbus Merchants 64 to 0 at Southview Field last Sunday.

Halfback John Moskus, wingback Tom Duckworth, quarterback Ron Allen, end Tad Hayle, end Bob Michel, quarterback Jake Sphar, and halfback Ralph Pentello were outstanding players for the victors. Defensive stars for TAT were Hayle, Bob Lazader, Merlin Burton, Ron Kimberly, Fred Nocera and Phil Chris.

Leaving the whipped Columbus Merchants for the whipped South Siders this week, TAT moves on to tackle Tri-Village, which has a two win, one loss record. The game will be played at Southview No. 1 field at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Fishing Contest—

brothers, Ronnie and Lonnie Ferguson, walked off with a first and second. There were other youthful winners. All this goes to prove that fishing really is a family sport—outdoor recreation that everyone can enjoy.

Another important point—we were swamped with entries. We expected a lot of fishermen to enter their fish, but the response was really tremendous. It substantiates a theory we've had all along, that there are many fishermen here in the Columbus area who enjoy the outdoors and who really catch fish.

We want to thank Carner's Boat Dock, the sportsman's headquarters at Madison Lake, for being the weighing station for the Hartley Fishing Contest. Also, a vote of thanks goes to the tackle manufacturers who made this contest possible—the only fishing contest covering the entire fishing season held in central Ohio.

The prize winners have already found out that these manufacturers make the best fishing tackle to be found anywhere.

South Set For Central After Upsetting Bobcats

South High gridders and South Side fans are looking forward to a sparkling game tomorrow night as the Bulldogs seek another victory from the Central Pirates at South's Mahaffey Stadium.

The Bulldogs left the Pirates feeling the sting of a 39 to 12 defeat during the 1957 season and will try to increase the margin of victory tomorrow.

South has won over Arlington and Grandview thus far this season. Central, in its only game played, was defeated by Steubenville Big Red. Because of the Friday school closing last week and because they weren't able to schedule a game Thursday, the Pirates have had an extra week to get in shape for the Bulldogs and the coming game should be a thriller.

Last Thursday, South defeated Grandview Bobcats 33 to 20 in a terrific offensive football show in which the Bulldog's Chuck Williams was outstanding. In their first home game of the season South unleashed a swift and effeiently run backfield to trample the Bobcats.

Williams, a 5'9" 133-pound senor, scored four TD's. His last score came on a sensational 89-yard pass-run play from quarterback Tom Woodyard, who passed within the edges of his own goal line. This came after Grandview was held at the South 11.

The Bobcats started the scoring with a 56 yard drive that ended in six points for Grandview. South evened the score, paced by runs by Bobby Goodwin and Chuck Williams, with Williams doing the scoring from the seven-yard line.

Grandview came right back to take the lead again when Roger Welsh tossed a six-yard touchdown pass to Bill Bonified. However, the Bulldogs were not to be denied and Chuck Williams raced over for paydirt on a fourth down and six situation. At this point South gained the lead and held it throughout the remainder of the game. The Bulldogs scored once again on a 20 yard heave from Doug Childers to Chuck Williams and the half ended.

Throughout the second half the Bulldogs' defense began to strengthen and they held the Bobcats better. The Bulldogs managed to get three more touchdowns in the second half and held the Bobcats to one touchdown to defeat them 33 to 20.

Settlement's Activities Call For Larger Staff

PARENTS JOIN DAUGHTERS in a meal cooked by the girls. The girls are members of the South Side Settlement's cooking class. Following a period of instruction, the girls try their hand at preparing a meal for their parents. There is also a class for boy cooks too, and many proud poppas come to try the products of their young chefs.

FENCING LESSONS are a popular activity at South Side Settlement. Teenagers, under the tutorship of experienced instructors, not only learn the art of fancing but gain agility, better form and improve reflexes. Boys and girls alike join in the fun, euipped with proper and safe fencing gear.

According to the South Side Settlement House, recent pleas in the Leader have helped procure volunteer help for the agency.

So, once again, we urge that persons who have spare time that could be used in some way to help South Side youngsters broaden their play and educational life, please contact the Settlement.

Mrs. William Fennell of 1905 Wager-st, Mrs. Henry Daniels of 1901 Wager, and Mrs. Jim Bennett of 330 Reeb-av, have offered their services for the morning nursery school.

Mrs. Genese Bohn, 665 Morrill-av, president of the Women's Progressive Club at Lincoln Park, has volunteer help from its members for the Golden Age Club.

These people will call on those "Golden Agers" who are confined to wheel chairs or who have limited vision and take them to their weekly meetings.

They will also help serve refreshments and act as hostesses at the first session Oct. 8.

The South Side Settlement is still in need of volunteer help. Leaders for afternoon and evening activity from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. respectively, can still be used or if you have some free time through the day the Settlement could use your help in various ways.

Organizing a lending library of its several thousand books for Settlement members or helping the staff make house calls in the neighborhood would be of great value to the agency.

For further information call the Settlement at Hi. 4-2115 and ask for Mrs. Victoria Wilson or Harry Varrath through the day or early evening.

New Cleaning Product Hits Market Here

A new product arrived on the Columbus retail scene recently which reportedly cleans everything in the home or office without odor or leaving an odor; is not inflammable and is non-poisonous. The name is Bubble-O All Purpose.

Jess Beard, the only authorized dealer in Columbus, said Bubble-O will be sold through all leading drug stores, grocery stores, office supply houses, filling stations, furniture and hardware stores.

New to this city, but in commercial use for a number of years by Fisher and Co., Bubble-O cleans rugs, upholstered furniture, draperies, automobile upholstery, suede shoes, hats, woodwork, office furniture, dishes and many other items.

The cleaner is reportedly fast-drying and relubricates fabrics bringing back natural lustre. The firm's biggest boast is the non-poisonous factor in its product.

DANGER SPOT RELIEF INDEFINITE

A DANGEROUS ENTRANCE to the South Side, namely the Whittier-st grade crossing at the New York Central and Chesapeake and Ohio railroad tracks, is still without relief. Complaints several months ago from a frequent user of the right-of-way brought about an inspection of the crossing by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission. A hearing is supposed to be scheduled soon to consider possible installation of flasher signals at the crossing. The tracks are now protected only by cross-buck warning signs. Flasher signals would cost between an estimated $10,000 to $30,000. B. F. Turner, commission inspector, has recommended the signals but a hearing is needed for approval. Turner said he originally suggested that an overpass be built at the crossing but the request was vetoed.

RARE 'CAR' GREETS MOTORISTS

AS IF STREETS AREN'T CROWDED enough already, from the looks of this scene last week at Thurman and Lockbourne-avs, local houses are taking to the "road" too! Actually this house, which was located at the corner of Frebis and Lockbourne-avs, didn't travel too far. It is being replaced by a service station being constructed by the Miller Construction Co. Ray Oldham A and A Associates, Inc., purchased the home and moved it into another site on Lockbourne near Thurman.

Food Markets This Week

Fruits—grapes, apples, bananas.

Vegetables—sweet corn, cabbage, potatoes, squash, eggplant, cello-packed greens.

Proteins—ground beef, rib-end pork roast, poultry, frozen ocean perch, small eggs.

GRAPES ARE RIPE

Autumn is grape time in Ohio. Cool, crisp weather and sweet, juicy grapes seem to go together. Ohio produces close to 15,000 tons of grapes in a normal season. This year the crop is expected to total nearly 18,000 tons. The quality is reported to be excellent.

Grapes grown in this state are best known for their use in juice, jams and jellies, and wine. However, Ohio grapes are also well known as table grapes. The important varieties are Concord, Niagara, Catawba and Delaware. Concord accounts for about 70 percent of the state's total grape production.

Concord is a favorite for juice, jam and jelly. These handsome blue bunches may also grace your breakfast or dinner table and are favorites to eat for snacks. Local orchards have started picking and are running tests for sugar content. When the grapes reach their peak of sweetness, many go into grapejuice — probably the last week of September. That's a good time to buy your grapes for making juice at home or for jelly, as well as for eating fresh.

Niagara is the standard white or green-white Ohio grape. Catawba is a red grape especially well suited for juice and wine. It is grown mostly in the Lake Erie region. Delaware is a light red grape of good keeping quality and a favorite for table use. Wine makers also like the Delaware.

When buying grapes—look for well formed bunches with plump, fresh looking mature berries, bright in color, and firmly attached to their stems. High color for the variety indicates good sugar content and flavor. Grapes do not ripen after they are picked. They are a highly perishable fruit—buy in small quantities and use quickly.

APPLE HARVEST

Harvest of the fall apple crop is under way in Ohio. Cortlands and McIntosh are plentiful. Other varieties are appearing as the season advances. This year's crop promises to be one with good supplies and high quality.

In the fall after summer's heat, wash and dry freezer exteriors thoroughly. If the surface shows rust, scratches or breaks, apply quick-drying enamel.

Group Is Formed To Aid Bricker Seek Reelection

A new organization, "Young Ohioans for Bricker," was formed last week to urge the re-election of John W. Bricker to United States Senate.

Clarence L. Blasier, 34-year old Vice President of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1957-58, will act as state chairman with a headquarters office in North Canton.

Senator Bricker, in accepting the backing of the new organization, praised the enthusiasm of these young Ohioans "as most gratifying and welcome."

"Young Ohioans and young Americans alike," declared Senator Bricker, "face a difficult and challenging future, and the future depends largely upon the extent to which young people interest themselves in the preservation of human freedom.

"I am deeply concerned that the decisions we make today are right, not only for today, but for the future which belongs to today's young people. No man is worthy of public office who does not have a feeling and compassion reaching beyond his own generation."

Grocery stores stocking over 5000 items are not at all uncommon.

A wool coat, suit or dress will lose its "wear wrinkles," and resume normal fashion lines if allowed to rest for 24 hours after each wearing.

Vehicle Registration Increases In County

According to figures recently released by the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Franklin County's legal motor vehicle population rose 9,309 during 1957, as compared to 1956 registrations.

County registrations suffered, however as Columbus' increased. Over 9,500 extra vehicles were registered under Columbus addesses in 1957, while county registrations dropped over 5,000.

The southeast section of the county showed the greatest decrease in vehicles. Registrations in Canal Winchester dropped from 1,137 to 856; Groveport's registrations decreased from 993 to 967; Lockbourne went from 238 to 208; and Hanford Village went from 151 to 73. Obetz showed the only increase, going from 507 in 1956 to 638 last year.

West Franklin Countians displayed an overall increase in motor population. Dublin jumped from 270 to 391; Hilliards went from 1043 to 1369; Grove City saw an increase from 2457 to 3242; Urbancrest moved slightly from 232 to 255! Valleyview went from 293 to 324.

Darbydale, 165 to 162, and Harrisburg, 195 to 186, shaded off very little, but New Rome's vehicle count plummeted from 242 to 177.

In the east, wide margins of increase were realized in Whitehall and Reynoldsburg. Whitehall registrations leaped from 6679 to 7380 and Reynoldsburg's motor count soared from a meager 854 to a respectable 1412.

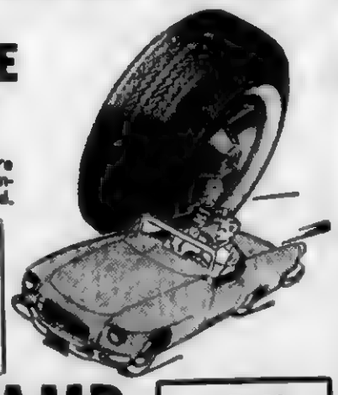
In evaluating the fluctuations in the county's various areas several factors should be taken into account.

One might jump to the conclusion that the so-called recession has hit some areas harder than others. However these figures are for 1957, not for the current year. It is true, the strictures of unemployment began to be felt late last year, but in the motor vehicle field the setback wasn't realized immediately. Thus, blaming the depression for the decrease in registrations in certain areas isn't consistent when one takes into account the fact that county-wide an increase was seen.

Some of the more obvious factors would be, in the case of the southeast district, the fact that Columbus has been spreading out, incorporating part of this area. Marion Township was incorporated within the last few months, gaining registrations for the city while detracting from the small municipalities which otherwise might have gotten the registrations.

Vast housing developments in Reynoldsburg and a general population move eastward might account for the rapid increase in Whitehall's and Reynoldsburg's motor population.

In west Franklin County a slight population expansion has been seen, which probably accounts for the small increase in vehicle registrations there.



A sweeping generalization might have it that the people in the city and the eastern part of the county are merely getting wealthier and can afford extra cars, while the southeasterners are just managing to tread water. This statement could be knocked in a cocked hat, though, should population changes be compared with vehicle registrations. Both Reynoldsburg and Whitehall show general population rises.

Another argument which could be used against the recession contention is that a sizable increase in vehicle registrations for Ohio was tallied—from 3,950,567 to 4,066,196.

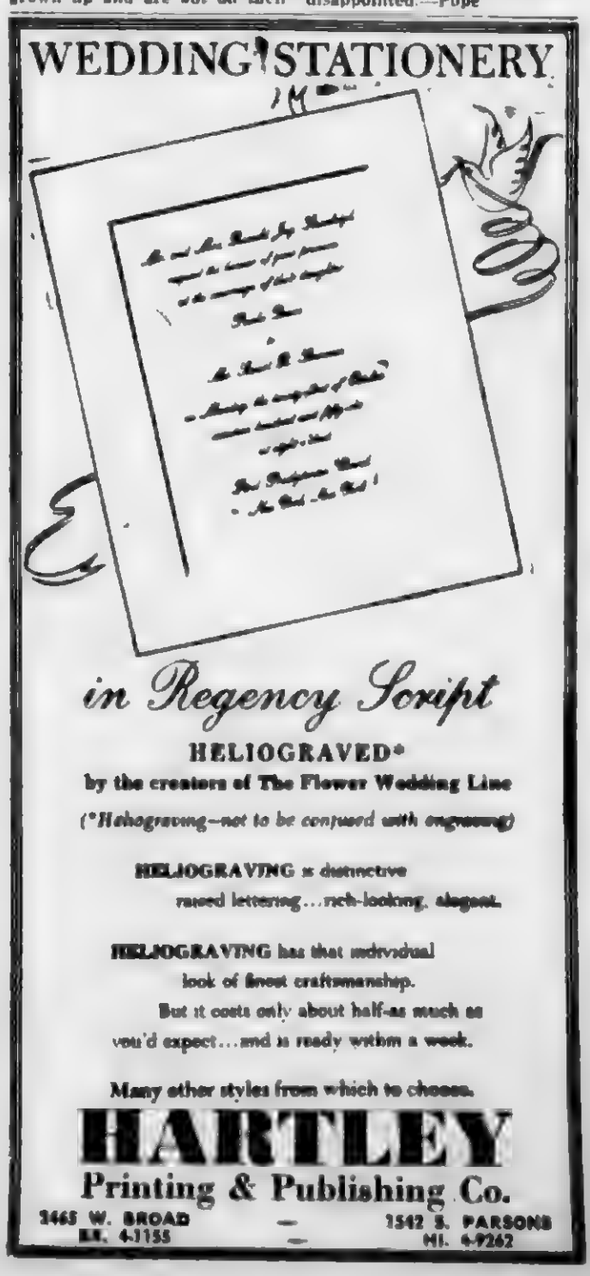
Parents, Baby Are Doing Fine

Dear Proud Parent:

This is to offer my sincere congratulations on the new arrival and to send a wish for the rapid growth of the sprout. Since the other five kids have grown up and are out on their own, I reckon it did get sort of quiet around the old homestead. Nothing like a youngun to keep things lively, huh?



Anyway, I wish you and the six all the best, and some day I expect to hear that you have adopted The New York Times.

If you don't remember me, I am yours

Sincerely
Esther Weakley

"JUST FOR FUN" is the way Mrs. Clarence E. Boyd classifies her pitcher-collecting hobby. Here, she is looking over an item known as a luster pitcher.

Mrs. Boyd's Hobby Grows And Grows!

The proverbial bull in the china shop could have a regular "ball" in the home of one South Sider who has collected 665 (at last count) pitchers in the past 15 years.

Mrs. Clarence E. Boyd of 926 Mohawk-st, has pitchers of every description, nearly every material, and ranging in size from one-quarter inch in height to 19 inches.

Needless to say, this is Mrs. Boyd's hobby. She said she couldn't remember just how it got started. "Someone gave me the first one, someone else added another and the whole thing just grew," she said.

Mrs. Boyd has been president of the Columbus Grandmother's Club for four years. She said many of her friends in the club have donated pitchers to her collection. She and her husband also travel a lot and have acquired pitchers from all but four of the United States (excluding alaska)! Her son sent her a few more from Europe while he was in the service.

Glass To Seashells

The pitchers, some of which resemble human faces, animals and flowers, are made of seashells, petrified wood, red cedar, all kinds of metal and milk glass. They carry such trade names as Royal, Dalton, Mison, Magolica and Luster Pitchers.

For the sake of our housecleaning readers, Mrs. Boyd has little difficulty keeping all those pitchers clean. Her husband, a handyman, has built several dust-proof cabinets for the protection and advantageous display of his wife's hobby.

No Duplicates

Amazingly, Mrs. Boyd said she knows her pitchers so well she has never gotten a duplicate. Even when far from home, growsing through a gift shop, Mrs. Boyd said she knows just which pitchers to buy and which she already has at home in her collection.

Several times, said the collector, she has been forced to buy a sugar bowl just to get a new or unusual pitcher.

"I think everyone should have a hobby. I enjoy mine because it doesn't take much of my time, is decorative and is a great topic of conversation for our visitors," said Mrs. Boyd. The South Sider is also kept occupied by three children, 11 grandchildren and being clerk at her church, South Congregational.

PTA Council To Meet

The Columbus Council of Parent-Teacher Association will meet at Central High School Thursday, Oct. 2, at 1:30 p.m. The program for the day will be "The Board of Education — Our Responsibility." This will be presented by a panel composed of Dwight Swisher, Mrs. Ralph Davidson, Daniel DeHayes, and Paul Langdon, president of the Columbus Board of Education. Kenneth Olbert, principal of Barrett Junior High School will give the invocation. Theodore Mayer, citizenship chairman of Columbus Council, will lead the Pledge of Allegiance.

Moose Resume Dinners To Aid Senior Citizens

The Civic Affairs committee of Chapter 206, Women of the Moose and the Loyal Order of Moose will resume the regular Wednesday night dinners Oct. 1. The dinners will be held at the Moose Lodge, 36 W. Sycamore-st, between 5 and 7 p.m.

Wilda Spratley and Floyd Arnold have announced that the dinners will consist of steak, mashed potatoes, tossed salad and pie. Proceeds will be used for the Senior Citizens party. The public is invited. Adults $1 and children 50 cents.

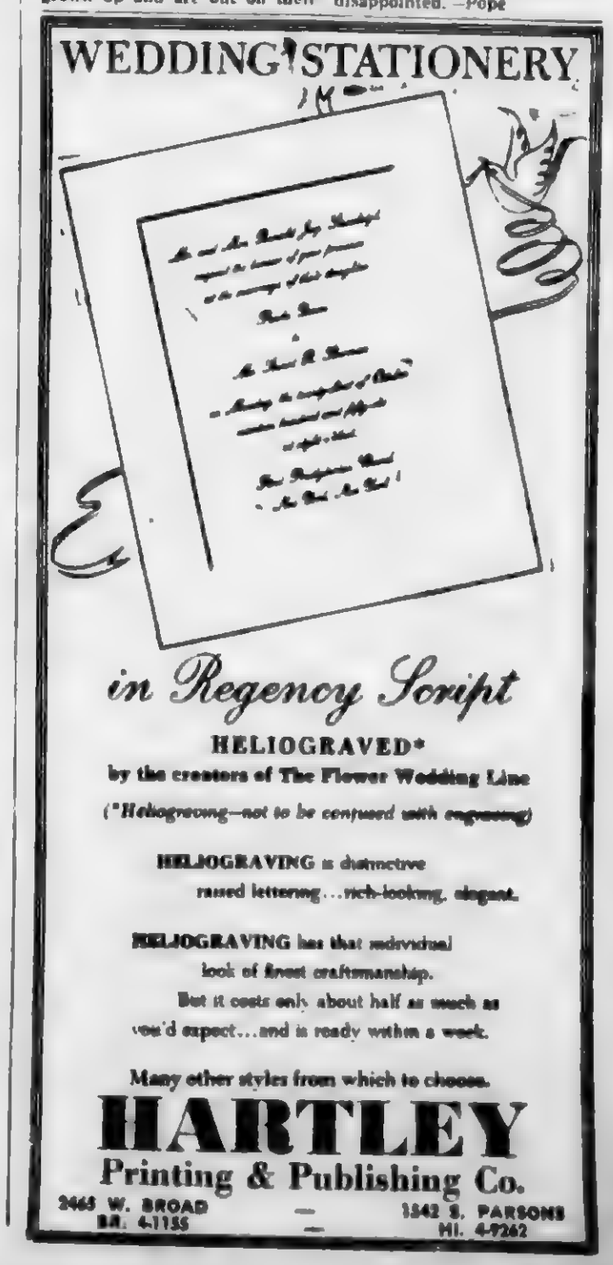
Letters To The Editor

Parents, Baby Are Doing Fine

Dear Proud Parent:

This is to offer my sincere congratulations on the new arrival and to send a wish for the rapid growth of the sprout. Since the other five kids have grown up and are out on their own, I reckon it did get sort of quiet around the old homestead. Nothing like a youngun to keep things lively, huh?



Anyway, I wish you and the six all the best, and some day I expect to hear that you have adopted The New York Times.

If you don't remember me, I am yours

Sincerely,
Esther Weakley

"JUST FOR FUN" is the way Mrs. Clarence E. Boyd classifies her pitcher-collecting hobby. Here, she is looking over an item known as a luster pitcher.

Mrs. Boyd's Hobby Grows And Grows!

The proverbial bull in the china shop could have a regular "ball" in the home of one South Sider who has collected 665 (at last count) pitchers in the past 15 years.

Mrs. Clarence E. Boyd of 926 Mohawk-st, has pitchers of every description, nearly every material, and ranging in size from one-quarter inch in height to 19 inches.

Needless to say, this is Mrs. Boyd's hobby. She said she couldn't remember just how it got started, "Someone gave me the first one, someone else added another and the whole thing just grew," she said.

Mrs. Boyd has been president of the Columbus Grandmother's Club for four years. She said many of her friends in the club have donated pitchers to her collection. She and her husband also travel a lot and have acquired pitchers from all but four of the United States (excluding alaska)! Her son sent her a few more from Europe while he was in the service.

Glass To Seashells

The pitchers, some of which resemble human faces, animals and flowers, are made of seashells, petrified wood, red cedar, all kinds of metal and milk glass. They carry such trade names as Royal, Dalton, Mison, Magolica and Luster Pitchers.

For the sake of our housecleaning readers, Mrs. Boyd has little difficulty keeping all those pitchers clean. Her husband, a handyman, has built several dust-proof cabinets for the protection and advantageous display of his wife's hobby.

No Duplicates

Amazingly, Mrs. Boyd said she knows her pitchers so well she has never gotten a duplicate. Even when far from home, growsing through a gift shop, Mrs. Boyd said she knows just which pitchers to buy and which she already has at home in her collection.

Several times, said the collector, she has been forced to buy a sugar bowl just to get a new or unusual pitcher.

"I think everyone should have a hobby. I enjoy mine because it doesn't take much of my time, is decorative and is a great topic of conversation for our visitors," said Mrs. Boyd. The South Sider is also kept occupied by three children, 11 grandchildren and being clerk at her church, South Congregational.

PTA Council To Meet

The Columbus Council of Parent-Teacher Association will meet at Central High School Thursday, Oct. 2, at 1:30 p.m. The program for the day will be "The Board of Education — Our Responsibility." This will be presented by a panel composed of Dwight Swisher, Mrs Ralph Davidson, Daniel DeHayes, and Paul Langdon, president of the Columbus Board of Education. Kenneth Olbert, principal of Barrett Junior High School will give the invocation. Theodore Mayer, citizenship chairman of Columbus Council, will lead the Pledge of Allegiance.

Moose Resume Dinners To Aid Senior Citizens

The Civic Affairs committee of Chapter 206, Women of the Moose and the Loyal Order of Moose will resume the regular Wednesday night dinners Oct. 1. The dinners will be held at the Moose Lodge, 36 W. Sycamore-st, between 5 and 7 p.m.

Wilda Spratley and Floyd Arnold have announced that the dinners will consist of steak, mashed potatoes, tossed salad and pie. Proceeds will be used for the Senior Citizens party. The public is invited. Adults $1 and children 50 cents.

Local Soldier Is Active In German Field Tests

Army Specialist Four Tommie L. Washington, 21 son of Mr. and Mrs Charlie Washington, 1305 22nd-st, recently participated in a field training exercise with the 24th Infantry Division in Germany.

Washington, an ammunition specialist in Battery C of the division's 13th Artillery in Augsburg, entered the Army in June 1955 and arrived in Europe in March 1956.

He was graduated from Carver High School in 1953.

CSSO Execs To Meet

The Executive Committee of the Council of South Side Organizations will meet tonight, Sept. 25, 7:30 p.m., at the South Side Branch YMCA, 864 S. Third-st.

Secretary Jim Wagner urges all executive committee members to attend the meeting, at which plans will be made for the organization's program this year.

Six South Siders Enter 1960 TB Seal Contest

Top prize in the local contest went to 62-year-old religious illustrator, Arthur F Schminke, 206 E. Lakeview-av, Wartburg Press.

SPECTATORS CAUGHT!

STAIRWAY EVESDROPPERS — These three youngsters sneaked down the stairs for a peek at the proceedings in Monett House Sunday when Southeast Lions Auxiliary gave its annual dinner for the blind of the city. Offspring of blind parents were placed upstairs to play during the adult program. Looking through the banister are, left to right, Madeline Winford, Mary Ann and Arthur Cunningham. Full story and pictures of the function are on page 2.

One-Ways To Start Monday

It will be every motorist for himself next week in this area as South Siders struggle with the expected confusion of 10 new one-way streets scheduled to go into effect Monday morning.

To add to the contrariness of next week's local driving, three other approved traffic changes will also go into effect Monday, according to Traffic Commissioner Otto Meier

They will include

- Left turn bans on Parsons av will be in effect at all signalized intersections except at E Mound-st
- Parking ban from 4 to 6 p m. along the west side of Parsons-av will go into effect.
- Reeb-av originally slated to become a west bound one-way street, will remain a two way street with a parking ban on the south side of the street, between Parsons and Washington, becoming effective Monday morning.

The necessary signs will be erected Saturday and Sunday The following streets will become one-way between S High st and Parsons-av.

Mithoff-st, east; Gates-st, west; Meier, west, Jenkins, east; Southwood, west, Markison, east Welch, west Morrill, east; Woodrow, west, and Innis, east.

Will Check Signal

The traffic signal located at Markison and High-st will remain in operation for the time being but will be checked for practicability by traffic engineers, according to Otto Meier

In the case of one way streets, as a rule there is no need for signal when one-way traffic is not coming into a thoroughfare. Markison will be handling only eastbound traffic, which may eliminate the need for the signal.

Meier indicated that the traffic signal may either be moved a block to another intersection or converted to a push-button operation for the safety of school children

PUBLIC HOUSING—Units still to be completed at Terrace Gardens stand at attention in anticipation of bids by Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority to purchase the buildings in an effort to provide housing for persons displaced by the current slum clearance program. Action on CMHA's bid depends a great deal on determining how to obtain cheap public transportation to and from the development, located on Alum Creek-dr just south of the County TB Hospital.

Project Sale Awaits Survey

The proposed sale of the 660 unit Terrace Gardens housing development to the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority seems to be hinging on a transportation survey.

Sale of the low rent apartment project by the builder Harold F. Zieg, to CMHA has tentatively been approved by both the Federal Housing and the Public Housing Administrations

The development, located at 2100 Alum Creek-dr, at present has no available public transportation, Russell C. Taylor director of the authority, has stated that the Columbus Transit Co will conduct a survey to see how bus lines can be extended to at least within walking distance of the project

Now nearly 25 per cent completed, the project was designed to house families displaced by expressway and slum clearance work If CMHA acquires the 47 acre development, Taylor said it will be used to house old people and lower income families

Elderly people and low income groups are not likely to own cars, and public transportation will be a necessity, indicated Taylor

Zieg said that during the nearly three months the project application office has been open, not one displaced applicant has asked for an apartment at the established monthly rental rates of from $67 50 to $87 50

The FHA's 221 provision, under which Terrace Garden is being built, requires that the project be integrated housing. Zieg reports that thus far he has had 34 applicants for apartments, one-third of them Negro, two-thirds white

The builder said federal requirements would make it practically impossible to continue the project without greater public interest. He estimated that CMHA could obtain the project for less than $6 million.

Some changes may be made in apartment designs if the housing authority purchases the project. CMHA would need fewer one and two bedrom units and would increase the number of three-bedroom units from 60 to 138. Monthly rentals would range from $20 to $60

Pick Bucks To Win

Pigskin Prophets Get First Test On Friday

With a batch of "warm-up" predictions already under their belt, South Side Leader pigskin fans can bear down on picking the right selections in this week's big Football Guessing Contest

The contest, explained in a full page advertisement inside the paper, gives subscribers a chance to try their hands at the sports writers' favorite chore—picking the winners.

Prizes for the opening round are $10 in cash, a free minor motor tuneup from Motor Inn 1749 S. Fourth-st and an oil change and lubrication from Loretta's Pure Oil Station, Parsons and Thurman-avs. Winners will be announced in next week's paper

Three prizes will continue to be awarded each week with the winner getting first choice. The second place winner will take the next choice with the third place finisher taking the remaining prize.

Prizes for winners of this week's contest are $10 in cash, $3 in merchandise from G.&S. Variety Store and an oil change from Tunison's Sohio Station.

Prizes for winners of this week's contest are $10 in cash, a recapped tire from OK Rubber Welders and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

For what it's worth, a glance at this week's entries shows the following concensus on who will win games to be played Friday and Saturday:

Newark to spill Franklin Heights, Central to nip St. Charles; South over West; and Aquinas over Eastmoor in the high school division.

TB Hospital May Become A 'Regional'

Benjamin Franklin Hospital, on Alum Creek dr, will remain open as a regional tuberculosis hospital under a plan which was discussed in the city last Friday for the orderly closing or converting to other medical use, of 1000 TB beds in Ohio

Under the proposed long-range plan, about half of the 22 existing tuberculosis hospitals would be closed for TB patients, the others to become regional TB control and treatment centers

The proposal was presented to a session of tuberculosis hospital officials and TB Society executives meeting at the Deshler Hilton Hotel

Local hospitals, under the plan, would close when it became economically unsound to operate them. The decline in bed occupancy in Ohio has resulted from a major reduction in the average length of stay per patient.

A spokesman for the TB group, however, insisted that the disease is not defeated, in fact, that more patients were hospitalized in this state last year than ever before

Man Helps Start Car, Then Steals It From Owner

A rather "faith-shaking" incident happened to Mrs. Julia K Mendenhall, of 598 Stambaugh-av, last Thursday, when her auto stalled and a passer-by offered assistance.

Mrs Mendenhall's car stalled near 1385 Parsons-av. A wrecker from a near-by service station pushed the auto to Jenkins and Parsons-avs, but the cars engine failed to kick over.

A young man standing by, offered his assistance to Mrs. Mendenhall The latter got out of the car while the youth tried to start the car. Finally, with a little aid from the wrecker, the car got started and the young man drove off with it — leaving Mrs Mendenhall.

Democrats Favor Hoermle In City Council's Deadlock

City Council Monday night continued to go round and round in an 18-day deadlock on filling the council vacancy for which South Side businessman, William P. Hoermle, seems a likely choice.

The appliance dealer was named as the Democratic councilmen's major candidate for the seat left vacant by the death of Council President W. Wesley Llewelyn.

The Leader announced two weeks ago that Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner had nodded toward Hoermle for the vacancy Monday night the mayor reaffirmed his support of the South Sider by declaring if the 3-3 deadlocked council cannot fill the seat in 12 more days, he (the mayor) will appoint Hoermle.

The mayor's determination to personally fill the vacancy if council fails to do so within the 30-day limit, was pointed up when he said, ". . . then you'll (councilmen) have the honor of taking me to court to see if it's legal."

A second vote, taken Monday night for the Democrat's first nominee, Catherine McGuire and the Republican's Snider, ended in another 3 to 3 deadlock.

Compromises Ignored

Both parties have offered compromises to settle the council deadlock The Republican proposal offered six alternatives in apportioning the vacant seat, the council presidency and the three council-appointed city officials' jobs among the two parties

The Democrats offered a compromise candidate for the vacant seat and an offer of the president's chair to the Republicans to no avail Both factions have thus far ignored the other's proposal

With just 10 days left to fill the vacancy without intervention by the mayor, councilmen are expected to try again to settle the issue during the next session slated for Monday night.

FINDING 'FREDDIE' A HOME . . . . . IS A NEIGHBORHOOD PROJECT

"I AIN'T GOT NOBODY" is the song of woe this one year-old dog is singing these days. His adopted "parents," neighbors in the Whittier-Kossuth-sts area, would like to find a home for the dog, who bears the title Freddie. The neighbors have paid to keep him out of the dog pound and have checked his health, which is reported very good.

Lovers of dogs are being called to the aid of their "best friend" this week to try and find a home for a little dog termed only as a "mixture" by the Humane Society

The black and white canine wandered into one of the South Side neighborhoods several weeks ago and was immediately adopted by the area's children

He was wearing no identification and the neighbors said they have exhausted every means in trying to find the dog's owner

Most of the families in the area already have dogs and would like to find a good home for this dog.

Kathy Fletcher, of 1693 Kossuth-st, and Sheryl Cash, of 1686 Whittier-st, have named the dog "Freddie" because he has been fed and housed in most of the homes in the area The name was taken from Red Skelton's comedy sketch, "Freddie the Free-Loader."

Kids Rob Piggy Bank

Mrs Fletcher and Mrs Cash have been taking turns watching the dog. Neighborhood children robbed their piggy banks to collect $8 18 to buy a license and have necessary shots given to Freddie

"The dog is a very friendly dog and loves children. I have even left him alone in the house with my dog and there was never any disturbance," said Mrs Cash

Mrs Fletcher added, "there would be no expense involved in taking Freddie as a pet. He has his shots and a license and all he needs is a home and some love."

Anyone interested in seeing Freddie and perhaps giving him a home, may contact Mrs. Cash during the day at CL 2-7431, or Mrs Fletcher in the evening at CL. 8-3438.

Alum Creek Dr. Is Closed For Extension Work

At the same time, Hamilton rd, from Williams to Bixby-rds, was opened late Monday following completed construction of a new bridge.

Council Approves Fire House Bid

Despite City Council's confusion-laden struggle to fill the council vacancy which continued Monday night, the "city fathers" did get around to giving the okay to one South Side improvement

Council authorized bids and contracts for $190,000 fire house to be constructed at Southgate dr and Parsons-av. Building is expected to get underway soon.

Mission Workers Set For Livingston

Two persons, active in the mission field will speak at services to be held Sunday, at Livingston Methodist Church, Third and Livingston.

Dr. Eugene A. Erny

They are Dr. Eugene A. Erny, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Oriental Missionary Society, and said to be an outstanding missionary executive and statesman, and Ruth Bergert, executive prayer circle secretary of the Oriental Missionary Society. She will present an up-to-the-minute report of three fields of mission work in South America, Brazil, Equador and Colombia.

For 20 years Dr. Erny, who will speak at the 7:30 p.m. service, served as a missionary leader in China and in India. In both fields he directed the work of the society as well as taught in the Bible Seminaries.

Dr. Erny began the publication of Revival Magazine in India, which today goes to National Christians in six major Indian language areas. It also is published in Chinese, Japanese, Japanese Braille, Spanish, Portuguese, and modern Greek.

Taking up his present duties as the Executive leader of the Society in 1950 Dr. Erny has traveled widely across America and Canada as well as Great Britain, presenting an impassioned and dynamic missionary challenge to the church. As Chairman of the Board of the Oriental Missionary Society, he has frequently visited and ministered in the ten countries where the Society is currently working.

Ruth Bergert, who will speak at 9 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services, gifted soloist and versatile musician, has served various parts of Latin America.

Serving in Colombia during the "blood-bathed" years, she has seen the native church in suffering but yet in victory. As an instructor on the staff of The Oriental Missionary Society's Bible Seminary in Medellin, Colombia, she has served at close range in the ministry of training a native church leadership in that land.

Miss Bergert's ministry here in the homeland as a Deputational speaker has been mightily blessed and the demands for her services are almost too numerous to fulfill. Until recently she spearheaded the Society's Deputational ministry on the West Coast and supervised its development.

In June, 1957, Miss Bergert was elected Executive Prayer Circle Secretary and has her office at Winona Lake, Ind.

SOUTHEAST LIONS Auxiliary President Mrs. Arthur G. Starrett, left, and dinner chairman, Mrs. Jack Karns, were kept busy satisfying the appetites of their blind guests at Monett House, Sunday. Auxiliary members served more than 75 blind people and their families.

"GETTING TO KNOW YOU" was the opening song of the featured vocalist at the Southeast Lions Auxiliary Sunday dinner at Monett House. Singer Mrs. Beulah McCracken "got to know" most of the blind people pretty well through her warm renditions.

Lions Auxiliary Hosts Blind Families

by Ann Driscoll

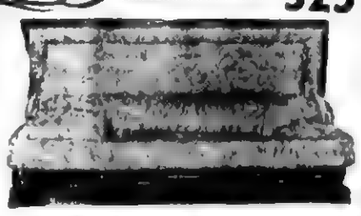
Monett House for the Blind, located at Fifth and Mound-sts. was filled with warmth and good times Sunday due to a fine program and dinner sponsored by a local service club auxiliary.

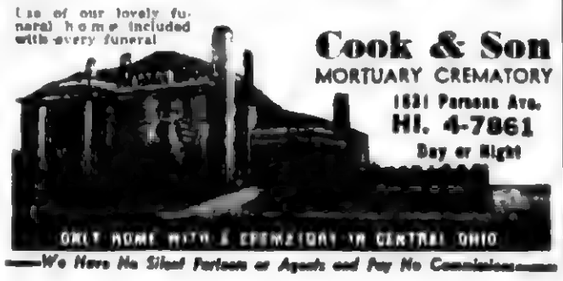
The Southeast Lions Club Ladies Auxiliary held its second annual dinner for the blind of the city gathered in Monett House.

Miss Mary O'Brien, executive director of the Columbus Association for the Blind, served as hostess and assisted the committee in completing arrangements and in serving the large group.

Entertainment was provided by Columbus professionals who donated their time and talent to brighten the Sunday program.

Mrs. David Wilson gave a dramatic reading of James Thurber's "Many Moons." For those who could see, Mrs. Wilson's artful facial expressions were most engaging. The blind seemed just as entralled by her captivating voice inflexions.





Mrs. Beulah McCracken, experienced vocalist, really made a hit with the blind persons through her sensitive interpretations of several Broadway show tunes and a couple of standards. She opened her program with a fine "group ice-breaker," Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Getting To Know You."

Mrs. McCracken followed with "On the Street Where You Live" and led the guests in a "group sing" of "Always" and several other old favorites.

The dinner was prepared by associates of Mrs. Root's Party House. Southeast Lions Auxiliary members served the meal at 5 p.m.

Children of the blind people who had been stationed on the second floor of Monett House during the program, were brought to a downstairs dining room and served in grand fashion.

In charge of the party were auxiliary members, Mrs. Jack Karns, chairman, and Mrs. Madaline Sauderell, co-chairman. Others on the committee included Mrs. S. Shoaf, Mrs. E. Pfefferle, Mrs. E. L. Ruse, Mrs. R. Alspach, Mrs. F. Lemman, Mrs. Jack Woodworth, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. J. E. Powell and Mrs. Arthur G. Starrett, president of the Southeast Lions Auxiliary.

I Am A Press Camera!

I am the Public Eye, I see for millions of people. I see for everyone who wants to look. I keep watch for the smallest child, weariest oldster, greatest leader and the most discouraged derelict.

The need for my vision was created when a man drew the first picture on a cave wall. Perhaps he drew a buffalo. And when he was done he saw the buffalo there—just scratch marks in the stone. Right then, man's scope was extended beyond the limited horizon of his own presence. By means of pictures, the sights and dimensions of a scene far away or long ago could be transmitted to the ever-hungry mind of man.

I, the camera, am the fulfillment of that need. I see everywhere—all the time. What The Public wants to see I watch.

I was there when a band of Marines raised the flag amid heavy fire on Iwo Jima. Most of that band are dead now, but they will be remembered because what I see is never forgotten.

I watched Man in his first attempts to conquer the limitless space. I fled with thousands out of a land of bondage known as Hungary, and then told my story to the world.

In one day, I can bring to anyone the sights from a hospital in New York, an airport in London, a riot-torn street in Cyprus, a frontier in Israel or a meeting with the Emperor of Japan.

Through me, the great bawling, squawling ever-busy giant called The Public can see beyond the mountains or around the corner. Without me, The Public is blind.

Science has sharpened my vision to clarity far beyond the scope of human eyes. The scientists have given me speed, perception to the most minute detail, and an unfailing memory.

Other men have given me themselves—for the Pubic Eye is but a tool for those whose destinies are wrapped in mine. I, the Press Camera, would be as blind as The Pubic I serve without a man to serve me.

In reality, I am slave to the photographer. But lacking me, he is an ordinary man. We are one, and what I have seen, what I will see, is caught only because we are there together.—by Joseph Costa, National Press Photographers Assn.

Bible Comment:

We Can Build Christlike Lives Through Faith

Perhaps a question that is in many minds is: Why should I be a Christian?

Isn't it enough to live a good life, to be honest and faithful in all of life's activities?

The answer to this is given to us very specifically in the Bible itself, even if it isn't apparent in daily life. Most men are conscious of their imperfections. There are few who can say that they have done all they could in the obligation of love and righteousness. If they did so, they would be in danger of aping the Pharisee who congratulated God and himself upon all that he did while the poor Publican, so conscious of his sins that he would not so much as lift up his eyes to heaven, cried out in his heart, "God, be merciful to me, a sinner."

A parable like that should remind us of the deepest thing in goodness. It is humility, and the man who is not conscious of something lacking might be found to be lacking the deepest thing of all.

Personal peace underlies personal salvation. We cannot experience the richness and fullness of the Christian life if there is discord and strife in our souls.

The Christian life begins with faith and the fact that we are reconciled to God through Christ. This is only the beginning, however, and we can build through constant faith the superstructure of lives that are Christlike.

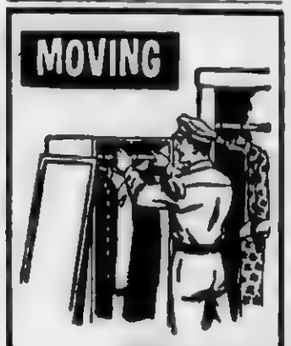
National Newspaper Week Is October 1-8

The week of October 1 through 8 is National Newspaper Week. This is the one time during the year when the more than 10,000 weekly and daily newspapers of the nation join hands as a group, and make a concerted effort to promote a better understanding of newspapers and the vital role they play in preserving the great American way of life, which we cherish.

Newspaper Week was instituted nationally in 1940, and is sponsored annually, by Newspaper Association Managers, Inc., a nationwide organization of state, regional, and national press association managers.

"Your Newspaper — Guards Your Freedoms!" is the theme for this year's 19th annual National Newspaper Week observance.



Newspaper Week is one of the more significant of the many special weeks observed in this country. It is one which seemingly at first glance is important to only one kind of business, but actually it is of major importance to EVERY citizen.

"Your Newspaper — Guards Your Freedoms!" is not just a high sounding slogan, either—it is an alert, and a challenge to each newspaper reader, and each editor—as citizens—to continue to wage a relentless battle, cooperatively, against ALL enemies, foreign and domestic, to keep America's press FREE!

Some fellers are afraid to ask for a gal's hand for fear of her old man's foot.

. . . for the women of our time . . .

This is Dr. George N. Papanicolaou, the physician who many feel has done the most for the women of our time. His development of the cell examination for uterine cancer has made it possible to diagnose cancer of the uterus, or womb, in very early stages.

Cancer in this site strikes about 33,000 women a year and claims the lives of almost half of them. The tragic fact is that many of these lives are lost needlessly, for cancer of the uterus is highly curable. If every woman had her doctor perform this simple, painless procedure once a year, thousands of those who have cancer of the uterus could be saved.

Don't gamble with your life! See your physician about a cell examination for uterine cancer soon.

County Zoners Can't Regulate Around LAFB

State Attorney-General William Saxbe has ruled that city, township or county airport zoning boards have no power over airports controlled or owned by state or federal agencies.

They do have authority to administrate zoning laws over airports under local government control, however, such as Port Columbus, but haven't the power to regulate zoning in areas adjacent to higher governmental agencies, such as Lockbourne Air Force Base.

South Looks Good For Cowboy Battle

Girded with pride, confidence and a few bruises left over from last week's narrow victory, South High's Bulldogs journey to Magley Field tomorrow night to meet West High's Cowboys.

It wouldn't take much of a sports analyist to predict another win for South over the Cowboys. The Bulldogs scalped West 18 to 0 in the 1957 season. South's 1958 record thus far tallies three wins compared to West's two losses.

The Eastmoor Warriors, a young team with plenty of new power, dropped West last week with an 18 to 0 defeat. The Cowboys showed a strong leaning toward a "battle spirit" and their roughness brought them a considerable number of penalties. This spirit in itself may mean a poor season for the West gridders.

However, tomorrow's game could be an upset for South if the local pigskin pushers have not strengthened their defense.

South carried off honors last week at Mahaffey Stadium after a 27 to 22 defeat over Central's Pirates. The Bulldogs displayed some pretty sloppy work on the defensive line in the early periods of the game.

The Pirates made the most of South's weak defense and drew first blood in the opening quarter with a touchdown by Henry Harrison. The conversion was good and the scoreboard tolled an 8 to 0 Central lead over the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs couldn't make it go on the offensive and were forced to punt from near midfield. Guard Tom Noble rushed downfield to cover the return but there was none. The ball hit a Pirate's shoulder and bounced into the end zone where Noble pounced on the pigskin. The conversion pass was good and the game was tied up finishing the scoring for the first half.

Great Half Time Show

It would be impossible to write this week's South coverage without remarking on the splendidness of the half time show, which may or may not have had something to do with a better ball game on South's part in the second half.

South's show followed a Hawaiian theme complete with hula dancers. The South Sider's display far out-glittered the Central "Sputnik" theme.

South Drum Major Karl Groezinger put on a grand show and seemingly didn't miss a twirl. He led the drum majorettes in a "hula hoop" finale and outlasted all the girls in keeping the hoops spinning.

Central's drum major, Donald Harter, seemed to be having difficulty with his baton twirling Friday night. Considering that Don studied twirling this summer in Europe, South should be proud of Groezinger who stole the twirling limelight.

South Revives In Third

Chuck Williams, high-scoring man in the county, pushed South ahead and added six more points to his own total early in the third period with a paydirt special.

Another tally by Williams and one by George Towers, ex-East High student, and another one point conversion ended the scoring for the Bulldogs.

With a 19 point lead in the final period the second teamers got their chance at game experience but it didn't prove to be the best time for the switch.

Central's passes soon brought the Bulldog's first squad back into the game. The spark of new power enabled the Pirates to better the defensive until they scored.

Two 30-40 yard aerials caught the Bulldogs with their eyes closed in the last quarter. While South was resting on a 27 to 8 point lead, they were surprised by two quick touchdowns to cut their lead to five points. However, the Pirates were forced to kick after the last score and never touched the ball again as substituting quarterback George Jones ran the clock out with a series of sneaks.

When South received the final kickoff they stalled the clock and ended the game victorious, 27 to 22.

Brown Pays Newspapers High Tribute

By Ted W. Brown
Ohio Secretary of State

"Your Newspaper Guards Your Freedoms."

That is the slogan of National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8. There never was a greater truth and it behooves us to constantly bear this truth in mind — not for just one week but for all time.

A short time ago it was my privilege to issue a proclamation establishing the entire month of October as "Inform Yourself and Vote Month," looking toward the coming general election in Ohio on Nov. 4.

It is quite fitting that this special month also should start with National Newspaper Week for certainly newspapers do much to not only keep our citizens informed about election matters but they are the constant guardians of all our basic freedoms, including the precious right to vote a free and secret ballot.

There are interlocking benefits to be derived from the exercise of our franchise at the polls. Our freedoms, such as the freedom of religion, freedom of speech and the freedom of the press, are made more secure by a full and free exercise of our right to vote and, in turn, the guarantee which we have given to newspapers of their freedom to write and print the truth places them on duty as constant sentinels, ever guarding these same freedoms.

THE ORIGINAL PARSONS BRANCH LIBRARY opened 30 years ago this Saturday with little fanfare. The branch will mark the occasion with just a nod this week and look ahead to another 30 years of serving the South Side.

Parons Branch Library Celebrates Its 30th Anniversary This Saturday

Thirty years ago this Saturday, the Parsons Branch Library came to the South Side. Only it wasn't a Saturday when the branch opened. It was on a Thursday, Oct. 4, 1928, and the opening was without fanfare.

For several years previous, the pressure had been great on the Columbus Public Library to open branch libraries, the feel-came from the city, City Council had to appropriate the necessary money for the opening ing that the Main Library, at 96 S. Grant-av, was just too far away for children and adults to gain the advantages of the large library collection.

But since library funds then of the neighborhood branches. A "petition in boots" of club women and PTA representatives marched on City Hall on Jan. 17, 1927. Two weeks after the determined ladies made their demands, City Council appropriated $40,000 for the purpose of opening branches on the South Side, on the Hilltop, in Clintonville and in Linden.

The quarters to house Parsons Branch were leased from Pete Kinear, well-known South Side candy manufacturer and inventor of note, at 1124 Parsons-av. There the branch was to remain until completion of the present library constructed at 845 Parsons-av in 1956.

Originally Kinear had used all three ground floor rooms of the store building for his candy business. Then economic hardships hit and he was forced to lease most of the building. For several years after the library moved into the three ground floor rooms, Kinear operated his candy concern out of the basement.

Selection of a librarian in charge was a simple matter. Because of the distinctly German flavor of the community, the job went to Miss Margaret Bausch, as assistant in the Main Library whose family was of German stock and had always lived in the South Side, who spoke German fluently, and who had attended South High School and Third Street and Stewart Avenue Elementary Schools before going to Ohio State University.

Miss Bausch, still the librarian in charge of Parsons Branch, has the further distinction of being the only one of the four first branch librarians still in the same job.

"My speaking German was not too unusual," said Miss Bausch, "my parents urged me to speak it the first three or four years of my life to please my grandparents, who conversed in the language at home."

Starts With 1800 Books

The branch opened with 1800 books on the shelves — far too few as the library board was to learn when it visited one day shortly thereafter to find only four juvenile volumes still on the shelves. It also boasted 26 magazines, reference facilities, and newspaper reading files.

"Children have always been the biggest ushers at Parsons Branch," Miss Bausch declared. "We had the further distinction of being the only branch in the city with German language books on the shelves—a collection swelled by later gifts from old-time German residents and library purchases.

Eventually the collection came to include about 500 German volumes. By the mid-thirties interest in German language had begun to decline tremendously. It received a shot in the arm from the influx of German-speaking war brides immediately after World War II and now runs at a moderate pace, Miss Bausch said.

Through the years the great interest of neighborhood children in the library has grown of the reasons for building the new branch was to provide a special story hour room for the youngsters, a facility that the cramped quarters of the old building would not allow.

Daring Librarian

Miss Bausch does not share the reminiscences of some of the other first branch librarians who "toted" stacks of books on the streetcar from the Main Library to her branch. For she had her own automobile as early as 1923. She remembers that she was considered "rather daring" by other members of the staff.

A not too pleasant memory of the early days was a dripping skylight that forced staff members to place buckets at the ends of the circulation desk every time it rained. Finally, the skylight was boarded over.

Among the early assistants at the branch was Carrie Fleming, now Mrs. Phillip McNairy, wife of the former pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. Marie Zapp, now in the travel section at the Main Library, too, was an early staff assistant at Parsons Branch.

Originally the branch was open six days a week from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. and at least a dozen children, their lunches bolted in haste, were waiting when the doors opened, anxious to browse before returning to school. But a big rush began at 3 p.m. when school was out.

Kiwanis Kids' Day Is LAFB Feature

By Lloyd Wilkinson

A South Side 10-year-old climbed a ladder Sunday afternoon transporting him from the hard concrete apron of Lockbourne Air Force Base to the skipper's seat in a World War II B-25, to the magic air-borne make believe where lone pilots fight buffetting winds, storms, and enemy interceptors.

It was Kiwanis Kids' Day at the local SAC Jet reservation, and hosting Lockbourne officials and Columbus Kiwanis Clubs made sure that each junior and junior miss had opportunity for the most of everything — ice cream and soft drinks and hot dogs, and more important, a chance to crawl into the historic command seat of planes such as those which buzzed Tokyo.

The youngsters, and countless others, pressed each other in an almost four-hour steady line for the chance to crawl through the hatch, to turn the big wheel, kick the pedals, shove levers and press buttons.

An adult spectator standing near was moved to question the probability that this particular plane, one of those made famous by Gen. Jimmy Doolittle raid on Tokyo, would be land bound for ever more. A Lockbourne sergeant had the military answer in well rehearsed rhetoric. He said, "the probability of disrepancy in this ship will be very high."

Patient GI's gave up their Sunday holiday for the Kid's Day event, directed the traffic, gave the kids a boost up the ladders to high better-see-places and answered endless questions: How fast? How high? Famous battles? Names?

The names wrought a special magic of their own (example: Starfire); and so did the fabulous jet innards of the bombers, reconnaisance and faster-than-sound fighters. All afternoon, between refreshments and while jet fighters slashed Columbus skies overhead, the kids poked heads into air scoops, cockpits and hatches, and made careful review of the controls. This was better than television!

The Statistics

About 5000 kids attended in the company of either their parents or Kiwanians.

All had a chance to be winner of a "name the plane" contest, and to become either Base Commander of the Day, 301st Commander of the Day, 376th Commander of the Day, 87th Commander of the Day or 166th Commander of the Day.

All had a chance to win prizes that included bicycles, roller skates and playground equipment.

Kids from St. Stephens Community House, South Side Settlement House, and Schiller Park were guests of Southern Kiwanis which provided strips of refreshment tickets and transportation.

Guide Forms Booklet

Again in this issue, subscribers to the six Hartley newspapers will receive a weekly guide to the top television program on all four Columbus area stations. To fold the page into a handy booklet, follow these simple instructions: Taking the page as it is presented in the paper, fold it vertically in half. Then fold the top of the page to the botton twice until the front page of the section appears. The first three days then follow in order. By turning the page over, the other four days appear.

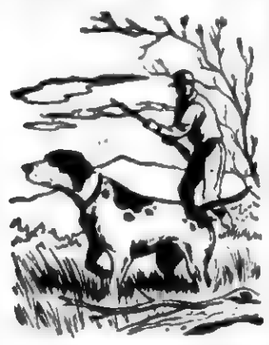
INSIDE ON THE Outdoors



By ROD COCHRAN

For Some Real Fun, Take A Dog Hunting

Much like today, hunting in grandpa's time was one of the top outdoor activities. But, unlike today, a lot of the hunting a generation or two back involved an element of urgency. It had a main purpose of putting meat on the table.

Times have changed. Present day gunners, less concerned with pounds of meat, are placing greater emphasis on the healthful recreational values which hunting provides. And each year more hunters are enlarging on their hunting pleasure by adding the refinement of a good hunting dog.

Some years ago I had the opportunity of hunting with a pretty good beagle over in Muskingum County. A couple of trips out with the McBride brothers and their dog convinced me that I had to have a beagle as a hunting partner. Our first beagle was Lady, and she came to us when she was six years old. I had the good fortune to buy an extremely good hunting dog the first time I tried.

Now Lady has gone to her reward, and my present rabbit hunting companion is Trudy—an expectant mother. The pups will come this month, and I hope to have them weaned by the first or second week of rabbit season so that Trudy and I can head for the fields and brushy fence rows.

Beagles Need Little Training

If you're a rabbit hunter and haven't dropped your game in front of a merry pack of yapping beagles, then you have yet to enjoy your sport to the fullest. If there's a gun-dog breed born with everything they need to do their job right, it's this diminutive hound. Unlike pointers, retrievers and other sporting breeds, their mission in life is not to find and mark game for the hunter, but to chase it. They need very little training, for the desire to follow a trail has been bred into beagles through many generations of selective breeding.

Perhaps upland game birds are your specialty — pheasants, grouse and quail if you are able to hunt in neighboring states. If so, you have a great variety of hunting dogs from which to choose. English setters and pointers are the old standbys and continue first in popularity.

But there are a number of other pointing dogs, also capable of doing a good job. And if you've thrilled to the wild thrashing of a pheasant flushing unexpectedly from a fence row, just imagine hunting the wily ringneck using an intense, hard-working, pointing dog. You will get a double thrill, when from break-neck speed he skids to a stiff-legged stop, tail high, and with a hypnotic stare he tells you, "He's right there, boss."

And don't let your dog assistant quit his job with merely finding game. Some will retrieve naturally, while others may require a little coaxing—even urging. But any effort given over to sharpening up the retrieve will pay off handsomely in the recovery of game which would otherwise be lost.

Retrievers Are Valuable

For serious waterfowl hunters a good retriever is a must. He'll save plenty of ammunition, and even more important—birds. If you're the kind of gunner who doesn't believe that you have to be miserable to have a good time, then a strong water dog is what you want. The dog will save you many a weary step plodding through mud, and will find birds that you could never locate. How many times have you spooked an incoming flight of ducks by being caught out of the blind trying to corner a cripple? A retriever will solve your problems.

For more fun this hunting season, take a dog with you.

OCTOBER PLENTIFULS

U.S. apples, potatoes, broiler-fryers, beef, pork, small and medium eggs, cheese, honey, peanut butter, frozen and canned berries.

POTATO CROP IS BIG

Potatoes make important eating for millions of people all over the world. They yield heavily and are relatively inexpensive. This is especially true this year. U.S.D.A. reports the fall potato crop as one of the largest on record—11 per cent above last year. You can expect plenty of potatoes at attractive prices.

Potatoes in Ohio—Katahdins are the chief variety grown in Ohio, although some Cobblers come to market in July and August. Only about 40 per cent of the potatoes consumed by Ohioans are grown within the state. Nearly one-third of Ohio's potato crop goes into potato chips.

"Buckeye" Brand — Some 300 growers in this state belong to the Ohio Potato Growers' Association. They sell potatoes under the "Buckeye" brand. All potatoes bearing this brand name are packed under federal-state inspection and meet U.S. No. 1 standards for quality.

How Many to Buy—Potatoes keep fairly well away from light at room temperature or slightly under. For this reason you can save money buying in quantity if you have suitable space to keep potatoes, and if your family eats enough to justify such purchases. For example, in one Columbus store, Sept. 15, 1958, U.S. No. 1 white potatoes were available at the following prices:

50 lbs., $1.39 or 2.8c per lb.
15 lbs., 49c or 3.3c per lb.
10 lbs., 45c or 4.5c per lb.
5 lbs., 39c or 7.8c per lb.

MOST SOUTH SIDERS MAKING ADJUSTMENTS TO NEW TRAFFIC CONDITIONS THROUGHOUT AREA STREETS

NEW RULES AND REGULATIONS ARRIVE—Parking bans from 7 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. on Parsons-av, left turn bans, and 10 new one-way streets, came to the area this week causing South Side motorists to adjust to new local driving habits. While yet this morning motorists traveling in opposite directions were still "greeting" one another in one-way streets, unofficial reports indicate that the changes are being accepted and will soon become routine.

Hoermle Bides His Time In Council Wings When Mayor Readies Official Approval

South Side Boy Wins Carrier Contest Bike

EAGER TO MOUNT — Billy Wanner stopped just long enough to pose for the photographer and then he was off for another spin on his new prize.

Perhaps the luckiest and happiest young boy in the city this week, South Sider Billy Wanner, 12, was holder of the winning ticket for the grand prize in the Hartley Newspaper Carrier Contest.

The prize is a new Huffy bicycle. Billy, who seems more than deserving because his own bike was stolen several months ago, was stunned when notified his ticket had been drawn.

Wins Against Great Odds

The youth's chances for the bike were slim. There were approximately 2,000 tickets entered for the grand prize. Each carrier was given one chance for each 10 points he made by acquiring new customers.

Some of the Hartley paper carriers had as many as 150 tickets entered in the drawing. Billy had two tickets in the barrel! That's luck!

Billy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wanner, of 940 Oakwood, said the youth had tried to build Wanner said her son's present "bike" was always breaking down. "The back tire alone had nine patches on it," added Billy with a chuckle.

The youth, who has been delivering the South Side Leader for about 15 months, is a seventh grade student at Corpus Christi School. Billy wants to become a priest and is now practicing with a little altar he set up in the basement.

More Than $900 In Prizes

Of the 250 carriers participating, 124 boys reaped prizes totaling more than $900 in value. Prizes range from a home disc-recorder to underwater swimming goggles. Carriers will receive their winnings around Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Confidence in City Government Is Lost

Most people who have appraised the current situation in city council in the matter of selecting a councilman to fill a vacancy now existing are becoming increasingly disgusted with the play of grown men who have been elected to carry on the processes of good government.

For a number of years, residents of the city have not held their councilmen in the high esteem that should be deserved by them. Fiascos such as the present one have tended to destroy rather than build confidence in city government.

It is a shame that men elected to these offices should try to adhere so closely to party lines that confidence of the public is destroyed while they wrangle.

A Democrat member of council died and a Democratic mayor and three council members maintain that a Democrat should be named to the post. If this isn't the will of the people they will change it at the next election.

The mere fact that the mayor would like to have William Hoermle named to the post seems to be enough of a red flag waved in front of three Republican councilmen that they just won't go along.

In their latest move they have even indicated their willingness to accept another Democrat, Rand Hollenback, of Clintonville. Hollenback is a good man, but so is Hoermle.

It all seems to sift down to one point: Let's just be contrary and try to make it tough for the mayor.

But who loses while this game is played?

Columbus City Government loses!

It reveals a point we have held for years . . . there is absolutely no difference in a Democrat and a Republican on the city and county level. Independent voters, registered either as Republicans or as Democrats, can take the "situation in hand

FIRE DESTROYS HAY

Spontaneous combustion apparently caused a $450 loss Saturday as 489 bales of hay were destroyed by fire in a field behind the Charles Frank, Jr., farm at 3673 Parsons-av.

Candidates Set For TV Debate

Republican and Democrat candidates for county commissioner find themselves face to face on the televised Columbus Town Meeting, Sunday, Oct. 12.

The candidates are: Fred C. Berkhemer and Lytle Zuber, Republicans, and D. J. Kunz and Nathan A. McCoy, Jr., Democrats. Earl Morris will moderate the program.

South Sider Apparently Choice To Fill Deadlocked Council Seat

If Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner carrys through his previously announced intentions, South Side merchant William P. Hoermle will be sitting with six other Columbus city councilmen when the legislative group reconvenes Oct. 20.

Just how long Hoermle will be able to stay put in the city's "hot seat," however, is another matter.

Mayor Sensenbrenner has claimed from the start that he would appoint a new member to the council if the deadlock wasn't broke in 30 days.

By doing this, the mayor would be taking advantage of a state statute which grants such authority.

But others argue, including Republican City Attorney Russell Leach, that state statutes do not apply to Columbus affairs because the city has its own charter.

They contend that only council has the right to appoint a new member to the legislative body.

Mayor Sensenbrenner reiterated his stand following Monday night's council meeting and said he would make the appointment before council meets Oct. 20. He had before indicated that Hoermle would be his choice if such an appointment were made.

Council will not meet this coming Monday, since it has been designated as a legal holiday following Columbus Day on Sunday.

Hoermle, waiting quietly in the wings for the mayor's nod, didn't comment on Monday night's council session, but did say:

"I'll accept the council vacancy if it is offered to me and if the people of the South Side want me. Columbus has been good to me and I would like to pay it back with service."

Two new names were added to the "legislative grab-bag" Monday when Republican councilmen first proposed Howard J. Stemm, Jr., 3337 E. Broad-st, then named Clintonville newspaperman Rand Hollenback as their "second choice" compromise candidate.

Stemm's name was voted upon with the expected 3-3 deadlock vote resulting. Democrats said they would have to consider Hollenbeck more thoroughly before voting while giving the feeling that he wouldn't fill the bill.

New Hospital To Be Open On Monday

Lincoln Memorial Hospital will open next Monday morning.

The new 65-bed general hospital is located at 3341 E. Livingston-av. The opening announcement was made by Dr. A. H. Kanter, president of the board of trustees.

A privately financed construction, Dr. Kanter said the $1 million hospital was built to serve the eastern area.

The hospital will have an open staff with all licensed physicians who are members of the Columbus Academy of Medicine entitled to join.

The public is invited to view the interior of the structure at an open house scheduled for this Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Plan Bake Sale

Members of Trudeau Guild 10 are readying their favorite recipes to prepare for a bake sale which they will hold at Eberts Drug Store, 1426 S. Fourth-st, Saturday, Oct. 11. Proceeds of the sale will be used to aid patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital.

Nazarenes To Mark Golden Anniversary With Services

Wilson Avenue Church of The Nazarene will join Nazarene's around the world in simultaneous golden anniversary worship services Sunday morning.

The church will also participate in evangelistic campaigns planned by many Nazarene Churches starting with the evening service, Oct. 12.

FOOTBALL FIGURES FLY

Pigskin Winners Named

U. Quarry, 88 E. Mithoff, and Ted Mazza, 1183 Oakwood-av, were the top guessers in the first week of the South Side Leader Football Guessing Contest picking 15 out of 23 winners.

Winning third choice in the contest was Herbert Benefield, 83 E. Mithoff, who correctly guessed 14 winners.

Quarry will have his choice of accepting $10 cash, a free minor motor tuneup from Motor Inn, 1747 S. Fourth-st or an oil change and lubrication from Loretta's Pure Oil Station, Parsons and Thurman-avs.

Television fans watching "The Price Is Right" last week saw a former South Sider acquire a goodly share of the night's prizes, when Pete Crouse was one of the contestants. Pete, a lifelong area resident until three years ago, was in New York attending the National Hardware Dealers convention when the opportunity came to appear on the network show.

A deluxe swimming pool and accessories, shower and a complete set of power tools, all added to nearly $5,000 worth of winnings for the manager of Zettler's Central Point store. In addition to the thrill of being part of a television show, Pete and his wife, Kate, visited the Jack Paar show, saw the sell-out "Music Man" and shopped on Fifth-av. The Crouse's now reside at 673 Wetmore-rd.

Mrs. Crouse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton, 1522 Wager-st. We should send belated birthday greetings to Mr. Hamilton, for his Sept. 21 birthday, and to Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton for a 41st wedding anniversary on Sept. 24. Family gatherings marked both dates.

Marian Toth, 1524 S. Fourth-st, another daughter of the Hamiltons, celebrated a birthday on Oct. 2.

Mrs. Clarence E. Boyd, 926 Mohawk-st, president of the Columbus Grandmothers' Club, 270, has been attending the 17th annual convention of the National Federation of Grandmother Clubs of America, held in Chicago from Oct. 5 through 9. The club will observe Grandmother's Day Sunday, Oct. 12. The two oldest grandmothers will be honored. They are Mrs. Nettie Caslow, 605 Fairwood-av, who is 93 years old, and Mrs. Jessie Wilson, 74 E. Norwich-av, 88 years old.

The South High gridiron powerhouse will try to extend its winning string tomorrow night, Friday, Oct. 10, over Aquinas.

Our ailing list . . . Carl Yates who was in Room 186, Mercy Hospital, at the time we wrote this wordage . . . Richard Enyart, 525 Corr-rd, who has a broken leg . . . Pauline McCain, 1547 S. Champion-av.

Pre-teens Birthday

Birthdays in the pre-teen set . . . Jacalyn Holtz, 319 Hinman, Oct. 14; Virginia Naugle, 1586 S. Third-st, Oct. 15; Margaret Lloyd, 1577 S. High, Oct. 14; Ricky Summers, 1735 S. High, Oct. 14; Jimmy Roseberry, 1605 Parsons, Oct. 13; Carolyn Williams, 322 E. Morrill, Oct. 12; Charles Wood, 407 E. Morrill, Oct. 13; Larry Blackburn, 1570 S. Fourth-st, Oct. 14; Janet Guss, 412 E. Jenkins, Oct. 12; Lloyd Gray, 1380 Parsons, Oct. 17; Billie Lou Call, 1460 S. High Oct. 14 and Paula Pieplow, 153 E. Gates, Oct. 12.

Gates-Fourth Methodist Church will be the scene of "Home Talent On Parade" Thursday, Oct. 16, at 7:30 p.m. The Ruth Circle is in charge of the evening's entertainment, which includes vocal and instrumental offerings. We heard enough of the plans to know that the evening will be an enjoyable one. Light refreshments will climax the program! Mrs. George Stertzer is the chairman.

Returns From Europe

We talked to a young lady who has just returned from a three months visit to France and she was still bubbling from the experience. Nancy Roberts, 573 E. Gates-st, is the recently returned voyager. She arrived home on Sept. 29. She accompanied a schoolmate, Lucien Manus, and Lucien's mother on the overseas voyage.

Lucien and Nancy graduated last June from St. Joseph's Academy. While in France, the three made their headquarters in Marseille, with relatives of the Manus'. Other places of interest that Nancy visited were in famed Paris and Corsica, Napoleon's birthplace.

The Manus' are still in France and will remain there until early spring. Miss Roberts found the French people warm and hospitable. Now that she is once again in Columbus, she will be making final arrangements for her December wedding to Jim Zimmer, 1596 Ashland-av.

St. Mary PTA will meet tonight at 8 p.m. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Lucille Burke of the Court of Domestic Relations.

It's "that time of year" again for Lucille Hussey, Lana Itskin, Chester Ramey, Grace McCaffrey, Paul Lenox and Duke Eichel."

Oct. 11 will be the "big day" for Joyce Ryan, 816 S. 17th-st, and James Vincent, 2422 W. Broad-st. They will exchange their vows in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Many showers have preceded the wedding date. Hostesses have been Viola Westenhaver, 65 N. Edgevale, who held a miscellaneous shower for her cousin; Mrs. Dale Edwards, 66 E. Innis-av, Mrs. Marvin Edwards and Mrs. Ed Wray, who helped to stock the bride with bowls and pans; Mrs. Gary Beckett, 584 Sheldon-av, and Patty Ruzika, a miscellaneous shower! Carol Weber, 1086 Miller-av and Mrs. Gene Dixon, around-the-clock shower (which was new to us and had to be explained); Mrs. Ed Bellman, 480 Siebert-st, Mrs. Dick Kane and Mrs. John King, a personal shower.

Joyce's twin sister, Judy, held a spinster dinner for the bride-to-be last evening, and the rehearsal dinner will be held in the Ryan home tomorrow evening. Joyce is a teacher in the Columbus public school system and James, a former Seabee, is with the City Division of Water.

Teen-age birthdays include those of Rose Barkie, Oct. 15 and David Colegrove, 1453 Champion-av, who celebrates his natal day today.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Lee Ryan, 1614 Livingston-av had guests from New Jersey last weekend: Mrs. John Rudmann and Mrs. Alva Rudmann were here from Westerville, N. J.

South High School parents will soon be receiving letters from that school's PTA, inviting them to become members of that organization. The membership drive will be held Oct. 13 through the 17.

Multiple Club Activities Interest Barrett Pupils

The greatest part of Barrett Junior High School's club program is being carried on after school from 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. As the term denotes, an extra-curricular activity is one which is undertaken in addition to the academic program.

The Hi-Y, under the direction of J. C. Drenning and James Furgason, works jointly with the South Side YMCA. This organization seeks to develop leadership and companionship among boys of high school age, within the framework of Christian thought and ethics.

Barrett's Hi-Y meets on the first and third Thursdays of each month, from 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. All Barrett boys are eligible for membership. Preference will be given to former Hi-Y and Gra-Y members. The $1.00 membership fee for new members includes the Hi-Y pin and the first year's dues. Former members pay a 50 cent fee for dues each year. The first meeting was held Thursday, Oct. 2.

The Y-Teens' Club helps girls to "grow in friendship with persons of all nationalities, races and religions, and in the knowledge and love of God." Girls in Y-Teens enter into such activities as Kinder Key caroling, the Blossom Dessert programs, the Easter program and a Christmas project. The membership fee is 75 cents. Meetings are held the first and third Tuesdays at 3:30 p.m., and the advisors are Mrs. Dorothy Beatley and Mrs. Patricia Shelkey.

Future Teachers of America seeks to interest pupils in becoming teachers, and it seeks to encourage those young students who already have a desire to become teachers. Opportunities are provided upperclass members to assist teachers in the classroom at various times in the year. Barrett teachers have observed with pleasure and pride that their FTA members can do a solid piece of work in planning and instruction. Any Barrett pupil with good grades is eligible.

FTA meetings are held on the second Tuesday of the month in Miss Brown's room. Miss Joyce Brown and Mrs. Nancy Hammond are advisors to the group.

C. V. Meacham's stage crew and projectionists perform valuable service for the building. These boys assist in showing classroom films, noon-time films, and in completing the physical arrangements for assemblies and evening programs. Eligible members make better than passing grades in, every academic subject. They meet at Mr. Meacham's call. Several 3:30 p.m. meetings have been held this year.

Barrett's Student Council is considered to be not an extra-curricular activity, but definitely a part of the educational program. For this reason its meetings are held during the school day and not often after school. The purpose of the Student Council is service to the school. The members help with ticket sales, they are ushers at meetings and assemblies, and they assist the PTA in various ways. They are elected by their schoolmates in their own home rooms, usually a boy and a girl from each home room.

Nominees must have high grades, they are screened by home room teachers, and their election is subject to approval of the principal. Vice-principal Ruth Castner and W. R. Gongwer are staff advisors for the Student Council.

In addition to these activities many pupils serve the school as office helpers, hall monitors, library helpers and squad leaders in physical education classes. Except for library helpers these groups do not meet as clubs.

Spectator

at any election and place their own candidates in office.

Most city councilmen have been elected with the support of both parties. It is quite disappointing therefore when such a situation as this arises and the councilmen adhere so strictly to party lines when in reality they owe the party little, if anything.

When will the people of Columbus wake up and see that men are placed in city government with enough backbone to forget the party line and vote unselfishly on the merits of the matters at hand.

We have contended that William Hoermle would make a good city councilman. It is particularly fitting that the South Side and Southeast should have representation in council. Hoermle fills this bill.

We still hope that at least one Republican councilman will make himself big enough to look to the best interests of the city, forget the party line and vote for Hoermle.

Make Fire Safety Foremost Thought

If you own a home or are planning to build or buy one, make fire safety a foremost thought.

Few things can take your home and one or more of your loved ones away from you more quickly and tragically than a fire. And one of the hardest things you'd ever have to live down would be the knowledge that the fire probably could have been prevented.

The fire safe home, Chief Walter Strickfaden of the Columbus Fire Department, points out, has two important factors: good family habits about fire and its dangers, and good construction.

Good family habits include such things as care with matches and smoking, good housekeeping to get rid of rubbish, proper use of electrical fuses, appliances and extension cords, and a sound general awareness of the ways fires start and how to avoid them.

Good construction for a fire safe home, according to the National Fire Protection Association, includes:

1. Built-in fire stops. These are barriers of wood or masonry between studs, joists, rafters, or stringers that serve to prevent the spread of smoke and fire. In existing homes, when open channels can be seen from the basement or attic, they should be blocked off by the homeowner with 2-inch lumber nailed into place or with bricks and mortar.

2. Solid doors on every room. An ordinary wooden door can keep smoke and fire out of a room for as long as 30 minutes. Ideally, bedroom doors should be kept closed at night. An intercom system can be installed so that parents can hear children.

3. Good escape routes. Best exits lead directly outside, not through other rooms. Windows should be large enough and low enough to climb through, and operate easily enough for the youngest member of the family.

4. Interior finish of materials with low flame-spread characteristics. Wallboards made of gypsum, cement, asbestos and similar materials are noncombustible and resist the spread of flame. On the other hand, flame spread is a dangerous hazard with certain other types of wallboard.

5. Fire-resistant roofing material. The National Fire Protection Association says that wood shingles never be used as a roof covering. Flammable wood shingles can ignite easily from sparks and big fires often spread from them, via burning brands. The NFPA recommends a fire-resistant roofing material, such as asphalt shingles, slate, asbestos, or metal.

6. Proper wiring. Qualified electricians observe the provisions of the National Electrical Code when installing wiring in new homes and during remodeling, which means a fire safe installation.

7. A good heating plant properly installed and located. Many furnaces manufactured today are equipped with fire-preventing safety devices. But they must be cleaned and inspected regularly. A furnace never should be located under stairs or near an entrance where fire originating in the heater might block escape. A furnace also needs ample air for combustion and adequate clearance from walls to ceilings.

To The Student

At this time of year, when students have now begun the 1958-59 school years, at both high schools and colleges, we think a word is in order for them. Even if this editorial is read by only one student, we think it is worth while writing it.

Of course, nothing is so free as advice, and yet advice is about all that an older person can give a boy or a girl. As a result, every individual, when given the slightest excuses come forth with words of advice.

The students of the high schools and colleges of our country live in an era which will challenge their intelligence as they attempt to express ideals in actual life. They are confronted with perhaps the greatest menace which has ever confronted our country, and they may have to solve problems which are far more complex than any which have so far faced this young Republic.

The fact that we since our independence, have successfully maintained this independence—as far as external agression is concerned—does not automatically solve the problems that confront the new generation. It is not for an editor, in an editorial, to outline an easy solution to these problems, or paint a rosy picture for the generation coming along.

On the other hand, we think that those students in the United States today come along in a great era, when their country is the leading country of the world, and when the challenge they face is a tremendous one. We have plentiful resources, live in a country with plenty, and an era when opportunities are great for all young people.

The one suggestion we would seriously make, as far as serious advice is concerned, in a specific way, is that enlightened young men and women must have a purpose in life. It has been apparent to the wise men of the ages that the intelligent graduate of college, or high school in the application of training and experience to the issues that will confront him, must have a fixed and guiding purpose in his mind and heart—if he is to get out of life part of that which is available to him.

Bible Comment

Jesus Set Pattern For Religion In Striving To Uplift Lost People

Many persons express surprise that a man of the cloth will always accompany a condemned man to his death, or that missionaries spend their lives working to uplift, educate and convert savages and derelicts to a finer way of life.

The question, "Are these people worth it?" is answered clearly in the Bible.

We have record that Christ was entertained in the home of Levi, where many publicans and sinners sat down to eat with Him. The narrow-minded Pharisees complained, "The man receiveth sinners and eateth with them."

The incident was an epochal contradiction to the shop-worn adage, "A man is known by the company he keeps."

In meeting people on their own level, Christ lifted those people to something higher.

The dedicated missionaries and others who administer to the insane and the vagrant are doing more than meeting those unfortunates on their own level—they are seeking to emulate efforts of Christ.

Those that they administer to must not be judged simply by their outward appearances. How many of the lost and backward have been uplifted to responsible places in civilized society may never be known. But the inroads that the workers of Jesus make daily into ignorance, despair and misfortune must eventually contribute to a reshaped world—a finer society inspired by Christian Love.

Taxidermist Gets His Goat

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

MAX SHIPLEY, taxidermist, surveys his hard-earned mountain goat hide and horns . . . one trophy he will stuff and get to keep for himself.

Two or three years ago a man brough a mountain goat head to Max Shipley, 705 S. Ogden-av, to be mounted. Max is a well known taxidermist and sportsman in this area, and unusual game trophies from all over the world are brought to him regularly.

As is his custom, Shipley lent an enthusiastic ear to the proud hunter. This particular goat was bagged in British Columbia near a little town called Fernie. It was a fine specimen, and as the hunter talked Max made himself a promise. Some day he, too, would travel to Fernie and hunt mountain goats.

This was the year, and Shipley returned just last week with a goat that will rank well in the record books. A goat head is not a spectacular trophy—not like a moose or our native whitetail deer. Goat horns are two single spikes; delicate and shiny black. In the trophy room of a hunting lodge they might be missed completely by a casual observer.

But as Shipley handles these beautifully recurved spikes, he will tell you that he worked harder for them than for any piece of game he has ever taken. They represent an achievement far greater than any of his other hunting trophies.

All of Shipley's dreams about the Fernie region were fulfilled. He saw goats every day, and waited until he was in range of a perfect trophy. Other game was plentiful. He saw a truly magnificent elk, and spent three precious days of his 11-day hunt trying to get a shot. But luck was not with him on the elk, so he returned to the main business at hand—getting a trophy goat.

Shot Had To Be Good

The male Shipley shot was in an almost impossible position. He was head of a band of 10, and was taking good care of them. Finally, Shipley and his guide got within 300 yards of them and decided to shoot. The pressure was on. Shipley had to make a good shot. If the goat was only wounded, they would never see him again in the mountainous terrain. If he did not drop the "old Billy" on the spot, he could roll over a ledge and the delicate horns would be ruined. With all of this on his mind, Shipley shot.

The first shot missed completely. He and the guide were above the band of goats, and the goats still didn't spot them. Shipley squeezed off another shot to drop the monarch in his tracks. Even though the shot was made at about 300 yards, it took the guide three hours to get to the goat, skin him out, and return.

How do you get to a place where you can see mountain goats every day? Well, Max Shipley traveled 2300 miles, one way, by train. Toward the end of the trip the "train" had only one car, that Shipley shared with other hunters and prospectors. In Fernie he teamed up with Bruno Richter from Lombard, Ill.—the men who developed the device that successfully changes the blood in blue babies. They hunted the same area.

In addition to the two hunters, the party consisted of two guides, a horse wrangler, a cook, and 12 horses. They went into the mountains 22 miles by horseback to set up camp.

Saw Plenty of Game

Shipley has hunted many places on this continent, but feels that this is his most outstanding trip. The country there is wild and primitive. Game was everywhere, but since Max was hunting trophy heads he passed up shots almost every day. He could have bagged a moose, but the rack was only about 37 inches across, so he simply watched the animal wend its way along the game trail.

Deer were plentiful, and were up to the camp every night cleaning up oats spilled by the horses.

Shipley saw one black bear. Ptarmigan, a type of grouse, were abundant, and they bagged some for the pot.

Max hasn't scored his goat head according to official Boone and Crockett Club system. He must wait for 60 days to allow for shrinkage. But it's an outstanding head, and certain to put Shipley's name in the record books.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estella B. Franks

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Apples, grapes, cauliflower, cabbage, escarole, potatoes, squash, turnips, frozen peas, canned beets, chuck roast, fryers, frozen ocean perch.

GOOD APPLE YEAR

Apples now make eye-catching displays at all roadside stands and food markets. This year's crop is a good one. Nationally, production will run about 127 million bushels. The Ohio crop is estimated at 3.3 million bushels—12% above a year ago. You can look forward to a good supply of apples throughout the year at favorable prices. Modern storage makes this possible, although harvesting of apples takes place in September and October.

Apple Buying Facts—Leading varieties now are McIntosh, Jonathan, Cortland and Delicious. Four things to keep in mind when buying apples are: maturity, condition, variety, and intended use.

Apples are at their best in flavor when they are of optimum maturity. One of the best indications of maturity is the color of the apple. Check background color of apples carefully. When the background color of a red variety is green, it is not fully mature. The same is true of yellow varieties.

For some purposes the smaller apples may be a better buy, economy wise, than larger apples. The small "school boy" apples are especially good for school lunch boxes and after-school snacks. You get more small apples per pound, but less total edible portion.

Apple Uses—Apples fit every meal, and between-meal snacks, too! Use them to add crispness and flavor to salads, vegetables, fish and meat. Try them for stuffing in pork or poultry dishes.

Desserts become enhanced by use of the apple. Minted or glazed apples, or fried apple rings make good accompaniment for meals. Breads and muffins take on a new and delightful flavor with the addition of grated or finely chopped apples.

Polished, this fruit adds rich color to the fruit bowl, or as a center piece for the table. To test their popularity, fill a big bowl of shiny, red apples in the traffic lane of small boys . . . or tall husbands . . . and watch them disappear.

AUTUMN SPECIALS

Broccoli, Brussels sprous, and cauliflower are important fall vegetables that are in good supply. Cool weather means high quality for these "cabbage cousins." They'll add color and flavor interest to autumn meals at a reasonable cost.

MUCH COPIED ARCHITECTURE is still very much the pride of Greece according to James Voit, Hero, Voit stands near one of the souvenirs he purchased while in Greece this summer. It is a beautiful black and white, hand-painted plaque made of wood and plastic. Seems the wide use of plastic has even spread to Greece.

Local Residents Visits Greece, Is Pleased With American Aid

Following a three-month stay in his native homeland, Greece, James Voit, 63, of 297 E. Welch-st, returned to his South Side home several weeks ago full of enthusiasm for America's foreign relations.

"It was wonderful to see how my homeland, Greece, has progressed since my last visit. The American government has helped the country tremendously in every field," said Voit.

He added, "many new and modern buildings have been constructed and more are underway; fine new roads are being built; and the quality, quantity and methods of agriculture are much improved."

Voit, a Columbus business man since 1920 and resident of the South Side for 33 years, has returned to Greece three times since he left the country at the age of 13.

Primarily, he returns to Greece to see his 85-year-old brother and other relatives and to see the sights and changes taking place in the country.

Voit, who's chief pride in his nationality is the adaption of Greek architecture in many American civic structures, said the Greek people feel a close kindred spirit with the United States and are appreciative of the help this country has given them.

Donates To The Poor

Mrs. Voit, who is a native of the United States, stayed home this year but did go to Greece with her husband on his 1956 visit. She said her husband modestly hides another reason for his trips to his homeland.

"When James goes to Greece, he always takes along several large boxes of good clothes. While there, he distributes the clothes among deserving poor people. There are many poor people in that country and he enjoys helping them as much as he can," said Mrs. Voit.

During his tour this summer, Voit traveled to nearly every large city in Greece collecting impressive native handiwork along the way. He also visited England, France and the Brussells World Fair.

Attends Greek Weddings

To round out the tour, Voit attended several of those much-talked-about Greek weddings. "You really haven't lived unless you've gone to a Greek wedding. They're a lot of fun" said the South Sider.

When Voit came to this country in 1909, he worked in New York City for awhile then came to Columbus as a head waiter in the Deshler Hotel when it was first opened in 1916.

Later he went into the restaurant business on his own. Officially, he retired three years ago but he still dabbles in the investment field on a part time basis.

Mr. and Mrs. Voit are very active in the Greek Orthodox Community Church, 536 N. Park-st. He has been a member of the church board for 14 years and president of the board for eight years.

"THE VIRGINIAN"—One of a variety of home designs offered by Virginia Homes, the Virginian features an 11 by 23 foot dutch kitchen, a family room-kitchen combination; three bedrooms; attached garage; and more than ample storage space. French doors open from the family room to the back yard affording greater accessibility during family cookouts.

President Of Virginia Homes Lists Unusual Design Features

Virginia Homes President W. E. Wittman recently announced at a pre-open house showing the new design of the "Mystery House," 3120 Parsons-av, boasts many unusual features.

The design includes three extra-large bedrooms with double the normal amount of closet space, a living room larger than ordinarily found in homes in the $12,000 to $13,000 price range, a huge family room with separate dining area, and an attached garage large enough to afford ample storage or workshop space.

Wittman added that in addition to constantly giving more value for the home-buying dollar, Virginia Homes is extremely proud of that "Hillgate" is one of the few new home communities in Central Ohio where, for under $13,000, the buyers have the opportunity to achieve a great deal or individuality in their respective homes.

This individuality comes by way of choice in interior wall colors, different patterns and textures of floor tile, and a wide variety of shower tiles and kitchen counter tops cove mold.

Eliminates Sameness

Officials of Virginia Homes feel that a great step forward has been taken in eliminating that familiar "subdivision sameness" by offering the buyer a wide latitude of choice including nine different exterior elevations, six variations of window size and placement, masonite, cedar shingle or redwood siding.

There are also 14 color combinations, decorative or accent panels which can be placed to display the house to its best advantage. Variation in lot size and house placement, winding streets and sodded, fully shrubbed lots, round out the individual beauty of Virginia Homes.

Ample school facilities, two nearby shopping areas, good bus service and city utilities all contribute to making Hillgate II and its newly designed Mystery House, a comfortable, gracious community in which to raise a family, concluded Wittman.

United Appeal Solicitation Is Aided By 185 South Siders

Scores of South Side women are among the 6000 housewives who will take time from their many household chores Monday, Oct. 13, to visit their neighbors on behalf of the 1958 United Appeal campaign.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Paul F. Weiss, 1788 Weiler-av, volunteers in the area will personally visit each residence. Their purpose is to give every housewife an opportunity to take a personal part in aiding the 60 community agencies supported by United Appeal funds.

Contributions received in this county-wide residential solicitation will aid the handicapped to overcome their afflictions, to find jobs, or to join in social activities that may once again make their lives meaningful. They will aid thousands of youngsters who may be fatherless, friendless, or lacking in adult guidance to make new friends and to join in wholesome activities.

They will aid many other thousands in Franklin County who are victims of disaster of such disease a cancer, arthritis and rheumatism, cerebral palsy, or multiple sclerosis.

In addition to these and many other services performed by UA agencies, these contributions of the recreational services and charter-building work carried on by Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and the YMCA and YWCA.

These are the thousands of human reasons why south side area residents are again lending their time this year to support the United Appeal effor.

Mrs. Weiss will be assisted by:

Linden Grid Contest Will Mark Marion-Franklin Homecoming

Like South High, Marion-Franklin High School's Homecoming opponent will be Linden-McKinley. The game will be held Friday, Oct. 10, to be followed by a dance.

The color and sparkle of the annual homecoming events are getting underway all over the city. Marion-Franklin's "home celebration" will be no less attractive and will boast even more beauty to be supplied by a lovely court.

Candidates for the homecoming queenship are Linda Gaffin, 3463 S. High-st; Cynthia White, 1615 S. Champion-av; Paula Barry, 70 Southgate-dr; Gail Evans, 1574 Wilson-av; and Donna Jean Munn, of 1555 Linwood-av.

Following tradition, Marion-Franklin's 1958 Homecoming monarch will be chosen by a student ballot vote. The lucky girl will be announced during the halftime show at the game. Coronation of the queen will follow at the dance.

Beauty alone will not fill the royal throne but personality, charm and school interest will be counted as well. Here are some background details of the candidates:

Linda Gaffin is active in Marion-Franklin's GAA, Pep Club, Band, Chorus, and is president of the Spanish Club, and vice-president of Girls' Council. Interested in church activities, Linda is secretary of the Pilgrim Youth Fellowship and a member of the Pilgrim Bell Choir. Her hobbies include reading fiction novels, tennis and swimming.

Cynthia White, who lists reading, dancing and swimming as spare-time interests, is active in Y-Teens Pep Club and GAA.

Paula Barry's activities include Pep Club, Varsity Cheerleader, Y-Teens, Chorus, GAA and singing in a trio called "The Three Debs."

Varsity Cheerleader, Pep Club, GAA, secretary of Spanish Club, president of Girls' Council and Student Council are the accomplishments and interests of Gail Evans.

Donna Jean Munn, another member of "The Three Debs" trio, is active in Pep Club, GAA, Y-Teens and Chorus at Marion-Franklin. All the candidates are seniors.

Bulldogs Go After Fifth Win Friday As Aquinas Invades

By Marty Neel

The undefeated South High Bulldogs hope to make it five wins in a row when they meet the Aquinas Terriers on the field of battle tomorrow night, at the Mahaffey Stadium.

Last Friday, the Terriers fell at the hands of the Eastmoor Warriors 18 to 12 but the latter team, though new, has already proven its strength in the city this season. The Aquinas loss does not necessarily signal an easy win for the Bulldogs. The Terriers walloped South 18 to 0 in the 1957 league bout.

Victory once again belonged to the triumphant South High gridders as they rambled over West High 6 to 0 last Friday at the Cowboys' corral, Magly Field.

This win made it four straight for the Bulldogs against no defeats. The non-stop South Side team has knocked off Arlington, 14-0; Grandview, 33-20; Central, 27-22; and now adds West's scalp.

In the second period the Rebels neared paydirt again only to lose the ball on a fumble on the West 10-yard line. On this play, Tim Woodyard ran to his left looking for a pass receiver. He found no one so he ran. A West defender crashed head on into Woodyard, knocking him out and fumbling.

From half-time on it was even more of a defensive battle. Neither team could make major progress and each team was forced to punt. South punted six times and the Cowboys three times.

Phil Starbuck, Jim Parker, Steve Miller and Doug Childers were defensive standouts for the Bulldogs while West's Dave Francis showed power for the Cowboys.

May Cop City L. eague

Judging from present standings, the Bulldogs could have a hand on the City League championship and it sure would be welcomed. South's last City Championship was won in 1927, the year Babe Ruth hit 60 home runs.

Lincoln Memorial Hospital Opened

NEW HOSPITAL OPENS—The Lincoln Memorial Hospital, 3341 E. Livingston-av, was ready to receive the first patients on Monday morning. This new general hospital will serve an area of approximately 80,000 residents. The privately financed $1 million hospital will be operated as a non-profit institution.

The hospital has an emergency room operating around the clock, three surgery rooms and X-ray equipment. More than 2500 people were attracted on Sunday to view the interior of the structure. The above pictures were taken during the open house. The scene on the far left is from one of the surgery rooms; which has special lighting and equipment, making it possible to photographically record the operation. Dr. R. L. McFarland, M.D., stands beside Mrs. Grace Gundlach, RN, (left). Dr. A. K. Kanter, M.D., stands beside Mrs. Dorothy Allen (right). These two men bear the major responsibility for the foundation of Lincoln Memorial Hospital Association. Also shown is part of the X-ray equipment and a picture of the emergency room. Posed as the patients are Mrs. Ruth Pantitch on the X-ray table and Keith Berkerbile as the emergency case. He is being attended by Helen Hughes and Pat Taylor.

Pope Of Peace Is Gone

From St. Peter's Basilica in Rome to the smallest "grass roots" parishes at the extremes of the earth, Requiem Masses for Pope Pius XII were offered this week.

Catholics and non-Catholics alike lost one of the greatest exponents of peace in our time. The pontiff's death last Thursday drew to a close two decades of illustrious rule of the Catholic faithful.

Beginning on the day after his death, all parishes of the Universal Church joined in an official nine-day period of mourning. Parishes of the Columbus Diocese will remain in mourning until the Pope's successor is chosen.

Black draped Catholic Churches (as in this view of the entrance to St. Aloysius Church) express each parish's sorrow.

The world has lost a great leader.

Lions Start Fall Paper Promotion

Southeast Lions will roar on the night of Dec. 5 when they canvass the entire area by selling their annual edition of the South East Lions Roar.

But the important work of selling the advertising that helps support this issue is now in progress and the following have been listed as being members of the club and shown in various teams.

The team listing means nothing really as every member of the club is interested in just one thing and that is selling ads to benefit the works of the South East Lions Club.

MISSIONARY AIRMAN—S-Sgt. James E. Wells, 801st Transportation Squadron, currently based at Lockbourne, served as a base chaplain and missionary while stationed in Turkey in 1957.

Pastor Recalls Year Of Service In Turkey

By Nancy Pendleton

In April of 1957, in the remote area of Southeastern Turkey an airman of the 801st Transportation Squadron found himself administering services to a congregation quite different from that of his Baptist Church back in Columbus, Ind.

Worshipers were bowing, crossing themselves and kneeling, voicing their prayers in English, Arabic, Turkish and Kurdish.

This grew to be a familiar scene to S/Sgt. James E. Wells, 1743 Eastfield-dr, Franklin Heights, during the three months he took complete responsibility of the chaplain's section of this area in northern Mesopotamia, north of the Tigris River.

Wells was originally sent by the air force in February for an assignment in his regular job of motor maintenance. However, because there was no Protestant chaplain assigned to the station, Wells was soon pressed into this responsibility. Two months later, the assigned Catholic chaplain returned to the States on an emergency leave and Wells was left alone to serve all Christians in the area.

Wells became interested in the ministry before his entry into the service in 1951. He began studying under his home pastor and when assigned to Columbus, Ind., became instrumental in forming a little Baptist Congregation in the Lowell section. He was ordained by the General Baptist Conference Sept. 21, 1956, and became pastor of this congregation. Just six months later he received his Turkey assignment.

But of all the experiences Wells had during his year in Turkey perhaps the ones he recalls most vividly are the months he served in the capacity of missionary when the Protestant missionaries returned to the States because of ill health and age.

During this time he had to travel over rough roads and burro trails to Killet, Midyat and Keburan, isolated villages about 2000 years behind the western section in civilization.

Wells explained the reason for this lag: "Mainly it's because of its inland barriers—the Tau-

Woman Wins Leader's Top Football Prize

Proving that football score guessing is not a monopolized art of men is Mary M. Lower, 1806 Weiler-av, who took top honors this week in the second round of the South Side Leader Football Guessing Contest.

Mrs. Lower will have her choice of $10 in cash, a recapped tire from OK Rubber Welders and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

Second choice will go to George A. Sabo, 843 Studer-av and the final award will be given to K. N. Warner, 38 W. Hinman.

All three failed to predict the stunning upset of Oklahoma by Texas. Sabo was the only winner that wrongly predicted Notre Dame to capsize Army.

Awards for winners of last week's contest, who will be announced in next week's issue, are $10 in cash, an oil change and lubrication by Jone's Shell Service and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

Persons who are able to clear the crystal ball haze and correctly pick the winners of this week's slate of games will be eligible for $10 in cash, an oil change and lubrication from Dave Wood's Marathon, $5 worth of toilitries from High

Council Chair May Remain Open Monday

Appointment By Mayor Uncertain Despite Stand Taken Earlier

Speculation on City Council's plans for ending the deadlock in filling the Council vacancy are running high this week since a report Tuesday indicated that Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner may back down on his promise to appoint a seventh councilman.

Many are wondering if the mayor is sincere in his decision to leave the appointment up to the six councilmen or if the city chief is perhaps planning a surprise move.

Last week the mayor told the Leader he planned to appoint South Side businessman William P. Hoermle to the vacant Council chair sometime between Oct. 13 and Oct. 20, the date of the next Council session.

Speculators have suggested that perhaps the three Rublican councilmen and the three Democratic council members may have agreed on a compromise candidate thus eliminating the need for the mayor's intercession.

Republican Councilman W Ralston Westlake said Wednesday, "I believe that the mayor realizes it would be a mistake to make the appointment," in reference to Mayor Sensenbrenner's decision to leave the choice to Council.

Westlake added, "to my knowledge, my Republican colleagues on Council are not planning to propose any new candidates Monday. I don't know what the Democrats are planning. A compromise is the only answer but what will happen Monday night is anyone's

Accident Victim In Fair Condition

Delmar Arledge, 42, was reported in fair condition after a heart attack early Tuesday morning, which resulted shortly after his car crashed into a utility pole on College-st in Groveport.

Arledge also received nose and chest injuries in the accident and was taken to Doctor's Hospital. Electrical service was disrupted in Groveport for several hours.

Plant Observes Fire Safety Week

Employees of the Western Electric Columbus Plant, began their observance of the nationally proclaimed Fire Prevention Week, Monday, Oct 6.

Sparky, the masterful and ingenious Fire Prevention slogan writer, passed his magic wand over the Company's portals to add greater meaning to the conception of Fire Prevention His slogan this year is "Don't Give Fire a Place to Start."

A colorful display of fire fighting equipment ranging from an old-time fireman's hat, old-fashioned water buckets and nozzles, to today's sleek and modern, fire fighting equipment, added to the observance of Fire Prevention week at the Columbus Plant.

Vivian Schwinn of the Operating Department, and Mary Lou Goldsbury, Personnel, distributed fire prevention literature during the noon lunch period to all employees.

Adding to the authenticity of the opening of Fire Prevention Week at the Western Electric Company, the Columbus Fire Department was represented Lt W. C. Seitz, Public Relations Officer and his Assistant, Inspector W. O. Garner, were on hand to offer their congragulations to all Employees for entering into the spirit of Fire Prevention Week.

An integral part of the Company's growth in Columbus was the formation of a Plant Fire Brigade. Early in 1958, ten fire fighting crews, consisting of 72 employees, were established under the direct supervision of the Plant's Fire Brigade Coordinator, T. H. Cree. Assisting him in training the crews was Plant Patrolman D. E. Burns who has had more than 14 years fire fighting experience before coming to Western Electric.

In addition to the fire-fighting crews, there are 51 employees who are members of the Company's Evacuation Squads.

It happens every once in awhile . . . and so it did to Lana Itskin. At a surprise birthday party, everyone brought the same thing! Now Lana, who DIDN'T have a pair of red earrings, has a wide selection of the crimson baubles. (The Zodiac Club, which gets together on birthdays of the members honored the S. 3rd-st resident and Paul Lenox last Saturday.) The Itskins were also hosts to F. Two bulletins were received, one from the League of Women Voters, t'other from the Camp Fire Girls office, informed us of the United Nations Day, to be held on Saturday, Oct. 18, so we'd like to tell a little about it. The reason for the celebration is that it is the 13th anniversary of the United Nations. A birthday cake will be part of the proceedings. The celebration will begin at 10 a.m., with a flag-raising ceremony at City Hall. From there, the activity will move to Veteran's Memorial Hall.

Attractions at the festival to be held in the W. Broad-st building will be films, exhibits from UN organizations, songs and folk dancing of various nations. This portion of the activities will be free, and it is hoped that many Columbusites will take this opportunity to obtain an idea of the workings of the UN. In the evening, there will be an International Ball, $1.50 per couple. The dance will be highlighted by the crowning of a 12-year old boy and girl as king and queen. The Oct. 18 affair will inaugurate a week long observance of United Nations Week, Oct. 19-25.

Final plans for the South High Homecoming were discussed at last night's meeting of the South High Alumni, held in Room 107 at the school.

rus Mountains, which almost isolate the area. Only one rail line comes into the region and to travel 300 miles on it during the bad season would probably take a week due to landslides and breakdowns."

Wells picked up a hammered copper pitcher capable of holding about two quarts of fluid. He said, "This is hand-made and used for carrying water. This amount is considered sufficient for a bath." He went on to explain that many times the water supply is located a distance outside the village, making it difficult for the women to bring in larger quantities at one time.

Sleeping facilities differ too. "During the winter villagers sleep on mattresses but in the summer they take a huge wooden bedstead up on the roof of their house, built of rocks, mud and straw, and the entire family sleeps in it."

Wells said he usually took his own cot during his visits but once he forgot and accepted a villager's invitation. When he went up to the roof and climbed into the 9x12 foot bed, it was empty but in the morning he discovered that 25 or 30 people had joined him.

"You really have to slow down when you live in this area," he said. "By that, I mean that if you plan to take a trip into a city about a distance of 10 miles from a village, you would get up at 4 a.m. If you belonged to the average class you would walk. The wealthy class rides donkeys. Either way, it would take three days round-trip."

A city such as Diabaka is actually a market place. Diabaka is surrounded by a high wall with a circumference of five miles. There is one modern building there which was erected by the UN reconstruction program. This is a town which presents a strange mixture of Christian and Moslem influence.

"Previous to the Moslem ascendancy there were many flourishing Christian communities in this part of the world. Remnants of these remain today," Wells said.

Wells told of an unusual experience he had in the village of Bati. "They were having a wedding in the village that day. The women were separated from the men, each going to separate sides of the village to feast and dance. Ordinarily no men are allowed to mix with the women but they let me take pictures of them. The bride and groom were also separated for three days. They didn't even get to see each other." He added, "They were the two saddest people in the whole village."

D. J. Kunz For Commissioner

The government of an otherwise very properous Franklin County has been having a rough time financially . . . so rough that a large number of creditors have already been told they will have to wait until 1959 for their money.

The men who have the most to say about how the county spends its money are the commissioners. Two are to be elected in November, at least one will be a newcomer to the ranks.

As we see it one of the candidates who should be elected is D. J. Kunz, mayor of New Rome.

We like his proposal that the county employ a finance director. We like his proposals for better coordination of planning, zoning and building.

He maintains he is for rigid zoning enforcement, reclassification and clarification of zoning, as well as revised building regulations with more thorough county inspection.

Voters in the county will do well to vote for D. J. Kunz for county commissioner on Nov. 4.

New Chief Clarifies County School Office Responsibility

By DAVE HESS

According to new superintendent of county schools, Thomas J. Quick, many parents and other citizens in the county harbor misconceptions about the actual functions and duties of the county school office.

One of the most often expressed mistakes is attributing to the county office the responsibility for initiating increased tax requests and operating levies, says Quick. However, even the most superficial investigation would show that local district boards determine needs for more money, then initiate the necessary steps for procuring it.

Franklin County School Board, in a bulletin prepared recently for public and official use, lists three principal functions:

1) It acts as an administrative office in recruiting and selecting teachers, certifying professional employees and bus drivers, issuing age and schooling certificates and reorganizing school districts;

2) Acts as a liaison office between the State Department of Education and the local school districts, regarding financial and transportation reports, education of exceptional children, and in making up statistical reports concerning teacher and student personnel;

3)And, functions as a service center in providing teacher consultant services, curriculum development, testing and guidance, and assistance in statistical reporting to the State Department of Education.

Legally, the county board is empowered to elect a county superintendent, provide a graded course of study for the local districts, adopt a list of textbooks to be used in county schools, reorganize local school districts and prepare an annual operating expenses budget for the forthcoming county school year.

The Citizens' Committee, which is now defunct, recommended to the state board of education that all Franklin County local districts be consolidated. When queried on the report, Quick replied that such a recommendation would carry no weight of law, but if instituted would, in effect, set up two large school agencies in the county, They would be the Franklin County Local School District and the County Board of Education, both separate and theoretically autonomous agencies.

To integrate these agencies would dequire a complete revampment of present public school statutes as established through the years by the state legislature.

At the present time Grove City, a part of South-Western School District, is conducting a census to determine whether it has attained the 5,000 persons level which would put it in the "city" class. If so, some school officials have voiced an ambition to break away from the Sonth-Western School District.

Superintendent Quick reminded that just attaining the "city" status would not, in itself be sufficient to allow Grove City school autonomy. First a request for separation would have to be filed with the State Department of Education. But, added the superintendent, the state board would in all probability grant such a request.

Funeral Service Held For Wagner

Services were held for Fred R. Wagner, 52, on Tuesday at the Richard A. Evans Funeral Home. The body of the suicide victim was found by his wife Edna when she returned to their Toy-rd home, west of Groveport.

Officials termed the unusual death as almost fantastic after revealing that the man had attempted to kill himself by firing seven shots from a .22 caliber rifle into the heart area and then used a 12-gauge shotgun to blow off the back of his head.

Mrs. Wagner said her husband had been "ailing" but had been given assurance by a physician that nothing was seriously wrong.

His wife also said that her husband was worried about a number of minor things. He had stated about three weeks ago, "If I really thought I was losing my mind, I'd do away with myself." It all appeared to be a joke at the time.

Planning—

County, west of Lockbourne.

It would be built about eight miles south of the confluence of the Big Walnut and Alum Creeks — the location of a proposed sewage plant recommended in the 1954 master plan. As a result, its location would require the construction of a long trunk line extending through Franklin County and a section of Obetz.

Obetz Planned

Redick declared that Obetz "annexed a great deal of territory in hopes that this would happen." He said that if necessary, the city of Columbus could come up with the money to finance the project, but that it is "impractical because the community must be solidified first."

"I would bitterly oppose that this would ever exist," Redick, a member of the planning unit said. "The city must retain control over its utilities."

Redick said that if the plant should be built in that location the city "would be paying 99 per cent of the bill, and in doing so, provide competition to itself," he added that it would be impossible to prevent sewer taps."

John Duffy, another member of the unit, commented that "if communities develop, we (Columbus) lose the only method we have to become a metropolitan area.

Schiller Recreation Leader Cites Value of Spare Time

"More and more of the nation's leaders are convinced that American's leisure time holds the key to our national survival." Tom Crawshaw, Schiller Recreation Center Director who has just returned from the 40th National Recreation Congress in Atlantic City" said in reporting on the Congress proceedings.

Approximately 3,000 volunteer and professional recreation experts from all parts of the United States and Canada attended the Congress, Crawshow said. Observers from Thailand, Malaya, Iran, Hawaii and British West Africa were also present.

Those who cited the importance of recreation, according to Crawshaw, include Governor Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey; August Heckscher, director of the Twentieth Century Fund; and Luther Gulick, president of the Institute of Public Administration, New York City, and of the Governmental Affairs Institute, Washington, D. C.

Builds Stamina

All noted that recreation not only builds physical stamina but provides opportunity for mental and creative development as well. Governor Meyner, in his keynot address, called attention to the "critical need" for more recreation areas to serve our growing population. Communities and states, he said should acquire such areas now before land values rise further.

The Congress program covered the entire range of recreation activities. Sessions dealt with such topics as: youth fitness, delinquency, creative recreation for teen-agers and senior citizens, developing interest in music and the arts, rocketry and science.

Many Displays

More than a hundred Congress displays showed that today's emphasis in recreation equipment is on devices to aid physical fitness, more colorful living, and cultural enrichment with an international flavor, Crawshaw said. One of the the most popular exhibits was a Navy Cougar jet plane, one of the many surplus Navy planes which are available to municipalities for playgrounds. Many delegates expressed great interest in obtaining such surplus jets for their own communities.

The Congress was sponsored by the American Recreation Society, the National Recreation Association, and the Public Recreation Association of New Jersey along with several other professional recreation organizations.

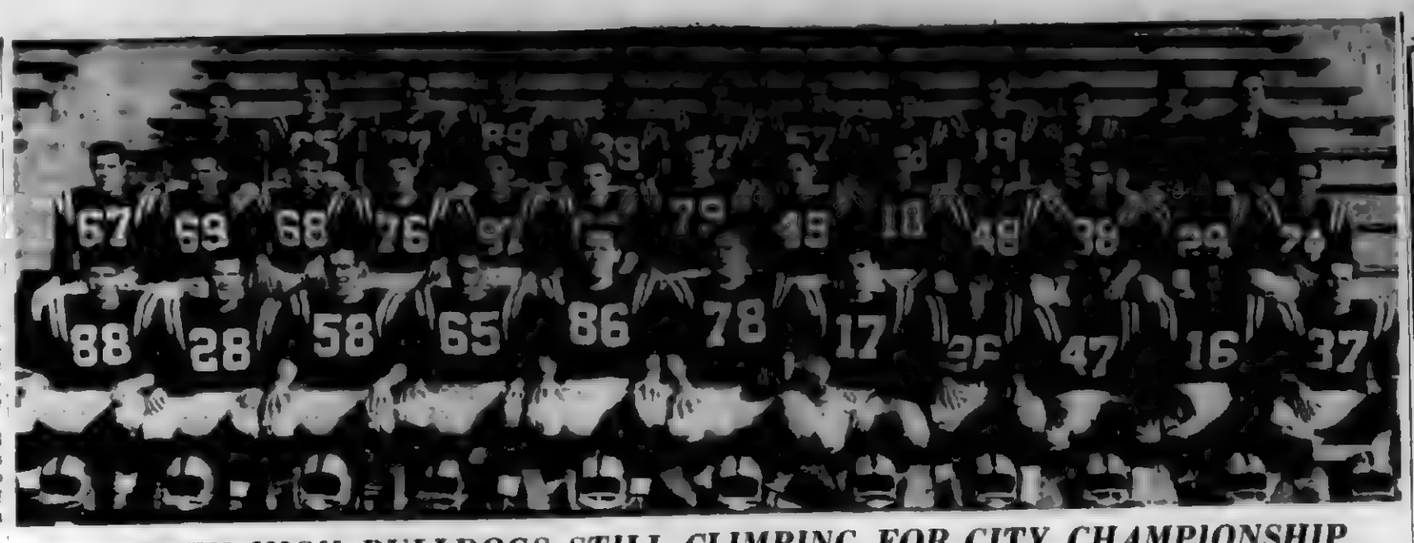
South-North Grid Meet To Revive Old Rivalry

By Marty Noel

The age-old rivalry between the North and the South will flare again tomorrow night as the annual "Little Civil War" gets underway between the Bulldogs and the Polar Bears on the North High battleground.

The Rebels from South High will be plugging for their city league win against one loss while the Polars scrap for a second win against one loss and a tie.

In overall competition, the Bulldogs boast a 4-1 record over shadowing the 1-3-1 standing of the Polar Bears However, those "northern yankees," still harboring the bitter recollection of a 6-0 defeat in '57 at the hands of the Southerners, will be out for nothing short of victory Friday. On the other hand, South isn't planning on marring its record further by another defeat.



The Polar Bears have been defeated by East, scored a tie with Eastmoor, now the top team in the city loop; and racked up a win over Marion-Franklin. South dropped Central and West but lost to Aquinas. From any angle, tomorrow's game should be a real "Rebel Rouser."

The Aquinas Terriers last Friday rambled into Mahaffey Stadium, roughed up and down the field a little, and left the lockers with a 14-6 victory over the Bulldogs.

Fast running, hard hitting and lots of hustle were the Terrier's main weapons as they racked up the 14 points in the first half and stopped the South High Gridders cold.

In the second half it was a different story as a "fired-up" South squad took the field looking for a comeback. They almost acquired it as high-scoring halfback Chuck Williams scampered to paydirt midway in the final period.

The Bulldogs took possession of the pigskin late in the final quarter only to lose it on an intercepted pitch-out inside the Aquinas 20-yard line. The Terriers ran out the clock to leave the Bulldogs licking the wounds of their first loss.

SOUTH HIGH BULLDOGS STILL CLIMBING FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

BULLDOGS HAVE SOMETHING TO "BARK" ABOUT—The South High Bulldogs really have something to boast about this season despite their loss to Aquinas. Their power is being felt throughout the City League and that "championship" is still within their grasp. "Rebel" members include, left to right, first row, Wayne Ocker, Tom Belen, Steve Miller, Jim Parker, Jerry Daily, Paul Watters Tim Woodyard, Chuck Williams, Bob Goodwin, George Jones and Doug Childers; second row, Tom Noble, Doug Pritt, Louis Partee, Bill Stevenson, Phil Hopkins, Nick Jacobs, Charles Washburn, Mel Wishow, Bill Young, George Towers, Willard Kirby, Tom Jenkins and Roy Miller; third row, Head Coach Bob Duncan, Dick Pipelaw, Bob Middendorf, Ken Schumacher, Gene Harper, Denny Green, Dave Parsew, John Schumacher, Frank Bullock, Bill Neel, Dick Kate line coach, and Bob Fearing, tackle coach.

Rites Scheduled For Man Killed In Train Crash

Services will be held Thursday, 2 p.m. in the chapel of Gramlich Funeral Home for Ray Davis, 62, of 531 Stockridge-rd. Davis was killed instantly Monday morning when he drove into the path of a southbound freight train at the Frebis-av crossing of Norfolk and Western Railroad.

According to police, Davis, who was driving a dump truck, disregarded a waving red light and bell to cross the tracks.

The engineer estimated that the train was traveling about 26 miles an hour when it hit the truck and carried it 1108 feet down the track.

Surviving are his wife, Bessie; three sons, Lloyd, William, Herbert, two brothers, Clarence and Earl, one sister, Mrs Hazel Seitz and 12 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the funeral home until time of service. Burial will be at Greenlawn.

Waterfowl Season Nears

Next week sees the opening of the waterfowl open season—popularly known as the duck season. Opening day is Oct. 24, and the season runs through Jan. 1, 1959. Shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset.

The question everyone asks is, "How will hunting be this year?' According to U.S. Fish and Wildlife surveys, here is the dope: Through this part of Ohio there will be little change from the shooting a year ago — even up along Sandusky Bay the duck population will be about the same. Last year's duck hunting was pretty fair, so this is good news.

The puddlers or shallow water ducks which make up the majority of ducks bagged by Buckeye hunters will be present in as good or better numbers than a year ago. This group includes the mallard, black duck, wood duck and the two species of teal—blue-winged and green-winged.

Diving ducks are down in numbers. These are the scaup, canvasbacks, redheads, ruddy, and a few others. Drouth on the prairie provinces of Canada all summer is blamed for the decline. You will be reading articles about ducks being drastically scarce in some areas, and it is the big diving ducks they will be talking about. Poor nesting conditions have lowered the continental waterfowl population, but we will see little effect of it here.

There will be fewer coots (mudhens) this year because of a poor nesting season. Canada goose flights through this area will probably be up a little over last year.

The opening of duck season next week is later than many hunters would prefer to have it, particularly northern Ohio hunters. They have a valid point of argument—that most of the teal and wood ducks will have flown south by then, and when the swamps and marshes freeze thee ther ducks will follow them.

On the other hand, central and southern Ohio duck hunters have their fun shooting black ducks and mallards on streams and lakes. The large flights show up just before severe winter sets in — around Christmas time and the first of the year.

It seems to be impossible to please everybody with a waterfowl season. This year it opens a little late, and next year it will open earlier. Wildlife officials plan to alternatte the opening so that one year will favor northern Ohio, and another year will favor the central and southern part of the state.

Here in the Columbus area best bets on opening day will be the streams for wood ducks, and farm ponds for woodies and mallards. Ducks are scattered right now, but as the weather cools they will group for migration flights.

As the season progresses flights will come through this area, depending on the weather to the north. If the marshes freeze along Lake Erie one night, then look for good flights through here the next day. If they thaw and it warms up for a few days, then the shooting here will be mighty poor.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Cheese, rib end pork roast, turkey, frozen fish fillets, cauliflower, celery, potatoes, cabbage, squash, turnips, apples, grapes.

OCTOBER CHEESE FESTIVAL

Every October the dairy industry designates a fall cheese festival, and this October is no exception. As a result of the planned promotion, you will find some good cheese buys at your store. Also, we are reminded of the many kinds of cheese on the market. There's one for every taste.

Cheese is so versatile that it can go into the lunchbox, serve as an appetite teaser, supply the main dish or a grand finish to dinner, or furnish just the right snack following football games.

Cheese is a "natural" with many of the plentiful fall fruits and vegetables such as cabbage, cauliflower or broccoli . . . and of course, with apples. No food stimulates the imagination more than cooking with cheese after you become acquainted with the many varieties available.

We Eat Lots of Cheese — U.S. manufactures about 1½ billion pounds of cheese every year, using nearly one-tenth of the milk produced in this country. Three-fourths of all the cheese produced in this country is the American or cheddar type. Swiss, cream and Italian type cheeses are next most popular, in that order. People in the U.S. eat about twice as much cheese now as they did 20 years ago, averaging around 13 pounds per person a year.

Ohio is a sizeable producer of cheese, especially Swiss, and all of the Liederkranz made in this country.

Nutritionally, cheese ranks among the best sources of protein. A four-ounce serving furnishes one-third of a day's protein requirement for an average person. Because it is made of whole cow's milk, cheese has essentially the same food elements. It's rich in vitamin A, for clear healthy skin; in riboflavin for good appetite and good morale; and in calcium and phosphorus for strong teeth and bones. About 25 per cent of the total weight of cheese is animal protein, making it an excellent and inexpensive meat extender.

When Buying — the label is your best guide. It gives information as to price, type, contents and suggested uses to determine the better buy. Also check cost per pound. Sliced cheese, or especially packaged cheese, usually costs more.

Mrs. Wilson is responsible for all of the day activities in the Settlement, leads some adult groups, and is directing the new Golden Age group at the Lincoln Projects.

New Settlement Program Opens Monday Morning

The South Side Settlement program at the Lincoln Housing Projeict owes a debt of thanks to many people who helped form its content, but foremost among them is William Meates, office manager at the projects, whose kind assistance in procuring names of residents was of great value to the workers.

Missionary Explains Nigerian Teenagers

Donald D. Baughman

Mrs. Donald D. Baughman

"Only when we see the teenagers in Nigeria do we appreciate the life of a teenager in America," recently stated Mrs Donald D. Baughman, former South Sider, representing Southwood Church of Christ in the mission field of Nigeria, Africa.

Donald Baughman, his wife, Marianne, and their three young daughters, Ruth, Judy and Lisa have been working in the Nigerian mission field for two years. Don, a 1947 graduate of South High School, is the son of Mr and Mrs. Paul Baughman, of 1375 S. Sixth-st.

Mrs. Baughman the former Marianne Grimes, graduated from South in 1950. The couple who were married in 1951, both attended the Cincinnati Bible Seminary, from which Don graduated in 1954.

In a recent letter to Mrs. Paul Baughman, Marianne Baughman included some observations on Nigerian teenagers to be published in this paper.

"The life of an American teenager is rich and full and free," writes Mrs. Baughman adding, "they grow up with the wonderful feeling that whatever vocation they may choose, their parents will stand behind them. This is not the case, however, in Nigeria."

The more fortunate Nigerian boys sometimes get the opportunity to acquire an education which, for the most part consists of six years of schooling explained the missionary. School students, who usually begin their studies at the age of six or seven, continue to work outside of school to help finances at home.

Mrs. Baughman said, "youngsters who work in Nigeria count their profits in pennies. American youths, especially those who carry papers or mow lawns, usually think in terms of dollars rather than pennies."

Following the six years of school, Nigerian boys are likely to become stewards, cooks or rarely even a chauffeur. In rare cases, when parents have a little money, teenagers can go on to high school and learn a trade. This is a big step and places student far beyond the realm of most Nigerian youths, writes Mrs. Baughman.

She added that girls, who are not likely to attend school at all, usually stay home and help their mothers and look forward to marriage and a home of their own. The "home" of the average young couple consists of only one room. The "automatic range" of the Nigerian homemaker means cooking over a fire in the front yard, said the former South Sider.

"Parents who do send their daughters to school, usually plan to send them on to high school and perhaps to England to study nursing, sewing or hairdressing," said Mrs. Baughman.

The missionary concluded her comparisons by saying "college for the young Nigerian man or woman is simply out of the question unless their father is a chief or there is a rich uncle in the family."

The Baughmans have made many other interesting observations during their mission work in Nigeria. For further information on life in that distant country, write to Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Baughman, Box 252, Yaba, Nigeria, British West Africa.

Local Halloween Fetes Back 'Fun Without Destruction'

Hula Hoops will be forgotten next Friday evening as South Side youngsters drop their "good behavior" to become goblins, ghosts and men from outer space for the big community Halloween Party to be held Friday, Oct. 31.

Barrett and George C. Beery Parent-Teacher Associations, Schiller Recreation and the Council of South Side Organizations are planning Halloween "Fun Without Destruction" at three South Side locations.

C. D. Lowry, of 874 S. Lazelle-st, a member of CSSO, has been announced as general chairman of this community project.

The parties will be held at Schiller Recreation Center, Deshler and Jaeger; Barrett Junior High School, 945 E. Deshler-av; and George C. Beery Junior High School, 2740 Lockbourne-rd. The Council of South Side Organizations will supply free doughnuts and cider for all three affairs.

George C. Beery

The PTA will provide supervision for the party to be held at George C. Beery Junior High from 8 to 10:30 p.m. All children, first through ninth grade of school, are invited and there is no admission.

There will be games for all ages, costume judging of best dressed, most comical and most original. Dancing is also on the program. Mrs. Anthony Douridas is the PTA chairman in charge.

Barrett Junior High

The party at Barrett Junior High is designed for teenagers and there will be round and square dancing. A three-piece combo will be playing for the square dancing and Jim Wagner of the South Side "Y" staff will be the caller.

Although there will be no prizes awarded for costumes at this party, there will be plenty of other activities provided for "Fun Without Destruction." Activities will begin at 7:30 p.m. and continue to 10 p.m. according to Mrs. Walter Carroll, Barrett PTA president.

Schiller Recreation

The Schiller party, which will start promptly at 7 p.m., is open to boys and girls 12 years of age and under. All youngsters attending this party must be dressed in a costume. However, outfits need not be elaborate. Parents are encouraged to accompany the younger tots, particularly those under six years of age.

A unique feature of the Schiller Halloween party is that children will be divided into three separate age groups, six and under; seven through nine year olds; and 10 through 12 year olds. Each group will be rotated to a different activity each half hour, and in this manner, the party is expected to function smoothly.

The program at Schiller will consist of costume judging, games, movies, puppet show, refreshments and a trip through the "haunted house." Costumes will be judged and prizes awarded on the prettiest, funniest, weirdest and most unusual.

Have You Done Your Fair Share?

This is the week it is so vitally important for people all over Franklin County to ask themselves this personal question: "Have I done my fair share in support of the United Appeal Drive?"

The United Appeal volunteer who knocks at your door or who approaches you on the job is not asking for charity. In our modern American way of life, the community welfare agency is a vital and logical part of the many factors that contribute to the welfare of the community.

You would not withhold support of such instruments of community welfare as the fire department or police department. You recognize these institutions as vital safeguards to the welfare of your home, your family, and your community.

In much the same way, the 60 community agencies incorporated in United Appeal safeguard Franklin County residents against bearing the individual burdens created by tens of thousands suffering from disease, handicaps and disaster. Scores of youth and family agencies in United Appeal provide guidance, education, recreation, care and counseling for thousands who might otherwise become expensive problems to society.

In fact, the 60 UA agencies served one out of every three people in Franklin County last year.

With these facts in mind, do your part today to help UA. Here's how you can help most effectively:

1. If you're a volunteer, complete your assignment now.

2. If you're a business executive, see that all employees are contacted and make your final report.

3. Most important, welcome the United Appeal volunteer who calls on you. He is offering you an opportunity to contribute your "fair share" in a single contribution for the insured welfare of your community.

If you have not given, GIVE NOW!!!

Let's Get The Show on The Road

Mayor Sensenbrenner this week did exactly what he said he would do in appointing William Hoermle to the vacancy in City Council. Council sat on the issue for quite some time before the mayor made the appointment.

There has been no criticism of the new council appointee himself. Hoermle is a gentleman, a good business man and a reputable citizen. He has volunteered his services as a councilman and is not concerned with the little money the job pays.

It is therefore to be hoped that the Republicans will be equally as interested as the Democrats in "getting the show on the road" and accept the services of the man in council and settle down to city business at hand. The public wants it this way.

PTA PLANS EUCHRE PARTY

St. Mary's PTA and PCCW will sponsor a euchre party on Tuesday, Oct. 28 in the high school at 685 Mohawk-st. The time is 8:30 p.m. and admission is 50 cents. Refreshments will be served and door prizes awarded.

South Side Merchants Hold Big Auction Sale Tonight

The "going, going, gone" bellow of the auctioneer will ring forth tonight, loud and clear, as the second annual auction of the South Side Business and Industrial Association gets underway.

The big community event will be launched at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 23, at the rear of Schottenstein's Department Store in the well-lighted parking lot.

Members of the business organization, despite several delays, have volunteered many hours to extensive planning and working to gather the tremendous quantity of high-quality auction items.

Among the contributions to be auctioned are a good used automobile, a sewing machine, clothes, housewares, automotive parts, and even a gallon of cider —all going to the highest bidders.

Everything will not be placed on the auction block, however, since persons attending the sale will have an opportunity to win some free merchandise that will be given away hourly. Baskets of groceries, money and some surprise packages are numbered among the prizes.

Auctioneers will be various members of the association with Lew Reeves, Leader staff member launching the proceedings.

Veteran auction-goers know that the best items can come up on the auction block at any time. Those attending the auction tonight should plan to come early and stay late to acquire the desired articles.

The South Side Business and Industrial Association is sponsoring this sale for the second consecutive year to enable the organization to continue its various beneficial civic enterprises.

The association raised a large amount of money through last year's auction. The fund has been used to support several athletic teams in the community; send children to camp; and contribute baskets of food to the needy through other organizations at Christmas.

Law Reeves and Joe Ronson, co-chairmen of the auction, point out that the annual sale serves dual-purpose in the community. Residents purchase at nominal rates many needed household items, while at the same time, their money is returned to them throughout the year in various community projects financed by the association.

Every South Sider is invited to come to the auction tonight, buy needed articles, perhaps win a prize and get together with neighbors in this worthwhile community project.

Karl Groezinger

South's Strutter Gains 'Position' By Accident

South High School's high stepping, fancy-struttin' drum major has seemingly won the respect of his fellow students and admiration of other schools but the baton twirler still remains doubtful of his own talents.

South strutter Karl Groezinger said, "I nearly have a complete nervous collapse before every game!"

Karl has displayed some real baton twirling skill this season on the field, showing up several drum majors who have had more extensive training. At one game, South High fans were rooting almost as much for Karl as for their own Bulldogs.

Perhaps the local drum major's nervousness can be attributed to the fact that he got the job purely by accident.

During South's 1957 football season, the school's drum major became ill and was unable to perform in the last two games. Karl was called upon to take his place. Groezinger, who claims he knew nothing of baton twirling, was told to go out on the field and just strutt around — that's what he did!

Karl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Groezinger, of 1511 Wilson-av, began studying baton last Christmas and worked extensively this summer to prepare himself for his 1958 struttin' season.

The youth, a junior at South, likes all sports favoring football. Karl went out for football last year but admittedly said, "I wasn't so hot." He was asked to fill the drum major vacancy because he has a fair knowledge of music and rythmn. "Frankly, I think the school was just looking for someone who was tall and skinny," added Karl smiling.

The drum major plays drums and is an amateur archer. He plans to attend Ohio State University and prepare himself for a career as a physical education teacher.

Fried Chicken Menu At Moose Club Fete

The Publicity Committee of Chapter 206 Women of the Moose will sponsor a chicken dinner Wednesday, Oct. 29 from 5 to 7 p.m. at 36 W. Sycamore-st.

Chairman, Marilyn Young, and her committee, will serve fried chicken, mashed potatoes, lettuce salad, sherbert, and coffee.

South Holds Homecoming Friday Night

Football color and excitement will reach its highest pitch tomorrow night at Mahaffey Stadium as South High School's Homecoming game is played against Linden-McKinley.

The game will answer two questions that have kept South High halls buzzin' for several weeks. Will the Bulldogs regain their earlier winning streak? Who will reign as the Homecoming Queen?

Seven of South's loveliest young ladies are eagerly awaiting the verdict on the crown. The candidates are Sue Ellen Smith, Linda Chamberlain, Carol Allen, Betty Sue Edwards, Lynda Hicks, Margaret Pearrell and Nancy Ward.

During the halftime period, the Homecoming Queen will be announced. The lucky girl and her court of six will arrive on the field in grand style riding in 1959 model convertibles.

South's marching band, under the direction of Randal Near, will pay tribute to the royal court by forming a large crown on the field to be followed by precision military drills.

Admission to the game, which starts at 8 p.m., will be $1. A 50 cent admission will be charged for the dance to be held in the gymnasium following the game. Music for the dance will be furnished by a quintet, largely made up of South High alumni.

Richard Mincer, president of the Alumni Association, cordially invites all South alumni to return for the homecoming game and dance.

Sponsor Bake Sale

The Young Women's Circle of Gates - Fourth Methodist Church will be held Saturday, Oct. 25 at the Majestic Paint Store at Parsons-av and Whittier-st.

FINALLY MADE IT! William P. Hoermle Monday night finally took the vacant City Council chair which had been dangled before him for several weeks since the death of W. Wesley Llewelyn, former president of the council. However, his position in the seat is unsteady because some local officials are not convinced Mayor Sensenbrenner had the legal right to appoint Hoermle. At right, the South Side appliance dealer is seen smiling as he receives word of his appointment.

Supreme Court May Rule On Hoermle's Appointment To 'Teetering' Council Seat

The Ohio Supreme Court may be asked to step in and upset the "harmony" in City Council which Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner brought about Monday by breaking the 3-3 council deadlock with the appointment of William P. Hoermle.

City Attorney Russell Leach Tuesday requested County Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine to ask the Ohio Supreme Court to hand down a ruling on the legality of Hoermle's appointment by the mayor. Devine indicated he will start the action soon in the high court.

Hoermle, owner of Hoermle's Appliance Store, 1894 Parsons-av, and resident of 2434 Beverly-pl, Berwick, was named early Monday by the mayor and was sworn in by Municipal Court Judge John Duffy.

Overlooking strong Republican objections Monday night, Hoermle supplied the needed fourth vote to elect Robert H. Smith, another East Sider, as president of the Council. W. Ralston Westlake was the Republican candidate for the council presidency.

Speculation has been high for weeks concerning Hoermle's chances for the vacant Council seat, whether by council vote or appointment by the mayor. A much larger question now is whether the South Sider will be able to hold his new position.

Hoermle stated several weeks ago that he wanted nothing more than to serve his city. He may get nothing more! City Auditor John H. Price refused Tuesday to pay the appliance dealer's salary as councilman because City Attorney Leach had ruled the mayor did not have the legal right to appoint a seventh councilman.

The salary of Columbus councilmen is $156.33 per month. Hoermle maintains that he did not accept the post for the money and will continue to serve with or without pay.

Leach continues in his belief that as long as Hoermle is serving as councilman under a legal cloud, the operation of Columbus government will be in jeopardy.

As the situation stands now, it is believed that no danger will result in city government as long as Hoermle's vote is not the deciding vote in the passage of important legislature.

Columbus Maennerchor Celebrates Anniversary

The South Side and Southeast communities extend best wishes to the Columbus Maennerchor as it celebrates its 110th anniversary Sunday, Oct. 26, at 6 p.m. in the Maennerchor Hall, 966 S. High-st, with a formal banquet, concert and dance.

Guest speaker for the gala affair will be Gov. C. William O'Neill. Carl Graf will be the toastmaster and John Wittenmeier is the banquet chairman. The celebration is open to all members and their families.

The Maennerchor, founded in Columbus in 1848 by 12 German immigrants, today boasts 1500 members, a chorus of 95 male singers, a 65-voice Damenchor (female singers), a band of 45 musicians and a string orchestra of 28 members.

The Maennerchor is the oldest active organization of its type in existence today west of the Allegheny Mountains, according to Andy Holzapfel, president of the organization.

Organizers of this German Men's Chorus were William Siebert, W. F. Marks, Andreas Schneider, G. Baumueller, Friedrich Woll, Phillip Conrad, J. P. Bruck, Heinrich Tryens, Martin Krumm, Jonas Kissel, Daniel Koenig, Wilhelm Raines, Jr., and George Schneider.

For 73 years the society met in private homes, storeroom attics and various rented commercial halls. In 1921 the growing organization purchased the dwelling which is the present home of the Maennerchor.

The present auditorium and rathskeller were added 10 years later and have been enlarged and remodeled several times since. The home is now reportedly the largest dwelling owned by any German group in the Midwest area.

Prof. I. A. Leinheuser has been the Maennerchor musical director for more than 20 years. The group's primary interest has been to keep alive the vocal and instrumental interpretations of original German music, which they have continued to do for 110 years.

The organization's various music groups travel throughout the country giving concerts and performing for social affairs. The Maennerchor chorus recently returned from a Wisconsin state music competition where the local group walked off with top honors.

City UA Drive Lagging Behind Announced Goal

South Side volunteer solicitors in the Metropolitan and Residential Divisions of the United Appeal campaign reported a total of $1,899 contributed from this area at the third report luncheon Thursday, Oct. 16, in Southern Hotel.

The overall campaign total reported at the luncheon was $1,639,242 for 48.2 percent of the goal. The campaign will close with a final report Tuesday, Oct. 28.

Charles W. Medick, general campaign chairman, emphasized a note of urgency in his appeal to volunteer solicitors and givers to step up the lagging pace of contributions in order to meet the $3,388,470 goal. Combined Metropolitan - Residential goal for this area is $7,028.

Metropolitan Division solicitors reported contributions from this area amounting to $1,157. Residential Division volunteers in this area reported a total of $742.

South High Band Leads Paraders Thru Circleville

South High School's marching band attended the Pumpkin Show at Circleville on Thursday, Oct. 16.

South had the honor of leading the parade of bands through the streets of Circleville. Drum major Karl Groezinger led the parade.

After the parade, the band gave a concert in the middle of the square where the flag-swingers and majorettes did their individual routines.

Golden Age Club Party Set For Schiller Center

The Schiller Park Golden Age Club is planning a halloween party for members and their spouses, Wednesday, Oct. 29, at 7 p.m., in the dinning room of Schiller Recreation Center. Prizes will be awarded unusual costumes and there will be a crowning of the "King of the Goblins" and the "Queen of the Witches." Every one is asked to mask for this affair whether they wish to enter the costume judging or not.

The program, headed by Mrs. Alberta Rigot and Mrs. Blanche Van Gorder, will consist of costume judging, games and refreshments.

Last Tuesday the group took a trip to the Hocking Hills, and visited the Rock House, Old Mans Cave and Ash Cave. Approximately 40 persons made the trip.

Annual election of officers was held on Tuesday, Oct. 7, and the following officers and committee chairmen were installed: president, Mrs. Carrie B. Miller, 90 E. Gates-st; vice-president, Mrs. Francis Colegrove, 1077 Bruck-st; secretary Mrs. Mary H. Valentine, 978 Jaeger-st; treasurer, Mrs. Helen Kizer, 442 Reinhard-av; chaplain, Mrs. Mary E. Deffenbaugh 342 E. Mithoff; parliamentarian, Henry C. Cotner, 1580 N. High-st.

Committee chairmen which were appointed are entertainment, Mrs. Alberta Rigot, 87 E. Gates; social, Mrs. Blanche Van Gorder, 647 E. Whittier-st; membership, Mrs. Ann Wagner, 442 Reinhard-av and publicity, Mrs. Emmerson Foor, 846 Euclaire-av.

'Freddie' Finds Home

"Freddie," the homeless dog whose picture appeared in the Leader several weeks ago, has now found a family of his own reports Mrs. Lesh Fletcher, of 1693 Kossuth-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baxter, of Marlington, W. Va., who were visiting their daughter, Mrs. Jack Kirby, of 317 Frebis-av, saw the article about the dog and decided they wanted Freddie.

The Baxters said they have a big home with a large amount of acreage located in the foothills of West Virginia. "Freddie is now receiving love and care from his new family and romping arund those hills" said Mrs. Fletcher.

NEW MEMBERS—Here is a group of 50 new members taken into St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, as part of the Golden Anniversary program of the church. The church is located at 221 E. Gates-st.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH OBSERVES 50th ANNIVERSARY

A series of events will mark the Golden Anniversary of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church, located at 221 E. Gates-st.

As part of the program, 50 new members were taken into the church Sunday, Oct. 5.

St. Paul's was organized in January, 1908 and in 1950 a new edifice was built at a cost of $100,000. It was completely free of debt five years later. Rev. Paul C. Kaefer, the present pastor, has served the congregation since 1938. He is the sixth pastor to serve the church in 50 years.

An anniversary dinner will be given in Fellowship Hall, Wednesday, Oct. 29. Those serving on the committee are L. Edwin Tope, chairman; Jim Wagner, Eugene Pindell, James Hott and Dr. Willis Merrill and Paul Berger, president of the church. The pioneer members will be honored and Rev. Kaefer will review the history of the church.

Sunday, Nov. 2, an anniversary service will be held at 10:30 a.m. with Rev. Clarence Gebhart delivering a special sermon. St. Paul's Chancel Choir under the direction of Paul Berger with Mrs. Claire Freeman at the organ, will render special music.

A beautiful new bulletin board was erected last week in memory of Fred Loudenslager who served the church as president for many years.

The church has a membership of over 600 and is considered one of the outstanding churches of the Southeast Ohio Synod. "A Friendly Church In A Friendly Community," is the church motto.

Halloween Fetes

Schiller staff members will lead the activities and members of the CSSO will be on hand to serve the refreshments.

Special Feature

An extra featureat Schiller will be the opportunity for some lucky boys and girls who attend the party to win prizes by going straight home after the Halloween fete.

Each youngster is supposed to bring to the party a completed registration blank obtainable from schools or this issue of the Leader. The blanks are to be filled out by parents for their children before the youngsters come to the party.

Children will be given one-half hour to get home following the party. A drawing of a registration blank from each age group will then be made and if the lucky youngster is home, a prize will be delivered the same evening.

Upsets Rule South Side Football Poll

Big upsets on the college scene last week sent local pigskin experts into a dither in the third week of the South Side Leader Football Guessing Contest.

Throwing our homemade prophets off stride most commonly were upsets by Northwestern over Michigan, Tulane over Navy and Purdue over Michigan State.

Mrs. Frances Belcher, 788 Columbus-st proving that the fairer sex is just as football-wise as its counterpart, topped South Side prognosticators with 17 big winners.

V. Quarry, 88 E. Mithoff, picked as many winners as Mrs. Belcher but failed to come closest to highest team score for the tie-breaker. James Hildenbrand, 585 E. Whittier, was third in the weekly competition.

Mrs. Belcher has her choice of $10 in cash, an oil change and lubrication at Jones' Shell Station or a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

Quarry and Hildenbrand must settle for what is left in the order of their finish.

Winners of this week's poll will be eligible for $10 in cash, and oil change and lubrication from Dave Wood's Marathon Station, or $5 in toiletries from High-Mithoff Pharmacy and a large pizza from Johnny's pizza.

Prizes for Nov. 1 contestants will be $10 in cash, one bowling bag from Moose Club Bowling Lanes, and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

St. Paul's Lutheran Celebrates Reformation

Appropriate services will be held Sunday, Oct. 26, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 322 Stewart-av, in commemoration of the hailing of 95 theses to the door of the castle church at Wittenberg, Germany, Oct. 31, 1517. This proved to be the beginning of the Protestant Reformation.

The pastor will preach at 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. on the theme, "Thank God For The Reformation." The two cardinal principles of Luther's Reformation were Scripture alone as authority and salvation and not by grace through faith in the Savior Jesus Christ it is said.

BULLDOGS SEEK THIRD

Linden Is Foe For Homecoming

Starting the season with what looked to be a championship team, the South High Bulldogs have not been able to live up to such a position.

This week the Bulldogs will be scuffling for their third city league win against two defeats while their homecoming rival, No. 1 rated team, undefeated and untied Linden, will want to revenge the 21-0 setback by South at their homecoming last year.

The Panthers have so far clawed all opposition to pieces with a 28-22 victory over highly rated East, a 12-12 tie with the powerful Lancaster Golden Gales, a high-scoring victory over Watterson and a 10-6 win over the mighty Eastmoor Warriors. So far the Panther record has been unmarred. Tomorrow the Lindeners will be all out to see that it stays that way.

On the other hand the twice-defeated Southerners have two wins to their credit with scores of 27-22 and 6-0 over Central and West respectively. Neither of these teams has proved to be a powerful opponent this year so the victories cannot be highly rated. Also the Bulldogs have had 14-6 and 6-0 handed to them by Aquinas and North, the latter a poorly rated opponent.

Despite these facts, no contest can be predicted with certainty.

This clash will take place at 8 p.m. Friday at Mahaffey Stadium. The queen will be crowned during halftime festivities.

A last minute scoring attempt failed to produce the badly needed score as the Polar Bears from North rolled over South 6-0 on the Northerners gridiron last Friday.

Trailing 6-0 and with the last seconds going, quarterback George Jones faded to pass. He was hit but managed to stay up long enough to throw to end Jerry Daily in the end zone. Daily pulled the aerial down only to have a North defender knock the pigskin from his hands and also South's hopes of victory.

From this point on it was nip and tuck until late in the second quarter when Polar Bear Gary Howard scored the lone touchdown of the battle, set up by a poor pass from center.

South had four passes intercepted while they completed only a couple. One completion came late in the final drive by the Rebels. After this pass the Bulldogs "bit" their way to inside the North 10 where the last play was also a failure.

The South defense was sparked by Will Kirby and George Jones as they halted North twice deep in the South territory, once on the four and once on the 15.

Plan '59 Tour Of Europe Now, Club Suggests

It's not too early to start planning a 1959 tour of Europe.

That cherished wish to see the Clock Tower in Berne, to be serenaded by gondoliers, stroll down the Champs Elysees, or watch the changing of the guards at Buckingham Palace all can come true in an AAA 1959 European tour.

A preview of the 1959 tour schedule has just been announced and it provides itineraries for just about everyone's budget and vacation timetable.

This year, for the first time, the AAA has added a Certificate of Guarantee — assuring members who make reservations by November 15 of inclusion in the tour of their choice.

Early action is well advised, since AAA tours are limited to small groups and many tours during the past spring and summer season were booked well in advance.

Escorted tours offer many advantages and extras. The AAA handles all reservations for passage over and back, plus all hotel accommodations while in Europe. Arrangements are made well in advance by people familiar with ships and hotels. Groups traveling is advantageous for families as well as for those traveling alone. An experienced guide accompanies the group from beginning to end and handles all details of the trip. Special guides in each city contribute their own know-how on local customs and tourist spots.

There are AAA escorted tours for all. On the famed "Easter in Rome" tour, seven countries are visited with Good Friday and Easter Sunday spent in the Holy City to highlight the trip. The "Seven-Country Budget Tour" sails on the fine ships of the Holland America Line.

Many seven-country and nine-country tours are offered with various departure dates. The "High Value Tours" sail on the luxurious Queens of the Cunard Lines, with substantial savings through cabin and tourist class accommodations. Ireland and England and Scandinavia are visited on the "Northern Capitals Tours." Still other tours take you to the countries of Southern Europe.

Folders are available at the Columbus Automobile Club.

The School Bond

When the people of Columbus go to the polls Nov. 4, one of the most important issues they will find on the ballot is the 8.8 school levy.

The Columbus Board of Education and Superintendent Harold H. Eibling have called passage of the levy a "must" if the schools are to be adequately financed during the next three years.

Passage of the levy would enable the schools to maintain their present educational program, extend their services to an additional 10,000 pupils during the next three years, and carry out a "reasonable" improvement program, according to Dr. Eibling.

Failure of the levy, on the other hand, obviously would force a cutback in school services next year.

The Columbus Board of Education seems fair in asking for the increase. As the size of the student body becomes bigger, it stands to reason that additional money will be needed to provide existing services on a larger scale.

With Americans everywhere concerned with the advancement of science and the forging of new frontiers, it is vitally important that our schools maintain the best possible programs.

We feel that the present program should not only continue but that every boy and girl should be provided with even better educational opportunities to meet the challenges of the future.

Providing these opportunities should be our foremost thought when we go to the polls this November.

She has a way with boys and she's found the way she can have time to spend with them. She lets her electric dryer help her. Low-cost electric drying does more for her than dry clothes fluffy and sweet. It saves her time and energy by putting an end to back-breaking drudgery and dull laundry-day routine. Then she uses the time and energy she saves to be a better neighbor, mother and homemaker.
How about you? If you don't know what an electric dryer can do for you, see your electric appliance dealer. He'll be happy to give you a free demonstration.

October--Time To Start The Home Bird Feeders

The winter birds are filtering in from the North, so it's time to put seeds and grain in the feeders.

I saw the first flock of chickadees almost two weeks ago. Downy woodpeckers are here in greater numbers than they have been all summer.

A couple of nuthatches put in their appearance a few days ago. These are the most enthusiastic guests at winter feeders—they almost stand in line to wait their turn at the suet. When they start to congregate I put sunflower seeds, bread crumbs, mixed grain, and suet in our two feeders.

It's true, plenty of natural food is around in October — the time of the harvest moon. Weeds hang heavy with seed pods, and slow-moving insects are easy prey. But if you start feeding now you will make your neighborhood exceptionally attractive to birds. They are drifting around right now looking for choice spots to spend the winter. A feeder or two may entice some to locate in your yard.

Once you start winter feeding, it becomes a duty. If you hold birds in your yard by feeding, then you must faithfully replenish the supply all winter and through early spring. The birds are depending on you.

It is fitting that our cheery winter visitors arrive in October. It is perhaps the best month of the year to be outdoors—fishing, hunting, or just observing nature. Early in the month autumn flowers put on a show equal to their May-blooming cousins. Soon the maples turn golden and the oaks scarlet to give the outdoors its most brilliant moment.

Nature's spectacular mystery of bird migration appears. It's much greater than the spring flight, for young of the year swell the ranks. Birds, and all wildlife for that matter, are short lived, and their populations vary greatly from spring to fall. From a few birds in the spring, many are here in the fall. Geese form their wedges high in the sky. Hawks wheel over farmlands on bright sunny days. Song sparrows hop from bush to bush. All feel the age-old tug of migration.

October is a good month for fishing. Bass and catfish feel more like taking a bait. Bluegills put on a surge of feeding before the cold weather. They will hit flies and rubber spiders on the surface on warm days, and on cooler days they will take baits fished deeper.

The hunter has a wide choice of game this month. Squirrel hunting improves as leaves disappear from the trees. For the upland gunner there are grouse and woodcock. Duck hunting begins now.

October's harvest moon signifies nature's bountiful season. It is bountiful indeed for outdoor activities—we hate to see it slip by.

JOE KELSO, Madison Lake, with a couple of channel catfish taken at the lake using minnows for bait. They weighed 5 and 3¾ pounds. Kelso claims that cooler weather encourages fish, particularly catfish, to go on a feeding rampage.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Halloween Tricks or Treats—Apples, cider, pumpkins, popcorn, grapes, cheese.

Other Good Choices—Potatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, squash, medium eggs, chuck roast, fresh pork shoulder cuts, large turkeys, frozen limts.

FOODS FOR TREATS AND SNACKS

Halloween, tricks or treats, hob-goblins, kids and parties—all these things give us atmosphere for the first festival of the fall. Such occasions call for decorations and refreshments.

The above list of foods could be extended, but these particular items are plentiful at this time of year. Besides they lend just the atmosphere we want in autumn funfare. Pumpkins, for instance, fill the bill for more than one purpose. You can eat them—you can make Jack-O-Lanterns of them—or, you can use them for decorations in other ways.

Folk who know their pumpkins say that the Connecticut Field Pumpkin makes the best Jack-O-Lanterns because it's flat on the ends and has a thin, hard rind. If you scoop out the insides so the rind is left fairly thin, light really glows through. For this purpose, a flash light will give the same effect as a candle, and will be much safer.

Now, if you want to eat the pumpkin, select the small sugar or New England pie pumpkin. It has a rich orange flesh, is meaty, sweet, and fine grained. It makes good pies.

Shoppers Pick the Snack — Not all of the snack foods sold this week will be for "tricks and treats." Snacks are here to stay! Today's eating habits seem to include one or two in-between meal snacks for most every member of the family. Perhaps the "coffee break" or the habit of munching while watching television is responsible. But this impromptu eating need not result in poor eating habits. The homemaker can still regulate eating.

How?—One of the best ways is to see that good healthful snacks are always available. Our responsibility starts at the grocery store when we shop for food. "Out of sight — out of mind," might be a good slogan to prevent the "too much sweets or too much starch." Instead, choose fresh fruits and crisp, raw vegetables, cheeses and cheese dips, dried fruits, peanut butter or fruit juices. Or plan for milk and ice cream drinks.

These are just a few healthful snack possibilities . . . all easy on the budget at this season. Of course, we need to consider family likes and dislikes. Snacks should taste good. After all . . . snacks are eaten for fun!

The average American eats an egg almost every day and a little more than a half pound of poultry each week.

Research Uses Squirrel Paws

The Game Management Section of the Ohio Division of Wildlife reports that a research project is currently underway involving three thousand squirrel paws.

The paws collected from hunters this fall, are being X-rayed to determine the degree of bone development. This, technicians say, will tell them whether Ohio's longer squirrel hunting seasons are harming the bushy-tail population.

Waterloo Experiment Station, near Athens, is conducting the research.

PTA news in capsule form . . . Heyl-av Study Group meets at 1:15 p.m. in the school today. Theme for the meeting is "So Young and So Worried." A movie will be shown, illustrating how rivalry affects children's personalities. Open House will be held at Stewart-av and Southwood Schools, on Tuesday, Oct. 28.

Twelve people, if living today, would certainly be amazed at the results of their efforts 110 years ago. The 12 immigrants who founded the Columbus Maennerchor would see that their love for music now includes a men's chorus of 95 voices and a women's chorus of 65, a 45 piece band and a string orchestra of 28. Fifteen hundred members belong to the S. High-st club.

To celebrate their founding anniversary, the committee members have planned a 6:00 p.m. banquet, Sunday, Oct. 26. The male and female singers will present concerts, followed by a dance. Carl Graf will be the toastmaster, Governor C. William O'Neill and city and state officials will be present.

The McCain family, 1547 S. Champion-av, can't be blamed for thinking 1958 is not such a "healthy" year. First, Pauline is barely on the "road to recovery" list and now Walter is the ailing one. He is in room 221, Mercy Hospital.

Belated wedding congratulation to Mr. and Mrs. R. Hackett 1411 Livingston-av, both South High School graduates, who exchanged their Aug. 30 vows in Monroe, Mich.

We extend wishes for a happy birthday to Mrs. Pearl Yates, of 1720 S. Sixth-st, who will be 78 years young this Saturday, Oct. 25.

Birthday celebrations are the "order of the day" for these youngsters . . . Iris Parham, 73 E. Welch, Oct. 24; Danny Brown, 113 Woodrow-av, Oct. 23; Larry Tolliver, 113 Woodrow, Oct. 25; Dean Smith, 34 W. Hinman, Oct. 28; Andrea Parker, 138 Morrill, Oct. 23; Everett Stockwell, 41 Southwood, Oct. 29; James Bean, 1353 City Park, Oct. 25; Gary Pritt, 1373 S. 4th-st, Oct. 28; Thomas Rothwell, 140 E. Morrill, Oct. 27; Kathryn Kirby, 123 E. Woodrow, Oct. 27; Gary Ball, 30½ W. Welch, Oct. 28; Vicky Mayes, 40 E. Markison, Oct. 28; Karen Hart, 1547 S. 4th-st, Oct. 22 and Carolyn Berger, 615 S. 6th-st, Oct. 24.

Key West, Fla., the Smokies and Renfro Valley were some of the spots touched by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rose, 239 E. Markison-av, on their recent vacation trip. The Roses traveled 3000 miles in their tour of states that lie south of "Buckeye-land."

Mrs. Harold Eichel, 1341 S. 3rd-st, will honor newly-wedded Jill Hoover with a miscellaneous shower tonight at 8:00 p.m.

We attended the Home Talent on Parade last Thursday, at Gates-Fourth Methodist Church and were thrilled by the fine job that Shirley Arick has done with her young singers of the Chancel Choir. It's taken lots of time and energy to produce such excellence, so "orchids" to the lovely young choir-director.

While at the program we noted a poster telling of a turkey dinner to be held Nov. 6. We were amused when Mrs. Orville Rader, co-producer of the entertaining evening later announced it as a "swept wing" Turkey Dinner. (How Detroit has molded our thoughts! Personally, we like the recessed chassis, but please no luggage compartment).

The Fidelis Class, Southwood Church of Christ, will meet Saturday, Oct. 25. Margaret and Ethel Spiker will be co-hostesses.

Helen Maag, 150 E. Innis-av, just recently returned from Washington, D. C., where she visited her doctor-son, Ted, and his family.

Our sympathy to Laura Houghn, who lost her father-in-law last week.

Though we're not usually among those watching "kiddie" daytime programs, this week and next that's just what we'll be doing. The reason is one Anna Lynette LaRue, a vivacious 3½ year old, who just happens to be a neice, and is one of the visitors on Miss Lois' program.

Mrs. C. J. McGrath's "reminder" tells us that next Tuesday, Oct. 28 will be the date for the monthly euchre party sponsored by St. Mary's PTA and Parish Council. 8:30 p.m. is the hour, at the High School, downstairs sewing rooms. Donation is 50 cents per person.

Trudeau Guild No. 3 is again having a card party, so if you think your luck is still holding good, we'll let you in on the details. (And of course we hope some of the other readers get the opportunity to attend he evening of fun; for the public is very welcome.)

The party will be held Friday, Oct. 24 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. George Hooper, 1254 S. James-rd. Tickets can be obtained at the door, but it is possible to make reservations with Mrs. Waldo Dean, CL. 8-3148.

Who's for fried chicken? Then just go to South Methodist Church today, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. or from 5 to 7 p.m. The WSCS is the sponsoring group. For a little early Christmas shopping, don't pass up the bazaar table. Committee chairmen are Mrs. Guy Ward, kitchen; Mrs. Frank Daugherty, dining room; Mrs. Clifford Keyes, pies; Mrs. Frank Daugherty, Mrs. Robert Ward and Mrs. Leo Mulby, tickets; Mrs. John King and Mrs. Ed Bellman, publicity; Mrs. Walter Peters, bazaar chairman.

Club doings, hither and thither . . . Circle 12, St. Francis School of Nursing, Oct. 23, meets for a 6:30 buffet supper and bridge in the home of Mrs. Earl Butts, 1425 S. 5th-st. Cloverleaf 2, St Anthony's, will meet at 1100½ Wilson-av, at 8 p.m. on Oct. 28, in the home of Mrs. Paul Moseman.

Members of Croation Lodge, St. Anthony, will have a Halloween masquerade dance at 7:30 p.m. this Saturday, Oct. 25. Scene of the festivities is the lodge's hall, 377 Reeb-av. The Continental Tamburitzans will provide the music. The entire membership of Crest, the organization that works for patients at Alum Crest Hospital, has been invited to the 12:30 p.m. luncheon that will be held Tuesday, Oct. 28, at the Jeffrey Mansion. Mrs. Paul Falter is in charge of the luncheon.

Happiness in the Home
Comes First in Ohio

If Issue 2 Is Passed . . .
Family Security
Will be Weakened

A woman has to look ahead. And she doesn't have to look far ahead to see that Issue 2 is a threat to the security and happiness of her family.

If this amendment passed, the family breadwinner's job security, the only job protection he has, would be undermined. His wages would fall.

Housewives simply would have less to spend to keep the family going. For many a woman, Issue 2 would have the same effect as stealing milk from the refrigerator.

If large corporations didn't intend to lower wages (and increase their profits), why else would they throw so much money into the effort to force through Issue 2, the so-called 'right-to-work' amendment?

For an idea of what Issue 2 could do to you, look at the situation in the southern 'right-to-work' states.

In the states where 'right-to-work' laws have been in effect the longest, the typical housewife simply can't make ends meet. She has $666 LESS to spend for each member of the family than the typical housewife in Ohio. (According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor statistics.)

In these states the average income is one-third LESS than in Ohio. That's one-third less to spend for milk . . . one-third less to spend for clothes . . . one-third less to spend for all the other necessities of life.

In these states, businessmen make less because their customers earn less. Farmers make less because there is a smaller market for their crops.

Everybody's hurt by the trick-title 'right-to-work' . . . but hit hardest of all is the housewife, every family's dollar stretcher.

Women in Ohio will recognize this law as a fraud and a danger to their home. Vote NO on Issue #2.

Don't Be Misled! Vote No On Issue No. 2

Neubeck's Holds Color Carnival

The public is invited to attend the Lowe Brothers "PLAX" Color Carnival being held at Neubeck's 216 E. Thurman-av. Friday and Saturday, Oct 24 and 25

Besides receiving a free can of PLAX, visitors will see actual tests of this new special paint designed for all enameling. Tests of the paint, which is made with alkyd resin, will show the paint's resistance to burning naphtha, twist and strain, and metal-eating acid.

The paint may be used on woodwork, chairs, benches, porch furniture and even cooking utensils. In repainting, one coat is ordinarily sufficient. Costing no more than ordinary enamels, the paint dries in from four to six hours.

PLAX Water Clear will also be demonstrated at Neubeck's Color Carnival. This new varnish, designed to magnify the beauty of natural wood grain surfaces, has smooth-applying and quick-drying characteristics as well as extra toughness due to alkyd resin.

This varnish is recommended as a good finish for boats, furniture, floors and woodwork, and many other uses

Election . . . . 1958 An Important One

Next Tuesday will be a very important day to Ohioans. It is Election Day, 1958.

For several months candidates and persons interested in the issues have sounded off with millions of words. It is hoped the public has listened well and has an unbiased understanding of the issues and candidates to be voted on.

As we see it, the campaign lines up this way:

Vote! If you are eligible and are registered you should by all means take advantage of the privilege that is yours . . . so vote! Your vote will be in privacy and you should vote only as you desire. No one has a right to dictate how you vote and no one will ever know.

Issue No. 1 . . . We believe it is a step in the direction of solving some of the great number of growing pains the people of the county are encountering. It is in no way an immediate change in any form of local government but merely makes it possible to bring certain changes into being should the people of various areas so decide they want them in the future. Any such changes would be subject to the vote of both areas involved in any future consolidations.

Issue No. 2 . . . From the beginning we have regretted that this should be such a bitterly contested issue. If this issue is approved it will be because union members themselves vote for it. People in general are not opposed to the labor unions. Some of those who are backing the issue and some of those who are opposed to it, are, we believe, doing so for selfish reasons. It is our opinion that most industry welcomes the organization of their workers, but are very much opposed to labor dictators, who many times agitate far beyond the welfare of the rank and file of union membership. Issue 2 as set forth, returns to the worker the right to choose a spokesman to represent him. In our opinion the calibre of many spokesmen for labor will be raised if Issue 2 is passed.

For Governor . . . We like Gov. Bill O'Neill. Earlier in his administration we believed he was off to a very bad start. In later months he has developed courage and a more aggressive view of the problems of the state.

For Congress . . . We like Walter Shapter, Jr. He is a well established business man and we believe the federal government needs business men. Sam Devine is a popular and capable young Republican and perhaps might handle the job well if given the chance.

For County Commissioner . . . We have always felt both parties should be represented on this three-man board and we have endorsed Delmar Kunz a Democrat. We believe he has the courage to vote

Probers Sift Wreckage For Plane Crash Cause

Technical representatives of Boeing Aircraft and Western Electric arrived at Lockbourne Air Force Base over the weekend to aid investigators in probing for the cause of a B-47 bomber crash which occurred last Thursday, killing three men.

Air Force spokesman, Lt. Col. Bill G. Fendall, told newsmen that the aircraft was in such a total state of destruction that it would probably be a week before final cause of the crash was determined.

Col. McFate E. Beveridge is heading a team from the 376th Bombardment Wing in the investigation. Probers currently are sifting through the wreckage in quest of clues.

Final rites for the victims of the tragic accident were held last Saturday at the base. Capt George H. Berliner, 33, 489 Naomi-ct, Groveport, the aircraft commander; 1st Lt. Carl Atherton III, 27, 39 F Buckeye Circle, on the base, the pilot; and Capt. Thomas A. Henry, 41, 1031 S. Kellner-rd, navigator, lost their lives in the crash.

Capt. Berliner is survived by his wife, Elaine; two children, Deborah and Valerie; and his father M/Sgt. George Marliner, currently on duty in Washington, D.C.

Lt. Atherton leaves his wife, Anne; two daughters, Carlanne and Delissa Dale; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Atherton of Lebanon, Tenn.

Capt. Henry's survivors are his wife, Virginia; daughter, Laura Ann; twin sons, Thomas and Henry; and his mother, Mrs. Mildred Higgins.

Witnesses to the crash said the aircraft took off and attained and altitude of about 500 feet when it dipped sharply to the left and smashed to the earth. No one heard a power failure of any of the plane's six jet engines, or detected fire or an explosion aboard the craft. The aircraft's canopy was jettisoned just as the plane began its roll earthward.

When the big plane hit the ground it began to burn and, despite on-the-spot action by the fire crew, rescue of the crewmen was impossible.

The same big challenge awaits local fans this week on the inside of today's Leader. Awards which will be made to winners of this week's contest are $10 in cash$5 worth of dry cleaning from Hancock Cleaners and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

Interest Hits Fever Pace For Election

Interest in the coming election, Tuesday, Nov. 4, is on the upswing this week as campaigners increased their drive for John Q. Public's favor.

Four issues and a number of state and local offices will be arrayed on the voting machine panels, open to voters from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Newly annexed people will, of course, vote in the city election, many of them in their regular balloting places.

Persons who were registered in the city and have moved into the townships will receive notice on the location of their new precinct houses right away. Most of the notices were to be mailed today, election officials said.

Analysts agree that Issue No. 2, tagged the Right-to-Work proposal will do much to bring out the voters. West Columbus voters, many of them employed in local industrial plants, have formed strong opinions on the compulsory union shop aspects of the issue.

Another item "close to home" is the 3.8 city school levy to finance school operations in the next three years. Rapid school construction (as reported elsewhere on this page) points out the need for serious consideration on the part of voters.

Designed to unite a knotty problem of emergency nature the .5-mill Child Welfare and Relief levy is up for consideration. The welfare Department insists that without more aid it cannot meet adequate standards in caring for dependent children, blind and disabled.

First issue on the ballot is the "Metropolitan Federation" amendment to the State Constitution. If passed it would permit villages and towns in any county of 50,000 people or more to federate.

The contests for governor, various state offices, three county jobs and nine judicial seats round out the ballot.

County election officials said they have received a few calls from persons who fear that voting machine is not private. "There's no way under the sun that anybody can tell how you vote in that machine", an election board spokesman said.

A new regulation states that when all booths are in use and persons are waiting, a time limit of five minutes at the machine must be observed. To avoid the rush, voting between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. is urged.

Attorney Blasts Republicans As Using Political Chicanery

By BILL RUSH

Attorney Milton S. Farber, describing Republican city councilmen as "obstructionists" and accusing them of "political chicanery," prepared Tuesday to defend Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner's right to appoint South Sider William P. Hoermle to city council in the Ohio Supreme Court.

Action contesting Hoermle's right to hold the "seventh" council position was filed in the state's highest court Monday by City Attorney Russell Leach, acting as special assistant to County Prosecutor Samuel Devine.

Leach claims only the city council has authority to appoint a new councilman. After council had deadlocked 3-3 on every attempt to name a successor, Mayor Sensenbrenner took advantage of a state statute allowing him to make the appointment when 30 days had passed.

Since the city charter is silent on this matter, Leach maintains that the Mayor does not have this power.

Commenting on the charter, Farber said that it was "unthinkable" that "a minority of council members can by perverse and obstructionist tactics stymie the orderly process of government."

Farber added that he did not wish to see the city suffer because of "political chicanery."

He termed their actions in trying to fill the vacancy as:

"A complete abandonment of the welfare of the city for the sake of partisan politics, an area in which the law contemplates a non-partisan attitude."

Farber summarized the action in council by saying:

"When the Democratic councilmen nominated Catherine McGuire, the obstructionists objected because she is a resident of Clintonville and suggested the appointment of Walter Snider, a south sider.

"When Hoermle was nominated, the obstructionists came back with the suggestion that council elect a Clintonville resident."

He commented that "these tactics have cost the minority members of Council at least three elections. Apparently the elephant having once learned something is unable to forget it."

Mayor Sensenbrenner conferred with Farber, along with six other lawyers and judges, before making the appointment. Farber stated:

"I advised him that he not only had the duty but the obligation as well to make the appointment."

Farber added that the Supreme Court has several times ruled the mayor may make the appointment if city council fails after 30 days "for any reason."

Currently engaged in a campaign for Common Pleas Court Judge, Farber will not answer the suit until Nov. 18. The city attorney's office will then be given time to file an answer and Hoermle will be given additional time to reply to this answer.

A hearing date will then be set by the Ohio Supreme Court with no decision expected until several days after proceedings are completed.

Council Urges School Vote

The Council of South Side Organizations appeals to every voter to get out and vote YES on the School Levy (Issue No. 4).

"It would be a step backwards in our community if we allow the School Tax Levy to be defeated. Let us, as responsible citizens, get out and vote YES and see that our friends and neighbors turn out in support of Issue No. 4," a spokesman said.

COLUMBUS SCHOOL NEEDS ARE CLEAR

It seems clear to us that the proposed 3.8 operating levy for Columbus Public Schools should be passed.

It is our belief that the average voter, when confronted with the facts of the issue, will hold the same feelings. Here are some of the facts:

About 92,000 more residents have swelled Columbus' population since 1950.

The city has more than doubled in geographical area during the last eight years.

The Columbus Public School system lists 45 more schools than in 1950.

Approximately 28,000 more children have filled the new schools at a gain to the school district of almost 3,500 youngsters per year.

The number of births in Columbus has increased almost 50 per cent in the last eight years.

These facts which point toward a huge demand on city schools for increased services show the strain being put on the existing budget.

Furthermore, all surveys and estimates indicate that this growth is not likely to end for some time.

The issue was simply stated by Superintendent Dr. Harold H. Eibling who said, "It should be clear to everyone that you can't educate the expected 84,000 pupils of 1961 on the same budget used for the present 74,000."

This, together with the observation that patches on the school man's pants should be a thing of the past, prompts us to urge every voter to cast a "yes" ballot on the school levy.

GET SALK SHOTS NOW

IT WAS NOT TOO MANY YEARS ago that people in a large American city were startled to see a group of women marching in front of the mayor's office, picketing. Their demands were simple . . they wanted Salk vaccine for their children.

This happened just a few years ago, when the Salk vaccine, a newly developed medical miracle was in such great demand that manufacturers could not product enough to satisfy everyone who wanted or needed it.

Nowadays, however, it is rare to find a heavy demand for the vaccine. Thanks to Dr. Salk, hospital beds are far less filled by polio victims. Thousands have been spared the tragedy of the dread paralysis or of death itself.

Supplies of Salk's miracle are now piling up on warehouse shelves, and 45 million people in the polio-susceptible age groups under 40 have failed to get this essential protection.

If you have not had your complete series of Salk shots, or if your children have gone unvaccinated, get them now. It's the cheapest form of health insurance on the market.—Reprinted from the Sycamore (O.) Messenger.

Mayors Hedge On Federation; Fear Columbus Domination

By DAVE HESS

Franklin County Mayors' Council, despite Attorney Jack Chester's warning that the trend was toward a county-wide governmental system, voted last week to oppose the Metropolitan Federation amendment which will appear on the November ballot as Issue No. 1.

Chester, chairman of the Metropolitan Federation Committee in the Ohio Legislature and author of the amendment, told the council that "to survive as autonomous municipalities, it is imperative that you smaller community officials provide metropolitan services to your people."

Said Chester, "You must seek a kind of government which can regulate metropolitan functions (services), and the only way to do this is to encompass the area where the functions exist so that control over them can be exercised." The Columbus attorney was, of course, referring to Columbus as the area to be surrounded.

He called Metropolitan Federation the "natural device for taking away control of water and sewer services from Columbus." Up to now Columbus officials have followed a policy of holding out these services to the small municipalities on the theory that they may be enticed into annexing to the big town.

Mrs. Charlotte Curtis of a downtown newspaper and Mrs. Evalena Briers, Upper Arlington planning commissioner, spoke on the pros and cons of federation, explaining the electoral procedures for putting federation into effect.

Mrs. Curtis emphasized that a vote for the amendment Nov. 4 will not, in effect do anything except make it possible to initiate action on federation. She made it plain that the whole issue is built on a theme of "permissive legislation," which actually doesn't do anything in and of itself except allow legislation to be started. In other words, if Issue 1 passes, metropolitan federation will not automatically be in effect. It means that two county commissioners, Columbus City Council or a petition of voters in the areas involved could call for a charter commission vote.

After a commission was elected and a charter drawn up, a three stage vote for acceptance, or denial, would be held. A majority of voters in Columbus (the largest member of the federation) would have to be obtained, then a majority of voters of the areas outside Columbus be obtained, then a majority of electors over the entire area be obtained.

Warren Insley, Worthington city attorney, probably voiced the fears of most of the mayors on the council when he said in retort to Chester's arguments, "Once we smaller municipalities take services from Columbus, eventually we will come to be dominated by the city. The City of Columbus will control the situation, whatever it is."

Insley's opinion was offered after Chester had told the council that the small towns would not be shouldering Columbus' debts, but just paying their own share of what they used from the big city's services. Chester also pointed out that by availing themselves of Columbus services, lower rates would probably be realized.

BIBLE COMMENT

Pope's Death Shows Unity Of Religion

The unity of Christians and Jews throughout the world was brought into focus sharply by the death of Pope Pius XII. Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders, heads of state and most creeds joined in expressions of mourning at the loss of the 82-year-old "Pope of Peace."

In East Germany, deep in the grip of communism, church bells tolled every 15 minutes after the Pope's death, as a constant reminder to their congregations of their loss.

The National Council of Churches, representing most of the Protestant denominations in the United States, cabled "deepest sympathy" to the College of Cardinals and to Roman Catholics everywhere.

The Synagogue Council of America, in what it said was an unprecedented action, drafted a message of condolence to the Roman Catholic world.

Other messages of sympathy came from other far-flung points of the globe: Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker; Australian Labor party leader H. V. Evatt; the Rt. Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of New York; the Archbishop of Canterbury, leader of the Anglican Church of England, and Dr. Norman Snaith, president of the British Methodist Council.

In a wave of sympathy unusual for our time, these men stood together, bridging oceans, and political religious leanings, to mourn the passing of a man who worked for peace in our age until he was called to his final rest.

Truck Rental Firm Grows Into Major Business

TYPICAL FLEET—This is a typical fleet of trucks used by one of U-Drive-It Company's clients. Fleets are mostly Fords but other makes are available. Local Manager Richard Knight explains that truck leasing has all the advantages of and none of the disadvantages of drawbacks of actual ownership. The U-Drive-It firm has two locations in Columbus—one at 179 E. State-st near State and Fourth, and another at 29 W. State-st.

Looking back over the 36-year history of the U-Drive-It Company, Richard Knight, local manager, observed that the truck maintenance business of the company is perhaps the most important part of all operations.

This year the company is observing its 36th anniversary. With executive offices in Columbus, it operates in eight major Ohio cities as well as Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Missouri.

U-Drive-It was two locations in Columbus. One office is at 179 E. State-st, and the other at 29 W. State-st.

Knight asks: Why add to your worries by constant concern over the operation of a fleet of trucks? Maintaining these trucks is a business all its own. To you it's probably a losing business.

Richard Knight

"Under our truck lease plan, you can enjoy all of the advantages of owning and operating your own trucks without any of the drawbacks of actual ownership. Lease rates on trucks vary according to the services furnished.

"The plan has everything. You receive brand-new equipment, built to your exact specifications . . . size, body, paint job, exactly as you request. From then on it becomes the U-Drive-It Company's job to keep this equipment in perfect condition, both mechanically and as to appearance.

"We furnish licenses, lubrications, oil changes, insurance, washings, tires, and gasoline, if you so desire. All you furnish is the driver, who remains your employee. Your cost for this entire set-up is established on a reasonable weekly basis.

Lists Advantages

Knight continued, "Here is what the U-Drive-It Truck Lease Plan gives you . . . 1. Increased working capital. By leasing your trucks, instead of buying them, you do not have thousands of dollars tied up in equipment . . . it can be diverted to more profitable uses.

"(2) A yardstick for figuring truck cost. When you own and maintain your truck fleet, costs are uncertain and variable. If you operated on a budget, unexpected truck maintenance costs may throw it out of line. The Company Lease Plan enables you to pre-determine your truck costs.

"(3) Extra trucks for peak periods. You do not have to keep a surplus of idle trucks merely to have them available the few occasions when additional truck service is required. You pay for U-Drive-It trucks for the time they are used.

"(4) Less clerical work. In connection with the filling out and filing of the many forms incident to truck taxes, licenses and insurance, we take care of all details which ordinarily would have to clear through your clerical and accounting work."

The company was the first of its type in Ohio and originated "one-way" service, whereby a car could be rented in one branch city and left in another branch city. This "one-way" service is also available in truck rentals.

Rent or Lease Offered

"The only difference between renting and leasing is the time elemen., with a greater savings to the customer on the long term Lease Plan. Under both plans complete maintenance, license, insurance and all related costs are included in the rental price of the car or truck.

In 1957 some 16 million people rented cars in the United States for a day, week or month. Rates were as low as $5 per day, plus five cents a mile. Cars may be leased on a yearly plan for as low as $74.50 per month.

It is predicted that by 1965, 30 million people will be using such rental and leasing services.

Don't Let Special Interests Spoil Our Way of Life in Ohio!

In the Home

Issue 2 would weaken the happy family life we now enjoy. With less money coming into each home, parents will be forced to deprive their children and themselves of many of life's necessities.

Our Churches and Schools

Churchmen of all faiths oppose Issue 2 on moral grounds. Included are the Protestant Ohio Council of Churches General Assembly, all six Ohio Catholic Bishops, and leading Ohio Rabbis.

On the Job

Eighty per cent of all Ohio employer-employee contracts include the union shop. This type of agreement put Ohioans among the best-fed and best-clothed people of any of the states in the Union. Under the "right-to-work" law, the working man will suffer because his wages will be cut and his job security will fall.

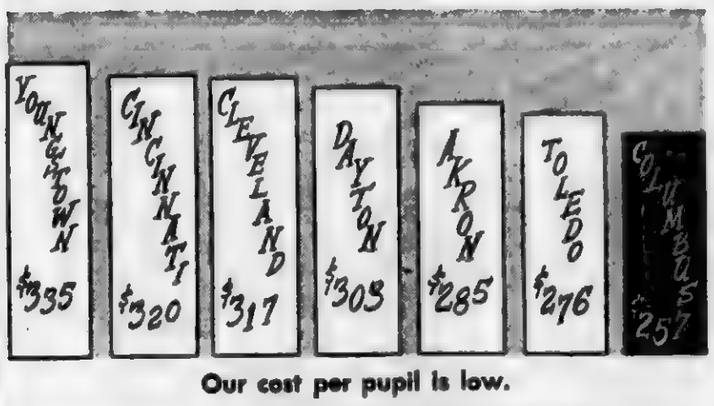
Will Columbus Children Continue To Have GOOD SCHOOLS? — BETTER SCHOOLS?

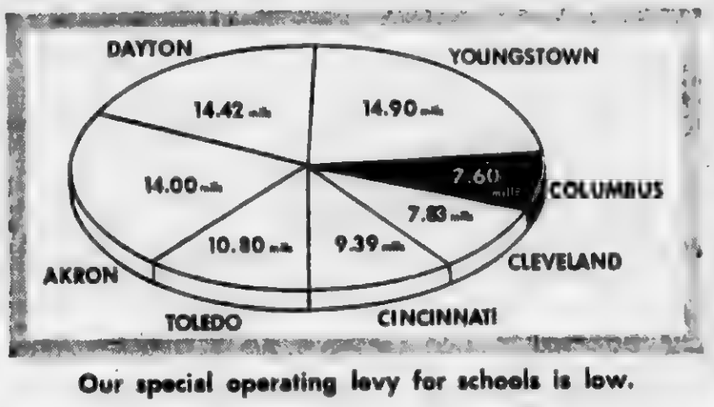
IT'S UP TO YOU!

► We MUST Keep Our Schools Strong

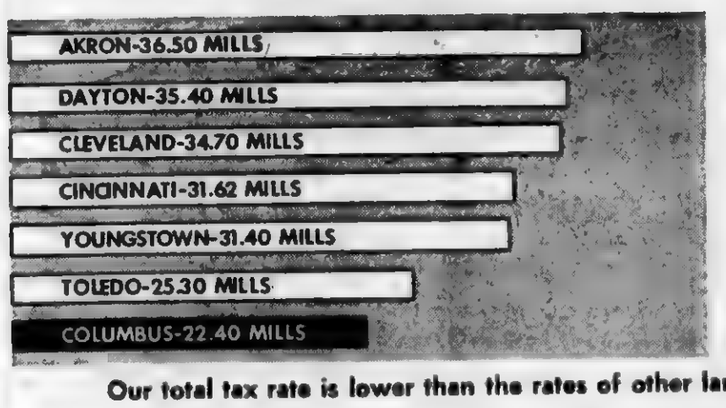


Our children are our nation's most valuable resource. Our schools have become our first line of defense. For these reasons, we must keep our schools strong. We must face our educational problems honestly and courageously.

Columbus schools have a serious financial problem. They need more money for three purposes: (1) to maintain their present program; (2) to educate 10,000 more pupils during the next three years; and (3) to carry out the 12-point improvement program approved by the Board of Education.



To raise the money needed, the Board is asking the voters to approve a 3.8-mill levy on Nov. 4.



► We Can Afford to Invest More in Education

Our cost per pupil is low.

Our special operating levy for schools is low.

Our total tax rate is lower than the rates of other large cities in Ohio and our neighboring communities.

► Better Schools: A Reasonable Investment

How much would an additional 3.8 mills cost you? If your home is worth $12,000, it probably is carried on the tax rolls at about $4,000. 3.8 mills levied on this property would cost less than 30c per week, or less than a penny for each hour that school is in session!

Dorothy Weakley was the hostess for a shower last evening in her home, 1440 Champion-av. The honor guest was Mrs. Robert Hoptry.

Mrs. Donald Fischer, 799 Deshler-av, asked that we pass along a request, so here's where we'll do just that. Several of the robes belonging to Job's Daughters, Bethel 5, have been temporarily mislaid, and it is hoped to find them. Perhaps some of the readers (like the Gadabout!) has one of the robes in the home, and didn't know whom to contact to return it. Mrs. Fischer, who is the guardian of Bethel 5, would like to hear from these folks. Her number is HI. 4-5880.

Congratulations to newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bogan. Mrs. Bogan is the former Emma Darst.

The committee members will convene at 1:45 p.m. Some of the items that PVA members are selling at this time include Christmas cards, wrap, ribbon, ribbon candy and ball point pens. They are saving blue stars from Folger's coffee cans, to secure a 48 cup coffee urn. Any sort of saving stamps, tax stamps and the red end flaps from Parkay Margarine wrappers are also being saved. Send all orders, stamps, etc., to H. I. Fyler, 5653 Norton-rd, Grove City.

Deputy Grand Regent Lucile McHenry made the presentation.

Here's a reminder of the Turkey Dinner that will be served at the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, on Nov. 6, by the WSCS.

Attending the South High Open House on Oct. 21, we saw several of the teachers now retired, who were active in the school in our undergraduate days there. These fine folks have truly discovered the "Fountain of Youth" for they don't seem a day older. The visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. Donskin, (Mrs. Donskin is the former Mrs. Bedgar), Mrs. Goldie Curry, Miss Hutchins and Miss Harmon.

The Loyal Women's, Men's and Fidelis Class of Southwood Church of Christ will enjoy an old-fashioned bean and corn bread supper at the church this evening at 6 p.m. Following the supper, the members will go calling, in preparation for the revival to be held at the church from Nov. 2 to 14. Fred Dunn will be the evangelist for the annual event.

Hospitalized at the time we wrote this, were John West in Grant, Sanford Martin, in Mt. Carmel. An at-homer, Homer Thaxton, 139 Jenkins, is also on the ailing list.

Two Nov. 1 weddings are in the offing . . . Beverly Diane Peart, 657 E. Whittier-st, who will become Mrs. Jack Nolan Pennell, in First Community Church. Mr. Pennell's home is at 28 E. Kossuth-st. Both folks are South High graduates.

Annetta Darlene Harris, 1033 S. Ohio-av will exchange her vows with Cletus Wesley Haubiel, 559 Frebis-av in the Ohio-av EUB Church. Mr. Haubiel graduated from South, and his fiancee from Central.

Our most important reminder of the year . . . Get Out And Vote!

Sadness and happiness, both, were part of the Gadabout's family life this week. A cousin, Tillie Clark, passed away Friday evening. On Saturday morning, little 5 pound 12 ounce Larry Ellis LaRue made his debut ahead of schedule. Guess he didn't want Santa Claus to forget him!

Doh Hughes, 1274 S. 5th-st, has been indulging in his favorite sport this past week. He and several friends have been hunting with bow and arrows.

Our "doll lady" Mrs. I. Bier, 742 Gates-st, has dressed 97 dolls so far, and has about run out of her supply. If you have an unused doll that the young mistress no longer cares for won't you let Mrs. Bier know about it? Her "dollies" will be used at Christmas time, to be given to youngsters who might otherwise be forgotten by Santa Claus. Do let her know, won't you?

Hunting Season Gains Momentum

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors

By ROD COCHRAN

With the brisk weather comes a quickening of the outdoor tempo. Several hunting seasons are in — my hunting so far this year includes squirrels, grouse, woodcock, and ducks. In a little more than a couple of weeks the pheasant and rabbit season comes in. This is the time of year that hunters live for.

Fields trials are in the midst of their season. Both bird dog and hound trials are being held in Ohio every week.

Dog owners are putting the finishing touches on their dogs so they will be ready to take to the field. Dogs need conditioning as much as you do, and in the case of young dogs they must be trained before the hunting season. Trying to train a pup on the first day of the hunting season will ruin the day both for you and your hunting companions.

My beagle, Trudy, had her pups a few days ago, so she will miss the first half of the hunting season. I had her in good condition just before she whelped, and several days after the pups are weaned she will be in fairly good shape to go hunting. I will only hunt her for short periods until she toughens up again. Incidentally, her six pupis are beauties, and I'm going to hate to sell them .

With the excitement of hunting season upon us, let's talk for a bit about what makes good hunting. A trained dog, fair marksmanship, a goodly number of shooting chances, and reasonable weather are all factors which contribute much to the enjoyment of a hunting trip—but unless you have good companionship there is something lacking in the day's pleasure.

Having along a good hunting companion seems to be the secret. A congenial, understanding hunter who appreciates the little things that make up the delights of a day's hunt—who will congratulate when your gun pointing is effective or sympathize when things go wrong, can turn rough going into genuine pleasure and make an empty game bag seem inconsequential.

A companion, however, who ignores the well known rules of safe gun handling, is careless with matches, cigarettes, or the landowner's property or is continually grousing about conditions or his own luck, can wreck the pleasure of any hunting trip, no matter how successful it might be from a shooting standpoint.

So make it a point to be a good hunting companion this year. Even if your hunting partner for the occasion is inclined to be a bit grumpy when things are not entirely to his liking, your own cooperative attitude in finding pleasure in the little discomforts might well have the effect of lifting his cloud of gloom.

End of sermon on how to be happy this year afield.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Protein Foods—Fryers, ground beef, pork loin roasts, medium eggs, cheese.

Fruits—Apples, cider, frozen strawberries.

Vegetables—Cabbage, Cauliflower, potatoes, turnips, frozen lima beans.

TODAY'S BIRD IS BETTER

In today's food market the broiler-fryer rates high in popularity, thanks to scientific production and marketing methods for giving us a better product. Many changes have been taking place in the production of broiler-fryers in the last 20 or 30 years. Research has helped.

The young, tender-meated, nutritious bird of today is much different from the spring chicken of a few years ago, which was a by-product of the egg business. Today's broiler-fryer is bred especially for meat. Producers have become specialists in turning out chicken to eat . . . nearly 4½ million pounds ready-to-cook in 1957.

Production High — National production is at a record level and indications are that these supplies, with relatively low prices, will continue for the next three months. About 25 per cent of the broilers marketed in Ohio are raised here. The remainder of the supply comes from the southern market—Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina.

There's a Change in Name — Now it's "broiler-fryer" and they are one and the same. At one time broiler referred to a smaller size — "fryer" to a larger chicken. Today the term "broiler-fryer" is used interchangeably and refers to young 9 to 12 week-old birds suitable for either broiling or frying. All are young, tender, meaty birds that weigh up to three and a half pounds and appear on the market as one and three-quarters to two and a half younds ready-to-cook weight.

What Form to Buy—Broilers may be purchased whole, cut up, split in half, or as separate parts. One of the newest ways to buy the broiler is cooked whole at the store. Some markets have installed rotisseries and are offering whole, ready-cooked birds. In making a selection consider price, convenience, family preference, time, and cooking plans. Usually the greater the convenience or labor involved, or the more choice the part selected, the higher the cost.

When you buy the whole broiler figure a quarter or half bird per person or three-quarters to one pound of ready-to-cook meat per person.

Whole broilers will yield 50 per cent edible cooked meat, breasts 63.4 per cent and legs and thighs 53.3 per cent.

To Come — More Inspected Poultry — For the past 30 years, inspection of poultry by processors has been done, but on a voluntary basis. As of January, 1959, a new regulation becomes effective. It requires that all poultry moving in inter-state commerce must be inspected for wholesomeness.

Inspection consists of inspecting each bird processed to determine its wholesomeneks and fitness for food, maintenance of prescribed sanitary standards, and supervision of the preparation and processing, labeling and packaging of poultry products packed at the official establishment. In the future you can look for the label "U.S. Inspected for Wholesomeness."

GO FORWARD WITH SHAPTER FOR CONGRESS

SHAPTER'S PLATFORM

LABOR: A bill to curb the actions of irresponsible labor leaders was defeated by administration Republicans during the last session of Congress. Enactment of such a bill is a must.

Defeat of the Kennedy-Ives bill, which had the full support of the labor movement in this country, stands as a blemish on the record of Republicans in Congress this past session.

FOREIGN AID: Our foreign aid program has failed to gain for us the respect or co-operation of other nations. Every proposed expenditure in this department must be carefully weighed and evaluated before its acceptance. When we do give aid, whether it be food, money or material, we should insure its being received by the persons for whom it was intended through distribution by our own people in the countries receiving aid.

ECONOMY: The entire resources of Congress should be directed toward a purposeful watchfulness of all spending programs with the ultimate goal of lowering federal taxes.

One example of how to achieve this economy is to curtail the practice of adding thousands of persons to the federal payroll, such as was done by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson who added 17,000 persons to his department's payroll since taking over.

EDUCATION: There is a definite need for a re-evaluation of our academic needs in this space age. Necessary incentives, such as financial assistance and scholarship, must be provided to encourage greater numbers of our young people to become scientists, physicists and mathematicians.

SMALL BUSINESS: Some aid was given small businesses during the last session of Congress, and although this was a step in the right direction, it already is apparent this was not enough. More effective legislation giving the small businessman a break, tax-wise and by making loans more easily available at nominal interest rates, is a must.

AGRICULTURE: The farmer's share of the housewife's food dollar is continuing downward, while at the same time his costs for machinery and living move upward. A reversal of this trend, through effective legislation, must come soon or initiative in agriculture will be stifled. We know that giveaway programs are not the answer.

ARMED FORCES: We still have three competing branches of the Armed Forces. Until effective and complete consolidation is achieved, we will continue to have wasteful spending here by duplication of effort in military and missile programs.

FOREIGN POLICY: Democrats of the 85th Congress gave President Eisenhower solid, non-partisan support of his foreign policies, despite the fact they were not in accord with them. This was done to prevent the collapse of the U.S. position abroad.

A Congressman, or Congress as a whole, cannot formulate a foreign policy. The President alone is in a position to appraise, formulate and propose what should be done since it is his cabinet that provides the information on which a policy is based. The President has failed as a foreign policy manager. He has failed to correctly interpret fast-moving events in the world today.

HOUSING: The next major housing bill which would give to the people urban renewal and slum clearance programs, and which would 'ower down payment on mortgages through Savings and Loans by creating a new Federal mortgage insurance program, would have my support.

Such a bill must also have a solid financial foundation to enable it to keep workable over a period of many years and eliminate the bust and boom aspect of building.

I also feel home ownership must be made more readily available to elderly persons and young couples just starting family life. A bill such as mentioned here would make this possible.

McCoy Speaks To Accountants

Professor James R. McCoy of 395 N. Murray Hill-rd, chairman of the Accounting Department at Ohio State University, will be the featured speaker at a meeting of the Columbus Chapter, National Association of Accountants at Deshler-Hilton Hotel Monday, Oct. 27. The evening's sessions will include a social hour at 5:30 p.m., dinner at 6:30 p.m. and the technical meeting at 8:00 p.m. Chairman will be John M. Emery of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Company.

Professor McCoy will speak on the topic of "Measurement of Performance." In addition to the National Association of Accountants, of which he is a past-president of the Columbus Chapter, McCoy is a member of American Accounting Association, American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and Controllers Institute of America.

Methodist Minister Opposed To 'Right To Work' Issue

Dr. Clair M. Cook, an Ohio Methodist minister, is firmly opposed to the "right to work" amendment. He declares that it will not only take away union security, but encourage management to try to weaken the unions. Rev. Cook has taken this view for the following reasons:

First, the so-called "right to work" amendment denies freedom of contract, for it takes away the right of the employers to bargain with their employes on union security, which is now included in 81 per cent of the contracts. Many employers desire the stability of labor management relations provided by the union shop.

Second, it encourages individual irresponsibility and selfishness. When a union gains a wage increase for workers, the Taft-Hartley Act, a federal law, requires that the raise go to all workers, not just members of the union. The effect of the so-called "right to work" amendment is to say, "You still get the benefits, but you do not need to help pay for them."

Third, the "right to work" amendment will weaken unions. The National Association of Manufacturers, Chamber of Commerce, and other astute proponents of this amendment realize that this will happen. They hope that employers will gain an advantage when unions are weakened for no individual, only a strong union, can deal with a corporation on a basis approaching equality.

Fourth, it would not do a single thing to curb any of the evils of corruption and undemocratic practices within unions. It would not require financial scrutiny, secret elections or democratic procedures. Instead of encouraging more members to participate actively in the union democracy, it would do exactly the opposite.

Dates Chosen For County Lincoln Event

Emile Reiss, chairman of the Franklin County Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission, this week asked citizens in each community to take part in a year-long observance of the 150th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth.

Reiss said the sesqui is to run concurrently with the calendar year. He has enlisted the aid of several village mayors in planning tree planting ceremonies, band parades, school programs, Lincoln literature clubs, etc.

Mrs. Golda Edmondson, member of the General Assembly has been selected as secretary of the commission, and Sheriff Stacy Hall has volunteered his aid, Reiss said.

The Hilltop attorney maintains an information center at 280 E. Broad-st.

'Columbus Town Meeting Topic To Be School Levy

The School Levy" will be the topic for discussion on the Sunday, Nov. 1, edition of "Columbus Town Meeting," announced Mrs. Grace Hare Frye, producer-executive director.

Panelists will be Dr. Harold H. Bibling, superintendent of Columbus schools; Paul R. Langdon, president of the city school board, and Mrs. Celeste Taft, president of the Columbus Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Although discussion will center around the 3.8-mill levy for Columbus schools, the problems analyzed will be common to all areas having similar levies on the ballot this week.

The telecast will be presented at 1 p.m. Sunday on WBNS-TV, Channel 10. From 9 to 10 p.m. the same day the program will be rebroadcast over WBNS radio, AM and FM.

Form Committee This Week To Back Metro Federation

Formation of a Franklin County Committee for the Metropolitan Federation Amendment was announced this week.

Attorney Kline L. Roberts is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Everett Krueger, Jr., mailing committee chairman; Will Hellerman, speakers bureau chairman; John J. Jester, Jr., finance committee chairman; and Norton Webster, publicity committee chairman.

The non-partisan committee has planned an intensive campaign to win passage of Issue No. 1 on the Nov. 4 ballot which would amend the Ohio Constitution to permit formation of metropolitan federations to meet service problems such as traffic, transit, highways, water, sewers, fire, and others which plague Ohio's rapidly expanding metropolitan areas.

"This amendment would give the voters a modern tool for meeting today's staggering metropolitan problems," Roberts stated in announcing the committee's organization. "It allows the voters of any metropolitan area to organize their government to provide the best possible services within the area affected.

"It is entirely permissive. The voters of any community may or may not use this governmental device as they deem best for their community."

Both Governor C. William O'Neill and Democrat gubernatorial candidate Michael V. DiSalle have urged passage of the issue, as have many leading newspapers and organizations. The state-wide committee for metropolitan federation is headed by James E. Main, executive editor, Dayton Daily News.

Judge Petree Seeks Return To Judgeship

Judge Charles R. Petree, Presiding Judge of the 10th District, Franklin County Court of Appeals, seeks re-election this November.

He practiced law in the Common Pleas, Appellate and Supreme Courts for 18 years before going on the bench. He was assistant city attorney and attorney for the Columbus Board of Education for 11 years and city prosecutor for nearly three years.

Judge Petree is a member of the Episcopal Church and the Northern Kiwanis Club. He is also a past patron of Lorraine Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and is past president of the Franklin County Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association, known as General Orton Chapter. He is active in Boy Scout Activities.

Municipal Judge Asks Reelection This November

Municipal Judge Henry Holden, Columbus lawyer who has served on the municipal bench since 1952, is a candidate for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas on the non-partisan judicial ballot Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Judge Holden, a native of Columbus, has been a practicing lawyer since receiving his law degree from Ohio State University in 1924.

Besides his private practice, he has served as assistant county prosecutor for 21 years before ascending to the municipal bench in 1952.

Individual Votes Have Important Bearing At Election

'Won By One' Happens Often Throughout State

By Ted W. Brown,
Secretary of State

There are many impelling reasons why persons who are eligible should vote.

Newspapers and other information media have done an excellent job of bringing facts regarding Ohio's elections and election laws and procedures to all concerned and we are glad to say, there has been an improvement in Ohio's percentage of voting.

Some say, "Why should I vote? My staying away from the polls won't change the results."

But there are instances in local elections every year where a candidate has been defeated by one vote, or a bond issue or tax levy has been defeated or carried by a fraction of a vote.

Similarly, there are many cases in history where an average of one vote per precinct in Ohio has decided a statewide election. In other words we might adopt a slogan: "WON by ONE—many elections have been won by one vote in a precinct."

Staying away from the polls encourages minorities and ill-fitted candidates to try their hand and to gain control. The republican form of government under which this country has become great and, under which our freedoms have been perpetuated is weakened by a lack of interest on the part of the electorate.

Ohio is fortunate in having had election officials and legislatures which have been interested in seeing that Ohio's election laws safeguard the sancitty of our vote.

Let's make us of this precious franchise not only in the election Nov. 4, but in every election.

Apparently everyone enjoys a good laugh. Humorous novels, amusing reminiscences, comic verse, and collections of cartoons are in year-round demand at the Columbus Public Library.

Congress Candidate Shapter Seeks Wiser Defense Money

"The tax resources of the American people is not a bottomless well," Walter J. Shapter, Jr., Democratic candidate for Congress warned in a series of speeches at ward meetings about the county.

"Old Joe Stalin prophesied that we would "spend our way into destruction" and he may well be right if we continue the profligate practices of the present national administration.

"We have reached the ridiculout point where the administration boasts that we are spending so many billions of dollars for defense. I say to you that it does not make any difference if we spend four billion or four hundred billion if our defenses are not adequate. If we need 30 atomic submarines, we should have 30 atomic submarines.

We should not have one billion dollars or ten billion dollars appropriated for submarines. That doesn't tell us anything. You can't bomb the enemy with the dollar bill. You have to have hardware—and not just so many dollars worth of hardware.

"Since we have to buy hardware to defend ourselves, we have to have money. But if Mr. Ezra Taft Benson puts another seventeen thousand deserving Republicans on the Agriculture Department payroll, the American people are going to have to dig deeper and deeper into our tax pockets.

"Our pockets are not bottomless. We must spend wisely. We must do first things first. When you build a house you first build a solid foundation to defend it from wind and storm. So must the national government spend first to defend us from storms.

We can gold-plate the door knobs later, if we have any money left. But we should not bankrupt ourselves on goldplated door knobs and jerry-build the foundation. Political patronage of the type practiced by Mr. Benson is gold-plating the door knobs."

State House GOP Members Stress Record

Members of the Franklin County Republican delegation to the Ohio House of Representatives are stressing their record in education, welfare, highways and conversation as an excellent accounting of legislative action.

The members of the delegation include Mrs. Golda May Edmonston, seeking re-election who has been active in welfare and education matters; George C. Farris, an attorney, currently vice-chairman of the Columbus Board of Education; Keith McNamara, also an attorney, who has acted as special counsel for the Columbus city attorney; Richard B. Metcalf, seeking re-election, who is a member of the judiciary, industry and labor and liquor control committee; Archer E. Reilly, Jr., also seeking re-election and a member of the taxation, health and organizatio of state government committees; and Kline L. Roberts, who has for three terms served as House Majority floor leader.

Hoskins Asks For Improved State Service

John A. Hoskins, son of former Franklin County Prosecutor Donald J. Hoskins, is one of a team of six Democratic candidates for state representatives.

He is advocating a platform of improved state services. A constructive program for education including adequate teacher salaries and more junior colleges; increased responsibility toward senior citizens including lifting the $65 aid ceiling and establishment of job counseling system; and improvement of local welfare and relief aid by restoring solvency to county finances.

Hoskins, who has also proposed a slum clearance plan not dependent on federal aid, is a native of Columbus and a graduate of Dartmouth College and Ohio State University law school. The candidate, who was a Marine platoon leader during the Korean War, has practiced law with the firm of Gingher and Christensen in Columbus. He is married and has one daughter.

M. L. Farber Is Nationally Known Author

The candidacy of Milton L. Farber for Common Pleas Judge represents a departure from the traditional type of aspirant for that office. A successful author, Farber achieved national prominence some ten years ago with publication of "Blackstone and White Rock", a collection of anecdotes concerning the human elements with which a lawyer must deal. Farbar has also contributed to the following magazines: Forum, Atlantic Monthly and Harper's.

Farber entered the political scene last spring upon the death of Judge Ralph J. Bartlett, who died unexpectedly. A graduate of Ohio State University, Farber has practiced law in Columbus for 33 years. A native of Philadelphia, as a boy he moved with his family to Pomeroy, Ohio, where he received his pre-college education.

Farber, who now has a second book in the hands of his publishers, is a familiar figure where lawyers and civic leaders gather at Broad and High. According to the Greater Columbus Magazine, Farber is "an eminently brilliant trial lawyer who has traditionally placed service to man far above mercenary gains." Farber received considerable prominence last year when he assisted the City of Columbus in settling the water and sewer contract controversy with the City of Worthington before that case reached the Ohio Supreme Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Farber live at 72 South Chesterfield-rd, and have one son, Milton, Jr., a graduate student at Ohio State University.

Commissioner Fred Berkhemer Asks Return

Fred C. Berkhemer, Franklin County Commissioner, will seek re-election on the Republican ticket in November.

He resides at 155 W. Riverglen-dr in Riverlea and is a former mayor of Riverlea. He was associated with the former Lilley Company and has been sales manager for Hart Manufacturing Co., for 18 years. He has been a county commissioner since 1957.

He is a member of several civic, social and business organizations, including Agonis Club, Elks, past director of Masonic Orders, Executive Club, Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, Mercator Club, the Press Club of Ohio, Charity Newsies, Auto Club, Maennerchor, Milo Recreation, Mendel Athletic Club and the YMCA.

Judge Donnally Serves Office Friendly, Fair

Judge Fred L. Donnally, presiding judge of the Municipal Court of Columbus, believes in friendly relations with everyone.

The philosophy of Judge Donnally is "be friendly and fair with everyone you meet. Greet one another with a smile and a kind word."

Judge Donnally will be a candidate for the Court of Common Pleas on November 4th.

Donnally has served the people of Columbus and Franklin County since 1942, when he was first appointed. His first office was in the Assignment Commissioners' office.

In 1945, he was elected for the first time. Donnally was then re-elected to this judgeship in 1945, 1949, and again in 1955 to his present position, the Presiding Judge.

Smith To Run For Court Clerk

Frank Smith, 2464 Shrewsbury-rd, is seeking re-election as Clerk of Courts in Franklin County.

Smith was appointed deputy county clerk in 1947 and Chief Deputy Clerk of Courts to Roy King in 1953, a position he held until the time of King's death.

Past-president of the Buckeye Republican Club, Smith is a past officer and member of the Capital City Young Republican Club, Masonic groups and the Covenant Presbyterian Church. He is a graduate of North High School and Ohio State University.

Reilly Seeks Second Term At Statehouse

State Representative, Archer E. Reilly, Jr. is a candidate for re-election at the coming general election. He is currently serving his first term in the Legislature.

Reilly was given honorable mention among all the members of the House and was also named as one of the outstanding freshmen representatives in a poll of State House Correspondents covering the Legislature. He is a member of the Taxation, Health, and Organization of State Government Committees along with a Metropolitan Affairs Study Committee.

Reilly is a practicing attorney and a member of the teaching staff at Franklin University. He formerly served as Secretary to the Governor and Assistant to the Treasurer of State. From 1946-1948 he taught Political Science at Ohio State University. He is the author of a number of articles on government which have appeared in newspapers and legal periodicals.

Reilly has served as a Cub Scout Master and was a football official from 1941-1956. He is a member of the Board of the Central Ohio Chapter, Multiple Sclerosis Society and of the Travelers Aid Society. He is a member of the Ohio State and Columbus Bar Associations.

Reilly is married and has two sons.

They're Trying To---

---Turn Back The Clock!

Issue 2 is just the same old crowd trying to turn back the clock, trying to bring back "the good old days," trying to put over the same gimmicks in the same tricky way.

• WHAT CROWD?

The National Association of Manufacturers, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Ohio branches of these outfits and the committees they spawn and finance and support.

• WHAT GOOD OLD DAYS?

The days when hungry workers lined up at the gates for a job, any job, at any wages, under any conditions.

• WHAT GIMMICKS?

Sneaky laws like Issue 2. They call it "right-to-work." But it gives no one a right to work anywhere.

SAME OLD CROWD — SAME OLD GOALS

In 1903 they called it "compulsory open shop." They got it, and kept the 12-hour day by busting the unions.

In 1920 they called it "the American plan." They got away with it, and kept workers hungry while Wall Street boomed.

In 1958 they call it "the right to work." They think you will fall for it again, and line up again at the plant gates.

IT'S THE SAME OLD CROWD TRYING TO TURN BACK THE CLOCK

Vote X NO on issue 2

School Levy Passes With 33,000 Margin

by Ray Shaffer

An election crowded with important issues has just passed with Columbus voters proving their interest in better education by passing the 3.8 school levy by a margin of nearly 33,000 or 63.8 per cent

Despite a year that has reportedlly been economically bad, Columbus residents refused to economize on the education of this city s youth and went to the polls to place 76,214 "yes" votes for the levy, as opposed to the 43,248 "no" ballots cast

More than a score of South Side schools including two high schools four junior highs and 17 elementary schools, will share in the benefits to be provided by the levy which will add more than $4 million per year to the board of education s operating budget The total will be well over $12 million during the three year term of the levy which effects the 1959, 60 and 61 school years

The board has an operational budget of $22 million for 1958 however of this sum which is less than is needed $3 million must be used to pay interest and retirement on bonds The new income from the levy will supply enough money to provide a much needed $23 million annual operational budget plus the $3 million alloted for bonds

Some of the facts that helped voters decide on levy approval include

Columbus' population has been swelled by about 92 000 more residents since 1950 bringing approximately 28 000 more children into the 45 more schools added to the local school system since that year This is a gain to the school district of almost 3,500 young sters per year

Columbus' birth rate has increased almost 50 per cent in the last eight years and all surveys and estimates indicate this growth is not likely to end for some time meaning a tremendous demand on city schools for increased services

The levy was brought to the polls because of the simple fact that the city can not educate the expected 84,000 pupils in 1961 on the same budget used for the present 74,000 The Columbus Board of Education breathed a sigh of relief Wednesday morning upon hearing of the levy's success, knowing that this city can continue to uphold and improve its standard of education—Thanks to you the voter.

DIVISION CHAIRMAN — Mrs. Richard Mahley of 576 Reinhard-av, left, South Side division chairman for the Nov. 12 "Light A Life" drive, is shown with the West division chairman, Mrs. Harry Findlay, and "Curly" Morrison, honorary chairman of the campaign to raise funds for retarded children. About 8,000 volunteers, known as "Fireflies," will participate in Franklin County.

Railroader Ends 47-Year Career

James J Monahan stepped down from the familiar C&O locomotive Friday Oct 30, for the last time after 47 years of railroad work His retirement from the railroad was celebrated with an "open house" Sunday Nov 2 at the home of his daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs Jerry Shroyer The party was given by Monahan's seven children

A huge square chocolate cake covered with thick white frosting, was decorated in the form of the C & O railroad yard where Monahan has worked for the last 38 years as a yard conductor The tracks were made of frosting and each crossing listed five years up to the total of 47 years Monahan spent working for the railroad The locomotive and cars on the little plastic train were marked "C & O" in cake frosting Plastic cars patiently waited at each crossing held back by toothpick gates

Added to the yard conductor's retirement celebration was a presentation of a wristwatch by his fellow workers

In addition to Mrs Shroyer, he is the father of Mrs Mary Schick and Alice Monahan and four sons, William Thomas Francis and James Jr all of Columbus He has 11 grandchildren

He resides at his home at 394 Hanford-st with his daughter Alice

When asked what he expected to do after such a busy life raising seven children and working for 47 years, Monahan answered with a not too surprising reply for a railroad man, "I'm going to travel."

Hoermle Asks Supreme Court Dismiss Action

William F. Hoermle South Side appliance dealer and an East Side resident this week requested the Ohio Supreme Court to dismiss action filed to oust him from Columbus City Council

The court has been asked to rule on the legality of Hoermle's appointment by Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, to fill the vacancy caused by the death Sept 12 of W Wesley Llewelyn

Action to have Hoermle s appointment ruled illegal was filed Oct 27 by Columbus City Attorney Russel Leach and his assistant John Bowen who were acting for County Prosecutor Samuel I Devine.

The City Charter states that vacancies are filled by a council vote, but a 3-3 tie develop ed between the politically divided council The charter makes no provisions for a dead lock

Sensenbrenner acted under state law which gives mayors authority to fill vacancies after 30 days if the council has not done so The mayor made the appointment on the 34th day

However, Leach claims the state law does not apply since Columbus makes a provision to fill council vacancies in its City Charter

Attorney Milton I Faber representing Hoermle claims the state law is applicaple

Leach stated in his petition that Hoermle has been acting illegally as a councilman since his appointment Oct 20

Meanwhile Thursday it was pay day for six city councilmen but not for Hoermle City Auditor John Price said that he is withholding payment of two checks one for $30 as salary, and the other for $28 for Council expenses until the Supreme Court makes a decision

South Side 'Fireflies' Seek $4,000 Goal For Retarded

Scores of South Side parents and friends of the mentally retarded will solicit their neighbors next Wednesday, raising needed funds to provide helpful training for retarded children From 7 to 9 p.m. Nov. 12, with 8,000 others throughout Franklin County they will conduct the annual one-day "Light a Life" campaign sponsored by the Council for Retarded Children

South Side volunteers hope to raise $4,000 of the $50 000 goal set for the county-wide drive Known as "Fireflies" they will carry lighted flashlights as a symbol of their objective

Since 1951 the Council has operated a school for Franklin County youngsters handicapped by incomplete or impaired mental development Retarded from injury or illness all have been excluded from public school because of their limited capabilities

One hundred eighty school age children are enrolled in the CRC classes this year In 15 full-day classes, the pupils receive training in self care basic academics (arts and crafts, social dexterity speech therapy and occupational readiness

Denied an education geared to their abilities, many of the children would sooner or later increase the population of already overcrowded institutions. But granted opportunities in a community school with others of similar ability and under the patient and skilled eyes of capable teachers, many can become useful and happy adults

Like normal youngsters, if allowed to remain with their families they continue to benefit from the love and encouragement of their loved ones

The CRC classes are currently conducted in temporary classrooms at the Indianola Presbyterian and Indianola Methodist Churches A fire last January forced the students to evacuate the 70 year-old Mt Vernon-av school loaned to the CRC by the Columbus Board of Education.

In making the announcement, Gallant noted that "North American is fully aware of the essential need for adequate hospital facilities in our growing community and we will continue to participate in this program which is of benefit to every resident in the area"

LeRoy D Gable, president of the Columbus Hospital Federation, in accepting the contribution lauded North American for its outstanding and continuing participation in the hospital expansion program

Gable added that there is still $1,000 000 to be raised by June 1959 to complete the equipment fund in connection with the hospital expansion program This program, which will cost a total of $23 500,000 is being financed by the hospital bond issue, plus contributions from individuals businesses, corporations and foundations According to Gable the program which will add 1,000 additional beds and supporting facilities to our hospitals is proceeding on schedule

CMHA Chary Of Buying Housing Units

Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority director Russel C Taylor reported recently that lack of public transportation will probably quash a proposal to purchase the 660 unit Terrace Gardens housing project ■ 2100 Alum Creek-dr

Taylor said the Columbus Transit Co and other bus companies had voiced a reluctance to commit themselves on the proposal because of difficulties in accurately formulating an estimate on how many people would move into the development

Harold Zieg builder of the housing project offered to sell it when he was confronted with too few renters for the units

Lack of shopping facilities near Terrace Gardens was also given as a reason for CMHA's disinclination to buy the project

GROUND IS BROKEN FOR SOUTH SIDE'S NEW $150,000 FIRE STATION

GROUND BROKEN — More extensive, modern and improved fire protection will be on its way to the South Side soon as ground was broken last week for the new fire station to be constructed at the northwest corner of Southgate dr and Parsons-av. The modern structure, estimated to cost the city around $150,000 to build, is slated for completion by May 1, 1959. City Council approved Sept. 22 $190,000 for bids and contracts to build the fire house. Service Director Floyd C. Redick recently announced apparent low bidders on construction totaled $147,603 in estimates. The contractors were Cardiff Construction Co., $115,312 for general contract; J. F. Oelgoetz Co., $12,400 for heating; William H. Rinehart, Inc., $10,325 for plumbing, and Electrical Power and Equipment Co., $9,566 for electrical work. Architects Brown, Brubaker and Brandt, who designed the structure, have reportedly used the latest tried and proven ideas in designing a practical, economical and modern fire station.

As our long-time readers know, we gather your nice, unused "White Elephant" type things to take to the patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital, so they may in turn use them as gifts to give their loved ones. Long illnesses make for very meager Christmases, and this project is designed to help the TB patients enjoy the thrill of remembering their families at the Yule season We hope we can once again have a successful year, with your help.

Duckworth Plumbers Defeat South Side Merchants 50-0

In an Ohio Bearcat League game last Sunday, two South Side rivals fought it out in the rain and mud. The inclement weather failed to slow up the Duckworth Plumbers, however, as they romped to a 50 to 0 victory over the South Side Merchants.

The Merchants fought hard and gained some yardage, but they couldn't penetrate the Plumbers' defense for a score. Nine players on the Duckworth team figured in the scoring, as Bob Bateman, Duckworth's coach, substituted liberally to keep the score from mounting. Marc Borst led the scoring parade when he romped around the end for a 50-yard score. Later he scored from 15 yards out. Dennis Ferrell then broke loose to his paydirt from 30 yards out. Ferrell ran the ends for both conversions.

After the half, Rocky Roshon broke through the middle from five yards out to score. Fred Hamler added another with an 11-yard quarterback sneak. At this point, the Duckworth boys took to the air, and Rocky Roshon hit Jim Ellis with a down and out pass that covered 85 years. The picture play of the game came in the closing minutes, when Skeeter Ellis took the ball on a reverse and raced practically unnoticed into the end zone from 20 yards out. A very good block from Mike Long helped to break Skeeter loose.

The South Side is most certainly fortunate to have such men as Tom Duckworth, who sponsors the Duckworth Plumbers, and all of the various businessmen who have helped the South Side Merchants.

By their generosity, youth of the area can now play in an organized league, fully equipped, with boys of their own age, weight, and size.

Marion-Franklin In 38-0 Victory

By Bob Gardine

Marion - Franklin took a plunge as the Eastmoor Warriors downed the Red Devils 38-0 last Friday night. Although an exciting game, Marion couldn't get close enough to score.

It looks as though the Red Devils can't quite keep up with the stiff city competition. It has been rough for Marion since this is only their second year in the city league. Coach Dean Trimmer has done a fine job with the boys even though the odds were against him all the way.

Tomorrow Marion - Franklin meets Central at Central. After Central beat Linden last week, it seems like another tough battle for the Red Devils. It's the last game of the season and anything can happen.

Bulldogs Expect Tough Battle From Fremont

By Marty Noel

The South High Bulldogs trek to Fremont Friday night to meet what is expected to be their toughest competition, Ross High gridders. This is the final game of the season for the Bulldogs.

Fremont is in league of highly rated powerful teams and is considered top competition in any man's ball club, even though the season record is not outstanding. They met such aggregations as Ohio's No. 1 Warren Harding High, Sandusky, Elyria and Marion Harding.

The Bulldogs are expecting to find it difficult to figure Fremont's attack in as much as they have a unique and entirely different brand of football, it is reported. However, the local style of the gridiron sport may be just as difficult for Fremont to figure.

South finally grounded the high-flying East Tigers 10-6 last week as the Rebels proved they weren't outclassed, out sped and out powered by the flashy East aggregation.

Grabbing a quick lead East scored on a pass from quarter back Bill Johnson to Al Stewart. The conversion was blocked.

The battle went scoreless until late in the third period when Paul Watters recovered an East off-ender in the end zone to cut the opposition's lead to 6-2. The Rebels rallied a short while later when Tim Woodyard plunged over from the three-yard line to make it 8-6, South. Bob Godwin plunged over for the point after touchdown to give the bulldogs their fifth win in eight starts.

Local Man Is Charged By Petitioner

A South Side man, Ernest Holderby, 48, of 867 Gilbert-st, was held to the grand jury under $200 bond last week, after being charged with mutilating a right-to-work initiative petition presented to him at his home by Robert K. Hivner of Newark. The charge was filed by Hivner.

Holderby pleaded innocent in Municipal Court. The police prosecutor's office said that the offense, a felony, is punishable by up to five years in prison and a fine of from $100 to $500.

Let's Help Pat Youth On The Back

Members of Optimist International are inviting everyone to join in a special observance next week.

They call it "Youth Appreciation Week."

Its purpose is to honor those 95 per cent of today's youth who stand for decency, not delinquency. It is to show the young people of the world that there are many who believe in them and have faith in their generation.

Spearheading observance of the week on the local level will be members of the Western, Hilliards, South Side and Downtown Optimists Clubs.

It is not hard to imagine this statement being made today:

"The children now love luxury, they have bad manners, contempt for authority, they show disrespect for elders, and love chatter in place of exercise. They no longer arise when elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up dainties at the table, cross their legs and tyrannize over their teachers."

With all the familiarity possessed by those words, it is hard to imagine that they were spoken more than 2,000 years ago by the wise, old Greek philosopher, Socrates.

Although Socrates and many after him have made such statements, the upcoming generations have never failed civilization. They have added to the knowledge and culture of the world making possible the progress of today.

Human nature demands a certain amount of praise. Our young people, in their sensitive, growing years, need a great deal of appreciation. Statistics show the 95 per cent of our youth are developing into the solid citizens of the future.

It is up to us to demonstrate our faith in their future and encourage them to maintain their standards. We must not make the 95 per cent live in the shadow of disrespect cast by the others.

There is an easy way to show our youth how much they are appreciated. That is by joining with the Optimists next week and:

"Pat 'em on the back."

Look At The Forest, Not The Bush

BIBLE COMMENTS

Environment Not Always Life Factor

That a great man need not arise from a plush and urbane environment is demonstrated dramatically by the life of Jesus.

He came from a small town and a humble home. Although his village of Nazareth stood near the great trade routes, the Boy Jesus was able to grow to maturity amid pastoral and down-to-earth influences.

Nazareth was a nondescript, unimportant dot on the map—a place where nothing ever happened. It was not without warrant that Nathaniel questioned, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?"

Remote from busy and troubled Jerusalem, Jesus could grow up in that normal development which Luke sums up in simple words: "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."

Experience is the mother of knowledge.—Nicolas Breton.

Franklin County Townships Spend Over Million Dollars

By DAVE HESS

According to statistics released recently by James A. Rhodes, Auditor of the State of Ohio, Franklin County townships spent just under $1 and a quarter million during the year 1957.

Franklin Township led county subdivisions in total expenditures with a total of $237,576, which left only $12,510 in the township's coffers to begin 1958.

Fire protection represented the greatest single expenditure with $513,402 being spent for this service. Other expenditures, in the order of descendance, were: highways, $325,171; miscellaneous, $278,196; general governmental expenditures $86,131; and cemeteries, $40,278. Total $1,243,180.

Marion Township, before its annexation to Columbus, followed Franklin Township's total expenditures among area townships with $96,527.

Jackson Township, with $90,608 spent, was third and showed a balance of $14,527 to start 1958.

Other township figures are:

Prairie, $76,351 with a $9,501 balance; Hamilton, $71,182 with $17,259 balance; Madison, $48,924 with $19,632 balance; Norwich, $40,055 with a $16,339 balance; Washington, $32,940 with $8,546 balance; Truro, $24,306 with a $50,339 balance; Pleasant, $22,909 with a $7,726 balance; and Brown, a rural township with $9,201 expenditures and a $37,875 balance.

Township monies are garnered through five principal sources. Property taxes make up the greatest percentage, generally, of a township's revenues, accounting for $878,048 of a total of $1,383,527 in receipts. Township shares in gasoline taxes amounted to $145,689; miscellaneous sources of revenue brought in a substantial $308,719; auto registration receipts totaled $30,196; and the local government fund receipts amounted to $20,873.

Hamilton Township began 1957 with the fattest balance from the previous year—$55,321. But Hamilton's receipts were relatively low in that the township collected only $38,120 in revenues.

Franklin Township's property tax receipts totaled $222,684 in 1957, explaining to a great extent why Franklin's expenditures reached such a high figure (as quoted above).

Latest figures for this year seem to indicate that townships will be collecting and spending even more money than last. Property tax receipts will undoubtedly rise, due not only to the emigration of "city folks" to the country, but to higher levies instituted to cover expanding school, fire and other service facilities.

Nancy Ward Rules South's Homecoming

By Theresa Albert and JoAn Carter

Nancy Ward was named the 1959 South High School Homecoming Queen at the South-Linden football game Oct. 24.

Members of the queen's court were Sue Smith, Betty Sue Edwards, Lynda Hicks, Maggie Fearrell, Carol Allen and Linda Chamberlain.

After a spectacular halftime show given by the South High Marching Band, the homecoming candidates were presented and the queen was announced to the crowd.

During the Homecoming Dance following the game, the queen was crowned with a tiara of flowers by football co-captains Tim Woodyard and Tiny Walters.

Although much depended on growing conditions, July 1, prospects pointed to the largest commercial crop nationally since 1950.

There are few visible symptoms of brucellosis in cattle.

November is the time when the yields of our good earth have special significance.

Farmers have produced a bountiful harvest this year. This can mean good meals for your family at reasonable cost. One of the best ways to get the most from your food dollar is to use often the foods that are in plentiful supply. The following will give you some picture of what you can expect during November.

FRUITS — Large supplies of apples will continue. Winter apple carities . . . Staymen, Winesap, and Rome Beauty . . . are now on the market, along with a good supply of fall varieties — Red and Golden Delicious, Jonathan, Grimes Golden. Small size apples are escpecially good buys now.

There's a good crop of cranberries this year . . . color and quality are tops. Prices on cranberries have dropped and you can expect still greater bargains just before Thanksgiving. Bartlett pears and Emperor grapes are still economical choices.

November and December are months to enjoy pomegranates. They make a wonderful garnish for winter salads. Peel back the skin until you've uncovered the number of seeds you need. Rewrap and keep in the refrigerator.

VEGETABLES — The salad bowl need not go begging just because fall is here. Endive, escarle, cucumbers onions, green peppers, celery and cauliflower, are still very reasonably priced. All the cabbage family — cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and Brussels sprouts, are good.

A good selection of winter squash, potatoes (white and sweet), parsnips, carrots, turnips and rutabagas can round out your menus. All of these are in good supply and the quality is high.

Ohio greenhouse growers report that tomatoes, Bibb and leaf lettuce, and watercress have started to move in volume. Growing conditions have been ideal and the quality of these crops is reported to be excellent. The pack of frozen peas this year is estimated at 250 million pounds—the largest on record.

RED MEATS — Marketing specialists predict little change in meat prices during November. Pork prices, which usually reach their seasonal low about this time, are not expected to drop much until next year. Hogs are not yet available in the numbers expected . . . but a big supply is sure to come in 1959. For your best meat values watch for "specials" and compare prices of different cuts on a cost-per-serving basis.

POULTRY AND EGGS — Whole, cut-up, or by-the-piece, fryers are priced to please the food budget and will remain so. Turkeys are plentiful, too. The medium-size egg season is near an end, but will remain the better egg value on a price-per-pound basis until late November when large eggs become more plentiful.

OTHER BOUNTIFULS — To add interest to your meals there are English Walnuts, dates, canned ripe olives, and peanut butter. Look for honey, too, for holiday cakes and cookies, and as a spread or table sweet.

FORECAST FOR CITRUS CROPS

ORANGE CROP — Although prospective production is two per cent above the relatively short 1957-58 crop, it is 9 per cent below the pre-freeze crop of 1956-57. Quality is expected to be excellent. The U.S. 1958-59 grapefruit crop (excluding California) is forecast to be seven per cent below 1956-57, and six per cent below average. Prices on citrus products are expected to stay fairly high.

OFFERS GUIDED TOUR OF FAMOUS CEMETERY

Guided tours of historic Camp Chase Confederate Cemetery on the 2800 block of Sullivant-av are available free to any interested group. An invitation to visit the unique resting place of 2260 Confederate dead was issued to the public this week by H. O. Parke, cemetery caretaker.

Suggesting that school history classes, scout troops, civic organizations, and others might enjoy such a tour, Park offers to act as guide any day of the week except Sunday. He notes that two Boy Scout troops plan to make the tour Nov. 3.

Established during the Civil War, Camp Chase cemetery is the larger of two such burial places for Confederate soldier-prisoners in Ohio. The second is on Johnson's Island in Lake Erie.

Parke may be reached about making a tour, at his home, 314 S. Glenwood-av, or by calling CA. 4-9690.

POINTS OUT MARCH TERRITORY—House to House March Chairman of the 1958 Muscular Dystrophy Drive, Lieut. W. E. O'Connor of the Columbus Fire Department, points out to Muscular Dystrophy Campaign Chairman, Fire Chief Walter G. Strickfadden, the manner in which the vast Franklin County area will be covered.

South Sider Will Lead County March On Dystrophy Nov. 23

Lieut. W. E. O'Connor, South Side resident for the past 31 years, and member of the Columbus Fire Department for 28 years, will lead the muscular dystrophy "house to house march" in Franklin Co., Nov. 23.

Although the campaign is less than three weeks away, 1500 marchers are still needed to cover Franklin county adequately. Persons wishing to devote a couple of hours Sunday afternoon, Nov. 23, to this cause, can call CA. 4-6623, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Lt. O'Conner became an avid campaigner against this crippling disease after attending an International Association of Fire Fighter's (IAFF) convention in Miami, Fla., four years ago. "A girl from Ohio, afflicted with the disease, got up there and made such a strong plea for campaigners. I don't believe there was a dry eye in the crowd . . . and, she was speaking before 400 men, a lot of them hard-boiled," he said. "After that convention, the IAFF went on record in support of the muscular dystrophy campaign," he added.

When Lt. O'Conner began his work with the association, a chapter representing Franklin County had not yet been formed. Since its formation in January, 1957, the chapter has assisted in the purchase of braces, wheel chairs, walkers, lifts and hospital beds for home use. It also provided special education and recreation programs for MD children, and, where possible provides transportation to and fromh clinics and schools.

Mrs. O'Connor is also active in muscular dystrophy activities, and is currently serving as treasurer of the Franklin County chapter.

Lieutenant and Mrs. O'Connor reside at 1457 Linwood-av, with their son, William, who has just recently returned home from active duty with the Air Force in Japan, and is now enrolled in the college of law at OSU. Their daughter, Mrs. Joanna Lindenmuth, lives in Germantown, O. The O'Connors are proud grandparents of three children.

This fire fighter has been affairs, serving on the pension board for 12 years and as trustee on the death benefit card system for the past eight years. He has held many offices in the IAFF, Local 67, serving as president for five years.

He is currently first vice-president of both the Ohio and Southeast district of the Association of Professional Fire Fighters.

His South Side community activities included membership in the Moose Lodge and Corpus Christi Church.

Break In Water Line Here Sends 'Rain' Skyward

The South Side developed its own version of Yellowstone's "Old Faithful" Tuesday when a water line broke at Livingston-av and Alum Creek-dr. sending water gushing high into the air for about an hour.

A power shovel belonging to the Complete Construction Co. caused the break in the 8-inch water line while digging a 6-foot by 6-foot hole around the line.

Although no damage was done, motorists in the area were startled by the torrents of rain shooting upwards. The show was quickly halted when water department workers arrived on the scene and shut off the line.

Grandma Caslow Gets Birthday Greetings From Eisenhower

"They'll never get me to wear those 'old ladies' shoes if I can help it," snapped Mrs. Nettie Caslow, recently marking her 93rd year of spiritous living.

The elegantly attractive white-haired woman made the statement pointing to the youthful medium high-heeled shoes she was wearing. Following the remark, she quickly seated herself saying she has been having some trouble with her feet lately!

At 93, Mrs. Caslow holds the honor of being the oldest grandmother in the Columbus Grandmothers' Club and was honored and presented flowers several weeks ago in special ceremonies held by the organization.

She shared the limelight at the affair with Mrs. Jesse Wilson, a North Sider, who is 88 years old and second oldest grandmother in the club. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Clarence Boyd, of 926 Mohawk, president of the club.

President's Note

An official birthday card from the White House added special joy to Mrs. Caslow an her 93rd birthday. She still is not sure how President Eisenhower knew about her age and natal day but suspects friends in Washtington, D.C., may have aided in the arrangements. The "autographed" greeting is one of her prized possessions.

The spry grandmother displays a keen mind, recalling many cherished memories of the past. Mrs. Caslow, a widow of 14 years, still remembers teaching in county schools using the famed McGuffey readers. A native of Canal Winchester, Mrs. Caslow has lived in the South Side of Columbus for many years.

Unlike many older persons, the honored grandmother refuses to dote on the past even though she remembers clearly. She keeps well informed by radio and will gladly discuss local, national or world affairs and express her opinions freely. She cares little for television except for the "music of Mr Welk."

Now residing with a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs Chauncey Berst at 1000 Geerst, Mrs. Caslow keeps active by

Age of Chiselry?

In these days of screaming from the housetops about big discounts and cut prices it is well that we, as consumers, carefully investigate the big discount and glorified markdown before we pay cash on the line or sign up for easy payments.

Certainly we don't want this to become known as the age of chiselry! But we must be concerned that it is not so much a set of figures as to how much discount we are getting but what are we getting in quality and service for the money we spend. Maybe values are being lost in our would-be bargains. Maybe the biggest discount is in the truth. Maybe prices were advanced in the first place in order that an imaginary discount could be given later.

Time magazine this week points out that it is time the public gets a true picture before they buy.

Bargain prices are of no value at all if you in turn can't get service on the merchandise. Reputations are built by good merchants by the backing of their sales not just the matter of a quick shuffle to get rid of merchandise.

If you do not want to discount satisfaction then shop and buy from the merchant that guarantees his merchandise and his service.

On Telephone Ads

Something new was used in the recent political campaign. Many people were called on the phone to be told by an automatic recording device that they should vote for such and such an issue.

In this wondrous age of electronics and what with all the fine developments that have come from the telephone company we sincerely hope that this particular gadget has been used for the last time.

We have always had the highest regard for the phone company and the way they do business but this kind of an imposition on their subscribers just doesn't set well. We believe the public generally agrees with this stand.

George C. Beery Junior High School observed American Education Week with a panel discussion at the PTA meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 12. Faculty members of the school made up the panel, and they discussed the objectives and activities of their respective departments.

The object of the program was to be a step in carrying out the theme of American Education Week "Report Card USA."

The panel was made up of teachers from the English-social studies department, Glenn Bittner, Walter Lensenmayer, and Vernon Feen; the science department, Elizabeth Ebersbach and William Drewes; mathematics, Vera Secrist, William Drewes, and Dorothy Molyet; seventh grade self-contained classes (English, Ohio history and geography) Rhea Dickson, Martha Jameson, Robert Weals, and Harry Heater. Also represented were art, Hans Rietenbach; music, E. C. Schick and Eugene Ewell; home economics, Marilyn Snide; industrial arts, Ralph Bieber; physical education, Ann Lilly and John Rawn, and the library, Norma Fultz.

To supplement the work of the panel in spreading information about the work of the schools, Berry sent four newsletters to the parents during the week. Monday's newsletter featured the guidance program at Beery, and the other newsletters were on other pertinent educational subjects.

UNDERPRIVILEGED CHILDREN COMMITTEE—While the Southern Kiwanis Club's activity is permanently concerned with local youth, occasionally its committee will turn their energy to making foreign students feel more at home in the United States. The Underprivileged Children Committee of the local Kiwanis club recently did this in welcoming foreign exchange students to Ohio State University. Members of the committee include, left to right, Henry Siefert, Ken Deppler, Herb Eichorn, and Chairman Ed Guyette.

Southern Kiwanians Welcome OSU Foreign Exchange Pupils

By Lloyd Wilkinson

"Now we are personal, in time we shall grow and identify ourselves with problems — and joys — of everybody." This statement was made be foreign exchange student Albert Maleche, of Kenya Province, South Africa, during recent "welcoming ceremonies" at Ohio State University sponsored by OSU officials and Columbus Kiwanis Clubs.

Southern Kiwanis Club members present felt the statement was appropriate since Kiwanians, who usually aim their interests toward local youngsters, were "identifying" themselves with foreign students from all over the world in an effort to make them feel at home in Columbus during their year-long stay at OSU.

On hand to represent the South Side were Kiwanis President Edwin Gearhart, principal of Marion-Franklin High School; Kiwanians John Greer, of the local Gray Drug Store; Lloyd Wilkinson of the Gustav Hirsch organization; and Walter Johnson, of Pollack Paper Co.

Represent 27 Countries

There were 78 foreign young men and women present with strange-sounding names, unfamiliar dress and habits of speech, who seemed shy and hesitant but very polite. They represented 27 different coun-

SOUTHWAY AIDS TB

THE INSIDE STORY—When members of Southway Post 144, American Legion Auxiliary, helped the Tuberculosis Society prepare for the launching of the annual Christmas seal sale this Friday, they learned something about TB Society services, too. Poetker of 2355 Brown-rd, Grove City, previewed some of the dozen films on tuberculosis available free to clubs and organizations throughout the county. Christmas seal money is also spent on free chest X-rays, counseling for TB patients and medical research. The sale's income completely supports the TB Society and its year-round activities.

South's Tie Against Fremont In Top Contest Surprises

Two ties and West's stunning upset of East were the big stumbling blocks this week for entrants in the South Side Leader Football Guessing Contest.

The tie games included Purdue's comeback to deadlock Ohio State, 14-14, and South High School's 6-6 melee with perennial state power Fremont. West's Cowboys laced East, 38-

Placing first in the final tabulation was Dick Fehlow, 278 Moler, who correctly predicted the results of 19 contests. Following close behind were Marty Noel, 614 S. Eighteenth-st, and Glenn Belcher, 788 Columbus-st.

The three winners are eligible, in the order of their finish, to collect $10 in cash, $5 worth of dry cleaning from Hancock Cleaners and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

A new set of winners will be announced next week. They will be eligible to receive a grease job from Dick's Texaco, a box of cigars from Bob's and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

Another big contest is being offered this week in which readers may take a stab at picking winners of games being played a week from this Saturday. High placers in that event may receive a box of cigars from Neubecks, 216 Thurman-av, a grease and oil job from Bill's Sohio and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

Glancing ahead into this week's action, local football fans picked these as winners:

Iowa to smash Ohio State. Pittsburg to whallop Nebraska. Notre Dame to down North Carolina. Wyoming to upset Air Force, Illinois to surprise Wisconsin, Wake Forest to tie Duke and Indiana to topple Michigan.

NYC TO BUILD SPUR

The New York Central Railroad was granted permission Monday night by City Council to install a spur track across Courtright-rd to serve a new warehouse being constructed by Ohio Wool Growers Co-op Association at 2050 S. High-st.

MOHAWK PTA PROUD OF 'FOLIAGE'

MEMBERSHIP TREE—All 1,170 pupils of Mohawk school are justifiably proud of this tree. This "thriving" tree has nearly 1,500 red, russet, and golden leaves adorning it in true fall colorful fashion. The unusual thing about this tree is that each leaf represents a PTA member signed up in a recent membership drive. Pondling the leaves tenderly and proudly are Mrs. Louis Schumaker, president of Mohawk Parent-Teachers Association, and Leland Drake, principal of the school.

SOUTH STUDENTS IN A 'STEW'

Two more members have joined the "proud grandparents" club but unfortunately they haven't seen their first grandchild and won't be able to for a while. The grandparents are Ed and Ann Bray, the parents are Pfc. Jerold and Irene Fee. The seven pound seven ounce boy was born Sunday, Nov. 2, in Germany, where his daddy is stationed.

We're sure that friends of the young couple would like to send congratulatory cards to them, so we asked for their address. Here 'tis: 210 Wurzburger Strobe, Aschaffenburg, Germany.

Ed Day, 489 Southwood-av, is on his way to New York City right now, travelling by bus with the Ohio State University Men's Glee Club. The famed singing group will appear on the "Voice of Firestone" Monday, Nov. 17, over WTVN at 9 p.m. Ed is a South High alumnus. I'm writing a note to myself to be sure to listen!

Cheery cards would be nice for these two ladies . . . Mrs. Vernon Vanscoy, who is in room 667, University Hospital. Her home address is 1412 S. 5th-st. Tho her surgery was performed several weeks ago, cheering cards would still be appropriate for Dorothy Butterworth, 52 W. Kossuth-st.

At 2 p.m. she saw to it that her mother got into Doctor's Hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Hollis Russell, is a resident of 1809 S. Sixth-st. (Virginia's trip to Doctor's for her surgery will occur the first of the new year.)

"Gifts for Giving"

We're hoping that folks are thinking of the Gifts for Giving that we sponsor for patients of Benjamin Franklin Hospital. Remember, it is a project that enables the patients to give a Christmas remembrance to a loved one.

Last year, one of the young fathers was so elated to be able to have something for his young daughter. He said "That had been my biggest worry thinking I couldn't give her anything this Christmas. I'd never missed a year before, and it was making me feel bad to know that I would this year. Now, she'll get something from me after all."

You know, it makes all the work involved very worthwhile to bring happiners to such people. The things we ask for are your white elephants. It is not necessary to buy anything; we just ask for things you have around the house that you never use because they're not to your taste.

For women, the area is unlimited. Such things as jewelry, cologne, articles of clothing, etc. For men, ties, socks or anything the male in your house won't use but that someone else would appreciate. For children, games and toys are nice, though clothing is very nice, too

Any surplus that is left after distribution at Ben Franklin will go to another county institution. Many groups have made this their Christmas project, and we're so happy that they have. Other groups have their own gift exchanges and bring their white elephant for Ben Franklin, another worthy idea. We are available at HI. 4-1051, should you care to participate.

State Power Ross Ties Bulldog '11'

Sharing a four-way tie with East, Aquinas and Central for fourth place in the City League, the South High Bulldogs staved off a last minute scoring threat by Fremont Ross to save a 6-6 tie in Friday's non-league game.

The Bulldogs closed their rather disappointing season with an overall record of 5-3-1, however their City League games netted a record of 3-3-0, which is identical to the records of East, Aquinas and Central. Fremont Ross ended up with 1-7-1 tally for the season.

Fremont's Lloyd ran 34 yards to set up a first period touchdown and then counted it on a four-yard plunge. South countered with a third quarter tally on a 58-yard drive with the opening half kickoff. Halfback Bob Goodwin scored from one yard away.

Early in the 1958 high school football season, South showed promise as a possible contender for the City League championship. However, about the middle of the league season, "lady luck" left the Bulldogs and a disappointing losing streak hit the local gridders.

While the Bulldogs have been licking their wounds, they have been somewhat comforted by the fact that this year's City League has been a topsy-turvy affair with many upsets. Linden came from behind to snatch the city title from North, a team originally predicted to be heading for its third consecutive city championship. Eastmoor, a comparatively new team in the league, gave a little rough going to some of the more experienced teams, as did Aquinas.

Southern Kiwanians—

tries including near neighbors, Canada and Mexico, and from such troubled spots as China and Egypt.

Kiwanian and radio personality Irwin Johnson; OSU administrator William Guthrie; and several of the students were guests speakers for the occasion.

All of the young people who attended the service, which was held in the Ohio Union Building, have already been graduated from their own colleges and universities in their homelands. In fact, they have been wage earners with trusted positions such as teaching, government work, agriculture and businessmen.

They have left their homes and jobs to voluntarily push onward with more learning in the United States. OSU recognizes a citizenship responsibility and annually admits eight to 10 percent graduate students in its enrollment. An obligation exists, Dean Guthrie suggested, because approximately the same number of Ohio students are enrolled by foreign schools.

The students made many statements concerning their opportunity to study at OSU, but perhaps one of the more outstanding was this: "We are on the march to a better life," said one pupil adding, "this is our most important step."

These students did not make OSU on a money order and high school credentials. There has been no push ahead from friends or family back home, no boost from industrial or endowed scholarships. Their road was paved only by plain old-fashioned scholarship and often years of it! However, their governments frequently help them.

Southern Kiwanians came away from the meeting with the impression that if America will accept the students, and their countries will accept ours some of the current puzzles may not always be so puzzling.

Duckworth Plumbers Down Maryland AC, Bearcats Next

Duckworth Plumbers continued to hold on to second place in the strong Ohio Bearcat League by downing Maryland AC 22-0.

The strong Duckworth defense held the Maryland boys within the 30 yard line stripes the entire game. The defensive line is composed of Mike Trieb, Mark Rhodes, Rick Dupler, Marshal Martin, Dick Hammond, Bill Crozier, and Jim Ellis.

The Duckworth boys jumped off to an early lead in the first quarter, when Marc Borst raced around left end for a 40 yard gain, to the 20 yard line. From here, hard running Dennis Ferrell, galloped around right end for a touchdown. A good pass from Roy Roshon to Rick Dupler was good for the conversion.

In spite of the rain, the Duckworth eleven took to the air for their next score as Roy Roshon again threw a perfect strike to Rick Dupler and he galloped 15 yards for the score. A pass from Jim Robison to Dupler was good for another two point conversion.

The last score came about when fleet Jim Ellis, got behind the defense, and caught another perfect pass from Roy Roshon. The Duckworth boys won the statistics too, as they made 12 first downs to Maryland's six, and completed four passes in four attempts while the Maryland boys failed to complete a pass, trying only three.

MARION-FRANKLIN TO GIVE PLAY FRIDAY

JUNIOR CLASS DRAMA—The Junior Class of Marion-Franklin High School will present the play "Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal." The drama, which is based on the play and television show of the same name originally taken from Lloyd C Douglas' novel "The Magnificent Obsession," will be given tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Tickets are 75 cents and are available at the door. The cast includes, left to right, first row, Pat Smith, Kit Edwards, Janie Spradlin, Diane Nippert and Linda Kleinlein; second row, Vicki Hess, Jane Steele, Louise Sutphin, Carol White, Anita Quick, Mary Frazie and Nancy Ford; Kenney Judy, Dick Reese, John Salt, Kurt Meyers, Ronnie Leddy, Gil Fuleki and Jim Kremer.

Marion Franklin Highlights

By Ralph Maciosi

Marion-Franklin would like to recognize a group of unusually ambitious young people who are sometimes forgotten when it comes to handing out credit. This group is known as the stage crew.

These people are responsible for the painting of scenery, set construction, lighting, make-up, costumes, props and sound.

Participating on the stage crew activities for the Marion-Franklin junior class play, "Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal," are Jerry Reed, Harvy Garrabrant, Kenny Judy, Fred Demmler, Dave Jackson, Elden Frebis, Linda Berger, Irene Daily, Helen Daniels and Carol White. The play will be given Friday, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m., in the auditorium.

On Monday, Nov. 10, Marion Franklin High School held an assembly honoring Veterans' Day. The assembly was directed by Mr. Shott, who teaches English at Marion Franklin. In the assembly was a singing group composed of three senior girls: Donna Munn, Paula Barry and Sharon Beechler. The girls sang three songs at intervals during the assembly. Jerry Reed gave a speech on the history of Veterans' Day and Larry James read President Wilson's speech proclaiming Veterans' Day a national holiday.

Jane's Beauty Salon Owner To Offer Modern Fashions

Years of dreaming, planning and saving finally produced the desired end several months ago when a native South Sider opened the first business of her own under the name "Jane's Beauty Salon," at 2503 S. High-st.

Jane Marinello

The owner, Jane Marinello, the former Jane Tayner, has lived in this area all her life and is a graduate of South High School and the Capital School of Beauty. She and her husband, Joseph, also a local person, now reside at 278 Basswood-rd. Mr. Marinello is a fireman and engineer for the New York Central Railroad.

Before opening her own shop Jane worked as a beauty operator for Ruth Ann's Salon and Beauty Shop, at 1205 S. James-rd.

Unlike many beauticians today, Jane is willing to aid her customers attain any new hair style they would like to try. "I am willing to fix the hair of my customers in any particular way they feel will be satisfying," said Mrs. Marinello.

In her effort to keep abreast of the latest hair fashions, Jane attends as many state and national beautician conventions as possible.

All available at standard prices, the salon offers hair tinting and dyeing, styling and permanents with hair cutting listed as Jane's specialty. The shop is open 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday; and from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Thursdays and Fridays.

Roy Fee Family Celebrates Two New 'Children'

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fee, 104 Thurman-av, became proud grandparents last week for the second time in the last three weeks.

Their son, Pfc. Jerold Fee, and his wife, Irene, became parents of a baby boy, Danny Alan, born in the United States Army Hospital at Frankfort, Germany, Nov. 2. Jerry is stationed in Oschaffenburg with the army. Unfortunately the grandparents will not get a peek at their new grandson until November, 1959, when Jerry returns to Columbus.

The Fees are also still celebrating the birth of their first granddaughter, Teresa Ann, born Oct. 15 to Mr. and Mrs. (Patty Fee) Martin Finta, Jr., of 1411 Miller-av. Martin Finta III, first grandson in the family, celebrated his first birthday Oct. 5, and at the present time is boss of the whole family—but his competition is coming on fast!

Bachtel Urging May Gain CSSO Housing Code Support

The auditorium of the South Side Branch YMCA, 864 S. Third-st, was packed last Thursday evening with members of the Council of South Side Organizations who crowded in to hear Jack Bachtel, director of the Columbus Planning Commission, clarify some misconceptions concerning the proposed new housing code.

The issue is controversial and has drawn arguments and opposition from various individuals and groups. However, by the close of the meeting the majority of the CSSO members present seemed satisfied that the housing code had merits and were considering in what way the local organization could support its approval.

Young and old South Siders alike listened with intent interest as the commission director attempted to explain what many have decided to term "Gestapo tactics" reportedly authorized by the code.

"The code will not authorize housing inspectors to use 'Gestapo tactics' to enter a home or rooming house," said Bachtel. He indicated that inspectors will be instructed that they must come to a house at a reasonable hour bearing proper identification, and will come only if a complaint or report indicates that living conditions in that structure are not sanitary, are overcrowded or unsafe.

This same right of entry has been granted to fire, health and building inspectors and should not offend the rights of residents in the housing code, Bachtel pointed out. "Where interests of a whole community are involved, some personal rights must be given up," he added.

The planning director further pointed out this point by saying, "If you have a barking dog that annoys your neighbors, you must give it up for the sake of the community. In rural life this is not the case. However, a city resident must forsake some rights."

Time Limit Provided

Bachtel said the code as it stands now is not final and many clauses will be revised. He said if it is approved a time limit will be provided for home and rooming house improvements urged by inspectors.

For example: if a large family lives in a small home which inspectors say needs another bathroom, the owners may be given up to five years to install the new facility. One CSSO member commented that in that period all the "kids" could grow up and leave the home and the extra bathroom would not be needed!

Bachtel said that a board of appeals will also be provided for to handle complaints of any property owner who feels inspectors have requested them to make unnecessary improvements.

Many people feel, said the director, that we have proposed this code only to get federal money for the city's slum clearance. To a certain extent this is true, he indicated, but the federal government will want to know that if it gives $2 for every $1 of the city's for slum clearance, is the city doing anything to halt the further growth of more slums. The government will not chip in unless they know a city has some sort of housing code or protection against further slum growth, added Bachtel.

More than for a desire for federal funds, he said, the housing code was proposed because Columbus needs it badly. This city is 150 years old and has never had a housing code, said Bachtel. The only control in existence is so outdated that it permits 20 persons to use one bathroom, the director added.

Overcrowded rooming houses, unhealthy and unsafe conditions lead to higher crime rates, more fires and danger to personal life as well as more slums which means slum clearance money is going down the drain unless we have a housing code to protect this city, concluded Bachtel.

Charity Newsies' Drive Boosted By Local Men

Twenty-six South Side area men will be among those participating in the 52nd annual drive of the Charity Newsies, the "100 per cent for charity" organization.

They will join scores of other Columbus and Franklin County men in selling the annual special "Open-Your-Heart" edition of the Charity Newsies newspaper on Saturday, Dec. 13.

Last year's sale resulted in 3884 children being clothed by the Newsies. In addition, other emergency calls from families in need due to sickness, death, fire or other calamities were answered. Every call received by the Columbus charity organization is answered. This is made possible because every cent donated goes to charity and the men who are directly in charge are friends, neighbors or business associates.

Newsies are to start taking clothing applications from needy families Nov. 24 at the organization's new headquarters and clothing center at 716 S. High-st. All applicants are investigated by Newsie members to make certain a need exists and that efforts of other charitable organizations are not being duplicated. All clothing presented by the Newsies is new.

South Side area men who will participate in the Dec. 13 sale are:

Rental Units Prove Too Expensive

Housing built for families displaced by the Goodale slum clearance program has proved too expensive so far, reports Slum Clearance Director, Sinclair Powell.

So far, not one person eligible under FHA Section 221 housing provisions has applied for one of the 660 units in one such development, Terrace Gardens.

Rents are $87.50 for a three bedroom apartment with utilities and $85, without.

Immediate housing is needed for 70 of the 775 families and about 80 individuals who will be relocated.

All housing must be inspected by the city before displaced persons can move in.

OPTIMIST CLUB PAYS HONOR TO 16 LOCAL SCHOOL CITIZENS

By Ray Shaffer

The Optimist Club of South Columbus, the chief purpose of which is to encourage and support the proper growth and development of boys in the South Side, followed this aim last week by hosting 16 deserving school youngsters at a luncheon and appreciation ceremony at the Fiesta Club.

Each youngster was introduced by his school principal who gave a brief resume of the boy's activities and interests both in the classroom and at home or in church. Reasons were given why the boy was chosen to represent his school during Youth Appreciation Week and at the Optimists' recognition service.

This explanation was not really necessary for during the luncheon the youths, who ranged from elementary age to high school age, displayed their exceptional qualities of good leadership and citizenship through intelligent conversation with members of the club and interest in each other despite the varying age differences.

The boys, who received certificate awards and ballpoint pen sets from Neal W. Greenfield, who headed the appreciation program, were not chosen on the basis of scholarship. Rather, they were recognized for qualities often forgotten in school honors.

Principals of nearly every school in the South Side were given the task of picking one boy from their enrollment who suited the Optimist Club's high standards of a good American school boy and junior citizen.

The boys were picked on the basis of personality, sincerity, leadership, ability to get along well with others, and willingness to help themselves, their friends, family and teachers.

Active church work and serving on the student council or court far outshown any grades on their report cards. Some of them were the "A" students, however, many of them were not.

One student, picked to represent St. Mary's School, is a resident of the North Side. School officials said the boy rides a bicycle the long distance from his home to the school every day in all kinds of weather. His attendance record is excellent. This is the kind of determination and spirit that appeared in the brief histories of all the boys present, whether football player or musician.

The following boys were honored: Fredrick Stimpfle, Franklin Freeman, Carl Snyder, Tommy Wright, Robert Schneider, Mike Davis, Glen Blackburn, William Gillenwater, John Komives, Terry Emrich, Thomas Green, Jerry Daily, Garre Martin, Rodney Cripe, Thomas Schaber and Robert Ferstle.

The luncheon and service warmed the hearts of the members of the Optimist Club of South Columbus, which is fast proving itself to be one of the finest and most valuable organizations to come to the South Side.

Buck Win Complete Surprise To Football Contest Winners

Disloyal Ohio State fans who picked the Hawkeyes to drub the Bucks were the unlucky losers in this week's South Side Leader Football Guessing Contest.

None of the first three finishers picked the winner of the Ohio-Iowa game correctly. Each also missed the upset win by Nebraska over Pittsburg, but two predicted the surprising victory of Minnesota over Michigan State.

Finishing first was Mary Fehlow, 314 Woodrow. She was followed by Mrs. Frances Belcher, 788 Columbus-st and Glenn Belcher, 788 Columbus-st.

Winners, in the order of their placing, are eligible to receive a grease job from Dick's Texaco, a box of cigars from Bob's and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

Local football fans have only two more weeks to enter the contest before all attention is turned toward basketball and other winter sports.

Football prophets correctly picking the winners of games listed in this week's paper will be eligible to receive $10 in cash, a four pound hickory smoked ham from Circus Chef, 3260 S. High-st and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

Predictions are already in on this week's games. These winners will be awarded a choice, in the order that they finish, of a box of cigars from Neubecks, 216 Thurman-av, a grease and oil job from Bill's Sohio and a large pizza from Johnny's pizza.

Here's how local experts pick the winner's of this Saturday's action:

Wake Forest to upset Auburn, Ohio State to trounce Michigan, North Carolina to defeat Duke, Brown over Colgate and Nebraska to beat Oklahoma.

Barack May Use Fairwood Next Summer

Columbus school officials will work with City Recreation Director, N. J. Barack to make a schedule next summer for use of the Fairwood School during the 1959-60 school year.

This announcement came from the Columbus Board of Education office after having to refuse recreation department off-hour use of the building this year, due to previous commitments.

According to Stanley L. Gingery, assistant superintendent of schools, Hope Lutheran Church, the school's PTA and a Cub Scout pack, have already scheduled activities at the building for the rest of the year. The board is bound by contract to make the building available to these organizations.

Retired Teacher Dies At 79 Years

Miss Edna E. Zirkel, 79, of 1007 S. High-st, a teacher at Ohio Avenue School for 39 years before her retirement, died Thursday at her home.

She was a member of Thea Court, LOS and Retired Teachers Association.

Surviving is her brother, Ray Zirkel.

Services were held Monday at Schoedinger Funeral Home, with burial at Green Lawn.

Deadline Set For Hoermle's Filing Of Brief

According to a spokesman for the State Supreme Court, Columbus Councilman William P. Hoermle, 2434 Beverly-pl, has just five days from today to file a brief in answer to County Prosecutor, Samuel L. Devine's challenge of his right to sit in council. Deadline is Nov. 25.

The action began Oct. 27 when Devine challenged Hoermle's authority to occupy a council seat on the grounds that the City Charter says council vacancies can be filled only by council members. Hoermle defended the mayor's appointment by quoting the state law that gives the mayor this authority after 30 days.

Devine's demurrer Nov. 10 said Hoermle's answer doesn't constitute a defense.

School Study Asked; Board Eyes New Site

Go-ahead signal for a comprehensive study to determine expected building and expansion needs in the Columbus School system, was given at Tuesday's meeting of the school board.

Building surveys, made periodically by probing the known and expected needs for new or larger schools throughout the city system, are used to chart the school expansion program for a three-year period.

Last survey, made in 1956, resulted in the $12,900,000 bond issue, used to finance a construction program for 1957, '58 and '59.

Preceding studies in 1953 and, earlier, in 1950 has guided the enormous building and modernization program of Columbus schools.

Administrative staff, proceeding immediately with the project, will retain Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research on a consultant basis, to be sure its reasoning and recommendations are in harmony with modern trends.

Dr. Ebling, in asking for the survey, explained to the board, "A new survey has become necessary because the city of idly since 1956 than at any other time in their history.

"In spite of the fact that the study has been substantially sound, it is necessary that additional information based upon recent changes in the city be secured so that the program may be continued on a well-planned basis."

Board Considers School Location

A 10-acre tract of land immediately north of Rumsey-rd and east of Champion-av was tentatively designated as the site for a possible future new elementary school by the school board, Tuesday.

Research by the board shows that 374 students living in the area such a school would serve are now being transported by bus to Clarfield and Scioto Trail Schools.

Clarfield, in need of relief because of the rapidly growing industrial development just north of the school, would benefit by transfer of the 374 students, as would Scioto Trail.

New homes being built near Scioto Trail will put a strain on Scioto School facilities soon.

'Gadabout' Helping TB Patients Enjoy Holiday

Editor's Note: The second annual "Gifts for Giving" project is now underway and because of its newness and unusual purpose, a little explanation is necessary to boost this worthy idea which "helps others please others!" The project is in no way sponsored by this newspaper but is carried on privately by one of the Leader's regular news contributors.

The South Sider's community news reporter, most popularly known as the "Gadabout" and also writing under her names, "Priscilla LaRue Lenox" and "Mrs. Paul Lenox," is once again carrying on her own campaign to help patients at Benjamin Franklin Tuberculosis Hospital at Christmas. The project is called "Gifts for Giving."

Through her many friends and contacts in the South Side, Mrs. Lenox has become more and more aware of a special need at the hospital. The "need" is not the kind usually benefited by the various charitable funds and organizations throughout the year.

"Patients at Ben Franklin are often kept in confinement for some time and have little or no income whatsoever," said Mrs. Lenox, adding, "at Christmas, many of them feel very unhappy because they have no gifts to present to their special loved one.

"My gifts for Giving project is to urge people to give me the usable 'white elephants' that every family collects without trying. I, in turn, give each patient one usable item to give their special person for Christmas. The patients take care of the gift wrapping and fancy details and thus lose, to an extent that feeling of being left out during holiday festivities," concludes Mrs. Lenox

MONETT HOUSE RECEIVES LIONS' GIFT

HAPPY MOMENT—It was a happy moment for the blind of Monett House and its director when members of the Southeast Lions Club delivered a new $294.95 sewing machine to the organization recently. Trained blind people can use a sewing machine with skill and Monett House, which has several of these trained persons, has been unable to make full use of this skill for lack of a sewing machine. The local Lions Club learned of this need and quickly sent the gift. Left to right are William Marker, Ray Phillips, Robert Atwood, Frank Naubeck, who headed the campaign to give the sewing machine; Miss Margaret O'Brien, Monett House director; Mrs. James Woodruff, sewing, and Walter Lensenmeyer.

STATE ALREADY OWNS GOOD BUILDING SITE

If a miss is as good as a mile, why not go out two miles?

That is our thinking on the matter of selection of a site for the new $15 million state office building. To repeat our editorial stand of Aug. 27 we believe the vacant Columbus State School lands hold the most practical and economical answer for the taxpayer.

At last Thursday's public hearing on site selection it was brought out that a building five to seven times the size of the present S. Front-st office would be needed to bring all state departments under one roof in the foreseeable future.

Admittedly, a spot right next to the present office building or the State Capitol would be the best as far as convenience is concerned. But the gigantic space requirements for building and parking seem to rule out all this 'togetherness'.

At Thursday's meeting Paul R. Gingher, speaking for the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce and the Metropolitan Committee again promoted an old favorite . . . the site just west of Central High School. As a compromise between proximity to downtown and the needed space, this is a step in the right direction. But, is it the complete answer?

In this age when people are inclined to use a car to travel more than one block, we doubt that many would 'hoof it' to the other bank of the river on business matters.

The site, while excellent in many ways has its share of obstacles. It is now walled in by Central High School on the east and a railroad and homes on the west. (The Central athletic field may even be periled with later expansion moves.) Much time-consuming negotiation with the Federal government might be necessary before tearing down the large VA building between Bell and Starling-sts. Several homes and businesses would have to go. Broad-st traffic from the high school and new Veterans Memorial building already is a knotty problem. And, no one has proved that the area is immune from another "flood of 1913."

This raised the question, "should the desire to include the proposed State Office building in an aesthetic setting, "The Civic Center" preclude locating it in wide open beautifully situated land at Central-av and W. Broad-st?"

Soon to be served by the nearby Sandusky-st expressway and possibly by an extension of Grandview-av, the land seems to provide perfect elbow room for the future. As Bob Miller of the West Side Board of Trade put it at the meeting last week, "It's now the most expensive farm land in the state."

No red tape would have to be cut . . . the state already owns the land. Nobody's home and no federal buildings would have to be torn down . . . the land lies idle. By expressway, it would be less than three minutes from downtown.

If economy in government is what we really want, this is an excellent place for the new administration to apply it first.

BIBLE COMMENT

History Will Judge Pope's Role, Stature

Men of good will of whichever faith they profess cannot but wish well for Pope John XXIII as he begins his reign as spiritual leader of the world's millions of Roman Catholics.

Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli, third of 13 children of an humble Italian family, takes the helm of the church of Rome at a grave hour in history for all Christendom.

In the days of our years we see the line being irrevocably drawn between the kingdom of God and the realm of atheistic communism.

Within our own society the eternal struggle between good and evil is highlighted by values placed on materialism as opposed to the eternal values as proposed by Jesus of Nazareth.

COURTHOUSE CURRENTS

Commissioners-Elect State No 'Sweeping' Changes

By DAVE HESS

County Commissioners-elect Nathan A. McCoy, Jr., and D. J. Kunz, currently mayor of New Rome, concurred in the statement that they did not foresee any radical turnover in personnel at the Court House, following their installment in office.

"Of course," said Kunz, "there will be some changes made, but I don't think it will amount to a sweep." The New Rome chief executive probably will take office by Dec. 1, having been elected to fill a vacancy, but McCoy won't assume his commissionership until Jan. 1.

McCoy attributed the Democratic sweep in the county to the controversial Right to Work issue which he said resulted in a greater turnout of Democratic voters who otherwise might not have registered. McCoy, incidentally, had maintained a firm stand against the issue.

Kunz, while acknowledging Right to Work as a probable attributive cause to the Dem sweep, said he thought "people were awaiting a change in the county government; there was a lot of irritation at the financial difficulties which beset the commissioners' office."

Commissioner-elect McCoy said his first endeavor after his installation will be to "straighten out the trouble that the Children's Welfare Home has been having. Now that the welfare levy has passed, maybe we can do something to get those kids out of the predicament they've been in due to lack of funds. After all, it isn't their fault all this trouble has occurred.

McCoy said he didn't anticipate any important changes in the personnel of the County welfare department. "On the contrary," said McCoy, "I think Mrs. Cady and staff have been doing a wonderful job, especially considering the chronic shortage of funds they've had to contend with."

McCoy proposes to see that the two cottages at the Children's Home which were closed for lack of money will be opened "right after the first of the year." He also hopes to get the new receiving center opened, "so that the kids won't have to be subjected to the administrative and judicial procedures downtown."

When queried regarding his first project after taking office, Kunz said, "The first thing I want to do is make an informal survey of the office and get acquainted with the other agencies over which the commissioner's office exerts authority. Actually, until McCoy takes office Jan. 1, control of the county will still be in Republican hands."

Both men averred that they had no aspirations to higher office at the present. Their primary aim, they said, was to "do as good a job as possible and be of service to the people of Franklin County."

United Community Council Praises Papers' Role In Election

On behalf of the United Community Council I wish to say thanks for the tremendous support of the Child Welfare Levy by your newspapers. Your efforts in bringing this vital matter to the attention and concern of the public contributed much to the success of the levy.

We appreciate the special effort you made in sending a photographer to Franklin Village.

The approval of the levy means that many needed child welfare services will be restored. But the levy is only an emergency solution to a crisis. The financing of essential welfare services must still be put on a sound and stable basis.

The United Community Council will continue to work toward a long range solution to the welfare problems facing our community. Budget and service programs of the Franklin County Child Welfare Board and the Franklin County Welfare Department are under study. We are cooperating with these agencies and with county and city officials in developing the highest possible efficiency in administration and the highest possible quality of service.

Special attention is being given to the 1959 budget requests of both agencies. The United Community Council will participate in budget hearings with county and city officials for the first time. The UCC renders the community a valuable service by budgeting United Appeal funds in accordance with the overall needs of the community. We welcome this new opportunity to provide similar assistance in the budgeting for tax-supported welfare services.

Without your fine cooperation the Child Welfare Levy could not have passed.

Robert E. Ebinger,
President

Cellar Lumber In Fiftieth Year

The Cellar Lumber Co., which recently celebrated its fiftieth anniversary, started out in 1908 with a small lumber yard in Westerville, then emerged through the years as a full-fledged corporation with offices and yards in eight different central Ohio towns.

Marion Franklin Highlights

By Karen Reiber

'Secret Journal' Termed Success

The Marion-Franklin Junior Class play, held last Friday night, was a real success. "Doctor Hudson's Secret Journal" was a dramatic production mixed with romance and religion.

The lead characters were Dr. Hudson, played by Kirt Myers, and Nancy, Dr. Hudson's nurse, played by Patty Smith.

The setting for the play was in Dr. Hudson's office, in the Brightwood Hospital. The play was built around the doctor's faith in others, and their reactions.

The entire case should be congratulated for a magnificent performance.

Prizes for the most original booth were given. The Spanish Club won $10 as first prize and the Girls' Athletic Association won $5 as second prize.

A large crowd kept booth workers constantly busy from 8 to 11 p.m.

Basketball Team Eager To Enter City League

By Bob Gardine

After completing a very unsuccessful football season, Marion-Franklin will now put all its effort in the 1958-59 basketball season.

Last year Marion was very successful in the County Basketball League. But this year the Red Devils will match with teams such as North, Linden and South in the City Basketball League. Marion's new coach is Mr. Coldren. He thinks that Marion has a fine team of boys this year and hopes to bring Marion up to the city competition.

Louise Fulton, formerly of Frebis-av, now a Grove City resident, who had another of her pneumonia-type sieges. (That's one annual occurrence that Louise would gladly forgo.) For well-wishes, her address is 280 Dennis-ln, Grove City. We don't know which children were affected, but chicken-pox ruled the roost for awhile in the Whalen household, 224 Frebis-av.

A look at PTA affairs for this section of November reveals these activities . . . St. Mary's PTA and Parrish Council Catholic Women will hold their monthly euchre party Tuesday, Nov. 25 at 8:30 p.m. in the downstairs serving rooms of the high school at 685 Mohawk-st. Don't forget the weekly dinners sponsored by committees of Women of the Moose, 33 W. Sycamore-st. For instance, last Wednesday the Irishman and I had a half-chicken, barbecue style, with cole slaw and french fries, coffee and a fruited jello. Why not treat yourself to an evening "out" and start it with a dinner at the Moose?

South Band Parents

The Band and Orchestra Parents of South High School are busily engaged in their second candy sale. Profits from the candy sale will buy needed equipment for the school's instrumental department.

Another reminder about Gifts for Giving for Benjamin Franklin patients . . . Briefly, the warm-hearted donations from readers of the Leader are distributed to B. F. patients, who in turn give them to their loved ones, be it mate or child. Most of us agree that the joy of yuletide for adults is being able to remember our dear ones. The long hospitalization of tuberculosis usually deprives them of the financial ability to do so.

Our "white elephants" can step in and do a worthwhile duty at this point . . . I'm sure we all have nice things around that we will probably never use that could bring unexpected happiness to someone else. For women, the selection is wide . . . for men, may we suggest ties, hankies, men's toiletries, writing equipment, gloves, socks, etc. For children, as for the women, there seems no limit to appropriate items. We only hope our late start doesn't play havoc with the project. It just seemed to presumptuous to start too soon . . . though it is for a good cause!

Traffic Resumes On New Span

Westbound traffic will continue to use the circular run-around for about two weeks until the entire bridge is finished, a Vlaintine Co. spokesman said.

SOUTH 'PEPSTERS' FIND JOB EASY

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS—South High School Varsity cheerleaders agree their job is easy this year because people just naturally cheer for the local team which has already proven its power this season. The girls are, left to right, kneeling Nancy Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ward, 1231 Forest; and Linda Chamberlain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby McNeal, of 1739 S. Eighth-st; standing, Louretta Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hammond, 1784 Mooberry; Carol Allen, head cheerleader whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Allen, 791 Columbus-st; Sue Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Allen, of 692 Thurman; and Margaret Pearrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pearrell.

'Plumbers' End Season With 44-0 Win Sunday

Duckworth Plumbers ended its season last Sunday with a 44-0 victory over the Beck Bearcats at the Columbus Academy field.

This win enabled the Plumbers to take second place in the strong Ohio Bearcat League, with a record of seven wins and two losses.

With their sponsor, Tom Duckworth, along the sidelines, the boys went right to work scoring 22 points in a big first quarter. Marc Borst led the scoring parade, scampering around end twice for two quick touchdowns. A 15 yard pass from Jim Robison to Jim Ellis was good for the third touchdown. Mike Long scored through tackle for the first conversion and Jim Thomas skirted left end for the second.

After the half, Roy Roshon broke through the middle from the 10 yard line to open the scoring. Dennis Ferrell, hard running fullback, went off tackle for the conversion. After the Plumbers forced the Bearcats to punt, Ferrell again broke loose on a 50 yard scamper to the five, to set up the next touchdown. On the next play, Jim Thomas scored on a quick hitter. The last score came in the closing minutes on a 10 yard pass play from Roy Roshon to Bill Crozier. Dave Oty ran the end for the conversion.

Plenty of "bench strength" helped the Duckworth Plumbers defensively, as Don Strawser, line coach and Bob Bateman, head coach, substituted freely. Good plays were turned in by Bill Bostick, Don Lanfair, Skeeter Ellis, Dick Roshon, Dick Hammond and Bill Forsaker.

Even though fighting a losing cause, Beck Bearcats had their standouts. Bill Weber, John Leist and Lee Montgomery were hard to hold offensively, while Roy Andrews and Phil Bruney were really "bearcats" on defense, making tackles all over the field.

Duckworth Plumbers rushed to 12 first downs and completed four of five passes, while holding the Bearcats to four first downs and allowing them to complete only two of five passes.

Settlement Aides Busy In Schools

The afternoon program at South Side Settlement House offers to its members a very diversified schedule of activities. The children whose ages range from 5 to 12 years attend classes in cooking, sewing, dancing, crafts, gym, woodshop and games.

Three of the leaders who teach these classes are students themselves at Ohio State University and Capital University while a fourth manages her own dress-making shop.

Syvonia Latham, of 233 Barthman-av, who has spent some time studying at the S. Walker Taylor School of Designing and OSU, teaches some of the members sewing, crafts and gym and returns in the evenings to lead more groups. In the time not at the Settlement, she manages her own dress-making shop in her home.

A teacher of dancing, Mrs. Elaine Alkire, of 5436 Dublinrd, also studies at OSU and is majoring in Social Administration. Mrs. Alkire has had a great deal of experience in modern, ballet, ballroom, and Afro-Cuban dancing and the children eagerly go to their group to learn the "latest steps."

Two students from Capital University, who are studying for the Lutheran Ministry, Jerry Clark and Rod Ryan lead craft and gym groups. Both leaders hail from Michigan. Clark worked for the Boy Scouts acting as a camp counselor for a couple of summers, while Ryan's first working experiences with children has been at the Settlement house. Both leaders keep the children very busy making craft articles to take home or learning new games.

Membership fee for children under 12 at the South Side Settlement is 40 cents for the year and classes meet from 3 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Barrett PTA Seeks Large Membership

by Mrs. Orland Sells

Barrett PTA wishes to remind parents that it is not too late to join the PTA and help them reach a membership goal of 100 percent. We can do this if at least one parent joins for each child enrolled at Barrett.

"The Barrett Story" will be presented at the PTA meeting to be held today at 7:30 p.m. The curriculum will be explained by the following panel of teachers: Miss Ella Richey Wells on self-contained classrooms; Miss Isabelle Wallace on college preparatory; Adrian Hanes on industrial arts; Mrs. Ann King on home economics; Herb Germain on elective areas. Invocation will be given by Rev. Boyd C. Rife of Washington Avenue EUB Church. There will be music by the Senior Girls' Glee Club, directed by Andrew Denman and a social hour will follow this fine program.

Plan to attend this meeting. It promises to be interesting and informative.

With Thanksgiving heralding the beginning of the holiday season, it is a good time to pause and remember those who have been helpful. For this reason the Barrett PTA wishes to say "Thank You" to the South Side Leader for all the consideration it has shown in printing our notices, in the past. We feel more Barrett Boosters learn what is going on at Barrett through the South Side Leader than any other source.

December 5 is the date set for the Barrett Christmas Dance, chaperoned by parents and teachers of the school.

December 9, at 1:30 p.m. the executive board has invited the room mothers to a Christmas tea following a board meeting at the school.

ROOSEVELT WELCOMES LIONS' SUPPORT

CHRISTMAS COMES EARLY—The holiday spirit of giving and receiving gifts got an early start at Roosevelt Junior High School several weeks ago when the Southeast Lions Club presented the school with a tape recorder, Viewlex projector and a film strip library. Harold Washburn, principal, warmly thanked the members for the gifts. Lion Projector Max Borst said the club should not be given all the credit. He said the people of the South Side were responsible because of their fine support of the club's annual newspaper, "Southeast Lions Roar." This year the paper, which supports the club's benevolences to schools, will go on sale Friday, Dec. 5. Left to right are: Max Borst, Principal Washburn and Lions Wilbur Morrison, Fritz Kreutz, Jim Wagner and Ray Phillips.

News 'n' Notes of Camp Fire Girls

By Mrs. Paul Lenox

Everyone who has eaten this year's Camp Fire Girl candy has found it deliciously good. Assorted chocolates and chocolate mints are both available, so all tastes should be satisfied. In addition to the financial benefits (which will help with sanitary facilities at Wyandot and subsidize the day camp program) the candy sale provides business experience for the girls and gives satisfaction as a group project. A dollar per box is the cost of the candy. The goal is 60,000 boxes. The Southeast District would like to surpass its goal if possible. If any reader lives in an area that's been unsolicited by a Camp Fire Girl, and would like to purchase a box of candy, we suggest that he contact Mrs. Harold Edwards, HI. 4-4203. She can give the call to the nearest group. The candy sale will end Saturday, Nov. 29.

Mrs. Michael Skobrak wishes to thank all the ladies who so graciously assisted her in the training course held at South Methodist Church earlier in the month. A particular thanks to Mrs. Edward Bornshine, whose name was inadvertently omitted previously. Those who helped with the training in addition to Mrs. Bornshine were Mrs. Fred Roland, Mrs. Edward Barber, Mrs. William Paulus, Mrs. Harold Edwards, Mrs. Richard Kane and Miss Sally Kramer.

Five trainees who completed the three-session training course were Mrs. Anthony Kisor, Mrs. John Jakab, Mrs. Virginia Brown, Mrs. Paul E. Sharp and Mrs. Earl Rhoads. Others who attended one or two sessions were Mrs. Charles Kessler, Mrs. John Hackett, Mrs. Frank Moore, Mrs. Walton Barnhart, Mrs. George Conaway and Mrs. Walter Anthony.

The power of choosing good and evil is within the reach of all.

—Origen.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited. An offering will be received for the Methodist Homes and Hospitals.

Mayor Plans To Run Again; Flays Publicity He's Getting

Hilltopper M. E. Sensenbrenner at Council meeting Monday night declared his intention to run for another term of Mayor of Columbus.

"I'm more determined than ever to prove that I'm not a power-grabbing mayor and that I have the citizens of Columbus behind me," Sensenbrenner told Hartley Newspapeers Tuesday.

The mayor scored the tactics of some "who are trying to tie me in with the charter revision study."

The revision committee lately has recommnded that much stronger control of city matters be delegated to the mayor.

The mayor restated his belief that the time has arrived when the city should have political representation from all parts of the city.

"I haven't had anything to do with the charter meetings, except to say to some of the members that I don't think the mayor should be 'hamstrung' in his job," Sensenbrenner declared.

"After all, if such a thing were incorporated into a new charter, all mayors after me—Democrat or Republican—would use it. You'd think this charter was being drawn up for Sensenbrenner, the way they're writing me up."

Kunz Faces Vote Recount

New Rome mayor and apparent county commissioner-elect D. J. Kunz is clinging to his new post by a 21 point margin with Republican opponent Lytle G. Zuber asking for a recount.

The party's executive committee has already posted $11,420, a ten dollar fee for a recount in all of the county's precincts.

According to the official count, Kunz has 85,898 votes to 85,877 for Zuber. If Zuber fails to gain at least four per cent in each of the precincts, the party loses the $10 which it has posted.

The recount will start next Monday at 8:30 a. m., according to the Board of Elections.

Adventists Mark Week of Prayer

Rev. S. J. Armstrong, assistant minister of the Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Church, will conduct one hour of devotional services with the pupils of the church's grade school, 1580 Union-av, Monday through Friday, in annual week of prayer.

Meetings are being held for the adults at the Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Church, 26 N. 21st-st, every evening this week at 7:30 p.m. and on Saturday morning at the regular 11 o'clock worship service. More than a million members of the church around the world will engage in prayer during this week, Pastor Kagels said.

Prices received by Ohio farmers for major products averaged about two percent lower on Oct. 15 than a month ago, according to the Ohio Crop Reporting Service.

There's "food for thought" in a Thanksgiving Day visit to your house of worship

TODAY far too many of us think of Thanksgiving in terms of food and football—overlooking the fact that there is so much more food offered than that which is placed on the family table. For there is much "food for thought" as well.

Thanksgiving is a time to take stock of life's blessings . . . to take a bright-eyed child on your knee and talk to him quietly of things that really matter . . . of his great American heritage and the promise it holds for him. It's a time to take your whole family to your church or synagogue for an hour of prayer and thanks that will make your holiday mean so much more.

True, our lives are far removed from those of the Pilgrim Fathers. We live in the uncertainty of the Atomic Age. But we also live in the abundance of 20th Century America. Has any one of us so much or so little that he cannot find room or time in his heart for thanks?

This Thanksgiving, why not take your family to your church or synagogue? Wherever you are . . . whatever your beliefs may be . . . take time to offer your word of thanks.

BUILD A STRONGER, RICHER LIFE...

Worship together every week!

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Plentiful: Turkey, chicken, pork roast, medium eggs, apples, cranberries, Emperor grapes, sweet potatoes, celery, squash, turnips, leaf lettuce, walnuts.

TURKEY, TRIMMIN'S AND . . . THANKFUL HEARTS

Next week we'll be gathering in family groups at the festive board, just as the Pilgrims did way back in the autumn of 1621. It is also an appropriate time to pause and give thanks for the great abundance of foods available to us this year.

Your holiday food shopping will be fun . . . so much to choose from at reasonable prices. Perhaps your first concern is the meat. Plentifuls to choose from this year include turkey, chicken, and pork.

Shall it Be Turkey? This year's plentiful supply makes turkey a good buy. The large whole turkey will be the better buy in terms of cost-per-serving, but the size of your family may well determine the size turkey to purchase. Here's a good "rule of thumb" for buying the right amount. If the turkey weighs less than 12 pounds (ready-to-cook weight) allow three-fourths to one pound for each serving. If it weighs over 12 pounds, allow one-half to three-fourths of a pound for each serving.

If you buy chicken you can plan on getting one and a half servings per pound from fryers, and two servings per pound from roasters.

In either turkey or chicken, look for plump, meaty birds with clean, moist skins free from pin feathers and with pliable breast bones.

Ham or pork roasts, with bone in, will yield about two to three servings to the pound. Without bones they will provide three to four servings to the pound. Look for cuts that show a high proportion of fine-grained lean meat. Avoid too much fat

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE HINTS

Sweet potatoes are always good with turkey. If you serve them mashed, add some orange juice and butter to them, with a sprinkling of nutmeg.

Creamed onions are on many a Thanksgiving menu. Give them an added dash with a sprinkling of mace

Having mashed turnips? Our local turnip crop is big and of fine quality. Brighten their flavor by mixing them with a generous amount of parsley items was collected and these were distributed for the same purpose at other county institutions after Ben Franklin patients were supplied. Many local organizations which held Christmas gift exchanges last year donated their "white elephants" to our reporter's project.

Also in good supply are greenhouse vegetables — both leaf and Bibb lettice, watercress and tomatoes. Your dinner wouldn't be complete this year without apples in some form, and, of course, cranberries. Both are bargains and never better in flavor than during November.

Fathers under care at the hospital seemed especially pleased with the project in 1957 because they were able to give gifts to their children, who might not understand why "daddy" missed a year in giving Christmas presents.

Contributors to "Gifts for Giving" need buy nothing new to donate to the collection. Most women have had items given them which somehow just do not suit their tastes. These articles would be more than appreciated by Ben Franklin patients. Men always seem to have ties, socks or toiletries which they never use for some reason or another, and children's toys and clothing also make good contributions.

Mrs. Lenox is available for further information at HI. 4-1051. Her spare time is limited because of her active participation in South High School's PTA, the League of Women Voters, Camp Fire Girls and many other community projects besides her writing. We salute her worthy endeavor and wish her great success in this project.

Rabbi Addresses Southern Kiwanis

By Lloyd Wilkinson

Three hundred-year-old history tells us that pilgrims paused briefly before long, barren winter months to give thanks for a green summer — for food stores scratched from an alien soil, enough to last until spring. An American tradition was born.

Rabbi Folkman

Rabbi Jerome D. Folkman, Temple Israel, Bexley, acknowledged the American tradition last week in a visit with Southern Kiwanis Club, at Reeb's Restaurant. "Teach it," he said.

To this has been added myth: story book scenes of prim Pilgrim mothers experimenting with wild fruits, wild game and corn flour—pumpkins, cranberries, turkeys—and over-dressed Pilgrim fathers returning from a benevolent woods with their unique scatter-shooting hand cannons and a string of fat table fowl slung over the shoulder.

New Christian Indians are pictured standing receptive (and hungry) but timidly at edge of woods waiting for first table. It's a scene of kindness, forgiveness and forgetting and gratitude in a land dedicated to hard work and free worship of God.

Add to this recollections of modern-day happy Thanksgiving holidays when families call together their oldsters and youngsters for a brief, too brief, time-stopping afternoon. These examples of Thanksgiving must never be lost. They have good basis in fact-myth. The lesson must be given to children, and cultivated.

Rabbi Folkman, who chose long ago to make a career of discovering and commenting upon the enobling traits in human character, can speak both as a religious leader and family man. Thanksgiving should be taught children and cultivated, he said. "For thanksgiving is an art," he added, "there's something wonderful about thanksgiving — it's a miracle—a gift from God."

Celebration Preserves Heritage

He suggested that periods of celebration, of concentration, of special services in schools and churches helps preserve the heritage and intensifies the spirit. These periods are necessary if our youngsters are to enjoy spiritual development, he said. The human spirit, with coaxing and good example, can aspire to an every day spirit of gratitude for the abundance of good things we enjoy, and sometimes take for granted.

Said Rabbi Folkman:

"Friendship is a miracle—not explainable altogether, and not begging explanation—but nonetheless an overwhelming miracle.

"Words spoken that can touch others—a hymn, a lesson by a teacher, words that comort and encourage from a parent or friend—these are miracles, too — a myithical bridge created from one person to another.

"Gratitude is a similar miracle. Our modern ambitious American way of life too often wears us down. The sputnick age is burdened with tensions and overwork with goals not easily gratified. This is an American problem."

The rabbi reminded Kiwanians that the Bible taught the value of hard work, taught that idle hands invited the devil. His interpretation: It's not the amount of work, but the lack of gratification, of appreciation, of enjoyment, of thanksgiving that wears us down.

Thankfulness is a difficult lesson in childhood, he said. Children have great expectations, and join thanks with things still to come. Adults take it for granted.

"Teach the children," he said. "Set example, give them special periods of celebration and observance, — the fact, the myth, the example — educate them to the time-stopping, brief, happy times.

"It's a measure of civilization," he said. "Without it life is curtailed."

Rabbi Folkman doesn't guess when he talks of gentle things in a sometimes harsh world. He offers proofs positive. He does not say we are had; did say we have much to be thankful for; hinted that we could do more of it.

"Let us not, in adulthood, lose the ability to thank God for life and its blessings," he concluded.

"Let us come before His presence with Thanksgiving" (Psalm 95), Americans, still observing Thanksgiving in the true tradition of the day, will follow customs of their Pilgrim forefathers by attending worship services and feasting. Acolytes of Glenwood Methodist Church, posed in the photo are, from left, Richard Jones, Dennis Koons, John Grashel, Don Young, Robert Lane and Don Ehman. They serve during worship services.

On This Day

Thanksgiving Services Set

A large majority of the churches in the South Side pooled their efforts to hold the 37th Annual South Side Community Union Thanksgiving Service last night at St. Paul United Church of Christ. For our readers who would like to attend special services this morning we list the following:

LUTHERAN

Emmanuel Lutheran Church, 80 E. Markison-av, will hold special Thanksgiving Day services this morning at 9 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. Carlton J. Sutorius, will speak on the subject, "God Must Be the Cause of All True Thanksgiving." Special music will be provided by the choirs. Members of this community are invited.

First English Lutheran Church, E. Main and 22nd-sts, will hold special services at 9 a.m. today with the pastor, Rev. G. E. Wick, giving the sermon, "Mature Thanksgiving." Associate pastor, Rev. Paul Oye, will give the liturgist. Music will be provided by the youth and junior choirs.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 322 Stewart-av, also scheduled its Thanksgiving services for this morning at 9, with Rev. John O. Lang, the pastor, speaking on "Here We Raise Our Ebenezer." The junior choir will sing "Praise the Lord," while the senior choir will present its interpretation of "Prayer of Thanksgiving."

CATHOLIC

St. Ladislas, 277 Reeb-av, will have special Thanksgiving Masses said by Rev. Riehl at 7:30 and 9 a.m. today. Music will be provided by the grade school choir. The church will be decorated in white under the direction of Rev. Riehl and Barbara Scobrock.

St. Mary's Catholic Church, 684 S. Third-st, will have special Thanksgiving Mass at 9 this morning by Rev. Msgr. Edmund A. Burkley.

St. Leo's Catholic Church, 221 Hanford-st, will have masses this morning at 9. Information was not available as to which pastor would lead the service.

Psychiatrist Nixes Boy's Seeing Car

Mrs. Eugene Kendrick, under advice from a city psychiatrist, was averse to permitting her son, Paul 7, victim of a savage sex attack last Aug. 3, to see a car which the sheriff's office has reason to believe was the one used by the sex mutilator who attacked the youngster.

Said Mrs. Kendrick, "The doctor said it would confuse Paul to show him the car, and that he probably would not be able to identify the car anyway."

Mrs. Kendrick was in favor of letting the boy look at the previous owner of the car, who is presently under psychiatric treatment, but Sheriff's Lt. Ellsworth Beck stated he wanted to obtain more evidence, if possible, before attempting an identification.

The auto, a 1940 Ford, was picked up last week on a tip from a private investigator, and bloodstains were found on the front seat. It has been shown that the stains are human blood, but the blood type has not been fixed. Experts at the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation in London will conduct more thorough tests in an effort to type the blood.

The auto was sold to a West Side teenager just a few weeks after the slashing. The two previous owners of the vehicle will be investigated and brought in for questioning, providing the investigation turns up anything suspicious.

The Kendrick lad was abducted from Edwards School playground, then driven to an isolated wooded area where he was sexually mutilated.

Ruling Due On Flashers In 30 Days

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has indicated that it will rule in about 30 days whether flasher warning lights must be installed at the Whittier-st grade crossing of the New York Central Railroad and Chesapeake & Ohio Railway.

Application for safeguards at the crossing was filed by Sam Fusco, 2590 Coventry-rd, as a citizen. The city joined in the application.

At a hearing last Thursday, the railroads protested, contending flasher lights would cost $37,500 and gates an additional $5,000. The railroads argued the city should share the cost if the protective measures are ordered.

11 'Money' Prizes In Today's Ads

Not one of 11 valuable insignia was redeemed by a subscriber for "Confederate" money last week.

No claimants on the jackpot prize "money" raises the value of the lucky emblem to $20 this week. The usual ten $1 insignia are also printed on ads in ten other copies of this issue.

Subscribers spotting lucky insignia in their copies of the South Side Leader may exchange the newspapers for "Confederate" cash at the Leader office before 5 p.m. Friday.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Employes or carriers and members of their families are excepted.

Merchants advertising in the current issue will accept "Confederate" money at face value in payment for any items in their stores.

South Side's Gifts To CRC Total $5,153

Contributions totaling $5,153 were raised by South Side "Light A Life" volunteers during the recent campaign, the Council for Retarded Children has reported.

A total of $47,210 has been raised throughout Franklin County toward the $50,000 goal. Funds are used to educate mentally retarded children who have been excluded from public school.

Expressing her appreciation to South Side contributors, Mrs. Richard Mahley, 576 Reinhard-av, division chairman, praised the hundreds of volunteers who conducted the door-to-door drive in her area.

She said their efforts will help many retarded youngsters become happy, useful adults.

The CRC urges those who have not yet given, to mail their donations now. Gifts can be sent in care of the Council for Retarded Children, Box 3, Columbus 16, Ohio.

The Council said their goal can still be reached if those who were not given the opportunity to give, will respond to this final plea for support.

Moose Women Will Sponsor Student Nurse

The Hospital Committee of Chapter 206, Women of the Moose each year sponsors a nurse through nurse's training. Chairman Wilma (Billie) Springs has selected Jo Ann Milless, now training at Grant Hospital, as the nurse they will sponsor. Miss Milless is from Canal Winchester, 20 years old, and very anxious to finish her training.

Last year, Chairman Valerie Williams and her committee, sponsored Patricia Schmetzer of Mt. Carmel Hospital, who graduated with honors. Bake sales, dinners, socials and many other programs help to raise the money for the project.

Four Injured In South End Auto Accident

Frank Scott, 380 Parsons-av, was one of four persons injured in a car head-on crash Sunday, Nov. 23, at 20th-st and Mt. Vernon-av, which ended with the cars bouncing into a Columbus Transit Co. bus.

Scott was treated in St. Anthony Hospital and released. No one was injured on the bus, police reported.

Sermonette

Pilgrims Thank God Despite Suffering

by Rev. Paul C. Kaefer
Pastor of St. Paul United Church of Christ

Rev. Paul Kaefer

It will be just 335 years ago this fall that William Bradford, second governor of the Pilgrim Colony, set aside a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

It had been a terrible winter. Their crops, which had been none too plentiful, had largely failed. In the cemetery on the hill were many graves, for exposure, insufficient food, improper clothing and disease had taken their awful toll.

Yet, in the face of all this, Governor Bradford appointed a day set aside for praise and prayer.

The pioneers praised God in the midst of suffering, privation and want, for His wonderful goodness in giving them these three freedoms — Government, Education and Religion.

Today, we have so many more comforts of which the pilgrims had not the fondest dreams. Even though world calamity stalks in our midst, can we not also kneel before the Almighty and offer up fervent prayers of praise and thanksgiving?

We still possess those three freedoms, government, education and religion, as one of our most cherished and hallowed legacies.

Let us then, this Thanksgiving Day, get down on our knees and fervently and sincerely pray:

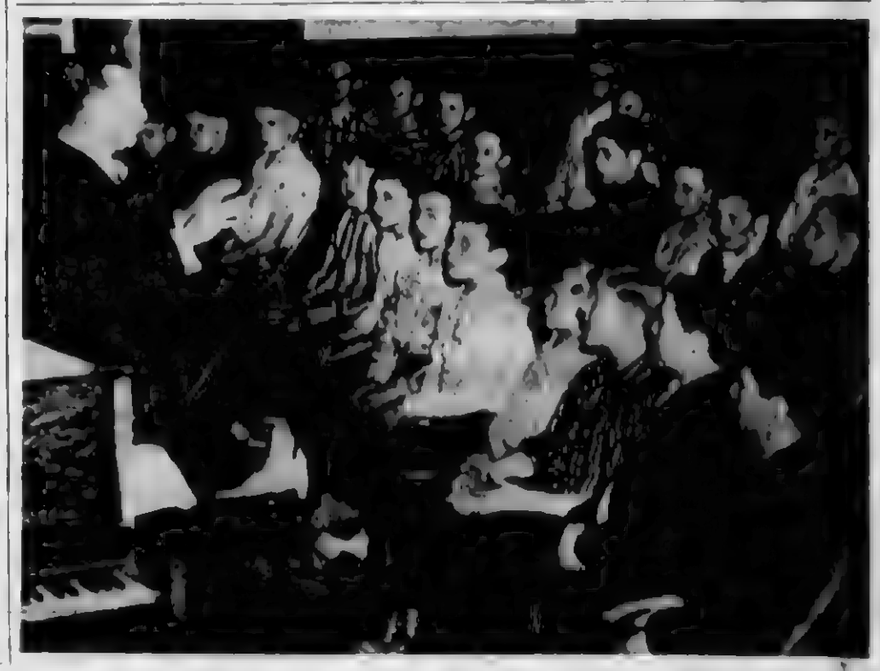
"Praise God, from whom all blessings flow;
"Praise Him, all creatures here below;
"Praise Him above, ye heavenly host;
"Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost.
Amen."

Founders Day Ceremony Is This Sunday

Founders Day will be observed Sunday in Ohio Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church at the 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. worship services.

The 44th Anniversary of the first service at Ohio Avenue will be celebrated. There will be a display of pictures of historic events in the life of the congregation.

Ohio Avenue Church was formed out of a merger with the former Emanuel Evangelical Church on Main-st. That congregation had its beginning in Columbus on Third-st at the time of the Civil War.



There will be a Memorial Service for members who died during the year. Rev. Glendon Herbert, Pastor, will preach on the subject, "They Without Us."

Sunday will also be the climax of the November Tithe Festival at Ohio Avenue. Members have been asked to Tithe for the month of November and to give their Tithe to the church to raise an extra offering of $2,000 for missions and debt reduction. Terry Cromwell will be guest soloist and the Chancel and Concordia Choirs will sing.

TOP BULLDOG GRIDDERS—Coach, manager, students and faculty alike at South High School are all feeling pretty proud this week upon learning that three Bulldog gridders have been named to the 1958 All-City League football squad. Six other members of South's football team received honorable mentions in the all-city voting. Phil Starbuck, left, tackle, was appointed to the All-City offensive team. What's Ahead For Columbus Charter

The old 1914 model charter of the City of Columbus is being carefully inspected by the Charter Revision Committee.

It is something like an old vintage auto—not too pretty perhaps, has a lot of squeaks, but still running.

It is hoped the committee can come up with plans for a new model that will encompass solutions for a lot of the problems that have arisen as the city has expanded since 1914.

Perhaps the committee has a lot of strikes on it before it even presents its report. It is most regrettable that it came into being by way of the City Hall rather than emanating from the demands of a strong public spirited citizens' group. Experience shows that any proposal made locally by either political group will have the opposition of the other party.

So regardless of the good men and women on the committee, the whole project will carry a certain flavor of politics.

Chairman Arvin Alexander stated this week that the committee will have a complete draft of the amended charter in a few weeks. It will then be held up for public inspection and additional hearings held to get the reactions of the citizens of Columbus to the proposals. Further revisions will then follow before submitting the document to city Council.

Council may hold additional hearings, adopt, amend or throw out the charter. Whatever Council finally adopts must be submitted to a vote of the people.

At this point we speak out loudly in favor of these changes in the Charter: Higher salaries for City Councilmen and a larger Council elected from districts.

We believe there is a lot of merit in the proposal to provide for five district councilmen and four councilmen elected at large.

The Charter that will do the most good for Columbus will be the one that recognizes that it is a difficult task to get the best qualified business people into the City Hall to run this multi-million dollar business of ours.

Let's be prepared to look over the charter proposal carefully and visualize what is ahead for Columbus in the next 50 years.

FOOTBALL GAMES SCARCE

Sports Guessers Challenged

Leader-News football guessing contestants who feel they are beginning to unravel the baffling magic of the game are in for a real shock in this week's contest.

We've run out of football games!

So to test the overall ability of our guessers, we've thought up a corker for this week. Not only will the winner have to pick the victors of six football games, but also 17 basketball tilts and a wrestling match!

This should provide a real opportunity for those who are unable to predict football winners, but shine in another sport.

Entrants in the contest being announced this week made a tussle of the affair by posting a remarkably high percentage of correct guesses. The tie-breaker was used to settle a two-way deadlock for first place.

R. J. Mulligan, 1197 Linwood-av, topped last week's entries with only seven misses in 27 tries. But, his 84 points tie breaker estimate was the clincher as he beat out E. J. Kerscher, who guessed that only 34 points would be scored in last week's highest scoring contest. Kerscher lives at 573 Frebis-av, and will have his choice of the three remaining prizes after Mulligan chooses first prize.

Third place went to Tony Ebelberger, 140 Hanford-st, who had 19 correct guesses. His estimate of 47 total points in the tie breaker gave him the edge over Mrs. Frances Belcher, 788 Columbus-st, who finished fourth.

This week's prizes include $10 in cash; a Minneapolis-Honeywell Electric thermostat (value: $42.50) from Williaman Cooling and heating Co.; an electric wall clock from Koch Hardware; and one large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

Here's how our guessers pick the winners of some traditional tilts:

Army to convincingly defeat Navy, Miami to drop Florida in a close one; Southern Cal to upset Notre Dame, Colorado to spoil Air Force's record and Boston College to fall before Holy Cross.

Members of the League of Women Voters have been invited to attend the 12:30 luncheon at the Southern Hotel on Dec. 16, to hear Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as the guest speaker. The luncheon has been arranged by the Columbus Chapter American Association for the United Nations. The meeting is in commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the universal declaration of human rights. Mrs Roosevelt will speak on "The United Nations, the United States and the U. S. S. R."

The Civics Affair Committee of the Women of the Moose, 36 W. Sycamore-st, have planned a Swiss steak dinner for Dec. 3, 5 to 7 p.m. With the Swiss steak there will be gravy, mashed potatoes, harvard beets, pie and coffee. Profits from the dinner will be used to furnish a Christmas party for retarded children.

Thanksgiving Birthdays

What a combination . . . turkey and birthday cake! Six youngsters in our birthday file combine today's feasting with their birthday, so special greetings for them. The six are: Linda Lou Claffey, Beck-st, (who attained her 11th year today); Daniel Sisk, 438 Hanford; Lonald Wright, 1272 S. 4th-st; Jeanette Burchette, rear 1364 S. 3rd-st; Thomas Ellis, 225 Southwood and Patricia Raper, 1371 225 Southwood and Patricia Raper, 1371 City Park. Thanksgiving week birthdays to be noted are: James Kinser, 1359 S. Fifth st. Dec. 2; Sheila Harber, 185 Morrill. Dec. 3; Patricia Bowen, 1522 S. High-st. Dec. 1 and Jeri Ross, 310 Jenkins, Nov. 29.

South Methodist Church will have four Senior High Methodist youth members participating in the Advent Choral Vespers, Sunday, Nov. 30, at the Veterans Memorial Building. The service has a 4 p.m. starting time, and is designed to call attention to Advent, the season of preparation for the coming of the Christ Child. Four hundred MYF members have been practicing diligently every Sunday, during October and November. The singers will be directed by Herbert Yenser, director of the choirs of Upper Arlington High School and Minister of Music at Trinity Methodist Church.

Mrs. Thomas Tipton, organist and Pat Brown, pianist, a percussion and brass ensemble will assist in the accompaniment. There will be no admission charge, but an offering will be received. The public is invited to attend this afternoon of reverent music.

The band and orchestra parents of South High School are now selling three kinds of candy, the second year for such a project. The almond bark, that was sold last year, is again available; mixed chocolates; and a mixture of toffee and chocolates, imported from Ireland and packaged in a beautiful tin.

Wedding Note

Wedding congratulations are in order for the newly-wedded Mr. and Mrs Jim Montenaro, who heard the wedding bells chime on Nov. 22. Mrs Montenaro is the former Jackie Castle, of 85 E. Moler-st.

Eileen Swisher Di Franco is one former South Sider who is seeing lots of this I'll old planet Arthur Swisher, 582 Siebert-st, since her South High School days. She was in Italy for a time, then a brief session in New York and now she is getting settled in Costa Rica.

In a letter to her mother, Mrs. she said she had gone shopping with a woman who didn't know a word of English. Knowing that all women are' 'born" shoppers, they got along fine.

Mrs. Swisher is doing some traveling herself this week. She and Mr. Swisher should be in Florida by now, spending the Thanksgiving holiday with Harold Radcliffe, and his family. The Siebert-st residents expect to spend several weeks in Titusville, Fla.

With Christmas cards soon to be addressed, it's a good idea to remember the boys in service especially if they're overseas. One young lad who would appleciate a card is A/3C Edward L. Nehr, A. F. 15590699 496 F. 15 A.P.O. 109 N. Y., N. Y. We'll gladly relay addresses of any other service boy or girl . . we write this column to be of service to the community and welcome any opportunity to help. Perhaps it would be better to mail us the addresses, to insure accuracy. Our home address is 1411 S. 6th-st.

We didn't detect any quavers in Mary Merritt's voice, but we should have . . . after all, she had a birthday this month! Maybe the old, oops, young gal still has enough energy to preside as hostess when Trudeau Guild 30 meets at her home for their December meeting.

Further Trudeau Guild news items . . . Guild 25 will hold its Dec. 3 Christmas meeting at the Southern Hotel. Ethel Messer will be the hostess. Marty Weaver, former vice-president of all Guilds, welcomed a little boy to her household on Nov. 12. For those card minded, her address is 240 Mayfield-rd, Chesterland, O

Belated greetings to Mrs. Ralph Fondauzzi for her Nov. 20 birthday, to Marianne Wiegerig and Russ Conter for their Nov. 17 natal days, and Dolores Humes for her Nov. 20 "special" day. Mae Dean, 33 E. Jenkins, will be celebrating her birthday on Dec. 3.

Cheering cards are appropriate at this time for Myrtle Mincer, 249 Frebis-av, who was hospitalized in Mt. Carmel until last week. One of the patients in Benjamin Franklin Hospital who could stand considerable cheering at this time is Clyde Williams, 114 N, whose morale was quite low at the time we wrote this wordage.

HOLIDAY BAZAAR

We will be giving fuller details next time around, but we want to mention the Annual Holiday Bazaar to be held at St. Ladislaus, Dec. 7, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. St. Ladislaus is located at 277 Reeb-av. The ladies there are among the hardest-working ones we know, so we know the bazaar will be super.

The South High thinclads open their basketball season tomorrow night at Middletown.

Edmund Kuehn, one of Columbus' top artists and long-time South Side resident, will be the speaker at the second Beaux Arts Show Workshop, Dec. 2, at the Gallery of Fine Arts.

"Gifts for Giving"

We want to thank our editor for giving so much space to our Christmas endeavors in last week's paper. He certainly got a lot from a brief five-minute chat we had several weeks ago! One thing we'd like to correct however . . . this will be the FOURTH Christmas we've been trying to help the patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital. (For the two years prior to that, it was the Orient inmates who were helped, as long-time readers will remember.) We'd like to include a huge thanks to Mrs. Bier, too, for her marvelous job of helping with her dollies. They're always the "hit of the show," so to speak.

Contributors so fare include Lillian Ryan, Glenna Edwards, Donna Hampton and Mayor Sensenbrenner. (You see, upon learning that the mayor was asking for toys for deserving children, we wrote him about the Gifts for Giving. He immediately called up and give us six puzzles to be used in the project.)

We thank these first donors, all, and think that the donation from the mayor proves that large cities are just as warm-hearted as any smaller town. It all adds up to a feeling of thankfulness of living in this day and age, in these United States!

News 'n' Notes of
Camp Fire Girls

Last call for that delicious Camp Fire Girl candy! Saturday, Nov. 21 is the deadline selling date for the two tasty sweets, chocolate mints and assorted chocolates.

The candy sale has been very successful, and members of the public relations committee have been asked to convey the thanks of the Camp Fire organization to all who have helped to make this so.

Mrs. Harold Edwards has requested that all leaders please order honor beads, three and five year awards and rank certificates as soon as possible. These articles will be used on Dec. 14, at the Christmas Council Fire, to be held at South Methodist Church.

The band and orchestra parents of South High School are once again selling candy as their main money-making project of the year. Three types of candy are now available for sale; mixed chocolates; a toffee and chocolate mixture, imported from Ireland and packaged in a beautiful metal can; and the candy that was sold last year, the almond bark that was so popular.

As was done last year, there will be prizes for the students who sell the most candy. Parents who will have the candy available in their homes for easier distribution are Mrs. McCune, 894 E. Stewart-av, Mrs. Frank Claffey, 494 E. Beck-st, and Mrs. Paul Lenox, 1411 S. 6th-st.

An attendance of over 300 parents and boys combined was at the church to witness the induction.

Bob White Scores 16 In Basketball Opener

By Kit Edwards

Marion opened the '58-'59 basketball season Friday night at Mifflin. The score was 24 all at the halff, but the Cowpunchers galloped ahead to defeat the Red Devils 55 to 41. Bob White was Marion's high scorer with 16 points.

Marion's returning lettermen are Dan Dailey, Bob White, and Rodney Buccilla.

The Reserves won a very close game 21 to 20.

Capital Graduate Is New Director

By Jan Steele

There are a number of new faces on the faculty of Marion-Franklin High School. This week we will tell about E. C. Shick, the choir director.

Mr. Shick, who resides at 460 Eastmoor-blvd, is married but has no children. He is a graduate of Capital University and has attended Otterbein, San Antonia Junior College, the University of Maryland, the University of Wisconsin, and several colleges.

He was formerly the head of the Department of Music at Bellevue High School in Bellevue, O., and the past director of the Nurses' Chorus at Grant Hospital.

A veteran of the Korean conflict, Mr. Shick has traveled to every continent in the world except three.

Spanish Club's Booth Cops $10

By Linda Gaffin

The Spanish Club is quite an active organization at Marion-Franklin. So far this year the club has sponsored a dance and a fudge sale. At the Fun Frolic, which was sponsored by the Booster Club, various clubs decorated the booths. The Spanish Club copped first prize and was awarded $10.

The club is now making plans for a Mardi Gras in the spring, just before Lent. They are striving to establish this as an annual event.

The officers are president, Linda Gaffin; vice-president, Linda Berger; secretary, Gail Evans; treasurer, Sharon Gardine; and chaplain, Jim Cripe.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Protein Foods—Whole pork loins, pork sausage, turkeys, chicken, medium eggs.

Vegetables—Sweet potatoes, celery, leaf lettuce, cabbage, squash, frozen limas, and peas.

Fruits—Apples, grapes, cranberries.

By the time the Thanksgiving bird is eaten, most of us will welcome a change in meat fare. Now is the time of year when fresh pork is plentiful and a natural to go with such foods as apples, sweet potatoes, squash or turnips—all bargains at this time of year.

The pork picture will probably be brighter as the winter months progress. According to the available data from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the plans the farmers of the nation made last fall for more hogs mean pork early next year. More of this pork that will come from these hogs will be of higher quality, more lean and less fat—thanks to the careful management of breeders and farmers.

Will Supply Affect Price You Pay? The potential good supply of pork may mean somewhat lower retail prices, although the change is not likely to be great. This is because the costs involved in getting the hog from market to the consumer in the form of pork in the store do not change.

Only the price the farmer receives for the live hog and the price you pay for the pork in the store will fluctuate somewhat with the supply. This is one reason prices for pork in the retail store do not decline as much as prices farmers receive for live hogs.

What To Look For—You'll get the best buys in pork by checking the grocery ads each week for "specials." It's the specials that will make the difference in price this year. Often among these specials will be whole loins or whole hams or picnics

Lower prices, at the present, are also noted on fresh shoulder cuts, bacon and even spareribs.

While a whole loin can be an economical buy, it is usually too big for the family for one meal. A suggestion to "stretch" it is to have a rib end roast cut off, and then have the remainder cut into chops. Then at home package in meal-size packages and store in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator for a week or ten days, or in the home freezer up to three months.

Put cooked sweet potatoes in a shallow baking dish and sprinkle with a bit of salt. Spoon applesauce over the sweet potatoes. Sprinkle with brown sugar and chopped nuts; dot with butter. Bake in oven at 350 degrees F. until heated

'Musical MacMurrays' Set At Washington EUB Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. MacMurray

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. MacMurray, musical evangelists of Union City, Pa., have been secured by Rev. Boyd C. Rife, to present a sacred festival of music at the Washington Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, Sunday, Nov. 30, at 7:30 p.m.

The musical MacMurrays, who are heard annually at the Winona Lake Indiana Bible and Music Assembly, will bring with them some of their 18 musical instruments including their imperial nocturne gold vibraharp, chimes, glockenspiel, goya guitar and their symphony of brass, including the world's shortest cornet, measuring on eight and a half inches, the triumphal trumpet measuring 53 inches and the altonium.

Mr. MacMurray, advertised by a leading band instrument company as "America's Renowned Cornet Virtuoso", was recently presented a gold cornet by the band concern. MacMurray was formerly associated with Homer A. Rodeheaver who declared "Mac" to be the "world's foremost trumpeter of sacred and classical repertoire".

Included in their program Sunday evening will be "How Great Thou Art," "To God Be The Glory," "The Lord's Prayer," "The Holy City," "It Took a Miracle," and "The Old Rugged Cross". The MacMurrays will participate at the morning worship service at 9:30 a.m.

Settlement Aides Help Start Club

A group of ambitious women living in the Lincoln Park Housing Projects offered their services to the South Side Settlement in begnnning its Golden Age Club.

These women called on those Golden Agers who would need assistance in getting to the meetings, some returned to visit and give these people a little company and most of them helped with the first few meetings of the club, acting as hostesses or helping with refreshments.

To these workers, the South Side Settlement and this community owe a debt of thanks: Mrs. Evelyn Burgett of 645 E Morrill-av, Apt. E, who has helped at nearly every meeting; Mrs. Verilla Blue, of 635 Morrill, Apt. F; Mrs. Dixie Osbourne, 665 Morrill, Apt. 1, Mrs. Bertha Reynolds, of 635 Morrill, Apt. D. and Mrs. Zinobia Trice, of 1745 S. 20th, Apt. J.

Hi-Y, Glee Club Sponsor Thanksgiving Assembly

Barrett Junior High School held its annual Thanksgiving Assembly yesterday. This year's program was shared as a joint project by the Hi-Y Club and the Junior Girl's Glee Club.

Ray Speakman gave the opening invocation and Robert Stump said the closing benediction. The Junior Girl's Glee Club, with Mr. Andrew Denman directing, presented a short program, "Dona Nobis Pacem", and the "Children's Prayer" from "Hansel and Gretel".

The Columbus schols are dismissed for Thanksgiving Day and Friday. Schools re-open on Monday, Dec. 1.

Barrett Student Council To Honor Scholarship

Under the sponsorship and direction of Barrett's Student Council, a program is being started to find and recognize outstanding scholarship in the Barrett building. The Student Council plan is to select the outstanding boy and girl scholar for each grade, and give recognition through posters and other forms of school publicity.

Since scholarship is the primary objective in a schoolhouse, it is felt that success in achieving that object is deserving of recognition in the school and community. The Student Council's effort to improve and recognize scholarship and industry is equally deserving of approval.

Man Is Killed On Frank Road

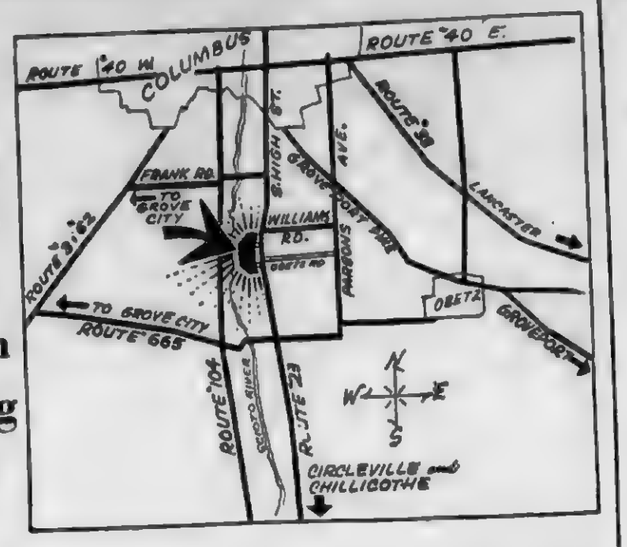
A 22-year-old service station employee was struck and killed by an automobile last Sunday as he walked on Frank-rd, about a half mile west of High-st.

Charles Richards, Jr., 490 E. Sycamore-st, had left his stalled station wagon and, according to city policemen, was walking in the west-bound traffic lane when a car driven by Delton McClelland, 37, 1860 Eastfield-dr, passed a truck and hit him. Richards was carried on the hood of the McClelland auto almost 250 feet before the car finally ground to a halt.

Richards worked at the Certified Oil Station on Mound and Front-sts.

McClelland was not held following the accident.

Schiller Classes Start Christmas 'Gift' Program



The craft classes at Schiller Recreation Center are in the midst of making Christmas presents. Many leather, copper enameled, and needlecraft articles are going to find their way to the Christmas tree. Children are working on simpler crafts, but with dad's or mom's present in mind.

There are still openings for additional people in these classes; anyone interested should call HI. 4-7262 and ask for Mrs. Gatwood.

A brand new class in needlecraft has been formed for both children and adults. The present instruction is in knitting with Mrs. Emily L. Ocker, a well-known neeedlecrafter, acting as guest instructor. This class meets on Friday evenings at 8 to 10 p.m.

Road-Killed Game Is Stuffed By Whitehall Pair As Hobby

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

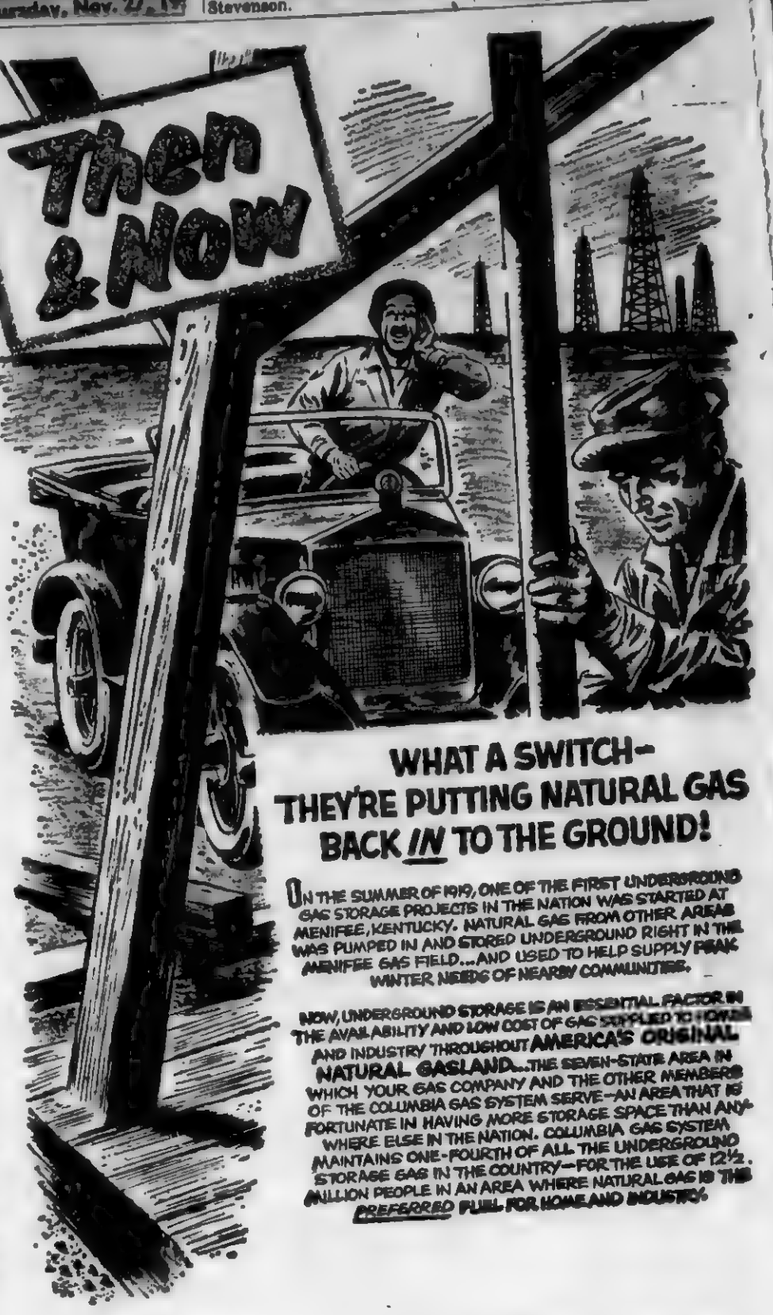
Of all the remarks that sportsmen and outdoor lovers make to me in the course of a year, none occurs more often than, "Can anything be done about wild animals killed along roads by automobiles?"

My reply is, "I doubt it, for if people won't reduce speed to avoid killing each other I don't think they would be interested in a safety campaign for rabbits, pheasants, quail and other small game."

Another factor is that some animals will run right in front of your car, especially at night. When this happens, a driver traveling at moderate speeds has little choice other than to hit the animal. He cannot risk overturning his car to try to miss a raccoon or opossum.

Still, to most of us the highway slaughter of game animals seems an incredible waste. Game managers make some use of highway kills. Ohio biologists keep track of our deer herd from the number of road kills, and from the hunter harvest. Small game has been censused from the number of road kills, but this information is not as reliable as some other counts.



Harrison and Marilyn Copas, 328 Collingswood-av, Whitehall, pondered this problem and came up with the idea that through taxidermy road-killed animals could be preserved for their own enjoyment and for the enjoyment of others. The Copas husband and wife team took a correspondence course in taxidermy, and then got a collector's permit from the Ohio Division of Wildlife to enable them to pick up road kills. They have applied for a federal permit to allow them to possess migratory birds killed on highways.

The Copases have been doing this for about two years, and have a growing collection of native Ohio wildlife in their living room. Most of the pieces are small and easy to move, and Mrs. Copas is interested in lending the collection to schools and Scout troops for study. The only requirement is that an adult be responsible for the collection, and see that none of the more delicate specimens is damaged.

Mrs. Copas has been working diligently on the animal collection recently, because a back injury prevents her from doing heavy work. She is on medical leave from North American Aviation, and the taxidermy work seems just the thing to keep her on the road to recovery. Mr. Copas is employed at National Aluminum.

So, one Columbus couple has found a partial solution to the highway kill problem. A few animals, at least, are not entirely wasted. They provide an interesting year-round hobby for the Copases, and the specimens will help teach youngsters about the outdoors and the animals that live there. One unexpected development has happened since word of this project got around the neighborhood—friends are bringing the Copases hunting and fishing trophies to be

WHAT A SWITCH— THEY'RE PUTTING NATURAL GAS BACK IN TO THE GROUND!

ON THE SUMMER OF 1919, ONE OF THE FIRST UNDERGROUND GAS STORAGE PROJECTS IN THE NATION WAS STARTED AT MENIFEE, KENTUCKY. NATURAL GAS FROM OTHER AREAS WAS PUMPED IN AND STORED UNDERGROUND RIGHT IN THE MENIFEE GAS FIELD...AND USED TO HELP SUPPLY PEAK WINTER NEEDS OF NEARBY COMMUNITIES.

NOW, UNDERGROUND STORAGE IS AN ESSENTIAL FACTOR IN THE AVAILABILITY AND LOW COST OF GAS SUPPLIED TO HOMES AND INDUSTRY THROUGHOUT AMERICA'S ORIGINAL NATURAL GASLAND...THE SEVEN-STATE AREA IN WHICH YOUR GAS COMPANY AND THE OTHER MEMBERS OF THE COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM SERVE—AN AREA THAT IS FORTUNATE IN HAVING MORE STORAGE SPACE THAN ANY-WHERE ELSE IN THE NATION. Local Lions Launch Annual Sale Of 'Roar' To Aid Club Projects

The Southeast Lions Club will roar through the streets tomorrow evening, loaded with issues of its annual newspaper, "Lions Roar," which it hopes to sell to finance the myrid of community betterment projects which the Lions conduct each year.

All of the money raised from the sale of the paper goes right back into the community to provide for school and recreation improvements, aid to the blind, and many other programs.

Twenty-five organizations, including such worthy places as Barrett Junior High, Beery Junior High, Berwick School, Boys State, Clarfield School, Deshler School, Easter Egg Hunt, Fishing Derby, Heimandale School, Lincoln Park School Little League, Marion Franklin High School, Monnett House, Reeb School, Retarded Children, Inc. Roosevelt Junior High, Siebert School Sight Conservation, Smith Road School, South High School, South Side Settlement, Stewart School, St. Leo's School and the WAFS have benefited from the sale of past issues of this paper. In a continuing program more worthy deeds will be done with the money raised this year.

Cooperation of such other units as the South High School Band in playing music to publicize the sale during the afternoon and the Columbus Federation of Musicians during the evening will help to let you know that the "Lions are prowling your street" so that you, too, may cooperate in making this year's sale a success. Many advertisers have already contributed their part by buying space in this issue and you may do your part by leaving your porch light on so that a LION may call at your door for your contribution. Over 100 volunteer helpers are also roaming the streets in the South, Southeast and Eastern sections of the city tomorrow night to make sure that everyone has a chance to get behind this drive and put it over the top. Over $75,000 has been donated and spent in the past 15 years by this club for deserving children. It is through the combined efforts of the donors, advertisers and Southeast Lions that this project continues to roll along and reap such fine benefits for the people of our community.

Everything from a Fishing Derby, in which over 1000 children participated, to Drums for South High has been accomplished this year and it will continue to reap rich rewards for you if you sow richly when that Lion roars at your door. Keep the porch light burning so the "light of giving may shine from your thoughts" and a life of giving may be continued by the Lions.

Village Mayors Call Meeting On Route Of South Outerbelt

An alarmed watchdog committee composed of Western Franklin County Mayors have summoned a special open meeting on the proposed outerbelt route Wednesday, Dec. 9, at 8 p.m. in Prairie Elementary School, Norton-rd, near New Rome.

The meeting comes just before a public hearing by the state highway department in which residents of Southeastern Franklin County will be asked to voice opinions about the proposed route of the super highway between Grove City and E Broad-st.

Hilliards Mayor Gaymon Wright, chairman of the watchdog committee, stated Tuesday that the meeting was called to allow citizens to gain an overall view of the proposed outerbelt route.

Serving along with Wright on the committee are Grove City Mayor W. Ernest Hysell and County Commissioner D. J. Kunz, formerly mayor of New Rome.

Wright pointed out that the mayors were afraid that planning for the southeast leg of the highway was not feasible until the western route was definite. He said that both legs must be considered at the same time.

Much opposition has been voiced against the northern route particularly in the regions of Hilliards and New Rome where some claim it is being built too close to Columbus. They argue that is should pass west of both villages.

Wright added that if the southeast leg was made definite, the northern route might have to follow a definite plan to make the necessary connection. He said that it might be used to squelch some of the present opposition.

Representatives of the state highway department as well as mayors of the southeastern Franklin County communities are expected to be on hand at the meeting.

Wright indicated that some sort of border planning was necessary if the outerbelt was to be constructed to the best advantage of the entire county.

Grid Fans Get Hot Tilt Tips

With the South Side Leader Football Guessing Contest winding into the home stretch, local prophets are making the job tough for the judges by continuing to name a high percentage of winners.

Mrs. C. K. Wilson 978 S. Front-st, came the closest this week by naming all but five correct winners. Following close behind her were Charles Beavers, Omar Bakery, and John Howard, 370 Markison-av.

This week's winners are eligible, in the order of their finish, to collect $10 in cash, a 14 pound hickory smoked ham from Circus Chef, 3260 S. High-st, and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

There's no more guessing to be done, but another set of winners will be announced next week. A jumbled list of games were published in last week's paper listing pro football, basketball and wrestling tilts.

Prizes which will be awarded include $10 in cash, a Minneapolis - Honeywell Electric Thermostat (value: $42.50) from Willaman Cooling and Heating Co.; and electric wall clock from Koch Hardware; and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

A plant guard at North American Aviation, Jacob T. Fritz, 693 S. Ohio-av, recently published a book of 82 original poems entitled "The Versed Is Yet to Come."

The book, printed at Stoneman Press, is a result of the extensive thinking and meditation Fritz is able to carry on while making his rounds during his night shift guard duty at NAA.

"An Ungallant Boy and an Unbuoyant Girl," "Swimmin' Women," "Butter Up the Boss" and "The Painless Dentist" are a few of the poems that have resulted from Fritz's meditations.

"There are a billion germs on the average dollar bill." — Newspaper filler. This information doesn't frighten us, as a dollar bill passes through our hands so fast a germ would break his neck if he were to jump off it.—The Bristol (Va.) Herald Courier.

MUSIC GOES DOWN AND AROUND

BIBLE COMMENTS

Old Prophets Were Realists And Idealists

The prophets of Israel were both realists and idealists. They were realists in the fact that they lived intensely in their immediate environment and in their world

They were saintly men and women, but they were not hermit saints who had withdrawn from life.

They knew the life around them. They saw clearly the evil in those who refused to recognize God's call and God's way

They perceived clearly the social injustice and oppression of the strong against the weak and of the unjust against the worthy and innocent

And they saw how the mass of evil in individual living corrupted and perverted the souls of nations

Their indictments were detailed and specific, and they did not hesitate to denounce evil. Their loyalty to their God was above their loyalty to the state or its king

It is their realism that is the marvel of the Hebrew prophecies, as it is of the Bible as a whole

But the prophets were idealists, too. Over and against the evil, they portrayed the realities of the good life, the soundness of personal righteousness and trust in God

They saw the vision of a commonwealth established in a people accepting God's choice and God's call

Their goals, though not yet attained, mark the hope toward which Christianity aims.

The Gadabout

Priscilla LaRue Lamb
HI. 4-1051

Thirty friends and relatives gathered at an open house, Nov. 23, to honor Grant C. Masters, on his 88th birthday. A family dinner preceded the open house. The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ballinger, 277 Mithoff-st, was the scene of the day's activities. Assisting Mrs. Ballinger were her sisters, Mrs. Frank Mullin, Mrs. Marvin Burkland, Mrs. S. W. Anderson and Mrs. Elmer Ross. The five women are daughters of Mr. Masters.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Guy Elbin, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Denune, Miss Lois Ballinger, Mrs. May North, Mrs. Louise Wolls, Mrs. Wesley Anderson and son Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cudworth, Frank Mullin, M. Burkland, S. V. Anderson, Miss Karen Kean. Out-of-towners were Mr. and Mrs. Forest Cornwell, Frazeysburg, O., and Glen Cornwell, Johnstown, O.

The gala affair also served to reacquaint the host and hostess with Columbus friends, as they have been in California for many years. They returned to Columbus on Sept. 26. Mr. Ballinger retired from his postal service job after 32 years of service.

December 10 birthdays are those of Jean LaRue and Evelyn Bier.

Our ailing list at this time includes these three . . . . Mrs. Howard Eberts, 286 Sheldon-av, who underwent an operation in St. Anthony's Hospital. Margaret is the wife of the well-known Jenkins and S. 4th-st druggist. The other two people are not South Siders but their morale needs a boost at this time. One is ye Gadabout's uncle. (our violinist-brother was named for him) Frank LaRue who had a malignancy operation. His hospital address is VA Hospital, Ward 4E, Room 39, University-dr, Pittsburgh 40, Pa. The other ailing one is Joan Butler, for whom it is feared there is a possibility of dystrophy or sclerosis. Her moral is dangerously low. Cards may be sent to Room 1037, University Hospital, Columbus.

School News

School news is "lean" this week, just two items in that category. Tomorrow night, Dec. 5, the Barrett Jr. High PTA is sponsoring a Christmas dance at the school. Parents and teachers will serve as chaperones. On Saturday, Dec. 6, St. Leo's PTA is sponsoring a euchre party at 8:15 p.m. in the school hall. Mrs. Jack Pope, chairman of the project, extends an invitation to the public.

Capital University thinclads open their basketball season with two home games; Dec. 4 with Gustavus Adolphus and Dec. 6 with Wilmington. On Dec. 9 they travel to the home court of Ohio Wesleyan. South High Bulldogs have their first Columbus showing at Eastmoor tomorrow night, Dec. 5. On Dec. 9 they will host fellow South Siders, Marion Franklin.

Here's a request that is quite worthy; the Schiller Park Golden Age Club is asking for old nylon hose. They will use the hose to stuff toys, which will then be donated to hospitals. For those who want to contribute, the place to take the hose is Schiller Center.

Early December Birthdays

Hospital committee of Chapter 206, Women of the Moose, each year sponsors a nurse through her training period. This year the committee has chosen Jo-Ann Milless, now training at Grant Hospital, as the nurse they will sponsor. This is just one of the many committees of Chapter 206, and all do worthwhile things with profits from their various projects. One such project is the weekly Wednesday dinner at the Moose Hall at 36 W. Sycamore-st.

The PVA of Orient will hold an election of officers at the Dec. 7 meeting, at the Orient school building. Meeting time is 2:00 p.m.

The annual Holiday Bazaar held by St. Ladislaus Parish will be held this Sunday, Dec. 7, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., at 277 Reeb-av. A chicken dinner will be held in conjunction with the Bazaar. Mrs. William Sontanich is dinner chairman, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Zubovich. Chairman of the Bazaar is Joseph Ardner.

"Gifts" Fund Growing

Four more contributors have responded to the fourth "Gifts for Giving," held for patients of Benjamin Franklin Hospital. Since we got a late start, we're frankly a little apprehensive. Let's hope it's needless worrying! The four warm-hearted folks are John Rogers and Mrs. Rogers, 393 Gates-st, Jerri Ross 748 Thurman-av, and Mrs. Elizabeth Colbin, 186 Donaldson-st. As regular readers know, we request no money, just your "white elephants" that are nice, but unused. These are given to the patients who can use them, as Christmas gifts for a member of their family. For women, the list is unlimited.

We have received and used in times past such things as jewelry, toiletries, blouses, housecoats, purses, etc. (We imagine the clothing had been received as gifts, were wrong sizes, etc.) For men, socks, ties, hankies, smoking equipment, toiletries, etc. are a few suggestions. For children, all sorts of things are also acceptable. We always leave a large supply of gifts, after our personal distribution, to be used by the social service director. She gives the surplus to the needier patients, as she knows who they are, better than we do.

In past years that were especially good, we were able to take some of the reader's donations to Franklin Village and some to Orient. So, when you are doing your Christmas cleaning, won't you gather your white elephants, so they can be used at Benjamin Franklin Hospital?

The project has the wholehearted approval of the staff at the hospital. They have told us that it boosts morale greatly among the patients. We all know how a prolonged illness can wreck family finances. It was a friend of ours who had been a patient there who made us realize how bleak it must be to be unable to share in the fun of planning to remember a loved one at Christmas. She jolted us with "you just HATE Christmas, when you know you are unable to give even one toy to your child." It was she who told us that morale reaches its lowest ebb during the holiday season.

That is why we have conducted this drive these last four years. The "Irishman" is quite obliging and will take us anywhere to pick up your contribution. You can reach us at HI. 4-1051, which is our home phone. We plan to distribute on Thursday Dec. 18, so there is just two weeks left in the drive.

HOBBY FILLS TIME—Donald Dodson, 19-year-old deaf patient, of 323 Thurman-av, spends lonely hours of recuperation at Benjamin Franklin TB Hospital in his new hobby, weaving mats.

Benjamin Franklin TB Patient May Receive New Hearing Aid

Donald Dodson, 323 Thurman-av, knows what tuberculosis is all about. His father died of TB in 1946, and he has been a patient at Benjamin Franklin Hospital ever since last March.

The 19-year-old boy was employed at an optical company when he became ill with tuberculosis. The company is holding his job open for his return.

Afflicted by deafness, Donald's cloud has had one silver lining. During his hospitalization, his hearing has been evaluated and the Social Service department, working with the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation, hopes to come up with the right kind of hearing aid for him.

Meantime, Donald makes use of sign language and is adept at lip-reading.

The days creep by slowly for Don. He is eager to return to his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown, and his two half brothers and half sister.

Christmas seals are cutting hospital stays dramatically for tuberculosis patients by paying for medical research for new drugs and treatment. Christmas seals also pay for free chest X-rays, counseling for tuberculosis patients, and health education programs. These are services provided through the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County, supported only by Christmas seals.

When Thanksgiving arrives, Donald will be one of the most thankful patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital — thankful because these days tuberculosis offers a chance for recovery . . . thankful because when he does return home again chances are he will be fitted with a hearing aid.

Barrett 'Faculty Five' To Tackle Bearcats Today

Barrett Junior High School re-opened Monday morning after the Thanksgiving holidays. There was a good attendance in spite of seasonably cold weather. Grade cards were distributed Monday afternoon. More about that next week.

Thursday, Dec. 4, Coach Kenneth Olbert's Faculty Five, consisting of J. Cameron, J. Furgason, J. C. "Shifty Jack" Drenning, A. "Affable" Haynes, C. V. "Skinny" Meacham and Charles "Chuck" Stevenson meets Coach Don McCaulsky's Barrett Bearcats—Ferd Caulke, Gerald Martin, Ray Burford, Ron Bell, Sam Wilson, Ron McDaniel and Steve Stoll in a pre-season game. Both teams are set and ready for the game.

Friday, Dec. 5, a Christmas dance will be held in the Barrett building, sponsored and managed by Barrett's PTA. The guests will be Barrett pupils only. Tickets for the dance have been on sale in the home room since Monday.

voice, and movement. The judges were Mrs. Jameson, Mrs. Dickson, Mr. Drewes, and Mr. Pittner. The girls tried out in groups of two or three and did one group-cheer and one individual cheer. They chose their own group-cheer and worked out their own movements for the cheer. However, all were given the same cheer to do as an individual.

Miss Ann Lilly is the sponsor for the cheerleaders and will coach the girls during their many hours of practice after school. The first basketball game for Beery is against Starling Junior High, Thursday, Nov. 20. The game will be at Beery Junior High.

WELCHES BAG BIG ELK

NORMAN WELCH, 1671 Central-av, Briggsdale, hit the jackpot in Wyoming this year while hunting for elk and antelope. Hunting north of Anaconda he bagged an elk that weighed 450 pounds, hog-dressed. The elk, his first, was a 10 pointer. Welch's antelope was also a big one, with horns 15 inches long. Mrs. Welch accompanied her husband on the trip, but the only shooting she did was pictures. The Welches were in Montana a little over a week.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROB COCHRAN

Is Your Boy Ready For His First Gun?

A Most Important Gift

Dear Son:

This Christmas is a very special one for me, and I am certain that it will be a memorable one for you.

There are many packages under the Christmas tree which contain pleasant surprises for you. In the "big box" isth e present about which we have talked so much and the one you wanted most. Your mother and I are pleased to give you your own gun. We are proud that you have demonstrated that you are ready to use it with skill, discretion, and a full sense of responsibility.

This gun is more than just another Christmas present. It can be your faithful companion in the wise use of leisure time for recreation pursuits. It can help you develop skills, attitudes, and appreciation for a better use of the outdoors. It can open to you a field of interest which will last for life. In each of these you will find real pleasure in your associations with other sportsmen of similar interests.

Along with the pleasure and satisfaction derived from ownership of a gun, we must assume the responsibilities. By our own attitudes and actions we must set a good example. A gun can be safe, or dangerous, depending entirely upon the person who handles it. Those of us who cherish the value of hunting and shooting must practice the rules of safe gun handling and influence our companions to do the same.

The right to own firearms and to use them for legitimate purposes is a part of our American heritage. It represents a freedom enjoyed by the citizens of only a few other nations. I am confident that you will do your part to keep alive our priceless heritage of gun ownership. I am confident also that in the years to come you will be even more convinced that a boy's own gun is a most important gift.

Lots of love, DAD

The boy who receives a letter similar to this on Christmas day is a very lucky boy indeed. He will be getting his first real gun, but more importantly he has a dad that realizes the meaning of gun ownership and the resulting responsibilities.

Every parent must eventually face the question, should we get Johnny a real gun or not? Parents sometimes ask me at what age they should get a gun for their son. Age alone is not the deciding factor, the important thing is Johnny's attitude toward firearms. Has he had proper gun safety and shooting instruction? Has he owned and shot an air gun or BB gun for a year or more, and shown it the respect it deserves? Is Johnny a level-headed boy, and past the age of extreme excitability?

BB Gun Is Good Trainer

An air gun or BB gun is an excellent "trainer" for young hunters. A good, accurate BB gun is not a toy. The Crosman people have come out with a new gun this year that will fill the bill. They call it the Hahn Super BB Repeater Rifle, and it is powered by carbon dioxide gas. It has a lever action that permits the shooter to feed, load and cock the rifle without removing the gun from his shoulder. A magnetic loading device positions and holds steel BB's and eliminates spilling, double loading, and jamming. The sights have adjustments for elevation and windage.

A gun like this has the "feel" of a real gun, and for practical purposes is a real gun. If there is some doubt in your mind as to whether Johnny is ready for a real gun this Christmas, then you'd better get him such a BB gun and spend the year getting him ready for the "big step" next Christmas.

Lions Give Band Gifts In Beery Holiday Service

The Southeast Lions Club presented five band instruments to George C. Beery Junior High School at the school's Thanksgiving assembly, Wednesday. Herbert Germaine spoke for the contingent of Lions present at the assembly, in making the gift of the five instruments, two Eb alto horns, two Bb baritones, and one BBb tuba.

The entire Thanksgiving assembly was planned and sponsored by the Lions and featured several numbers by the school band, a Thanksgiving message by Rev. Paul Kaefer of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, an introduction of the Lions present, and a demonstration of the instruments by band director, E. R. Ewell, Jr.

Michael Lower, Beery principal, thanked the Lions on behalf of the school. The contribution was made possible by the sale of the Southeast Lions Roar newspaper last year. The paper will be sold again this year, Friday, Dec. 5.

"Christmas seals furnish the entire financial support of the TB Society and its countywide program of free X-rays, medical research, counselling for TB patients, and health education," Riley said. CROWD GREETS SANTA AT CENTER

TOUGH DECISION—Anita Jean Miller of Route 2, Lockbourne, O., pauses only briefly in her recitation of her lengthy Christmas list to Santa Claus at Great Southern Shopping Center. Despite freezing weather and piercing winds, a vast crowd of parents and eager youngsters turned out Saturday noon to see Santa land in a helicopter at the center. The bewhiskered gentleman is making his headquarters in a brightly decorated storeroom near the center's "mail."

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

MARKETS FOR DECEMBER

Meals for December may "almost plan themselves" when you look at the foods in greatest abundance. Pork and poultry will be in bigger supply than other meats. In fact, turkey prices will probably not take the usual December increase.

The predictions now are that pork prices will decline gradually. Pork loins, usually the first pork cuts to show any price change, have dropped slightly. Ham prices, though, are moving upward in anticipation of Christmas buying. Swiss steaks, stewing beef, ground beef and liver are economical meat choices not listed above.

FISH at the frozen food counter offers convenience and economy in the same package. The more abundant ones are halibut, mackerel and fillet of sole and flounder. Try them served with a big fresh fruit salad.

VEGETABLES — You will be able to serve several vegetables at each meal from the wide array of good-quality items available. Favorites such as sweet potatoes, broccoli, potatoes, cabbage, onions, turnips and squash are plentiful and wearing low price tags. Added vegetable treats can be found among snap beans, tomatoes, Brussels sprouts, escarole and cucumbers.

You'll notice higher head lettuce prices this week as the result of the recent cold weather in the West. Check it carefully for quality — look for tender, fresh appearing crisp firm heads. Local greenhouse leaf and bibb lettuce are available at seasonally low prices.

FRUITS — Bright red cranberries will remain bargains during December and then gradually fade out of the picture. Supplies of grapefruit and Florida oranges are increasing, and so is their sugar content. Your best grapefruit value now is the small size or size 96. D'Anjou, a green-when-ripe pear, has replaced the Bartlett. Tangerines and tangeloes are available at early season prices. Apples remain a top flight fruit value.

MOTORISTS WONDER WHY A CHICKEN CROSSES OVER?

OLD JOKE COMES TRUE—The old joke why a chicken crosses the road to the the other side, came to life Monday at the icy intersection of Parsons and Southwood-avs. Snow was falling heavily and streets were becoming a glare of ice when word was spread through the area that a chicken was playing havoc with cautious motorists by strolling back and forth across Parsons-av. The hen seemingly appeared from nowhere and first walked along sidewalks looking at the many storekeepers and neighbors who had come out to see her. Then she nonchalantly began to walk around in the busy thoroughfare. The little stroller didn't seem to mind that motorists were having a difficult enough time controlling their cars without the added obstruction. The chicken finally roosted under a parked car to keep warm. She disappeared later and we'll never know what she was looking for on the other side of Parsons-av!

Quick Vote Finds Hoermle In Middle Of Controversey

South Side Representative Stopped In Attempt To Change First Vote

The cloud of legal smoke hanging over William P. Hoermle's legal right to sit on Columbus City Council turned a shade graver Monday night when the South Side businessman first voted, then attempted to withdraw his tie-breaking ballot on a controversial question.

Hoermle's unsuccessful attempt to withdraw his vote came after he had cast the deciding vote rejecting a proposal to enter into a pact with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. for a police and fire emergency reporting system.

Hoermle explained his faux pas Monday night to Leader reporters with the statement that "I guess I just wasn't on the ball." He said being new on the council, action went too fast and he didn't realize until later that he had voted wrong.

A motion to install a city-operated system was then tabled until Hoermle's official status is clarified by the state's high court and the meeting promptly adjourned.

Hoermle, apparently realizing that his vote wasn't needed to deadlock the issue which would have ended in a 3-3 tie, attempted to have the meeting reconvened in order to withdraw his vote. Council president Robert Smith declined to call the session to order again.

This confusion of legalities was pointed up by Milton L. Farber, defending attorney for Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner's appointment of Hoermle to council when he stated Friday that a narrow interpretation of city charter might subjugate the public welfare to "chaos in the legislative and administrative affairs of the city."

Farber brought his brief before the Ohio Supreme Court in answer to a suit filed by City Attorney Russell Leach to unseat Hoermle. Leach cited city charter provisions that "vacancies in the council shall be filled by council for the remainder of the unexpired term."

Farber's brief admits Columbus is a charter city under this amendment but that charter provisions must be "viewed in the light of common sense so that the orderly processes of government can continue."

Sensenbrenner appointed Hoermle 34 days after the death of council president, W. Wesley Llewelyn as council was deadlocked on selection of a new councilman

Hoermle based his rejection of Ohio Bell's proposal to install and operate 400 emergency boxes on city streets for $114,000 a year on the cost. He told newsmen that the utility has a similar pact with Indianapolis for 650 boxes which costs that city $90,000 a year.

Voting against the proposal with Hoermle were Councilmen Fred Shoemaker, W. Ralston Westlake and William Hicks. Councilmen Robert Smith, Robert Van Heyde and Dewey Garner favored it.

The issue has been debated before council since last February. Ironically, the late Wesley Llewelyn cast the deciding vote, 4-3, last June in favor of authorizing Safety Director Leo Phillips to negotiate a contract with Ohio Bell.

Police Chief George Scholer, Fire Chief Walter G. Strickfadden and Communications Supervisor James Harkins maintain that a city-owned system could be installed more cheaply.

FAR FROM THE "VORST"—South Sider Jacob T. Fritz glances through his first published book of verse, "The Versed is Yet To COME!" After reading the book, a person comes to the conclusion that these humorous bits of poetry are far from being the "verst."

South Sider Recalls Schiller Park Outing With Gen. LeMay

By George A. Stonerock

The recent dedication ceremonies of the new music center at Schiller Park brought back a flood of memories of the day I ate a picnic dinner with General Curtis E. LeMay at the park.

That eventful day took place during the "Roaring Twenties" shortly after World War I, and it was the annual all-day picnic of St. John's Evangelical Protestant Church.

As you've already surmised, the picnic dinner was several decades before Curt became an Air Force General. But his destiny as a leader was pre-cast even at that early date — he was Patrol Leader of the Bob White Patrol, Boy Scout Troop 34.

GEORGE A. STONEROCK

National Coverage

Nearly everyone living in the South Side attended the picnic or watched the church parade wend its way down High-st from the church on Mound-st. The colorful picnic received national recognition. Hollywood Newsreel cameramen filmed movies of the parade of marchers and scenes of activities at the park. The newsreels were flashed on the screens of movie houses across the nation.

Rev. Timothy Lehmann gave the prayers in the outdoor services. He invited everyone, members of the congregation and non-members alike, to take part in the activities. Curt LeMay and the other Boy Scouts of Troop 34, assisted with the festivities. Races were run and games were played. Pie-eating, pop-drinking, sitting on ice, burlap sack and the three-legged race, and kindred contests were held. Prizes were awarded to contestants of all ages.

Music and entertainment were furnished by paid entertainers and home talent, and free lemonade was served to all.

One interesting and well-informed speaker told about the early days and the beginning of the park. He said, "many years ago when Columbus was in its formative days, one of its leading High-st merchants, Francis Stewart, owned a picnic grove consisting of several acres of trees, bushes, wild plants, running streams of water, and cultivated farm lands. This mecca was located an hour's ride from downtown Columbus on a narrow dirt road."

Another man spoke up and said, "some of the influential men living near the park purchased vast acreages in the vicinity of the grove, and interested the City of Columbus in retaining the grove as a public park."

Someone said, "remember Tony the peanut vendor? He was a regular institution. He used to stand right over there at the Mohawk-st entrance with his cart of peanuts and popcorn, and balloons."

This prompted the first speaker to continue with, "yes, but that was after the turn-of-the-century. Many improvements had been made at the park. The bronze statue of Schiller occupies a prominent place near the Stewart-av entrance. The twin lakes had been created by enlarging existing small depressions that were fed by springs of pure water. Hills were fashioned from piles of dirt excavated from the lakes. A wooden bridge connected the two lakes. A boathouse was built beside the largest of the two lakes. Canoes and rowboats plied the peaceful waters of the lake, and boats glided under the low bridge. This maneuver was made by ducking the head low in the boat and skimming under the bridge. Swans and

Subscriber May Collect 'Cash' Prize

Eleven valuable "Confederate" money insignia, printed on ads in 11 copies of last week's South Side Leader, eluded searching eyes last week.

Value of the big jackpot emblem is $30 today. Addition of ten $1 insignia, each worth one "Confederate" dollar gives ten other subscribers a chance to collect.

Easy-to-spot insignia are always printed in brightly colored ink and placed in an open spot on an ad. They are never stamped on a picture. They are never hidden or hard to find.

Subscribers finding an emblem in their newspapers may redeem the winning copies for "Confederate" cash at South Side Leader office before noon Saturday.

Merchants advertising in the current issue will accept "Confederate" money in payment for any items in their stores.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Optimist Club Meets Tonight

Instead of the usual Thursday noon luncheon at the Fiesta Club, the Optimist Club of South Columbus will meet tonight at the Columbus Maennercher, 966 S. High-st, for a dinner-meeting beginning at 7:30. The party is open only to members and their families. Dress will be informal.

A program will follow the dinner. Reservations, which at the last report had reached a total of 32, are being handled by "Doc" Von De-Water and Fred Erfurt.

CLUB TO MEET

The Schiller Park Golden Age Club will have a pot luck and Christmas party as they celebrate their birthday on Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 11:30 a.m. for members only. There will be a gift exchange.

Contest Final Win Snared By Kerscher

E. J. Kerscher, 573 Frebis-av, walked off with top honors in the mumble-jumble wind-up of the South Side Leader Football Guessing Contest.

The winning contestant must have used all his authoritative know-how and a bit of guesswork in picking a majority of winners in football, basketball and a wrestling match.

Following on Kerscher's heels were J. M. Holbrook, 1054 Thurman-av; Boyer Buccilla, 1703 Wilson-av and Jerry Ray, 1087 Innis-av.

These winners are entitled, in the order of their finish, to collect $10 in cash, a Minneapolis-Honeywell Electric Thermostat (value: $42.50) from Willaman Cooling and Heating Co.; and electric wall clock from Kock Hardware; and a large pizza from Johnny's Pizza.

PTA Plans Christmas Program And Bazaar

Livingston Avenue School PTA will hold its next meeting Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 7:30 p.m., opening with a short business session and invocation by Mrs. Cooper.

Business will be followed by a Christmas program given by the students of the upper grades. There will also be a Christmas Bazaar featuring handmade articles and home baked goods. Mrs. John Dethloff and Mrs. Golden Gannon will be in charge.

NAA Guard Publishes Book Of Poetic Humor

By Ray Shaffer

"The Versed—Is Yet To Come!" This is the amusing title of an even funnier 82-page book containing 90 poems and published by a plant guard at North American Aviation, who resides on the South Side.

It was a Thanksgiving Day eight years ago that NAA Patrolman Jacob T. Fritz, of 693 S. Ohio-av, was first moved to express his thoughts in verse form, which resulted finally in this booklet published several weeks ago.

A resident of the South Side for seven years and NAA employe since April of 1951, the author readily admits he follows no formal style in his writing and has never studied poetry courses.

Poems or rhymes and jingles make up the contents of the book and rhyming couplets are used for the most part, although there are some quatrains.

The Humorous Side

Although upon first meeting Fritz, one would not easily detect his homespun, yet subtle, sense of humor; following lengthy conversation, however, it begins to appear and becomes more charming with every phrase. This ability to see most things in life through smile-bordered windows, is carried out through almost every poem in the book.

The unique title is followed by a sub-head reading (As You Like It)—From the Works of Jakespeare. Fritz, or "Jake" as he is known to friends, feels the title bears out the humorous mood of the book. The title is followed by this summary, "Humorous Stories of the Good and Not So Good Old Days."

Contrary to an item printed in a downtown newspaper, Fritz does not spend all his working hours as a plant guard, thinking about poetry and writing books. Writing is just a hobby with this South Sider. He finds his material by just living, looking, listening and transferring "life" to paper in a humorous vein.

"The Versed — Is Yet To Come!" is the first book Fritz has had published. He is handling the sale of his poetry collection himself until he sees how successful it's going to be. His plans for future poetry works depend largely on his first effort

Besides writing, "Jakespeare" also plays the piano and sketches, rounding out his avid interest in the arts. Fritz is married and is the father of two girls and two boys. One of his daughters has followed her father's writing interest and is editor of a plant newspaper.

Inspiration and Humor

Except for an occasional inspirational type verse, the poems are amusing and represent real life at its funniest. Rhymes like "A Boozy Snooze" —a new version of the Rip Van Winkle tale, "Butter Up the Boss," "My Date With Lula Belle," "Swimmin' Women," "Psychology," and "How Much Did He Leave" make up this collection.

A poem, bearing the book's title, opens the book as follows:

Friends and readers, far and near—
Lend your undivided ear!
In this volume we propose
To eliminate your woes.
With the turning of each page
There's a changing scene and stage.
Older days and modern days
May be seen in many ways;
Actors come and actors go
In an ever changing show.
Some are seen in comic acts,
Some are scenes of real facts.
In the verses we have versed
You may learn the very worst;
If you have an hour to spend
We will send you, to the end.
Like to see your grandma smile?
Let her borrow this awhile
Let her read from front to rear.
Works of Jakespeare, written here.
Patience please, dear reader friend,
Be our guest from end to end;
Now pull yourself together, chum—
The worst is versed, and yet to come!

Letter to Editor:

Recent School Fire Revives Memories Of 1908 Tragedy

As I opened my newspaper this evening and read the account of the awful Chicago school fire, it brought back memories of another terrible school fire I had long forgotten.

All I could remember was that our little Athens County town of Jacksonville was all worked up over a terrible fire that had snuffed out the lives of a large number of school children when I was a first grader.

I remember the school took up a donation among the pupils to help erect a memorial for those children. I went home and told my dad of the donation. He took his change purse from his pocket, told me to hold out my hands and he emptied the contents into them. To this day, I don't know how much there was, but I remember when I gave it to our teacher, who was Miss Lily Taylor, now retired and living in Washington C.H., she exclaimed over the amount and wanted to know if I was sure I wanted to give so much. I told her I did. She wanted to know if my parents knew I was giving so much and when I told her my dad had given it to me to donate, she accepted it and said no more.

Reading further, I am sure it must have been the Collinwood School which burned in Cleveland, Mar. 4, 1908, in which 176 children lost their lives.

I wonder now if that could have been the contributing factor that prompted our school board to build a new school the following year?

Our old building was a four room firetrap, housing eight grades and four high school classes. I remember there were 60 first graders alone that year. I really don't know how they did manage. Time was kind however and the old building still stands.

The new building was brick with eight rooms and a four room basement. As the years went on, this building also became over-crowded and it is now used for grades and Jacksonville and Trimble consolidated and built the present J. T. High School.

I wonder if there was ever a memorial built to those children and what it was? A new school perhaps — or just what did become of the money so unstintingly given to make the memory of those children whose lives snuffed out before they had a chance for fame?

Now eligible to wear one of the "grandmother" charm bracelets is Marge Hoptry, one of the happiest grandparents we've ever known. Little Kimberly Ann Hoptry first saw the light of day in White Cross Hospital. Her mom and dad are Norma and Bob Hoptry.

The final 1958 St. Mary's euchre party will be held Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 8:30 p.m. in the school's serving rooms. The public is invited.

Welch-av, for a casserole dinner and Christmas party. Guild 21, Livingston Methodist Church, meets at 10 a.m. today at Henderson Hall.

WSCS of Gates-Fourth Church will entertain the Women's Society from Lewis Center today for a noon luncheon at the church. Appearing on the program will be Mrs. Chester Metzler, Mrs. Raymond Kuehner, Jr., Mrs. Henry Schrader, Mrs. Gilbert Thompson and Mrs. Emerson Werner. The Mary and Martha Circles of Gates-Fourth will have a 10:30 a.m. meeting today. Guild 38, of St. Ann's Guilds, meets tonight at 8, with the hostess Mrs. Frank J. Wolz, 698 Kossuth-st. A Christmas party and gift exchange will feature the meeting.

Elizabeth and Mary Circles of Thurman-av Methodist Church will offer their "5 and 10" supper at the church Saturday, Dec. 13 at 5:30 p.m. The menu has been planned by Lucy Courtney, Gladys Humphrey, Estella Roe and Edith Krouse. Susannah Circle, of Thurman, will meet at the parsonage Tuesday, Dec. 16 at 6:30 p.m. for the annual Christmas casserole party. Mrs. E. E. Mosslander and Mrs. Orland Sells will be co-hostesses. Hannah Circle of Oakwood Methodist WSCS will meet at 7:45 p.m. Dec. 12, in the home of Mrs. L. J. Fraggiotti, 1250 Moler-rd.

Trudeau Guild 19 will have Mrs. James Fenneman as hostess in her home, 1330 Gilbert-st., Dec. 16 at 8 p.m. Cloverleaf 9 will have a 6 p.m. Christmas dinner and gift exchange on Dec. 16 in the home of Mrs. Elmer Stikle, 247 Sycamore-st.

Steve Merritt, 384 Reinhard-av, celebrates his twelfth birthday on Dec. 12. Other birthdays that are "soon-to-be's" include three on Dec. 15. Bill Kaufman, Margie Speakman and Gasper LaRue. A Dec. 12 adult birthday is that of Georgia Cook.

The Home-making Committee of Chapter 206 Women of the Moose will be in charge of the Wednesday, Dec. 17 dinner. Chairman Elizabeth Seemueller and her committee will serve beans and ham, tossed salad, cornbread, fruit cocktail and coffee. Serving time is 5 to 7 p.m. Proceeds from the dinner will be used to purchase dolls for the children at Mooseheart.

Holiday Birthdays

Birthdays that precede Christmas only slightly are these: Ricky Melrose, 314 Morrill, Dec. 13; Paul Metzger, 259 Jenkins, Dec. 17; Mary Workman, 1284 S. 4th-st, Dec. 11; Charles McNulty, 29 E. Jenkins, Dec. 15; Nora Runyon, 115½ E. Moler-st, Dec. 11; Harold Coverdale, 80 Hanford-st, Dec. 9; Warren Parks, 227 E. Jenkins, Dec. 17; Deborah Lambert, 80 E. Woodrow, Dec. 10; Harlan Wilson, 439 Hanford-st, Dec. 16; Deborah Ratliff, 35 E. Morrill, Dec. 13; Diana Summers, 1735 S. High-st, Dec. 14; Robert Sensor, 1207 S. High-st, Dec 14; Gloria Keefer, 195 E. Morrill, Dec. 11; Leslee Furbee, 1522 S. High-st, Dec. 15 and Mary Krum, 195 E. Moler-st, Dec. 12.

South's basketball team tangles with North's Polar Bears tomorrow night, at North. On Dec. 16 they'll try to be ungracious hosts to Linden's team. Cap's basketballers — love that team! — will travel to Muskingum's home court on Dec. 13, then on Dec. 16 will clash with Wooster. Ye old Gadabout expects to die from heart failure at one of Cap's games, they're so exciting. No-one should even THINK that we're prejudiced tho, just because player "50" is our son! (Much!)

Our sympathy to the family of Hollis Russell who passed away last Saturday. We hope 1959 will bring nothing but good fortune for all members of the Russell clan, for 1958 certainly hasn't!

Two birthdays in the week's notes are those of little Thomas Michael Beard, 1433 S. 3rd-st, who is now a year old, as of Dec. 8. Popular South High senior Betty Sue Edwards, 692 Thurman-av, will add a year on Dec. 16.

"Jolly Joes"

Here's a "different" slant that we heard about . . . the Jolly Joe Club . . . it seems they make an effort to send cheering cards to everyone they hear about who is ill or in need of cheering-up, friends and strangers both. We think it's a grand idea, don't you? We heard about it when talking to one of this week's donors for Gifts for Giving. The lady was Mrs. Frohnhoefer, of 726 Thurman-av.

We'd like to report on one of the ailing ones reported in last week's column, Joan Butler, Room 1037 in University Hospital. She has a very rare disease and the treatment will be a long one. She's grieving, because it looks like she'll still be hospitalized at Christmas, and there's two youngsters at home.

Gifts for Giving has picked up in tempo, we report thankfully. Two previous donors are again listed, Lillian Ryan and Glenna Edwards, with these new ones: Marie Long, Rose Komives, Mrs. E. Morrison, Mrs. "Pete" Miller, Alice Colegrove, Mary Leist, Mrs. Frohnhoefer and Lana Itskin. A thought came to us that even plants etc., would be a cheery thing to give. (Perhaps some of the greener-thumbed folks who succeed in raising more plants than they know what to do with, could use them in this fashion.) We still are short in men's items, per usual. Should you care to assist with the project, by donating "white elephants," the HI. 4-1051 number is the one to call to contact us.

A MIRACLE IS EASY AS PIE TO ME!

"I can work a miracle any time I like—with electricity: A twist of a dial bakes a pie perfectly. But the biggest miracle of all is how little electricity costs. And the work it saves to give me more time for my family!"

The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company has spent 85 million dollars in new equipment and better service in the past three years. Approximately another 45 million dollars has been set aside for continued improvements in the next three years. These huge investments in equipment and services make miracles possible by helping you to live better electrically.

Food Markets This Week

Fruits — grapefruit, tangerines, apples, Emperor grapes, cranberries.

Vegetables—new cabbage, potatoes, greenhouse tomatoes, celery, turnips.

Other Foods—pork loin roasts, pork shoulder cuts, poultry, ground beef.

CONVENIENCE CAN BE CHEAPER

Do you ever wonder how you come out "costwise" when you bake a cake from a mix? Let's take a look at the results of a study on chocolate cakes made at Cornell University.

Quality Comparison — Cakes made from commercial mixes held their own when matched with cakes made from standard recipes. A panel of judges found little if any difference between what they considered the best "mix" cake and the best "recipe" cake. As for keeping qualities, the judges decided the recipe cakes rated a little higher. But we usually bake our cakes to eat—not to keep. And there are small size cakes for small size families.

Cost Comparison—Mix cakes had a slight advantage in cost. They were about half a cent less per serving than from "scratch" cakes—even when eggs or milk were added. Ingredients for the recipe cake cost 42 cents; the mix calling for added eggs and water, 39 cents; and the mix with added milk, 41 cents.

Put a dollar value on the homemaker's time. At a figure of $1 per hour, labor cost for making cake by the conventional mixing method was 63 cents; by the "one-bowl" or "dump" method, 58 cents; but for the cakes from the mixes it was only 33 cents.

Clean-up time for "scratch" cakes was longest. Over twice as many utensils were required to make recipe cakes as mix cakes. Naturally there was more time involved in the cleaning up process.

HAVE YOU DECIDED?

Tests may help homemakers to decide which they want — recipe cakes or mixes. If you achieve satisfaction from creating your own high quality cakes you may prefer recipe cakes. If you are especially interested in time or money costs, or not skilled in cake making—you may have difficulty making high quality "scratch" cakes and may prefer to use mixes. Regardless, you never need to apologize for using a cake mix. Tests such as these help all of us to make decisions in the foods we buy.

NEW ITEM ON MARKET

For homemakers in a hurry, frozen cranberry relish is available in most food markets. Cranberries are in good supply, both fresh and processed. About 60 per cent of the cranberry crop is processed each year.

Got Any Big Bucks In Your Backyard?

With the gun season on deer opening this week, Dec. 10, attention of the outdoor fraternity has turned to deer hunting.

In some states deer hunting is THE season and everything else stops on opening day. Here in Ohio hunting deer is not a traditional sport, perhaps because we were without a season for half a century. But there will be plenty of enthusiasts out this week looking for a big white-tail buck.

The startling fact about Ohio deer hunting is the very large number of trophy heads brought in by our hunters. And area hunters have been getting their share of these monstrous racks.

Here are three that will be honored this year by membership in the Buckeye Big Bucks Club: Paul L. Lehman, 606 Riverview-dr; Clarence Yost, 2651 Fishinger-rd, and Don Wood, 1423 S. James-rd. These marksmen are being honored because their trophy heads hank high in the record books. The heads compare favorably with deer taken all over the American continent as far back as records go.

There are 30 Ohio hunters whose trophy deer heads will be recognized by a certificate of merit at the Outdoors Writers of Ohio convention at the Ft. Hayes Hotel, Feb. 14. These huge racks were not all taken last year, but they have been turned up and measured since the Buckeye Big Bucks Club was organized by the Division of Wildlife about a year ago.

This recognition will put the spotlight on Ohio as the number one state for trophy deer heads. No other state with an annual hunter harvest of about 5,000 animals ranks so high in the record book. In fact, Ohio seems to be the top state at last report.

It is difficult to believe that a highly agricultural and industrial state would receive such national prominence in trophy deer. You would perhaps think of Michigan, Pennsylvania or New England—areas of high deer kill—as the record breakers. This, however, is not the case.

Much of the credit for recognizing Ohio as a trophy state goes to taxidermist Max Shipley, 705 S. Ogden-av, and Merrill C. Gilfillan, a writer with the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. Shipley, a trophy hunter himself, recognized that the average deer antlers were larger than antlers coming to him from other areas. He stimulated a lot of interest locally in finding these record heads. Gilfillan carried the project statewide, and sparked the forming of the Buckeye Big Bucks Club.

It is not definitely known if there is some element in Ohio's soils that causes big antlers to grow, or if an almost unlimited supply of farm crops, corn, wheat, alfalfa, etc., spur the deer to outdo themselves in the rack department. Whatever the reason, Ohio has more than its share of trophy heads. If you want one of these racks mounted on your wall, you had better hunt Ohio first. Look in your own backyard for that big buck.

Toledo's nationally-known zoo, one of the most complete in the nation, has 385 species and over 4,000 specimens of mammals, birds, reptiles and fish.

ducks inhabited the lakes and built nests on the island in the middle of the big lake."

Wooden Bandstands

He motioned to several spots here and there in the park. "several circular, wooden bandstands were located at different spots throughout the park. The musicians sat in a circle facing their conductor. This arrangement blended the music and it was heard equally well in all directions."

They mentioned the family reunions and civic picnics, the magic lantern, the puppet shows and the lectures given in the shelter house; the church league basketball games; the noisy Summit and Steelton street cars skirting the park on two sides. They talked about the weather . . . fishing and wading in the lakes, baseball, and foot races in the summer . . . ice skating, and sledding on the hills in winter.

Darkness descended on the assemblage, and each member of the congregation received a box of assorted chocolates as they departed for home.

General Curtis E. LeMay, Assistant Chief of Staff of the Air Force, would indeed be surprised at the change in the park from that far day when we picnicked together in the happy days of childhood.

For, during the intervening years, the park has changed greatly, and today, looking back to just a little over a decade ago, one can remember the large Roll of Honor with the names of South Side youths who served in World War II. It dwarfed the Third-st entrance This memorial was removed at the end of the war.

An ornate modernistic, stone drinking fountain has been erected in the park. The inscription on the bronze plaque reads, "Raymond E. L. Krumm. 1873-1948. . This fountain presented to the boys and girls of the South Side by Ray Krumm who often stopped for a cool drink of well water from the old pump that stood near this site."

The recreational facilities have been improved with many additions, and blacktop now covers the area. The lake shore has been cemented, providing fishing areas, and the shelter house has been enlarged and is in year-round use.

The summer series of band concerts, once shunted from one temporary spot to another spot, now have a permanent home in the new stone structure which overlooks the lake.

Hippler Returns With Many Tales Of Morocco's 'Intrigue'

By Ray Shaffer

During the holidays we Americans often "slow down" long enough to give thanks for one of our greatest gifts — the land in which we live.

A recent interview with a South Sider here on furlough following an 18-month Navy tour of duty in Morocco, brought forth some remarks that should make us appreciate our heritage just a little more

Robert J. Hippler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hippler, of 682 E. Mithoff-st, left for Port Lyautey, Morocco, Africa, Easter of 1957. The first thing he learned was to call the country by its right name. Although often called "French Morocco" in error, the country is now independent and is properly called just Morocco.

Brimming with African tales when he returned recently, Bob's first comments however, touched on two local items, the terribly cold weather here, and the lovely new air terminal at Port Columbus, which his friends failed to mention in letters.

Old Superstitions

Hippler explained that Moroccans are divided into three very distinct classes or castes, upper, middle and lower. The lower classes are extremely backward and cling to old-style dress and custom and many old superstitions.

"A man never uses two of the same type of animal in plowing a field," said Bob. Older Moroccans feel that if two horses or two donkeys are allowed to work together, they will conspire to kill their master. Therefore, a horse and a donkey are usually used together in plowing, with the belief they can't "converse" with each other!

Hippler added "many Moroccans worship the 'hand' to an extent, believing it will stay evil spirits. They also feel blue eyes are evil. They do not drink heavily due to their religious beliefs but in many other ways they are extremely unsanitary. This is due partly to poor education and partly to the fact that they do not accept new or 'unusual' teachings easily."

Bob said television is not available in Morocco although washing machines, radios and other modern appliances are on

Jackpot This Week Is Valued At 35 $$$$

Expense of financing Santa's yearly visit adds a burden to nearly everyone's budget. A sure cure to the worry of matching gift lists with cash on hand is an unexpected windfall of extra money.

One copy of today's issue offers some subscriber just such an opportunity. Valuable jackpot insignia, stamped on an ad in one of today's newspapers is valued at $35 in "Confederate" currency.

Ten other copies contain $1 insignia, each worth one "Confederate" bill.

City Backs South Leg Of Highway

The City of Columbus endorsed the route of the proposed south leg of the Columbus outerbelt with recommendations for minor changes at a hearing conducted last Monday morning at City Hall.

City Planning Director Jack Bachtel recommended that the section east of Big Walnut Creek between E. Main and E. Broad-sts be realigned several hundred feet further east, thereby protecting a high cost residential area which has been zoned as ar acre subdivision. This area is in the vicinity of Noe-Bixby-rd.

He also voiced the opinion that approaches to the belt should be of the directional variety, instead of the conventional cloverleaf, to expedite the entrance and exit of high speed traffic to and from the road.

Add Interchange

Also recommended was an additional interchange at Lockbourne-rd which would give military personnel stationed at the air base easier access to the belt.

Hilliards Mayor Gaymon Wright, and Ed Quinn, representing the New Rome Businessmen's Association, protested the western terminus of the road on the grounds that it would necessarily "fix" the route of the northern leg which would ultimately result in erecting a wall between the western county villages and the city. Quinn also had earlier stated that the terminus should be located west of New Rome to more effectively handle the high speed traffic on Rt. 40, bound for Columbus. He said, "by the time that east bound traffic reaches the outerbelt approach, it will have been slowed down to a crawl because of having to reduce speed upon entering New Rome."

Top Rank In Religion Goes To South Senior

Priscilla Dicke

A 16-year-old South High School senior brought honor to the South Side as well as to herself Sunday when she was awarded the Torchbearers Rank in religion.

Priscilla Dicke, daughter of Mrs. Priscilla "Gadabout" Lenox, of 1411 S. Sixth-st, won the coveted award, which is the highest honor given in the Camp Fire Girls organization. It was the first Torchbearer award ever presented to a girl in the South East District, and only the fourth ever given in this area of Franklin County.

Robert Ross, of International Christian Endeavor, was Priscilla's sponsor and made the award at Council Fire, held Sunday at South Methodist Church.

The South High senior is a member of Philo Club and plays viola in South's orchestra. Priscilla is also a member of Southwood Church of Christ where she sings in the choir, is secretary of Christian Endeavor, helps with the Hobby Club, and assists in Sunday School.

Council Okay Given To City Phone Units

City Council Monday night authorised the Communications Division to install a 400-unit telephone emergency street reporting system for police and fire purposes.

Council last Monday night rejected a proposal by Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to install a similar system and lease it to the city at an annual cost of $114,000.

Councilman William Hoermle, South Side businessman, who erred in voting to table the proposal last week, introduced it again Monday.

The system, approved by a 4 to 2 vote Monday with Councilman Robert L. Van Heyde abstaining from the vote, will replace the present telegraph alarm boxes used for reporting fires. Communications Chief James Harkings reports the system will be completed in about five years.

Board Approves Measures To Ease Crowded Schools

By Betty Daft

Columbus School Board took a giant step forward Tuesday, in the continuing race of school expansion against increasing enrollments.

The board, in an unusual move, resorted to rental of six homes to house overflow at Clarfield School, and approved a proposal to purchase a new school site.

A revised scale of tuitions for students living outside the city was also adopted and new music books for seventh and eighth grades accepted.

Clarfield Overtaxed

New homes and resulting increased population in the Southfield Addition, Watkins-rd at Groveport-rd, has overtaxed Clarfield Elementary, 3220 Groveport-rd. Since there are no suitable facilities available in the area, the board will rent six houses from the Southfield Co. adjacent to the school site.

Every effort will be made to make the houses safe and healthful for children and satisfactory from an instructional viewpoint.

Each house will contain one class. Most inside partitions will be omitted, rooms will have concrete floors, lighting and insulation will be installed to meet school standards and doors will be properly hung to open outward.

Rental at $70 a month for each house, will be from Jan. 1 through June and, if necessary, be extended into the next school year.

School Site Approved

Approval of the proposed purchase of a new school site is the first step towards relieving Clarfield School as well as Scioto Trail.

Ten acres of vacant land, location of the proposed new elementary is located at the eastern end of Stockbridge-rd in an area bounded by Parsons-av, Lockbourne-rd, Williams-rd and Corr-rd.

Purchase will be made from Elsa L. Smith for $11,500.

Administrative staff of the board is now investigating the possibility of erecting the building in time for September enrollment.

New Tuitions Set

A new scale of tuitions for students living outside Columbus attending city schools, has been computed by the clerk-treasurer and accepted by the board.

New tuitions, on a monthly basis are, kindergarten, $9.65; grades one through six, $19.29; seven through nine, $30.30; ten through 12, $34.51; Central Occupational, $34.51 and Third Street School For Girls, $34.51.

New music textbooks for grades seven and eight were adopted by the board under a state law that provides all textbooks should be re-evaluated every four years.

'REMINDER WEEK' UNDERWAY

HIGH HOPES—Kathleen Negewick, of 751 City Park, will purr like the smug Christmas Seal kitten she holds if the present observance of Christmas Seal sale "reminder week" brings in needed contributions toward the Tuberculosis Society's Christmas time goal of $200,000.

Church Plans Live Nativity

A "live Nativity Scene" will be presented by First Methodist Church, Bryden-rd and S. 18th-st. Sunday, Dec. 21, through Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, 7 to 9 p.m.

The Nativity scene, located in front of the church, will include a burro, lamb and four people in a still pose representing the Christmas characters. Christmas carols will be played each evening

Persons taking part will work in shifts because of the extreme cold weather predicted. They will pose for a 15 minute period and then leave the scene. During these breaks, the lights and music will be shut off. Within five minutes, however, a new shift will take their places in the Nativity scene.

This has become an annual event for First Methodist Church and the pastor and participants in the Nativity program invite everyone to stop and see the inspiring Christmas scene.

Chicken Going To Pot!

The chicken whose photo appeared last week on the Leader's front page, is now well on its way to being the "honored guest" at some needy family's Christmas dinner.

The unclaimed hen, who had been walking around the Parsons-Southwood-av area, returned to the vicinity and was captured. The chicken was given to Ervin J Koch, owner of Koch's Confectionery, 1536 Parsons-av, who is presenting it to a needy family residing in Lincoln Park housing project.

Holiday Editions To Come Early

Subscribers to the South Side Leader will receive their next two papers on Wednesday instead of the usual Thursday delivery date. The time of delivery was changed to allow readers to receive news of the holiday events before Christmas and New Years.

Deadlines have also been advanced for both editions. All news items must be received in the Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av by noon Monday.

Classified ads may be placed until 11 a. m. Monday. Deadline for display advertising is 9 a. m. Saturday.

It's Time To Bring A Halt To Round-the-Clock Selling

AN EDITORIAL

We join with those people of the entire city and county who believe it is time for business people to give serious thought to the matter of the hours during which they keep their business places open.

The mayors of Columbus, Whitehall and any others should generally be encouraged in their stand to crack down on violators of the Sunday closing law.

By every stretch of the imagination it appears that any family can make its purchases in a six-day period. There are few instances of any hardship that might be felt just because retail establishments are not open on Sunday.

Our trouble seems to stem from the fact that in today's highly competitive business world certain business people put the pursuit of the dollar above all other values. For the most part these are not small business people. They are larger firms that base their whole profit operation on volume and the philosophy of "get the dollar around the clock."

This has resulted in forcing many smaller business firms into the same methods in an effort to keep alive.

The greatness of the American retail system came about while retail establishments were open for business six days a week. If a different Sabbath is to be observed by a businessman it appears he is justified in remaining open on Sunday. This does not however provide any excuse for him to operate his store on a seven-day basis or as is frequently done, opening for a portion of his holy day in an effort to take in a few more dollars.

Extended business hours by retailers does not conform to the reduction of the work week demanded by labor.

Employers who require their employes to work on Sunday are unfair to such employees and certainly are not contributing to the welfare of family togetherness so badly needed today in our society.

A seven-day business week can lead to the destruction of small businesses and add to the rapid elimination of the incentive plan that has made our country so strong. It is but another step in strengthening the socialistic program we are already so deeply involved in today.

It is obvious that certain necessity items such as food, drugs or gas should be available in a limited number of instances. This should not provide a license for general merchandising on Sunday. Such businesses certainly can cooperate in working out a satisfactory distribution system.

The public can and should add its support to any movement that will cause business people to return to their senses and give the proper value to the observance of Sunday.

If the Sunday closing law of the State of Ohio is no longer of value this is a matter for the legislature to consider.

If you as an individual agree with this stand you will aid the cause if you will voice this feeling to business firms that stay open on Sunday and then practice what you preach by withholding your patronage both on Sunday and every other day of the week.

Hippler Returns With Many Tales Of Morocco's 'Intrigue'

By Ray Shaffer

During the holidays we Americans often "slow down" long enough to give thanks for one of our greatest gifts — the land in which we live.

A recent interview with a South Sider here on furlough following an 18-month Navy tour of duty in Morocco, brought forth some remarks that should make us appreciate our heritage just a little more

Robert J. Hippler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hippler, of 682 E. Mithoff-st, left for Port Lyautey, Morocco, Africa, Easter of 1957. The first thing he learned was to call the country by its right name. Although often called "French Morocco" in error, the country is now independent and is properly called just Morocco.

Brimming with African tales when he returned recently, Bob's first comments however, touched on two local items, the terribly cold weather here, and the lovely new air terminal at Port Columbus, which his friends failed to mention in letters.

Old Superstitions

Hippler explained that Moroccans are divided into three very distinct classes or castes, upper, middle and lower. The lower classes are extremely backward and cling to old-style dress and custom and many old superstitions.

"A man never uses two of the same type of animal in plowing a field," said Bob. Older Moroccans feel that if two horses or two donkeys are allowed to work together, they will conspire to kill their master. Therefore, a horse and a donkey are usually used together in plowing, with the belief they can't "converse" with each other!

Hippler added "many Moroccans worship the 'hand' to an extent, believing it will stay evil spirits. They also feel blue eyes are evil. They do not drink heavily due to their religious beliefs but in many other ways they are extremely unsanitary. This is due partly to poor education and partly to the fact that they do not accept new or 'unusual' teachings easily."

Bob said television is not available in Morocco although washing machines, radios and other modern appliances are on

LAST LOOK—Before boarding a plane for home, Robert "Bob" Hippler pauses to take a last look at Morocco, where he completed 18 months of active Navy duty.

Jackpot This Week Is Valued At 35 $$$$

Expense of financing Santa's yearly visit adds a burden to nearly everyone's budget. A sure cure to the worry of matching gift lists with cash on hand is an unexpected windfall of extra money.

Lucky newspapers may be redeemed at South Side Leader office, before 5 p. m. Friday.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" currency.

City Backs South Leg Of Highway

The City of Columbus endorsed the route of the proposed south leg of the Columbus outerbelt with recommendations for minor changes at a hearing conducted last Monday morning at City Hall.

City Planning Director Jack Bachtel recommended that the section east of Big Walnut Creek between E. Main and E. Broad-sts be realigned several hundred feet further east, thereby protecting a high cost residential area which has been zoned as ar acre subdivision. This area is in the vicinity of Noe-Bixby-rd.

He also voiced the opinion that approaches to the belt should be of the directional variety, instead of the conventional cloverleaf, to expedite the entrance and exit of high speed traffic to and from the road.

Add Interchange

Also recommended was an additional interchange at Lockbourne-rd which would give military personnel stationed at the air base easier access to the belt.

Hilliards Mayor Gaymon Wright, and Ed Quinn, representing the New Rome Businessmen's Association, protested the western terminus of the road on the grounds that it would necessarily "fix" the route of the northern leg which would ultimately result in erecting a wall between the western county villages and the city. Quinn also had earlier stated that the terminus should be located west of New Rome to more effectively handle the high speed traffic on Rt. 40, bound for Columbus. He said, "by the time that east bound traffic reaches the outerbelt approach, it will have been slowed down to a crawl because of having to reduce speed upon entering New Rome."

Top Rank In Religion Goes To South Senior

Priscilla Dicke

A 16-year-old South High School senior brought honor to the South Side as well as to herself Sunday when she was awarded the Torchbearers Rank in religion.

Priscilla Dicke, daughter of Mrs. Priscilla "Gadabout" Lenox, of 1411 S. Sixth-st, won the coveted award, which is the highest honor given in the Camp Fire Girls organization. It was the first Torchbearer award ever presented to a girl in the South East District, and only the fourth ever given in this area of Franklin County.

Robert Moss, of International Christian Endeavor, was Priscilla's sponsor and made the award at Council Fire, held Sunday at South Methodist Church.

The South High senior is a member of Philo Club and plays viola in South's orchestra. Priscilla is also a member of Southwood Church of Christ where she sings in the choir, is secretary of Christian Endeavor, helps with the Hobby Club, and assists in Sunday School.

Council Okay Given To City Phone Units

City Council Monday night authorized the Communications Division to install a 400-unit telephone emergency street reporting system for police and fire purposes.

Council last Monday night rejected a proposal by Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to install a similar system and lease it to the city at an annual cost of $114,000.

Councilman William Hoermle, South Side businessman, who erred in voting to table the proposal last week, introduced it again Monday.

The system, approved by a 4 to 2 vote Monday with Councilman Robert L. Van Heyde abstaining from the vote, will replace the present telegraph alarm boxes used for reporting fires. Communications Chief James Harkings reports the system will be completed in about five years.

Board Approves Measures To Ease Crowded Schools

By Betty Daft

Columbus School Board took a giant step forward Tuesday, in the continuing race of school expansion against increasing enrollments.

The board, in an unusual move, resorted to rental of six homes to house overflow at Clarfield School, and approved a proposal to purchase a new school site.

A revised scale of tuitions for students living outside the city was also adopted and new music books for seventh and eighth grades accepted.

Clarfield Overtaxed

New homes and resulting increased population in the Southfield Addition, Watkins-rd at Groveport-rd, has overtaxed Clarfield Elementary, 3220 Groveport-rd. Since there are no suitable facilities available in the area, the board will rent six houses from the Southfield Co. adjacent to the school site.

Every effort will be made to make the houses safe and healthful for children and satisfactory from an instructional viewpoint.

Each house will contain one class. Most inside partitions will be omitted, rooms will have concrete floors, lighting and insulation will be installed to meet school standards and doors will be properly hung to open outward.

Rental at $70 a month for each house, will be from Jan. 1 through June and, if necessary, be extended into the next school year.

School Site Approved

Approval of the proposed purchase of a new school site is the first step towards relieving Clarfield School as well as Scioto Trail.

Ten acres of vacant land, location of the proposed new elementary is located at the eastern end of Stockbridge-rd in an area bounded by Parsons-av, Lockbourne-rd, Williams-rd and Corr-rd.

Purchase will be made from Elsa L. Smith for $11,500.

Administrative staff of the board is now investigating the possibility of erecting the building in time for September enrollment.

New Tuitions Set

A new scale of tuitions for students living outside Columbus attending city schools, has been computed by the clerk-treasurer and accepted by the board.

New tuitions, on a monthly basis are, kindergarten, $9.65; grades one through six, $19.29; seven through nine, $30.30; ten through 12, $34.51; Central Occupational, $34.51 and Third Street School For Girls, $34.51.

New music textbooks for grades seven and eight were adopted by the board under a state law that provides all textbooks should be re-evaluated every four years.

'REMINDER WEEK' UNDERWAY

HIGH HOPES—Kathleen Negawick, of 751 City Park, will purr like the smug Christmas Seal kitten she holds if the present observance of Christmas Seal sale "reminder week" brings in needed contributions toward the Tuberculosis Society's Christmas time goal of $200,000.

Church Plans Live Nativity

A "live Nativity Scene" will be presented by First Methodist Church, Bryden-rd and S. 18th-st, Sunday, Dec. 21, through Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, 7 to 9 p.m.

The Nativity scene, located in front of the church, will include a burro, lamb and four people in a still pose representing the Christmas characters. Christmas carols will be played each evening

Persons taking part will work in shifts because of the extreme cold weather predicted. They will pose for a 15 minute period and then leave the scene. During these breaks, the lights and music will be shut off. Within five minutes, however, a new shift will take their places in the Nativity scene.

This has become an annual event for First Methodist Church and the pastor and participants in the Nativity program invite everyone to stop and see the inspiring Christmas scene.

Chicken Going To Pot!

The chicken whose photo appeared last week on the Leader's front page, is now well on its way to being the "honored guest" at some needy family's Christmas dinner.

The unclaimed hen, who had been walking around the Parsons-Southwood-av area, returned to the vicinity and was captured. The chicken was given to Ervin J. Koch, owner of Koch's Confectionery, 1536 Parsons-av, who is presenting it to a needy family residing in Lincoln Park housing project.

Holiday Editions To Come Early

Subscribers to the South Side Leader will receive their next two papers on Wednesday instead of the usual Thursday delivery date. The time of delivery was changed to allow readers to receive news of the boliday events before Christmas and New Years.

Deadlines have also been advanced for both editions. All news items must be received in the Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av by noon Monday.

Classified ads may be placed until 11 a. m. Monday. Deadline for display advertising is 9 a. m. Saturday.

It's Time To Bring A Halt To Round-the-Clock Selling

AN EDITORIAL

We join with those people of the entire city and county who believe it is time for business people to give serious thought to the matter of the hours during which they keep their business places open.

The mayors of Columbus, Whitehall and any others should generally be encouraged in their stand to crack down on violators of the Sunday closing law.

By every stretch of the imagination it appears that any family can make its purchases in a six-day period. There are few instances of any hardship that might be felt just because retail establishments are not open on Sunday.

Our trouble seems to stem from the fact that in today's highly competitive business world certain business people put the pursuit of the dollar above all other values. For the most part these are not small business people. They are larger firms that base their whole profit operation on volume and the philosophy of "get the dollar around the clock."

This has resulted in forcing many smaller business firms into the same methods in an effort to keep alive.

The greatness of the American retail system came about while retail establishments were open for business six days a week. If a different Sabbath is to be observed by a businessman it appears he is justified in remaining open on Sunday. This does not however provide any excuse for him to operate his store on a seven-day basis or as is frequently done, opening for a portion of his holy day in an effort to take in a few more dollars.

Extended business hours by retailers does not conform to the reduction of the work week demanded by labor.

Employers who require their employes to work on Sunday are unfair to such employees and certainly are not contributing to the welfare of family togetherness so badly needed today in our society.

A seven-day business week can lead to the destruction of small businesses and add to the rapid elimination of the incentive plan that has made our country so strong. It is but another step in strengthening the socialistic program we are already so deeply involved in today.

It is obvious that certain necessity items such as food, drugs or gas should be available in a limited number of instances. This should not provide a license for general merchandising on Sunday. Such businesses certainly can cooperate in working out a satisfactory distribution system.

The public can and should add its support to any movement that will cause business people to return to their senses and give the proper value to the observance of Sunday.

If the Sunday closing law of the State of Ohio is no longer of value this is a matter for the legislature to consider.

If you as an individual agree with this stand you will aid the cause if you will voice this feeling to business firms that stay open on Sunday and then practice what you preach by withholding your patronage both on Sunday and every other day of the week.

CHRISTMAS SEALS STILL DO JOBS

Remember when you stayed after school to clean the blackboards for the teacher?

The blackboard faces us in every class from kindergarten through college.

It's an ideal motif for the 1958 Christmas seal sale, whose income completely finances 3,000 tuberculosis associations, for knowledge is basic to the TB control program.

The new dual seal features a little snowsuited boy in green chalking up—in childish printing—the word "Christmas". On the right a little girl in red completes the message with the word "Greetings".

But the lopsided greeting is far more than a decoration for holiday cards and letters. Throughout the nation Christmas seals are saving precious irreplaceable months—and years—of life for TB patients. Christmas seals pay for medical research in tuberculosis, educational programs, guidance on patient problems that pills cannot reach, and TB tests and free chest X-rays for everyone.

Last year the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County gave free X-rays to 75,000 . . . found 3,000 chest ailments—tumors, heart trouble, and other problems, as well as TB.

Despite the tremendous progress made since that first Christmas seal sale in 1907, TB still strikes every six minutes . . . takes one life every 40 minutes. It is a personal problem for two million Americans. It costs our country $725,000,000 each year. And its toll in broken hearts, broken homes, and lost years cannot be figured.

The sight of this year's Christmas seal children working happily at a blackboard reminds us of their right to grow up strong and healthy.

Postal Hours Are Geared For Big Rush

Postmaster Allen M. Rowe advises that all post office windows are open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m., through Dec. 24, with one exception.

On Sunday, Dec. 21, only the main office and the parcel post station, 50 E. Spring-st., will be open from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. for the sale of stamps and the acceptance of parcel post.

He suggests that many parcels and greeting cards mailed on and after Dec. 20 must be dispatched by air or special delivery if they are to be delivered by Christmas. "Ask the window clerk for the type of special service most desirable," Postmaster Rowe added.

Early mailing throughout the morning and before 3 p.m. will speed delivery of your mail, he said.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

PLENTIFUL HOLIDAY FOODS — Turkey, chicken, ham, eggs, citrus fruits, apples, cranberries, Emperor grapes, frozen strawberries, celery, greenhouse tomatoes, sweet potatoes, walnuts, pecans, dates.

Things are pretty much focused on the holidays at food markets, like everywhere else, and it makes the trips exiciting. Trees are lined up everywhere and you may still have whatever variety you choose. Mistletoe and holly are more plentiful this year than last and of better quality—buy them early, for dealers stock cautiously on such perishable items and they are usually sold out several days before Christmas.

There's beauty in grapes and you'll enjoy the pretty bunches when they are arranged with fresh fruits. You'll appreciate pomegranates, avacados, winter pears, kumquats and persimmons for this purpose, too. Of course, these need not be limited to decorations, they are all delicious to eat.

Holiday Gifts of Food—Most homemakers (dads included) will make several trips to purchase groceries between now and Christmas.

Each food store visit offers an opportunity for leisurely selecting Christmas gifts without the effort involved in making special shopping trips to other gift centers. You'll find literally hundreds of items that will make welcome gifts for friends, relatives, business associates, the needy, and the person who "has everything".

Many stores offer assortments which are boxed and attractively wrapped or you might prefer to make your own selection of individual items and prepare a basket to package yourself with some person especially in mind.

A Few Ideas Are: Favorite fruit baskets; an assortment of cheeses; fancy canned foods; canned or smoked ham; an oven-ready turkey; a box of apples or pears; packaged fruits and nuts with a bag of bright cranberries—any of these or a combination of two or more will be welcome family gifts.

Include Family Festivities—While shopping don't forget to select some of the food items which may add a special touch to the holiday dinners. Also

BIBLE COMMENT

Telling Truth Only Thought For Prophets

The prophets of ancient Israel often had to utter truths that were unpalatable to those who heard them.

So unpalatable, in fact, that the listeners at times persecuted the prophets most horribly, as in the case of Jeremiah.

Their role was different from that of the false prophet, one who delights in uttering perverse statements.

In contrast the true phophet, now as then, has a deep sense of restraint and responsibility

The man who would speak for God must consider his words.

Love for those to whom he speaks is as essential as his disregard of their judgments when he speaks with conviction.

Deep in the Hebrew prophet, besides his faithfulness to God, was his intense love of his people and nation.

When he saw kings ruling unwisely and the people plunging toward disaster, it was with pain rather than pleasure that he sounded his warning.

His was the true patriotism in contrast with the false patriotism of those who had only honeyed words and boasting to offer their listeners.

The true prophet — religious, political and social — is concerned with realities, not appearances.

SEEKING A GIFT? HERE'S ONE ANSWER

Looking for that unusual Christmas gift that touches with warmness and is sure to reach the heart of every youngster?

As a special service to the community, the Animal Shelter, 2770 Groveport-pk, will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 21, to allow an opportunity to visit and select a pet in time for Christmas giving.

Thomas C. Justice, general manager of the Humane Society of Columbus, says many cuddly kittens, playful puppies and friendly older dogs are waiting to be taken into a kind and loving home.

The animals have been thoroughly checked by veterinarians. Puppies have been given temporary distemper shots and the dogs have been inoculated against rabies. Each has been scrubbed and made shining for inspection.

One of the reasons we enjoy our Gifts for Giving project is the wonderful people we get to know thereby. We learned of a group that is doing good work, and we'd like to tell about them. It is the Zone 6 Comfort Club, that meets twice a month in the members' homes. It started as a social club, but the members soon got interested in charitable endeavors. When the group reached 20 members, it was decided to form two groups. Since nearly half the members were then living in the North Side, it was logical that those members meet there, with the remaining ones continuing their meetings in the South Side. The two groups still get together for a Christmas party and a summer picnic.

The group has made 700 comforts, which they give to needy families. They also gather used clothing for this project. The group always welcomes quilting material donations, so if any of the readers would care to help the Zone 6 Club in this way, we'll gladly relay the information. We asked if any comforts were sold, and learned that one is occasionally sold to buy material for more comforts.

In addition to the Zone 6 Comfort Club, we have received contributions from our faithful friends of Ohio-av EUB, the members of the Friendship Class; Mary Johnson; Mrs. Lisle, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Manion and Mrs. Kelley; Mrs. Bighouse and Mrs. Pontious. Next week we'll give the final "round up" of the project, that is a promise!

Hobbies and retailing hobby supplies to the public, seems to be a family trait retained by Dave Otewalt, 22, owner of Dave's Hobby Den, 3893 Great Southern-cl, Great Southern Shopping Center.

Dave, who opened the shop in November of 1957, started building models at about the age of six, and gained a wealth of experience working in his mother's hobby store, Harmony Gift Shoppe, 2423 W. Broad-st.

The Hobby Den has caught on and is growing like wildfire according to Dave who attributes the hobby-business boom to the fact that people have more spare time and hobby supplies have been greatly improved in quality and uniqueness.

The shop, which abounds in friendly atmosphere and "chumminess" between owner and customer, boasts an active flying club, the Southern Aces Flying Club, which Dave founded a year ago. Members of the club, which now has 75 members, are so interested in flying model planes that the recent cold weather hasn't even "grounded" their activities.

A graduate of West High School, and recent student at Ohio State University and the University of California, Dave carries a complete line of hobby materials for planes, trains, ships and automobiles, as well as house paints.

Customizing Contests

Model automobile "'customizing" contests have become a great favorite with the Hobby Den's regular customers. Dave is now in the midst of sponsoring his second of such contests to see who can produce the best "de-chromed sharpie."

Dave and his wife, Louise, have one son and are expecting another child soon. They reside at 75 E. Ogden-av. The Otewalts are sports car enthusiasts. Louise drives a Volkswagen and Dave sports around in an MG.

Dave is interested in having a HO model train layout for his own but he lives in an apartment and space is limited. However, he is building a small layout into a cocktail table which will be covered with glass.

sale, but only a very few in the upper caste can afford these items.

Europeans in Morocco's big cities show appreciation for art and culture but the average native does not. Most teenagers work with their parents and stick to the old customs, Bob pointed out. He added that even the country's youth has not adopted "rock and roll" music, but continue to stick with the "yaa-yaa" off-key type native music.

Bob, a 1954 graduate of St. Mary's High School and member of St. Leo's Church, explained that middle class families usually live in homes made of stucco or brick, while poorer persons reside in tents, grass or mud huts.

'Foreign Intrigue' Legend

Hippler, who is now married and resides with his wife, Kim, at Norfolk Naval Station, Norfolk, Va., said that with the exception of a few scattered forests, Morocco is generally pretty hilly, stoney and barren with few grassy spots.

Rabat is the capital city. Other large cities include Fez, Meknez, Casablanca, Tangiers and Marakasch. Casablanca is the most commercial city. Tangiers, the most beautiful, is allegedly filled with "foreign intrigue," said Bob. "American movies have made this situation a little more dramatic than it really is," added the South Sider smiling.

"Morocco was a wonderful experience for me and offered a good chance for a peek into old-world life," said Bob, adding, "it is a country of warm sunshine, heavy rains, independent people, filth and rare beauty at the same time. It is a land that is basically slow in progress and economically depends largely on tourists."

In summing up his 18 months in the old-world traditions of Morocco, Bob simply said, "it's good to be home again with my family and friends and friendly South Side neighbors!"

Miss Dicke has belonged to Mrs. Michael Skobrak's Camp Fire group since it started nearly 10 years ago. The girls of the group have been active in all three phases, Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Club.

Charter members of the group include Nancy Buller, Betty Skobrak, Mary Beth Whitacre, Linda Junk, Nancy Murphy and Priscilla. Priscilla is also leader and founder of her own Blue Bird group.

Beside these activities, Priscilla finds time to study and compose music, some of which ... used as responses at Southwood Church.

She plans to go into some phase of full time church work when she graduates from South in February.

Outer Belt . . .

Right-Of-Way

Another complaint was lodged by Keith Possomore, representing Attree McClish who owns about 140 acres south of Obetz. Possomore said the route would bisect McClish's property and reduce its value.

If the highway department should rule valid the objections made by Wright and Quinn, another hearing would have to be held in about two weeks.

Conducting the hearing was Frank M. Williams, Division Six engineer, who stated that even after final approval of the superhighway route, it will be at least two years before construction is begun.

Total cost of the outerbelt project will be approximately $92 million. The southern leg of the road will extend some 24.4 miles. The federal government will shoulder 90 per cent of the construction costs.

Right-Of-Way

The right-of-way will range in width from 200 to 300 feet, depending on traffic congestion in the area through which it will run. It will be constructed with four lanes, but will have six to eight lanes where traffic is heavier. Median strips will be built at 36, 60 and 84-foot widths.

Interchanges have been recommended at the following important intersections: Broad-st; Georgesville-rd; Rt. 62; the proposed S.W. Freeway; Rt. 23; Alum Creek-dr; Rt. 33; the proposed East Freeway; E. Main-st; E. Broad-st; and Beecham-rd, for a total of 11.

One of the reasons we enjoy our Gifts for Giving project is the wonderful people we get to know thereby. We learned of a group that is doing good work, and we'd like to tell about them. It is the Zone 6 Comfort Club, that meets twice a month in the members' homes. It started as a social club, but the members soon got interested in charitable endeavors. When the group reached 30 members, it was decided to form two groups. Since nearly half the members were then living in the North Side, it was logical that those members meet there, with the remaining ones continuing their meetings in the South Side. The two groups still get together for a Christmas party and a summer picnic.

The group has made 700 comforts, which they give to needy families. They also gather used clothing for this project. The group always welcomes quilting material donations, so if any of the readers would care to help the Zone 6 Club in this way, we'll gladly relay the information. We asked if any comforts were sold, and learned that one is occasionally sold to buy material for more comforts.

In addition to the Zone 6 Comfort Club, we have received contributions from our faithful friends of Ohio-av EUB, the members of the Friendship Class; Mary Johnson; Mrs. Lisle, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Manlon and Mrs. Kelley; Mrs. Bighouse and Mrs. Pontious. Next week we'll give the final "round up" of the project, that is a promise!

Hobby Den Grows Quickly Through Varied Activities

Dave Otewalt

Hobbies and retailing hobby supplies to the public, seems to be a family trait retained by Dave Otewalt, 22, owner of Dave's Hobby Den, 3803 Great Southern-st, Great Southern Shopping Center.

Dave, who opened the shop in November of 1957, started building models at about the age of six, and gained a wealth of experience working in his mother's hobby store, Harmony Gift Shoppe, 2423 W. Broad-st.

The Hobby Den has caught on and is growing like wildfire according to Dave who attributes the hobby-business boom to the fact that people have more spare time and hobby supplies have been greatly improved in quality and uniqueness.

The shop, which abounds in friendly atmosphere and "chumminess" between owner and customer, boasts an active flying club, the Southern Aces Flying Club, which Dave founded a year ago. Members of the club, which now has 75 members, are no interested in flying model planes that the recent cold weather hasn't even "grounded" their activities.

A graduate of West High School, and recent student at Ohio State University and the University of California, Dave carries a complete line of hobby materials for planes, trains, ships and automobiles, as well as house paints.

Customizing Contests

Model automobile "customizing" contests have become a great favorite with the Hobby Den's regular customers. Dave is now in the midst of sponsoring his second of such contests to see who can produce the best "de-chromed sharpie."

Dave and his wife, Louise, have one son and are expecting another child soon. They reside at 75 S. Ogden-av. The Otewalts are sports car enthusiasts. Louise drives a Volkswagen and Dave sports around in an MG.

Dave is interested in having a HO model train layout for his own but he lives in an apartment and space is limited. However, he is building a small layout into a cocktail table which will be covered with glass.

sale, but only a very few in the upper caste can afford these items.

Europeans in Morocco's big cities show appreciation for art and culture but the average native does not. Most teenagers work with their parents and stick to the old customs, Bob pointed out. He added that even the country's youth has not adopted "rock and roll" music, but continue to stick with the "yea-yea" off-key type native music.

Bob, a 1954 graduate of St. Mary's High School and member of St. Leo's Church, explained that middle class families usually live in homes made of stucco or brick, while poorer persons reside in tents, grass or mud huts.

'Foreign Intrigue' Legend

Hippler, who is now married and resides with his wife, Kim, at Norfolk Naval Station, Norfolk, Va., said that with the exception of a few scattered forests, Morocco is generally pretty hilly, stoney and barren with few grassy spots.

Rabat is the capital city. Other large cities include Fez, Meknez, Casablanca, Tangiers and Marakasch. Casablanca is the most commercial city. Tangiers, the most beautiful, is allegedly filled with "foreign intrigue," said Bob. "American movies have made this situation a little more dramatic than it really is," added the South Sider smiling.

"Morocco was a wonderful experience for me and offered a good chance for a peek into old-world life," said Bob, adding, "it is a country of warm sunshine, heavy rains, independent people, filth and rare beauty at the same time. It is a land that is basically slow in progress and economically depends largely on tourists."

In summing up his 18 months in the old-world traditions of Morocco, Bob simply said, "it's good to be home again with my family and friends and friendly South Side neighbors!"

Outer Belt . . .

Right-Of-Way

Another complaint was lodged by Keith Possomore, representing Attree McClish who owns about 140 acres south of Obetz. Possomore said the route would bisect McClish's property and reduce its value.

If the highway department should rule valid the objections made by Wright and Quinn, another hearing would have to be held in about two weeks.

Conducting the hearing was Frank M. Williams, Division Six engineer, who stated that even after final approval of the superhighway route, it will be at least two years before construction is begun.

Total cost of the outerbelt project will be approximately $68 million. The southern leg of the road will extend some 24.6 miles. The federal government will shoulder 90 per cent of the construction costs.

Right-Of-Way

The right-of-way will range in width from 200 to 300 feet, depending on traffic congestion in the area through which it will run. It will be constructed with four lanes, but will have six to eight lanes where traffic is heavier. Median strips will be built at 36, 60 and 84-foot widths.

Interchanges have been recommended at the following important intersections: Broad-st; Georgesville-rd; Rt. 62; the proposed S.W. Freeway; Rt. 23; Alum Creek-dr; Rt. 33; the proposed East Freeway; E. Main-st; E. Broad-st; and Beecham-rd, for a total of 11.

Attorney Will Get Kiwanis Reins Jan. 5

Between 400 and 500 representatives of 284 Ohio Kiwanis clubs are expected to attend the district installation of officers Jan. 5 at the Neil House.

According to chairman Ed Schaedler, dinner is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the main ballroom of the the Neil House. Following installation of Stout by International Trustee Harold O. Wihl, interclub relations; and Desso T. Mitchell, "On-to-Dallas" convention chairman.

Stout has held two district chairmanships in his 13 years of active membership in Kiwanis. He is the third man from the 10th Division to be elected state-wide governor of the organization. This geographical group includes 18 clubs in Columbus, Lancaster, Newark, Circleville, and Grove City.

Lincoln Group Defines Status

Franklin County Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission is in no way connected with the Columbus Mayor's Lincoln Committee according to Emile Reiss director of the county group.

Reiss claims that recent announcement of the formation of the mayor's committee has confused many persons interested in the year-long celebration of the Lincoln Sesquicentennial, slated for 1959.

According to Reiss, the Franklin County Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission was appointed by Franklin County Commissioners and endorsed by Prof. William E. Barringer, director of the Federal Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission. It also has been recognized by President Eisenhower.

People Give Report About Ag Program

The People's Report on Agriculture was given before approximately 35 persons who attended the county-wide meeting held last Wednesday night at Sisson Hall on Ohio State campus.

Discussions centered around the work of the Franklin County Agricultural Extension Service was led by George Ganyard, county agent; Bertha Everhart, home economics agent; and Estelle Franks, marketing specialist, as well as many local citizens.

Activities highlighted at the meeting were:

Program—An overall representative County Advisory Committee decides policies, designates problems and counsels agents on program direction and development.

Local Leaders—Training was given to 114 leaders who in turn taught their homemaker groups.

Varied Requests—The Home Economics Agent helped 59 families with plans for homes or kitchens; 100 homemakers and two welfare agencies with family economics; and 540 persons with other such matters. Two technicians bred 4,000 cows artificially to proven sires.

Dairy Farmers—DHIA made monthly production tests for 739 cows in 24 herds and 355 cows in 19 owner-sampler herds.

Sheep and Hogs—Three thousand sheep and lambs dipped to control external parasites. Sixty swine producers participated in two meat-type hog meetings.

Soil Resources—Soil samples for 630 areas sent to laboratory. Individual recommendations for lime and fertilizer sent to 107 farmers.

Insects and Disease—County agent made 1,550 personal contacts on insect and disease.

Non-Farm Service—A variety of personal services including pond site inspection, drain age, irrigation, building plans, farm management and others rendered.

4-H Council—Seventy-five 4-H Clubs met regularly during 1958 with 425 boys and 735 girls members led by 140 adult and 98 junior leaders.

4-H Skills—Camp was attended by 260 members of local 4-H Clubs; four attended National Club Congress; two went to Junior Leadership Camp and two to conservation camp.

Marketing Information—Marketing information for consumers goes to groups of homemakers through leader training demonstrations to consumer groups, newspaper articles and radio spot announcement.

Welfare Families—The agent and case workers provided a sheet of helpful instructions to go to each of the 6,500 families with the first order of surplus dairy foods.

Barrett Opens City Loop With Two Cage Victories

Barrett Junior High School has had the beginning of a good basketball season Tuesday, Dec. 9, Barrett won its first game of the season from Eastmoor Junior High School by a final score of 42 to 36. Barrett won from Marion-Franklin 40 to 29, Dec. 11.

In the Eastmoor game played at Barrett., Eastmoor had a good pressing game in the back court. Eastmoor's scoring was rather evenly divided. Barrett's teamwork improved for the Marion-Franklin game and there was a good balance in the scoring. All five of the starting team made a proper contribution to the final total score. Crabtree was Marion-Franklin's high scoring man. Barrett's final score was helped by their success in getting possession of the ball on rebounds.

CHRISTMAS OPEN HOUSE

POINSETTIAS FLOURISH—The only rival to the beauty of the many rows of bright red poinsettia plants at Whitacre Flowers, 158 Southwood-av, is the young, attractive girl who prepares the plants for Christmas giving. She is 17-year-old Mary Beth Whitacre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Whitacre, owners of the flower firm. A lot of hard work and special care goes into growing beautiful poinsettias. The work, started months ago, now shows its worth in this greenhouse filled with the bright holiday flowers. The Whitacres invite everyone to come in and just enjoy the beauty of so many lovely flowers in full bloom.

Croatian Lodge To Sponsor 'Tamburitzans' At Central

Tamburitzan Daniel Palvas

The Duquesne University Tamburitzans, from Pittsburgh, Pa., will appear at Central High School, 8 p.m., Friday, Dec. 26, under the sponsorship of the Croatian St. Anthony Lodge No. 310, of Columbus. Tickets will be available at Heaton's Music Store.

In an average of 90 full evening concerts which they present each year throughout the country, the Tamburitzans entertain American audiences with music and dances of the Slavic people. The group takes its name from the "tamburitza" a Balkan stringed instrument which forms the basis fer their musical work.

Technically, they are amateurs, receiving scholarships in return for their participation in the group; however, critics have consistently praised the professional caliber and continuity of their production.

Being a scholarship group, its main purpose is to enable talented students, regardless of nationality, to pursue a full-time university program that will lead to a degree of the student's choice. In addition to playing the "tamburitza," the age-old instrument of the Southern Slavic peoples, the collegiate performers sing, as well as dance to the music of many nations.

Devoting the initial part of their program to such little known nationalities as the Croatians, Serbians, Macedonians, Dalmatians, Slovenes, and Bosnians, the Tamburitzans present agile men's dances, sedate dances of the women, ritual dances with centuries of history behind them; sad songs and happy songs, patriotic songs and religious songs.

In addition to obtaining tickets at Heaton's, they may also be purchased from Eugene Crocco, HI. 3 7537, Adam Zubovich, HI. 3-3997 or Mrs. John Rumora, BR 9-5047.

Benfield Church Groups Planning Festive Meetings

The Progressive Leaders Sunday School Class of Benfield Avenue Church of Christ, 146 Benfield-av, will hold its monthly meeting Saturday, Dec. 20, at 7:30 p.m., in fellowship hall. A gift exchange will be held and secret pals will be revealed. A drawing for the coming year's Secret Pals will also be held.

Benfield Church's annual Christmas program will be presented Sunday, Dec. 21, at 7:30 p.m. The program will consist of a musical presentation by the church choir, a play by the young people, presentations in song by the Junior Choir, and congregational singing set to the holiday spirit. The public is invited.

The Loyal Crusaders group of the church will hold its Christmas party and gift exchange Tuesday, Dec. 23, at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Charles Russell, Dering-rd.

Lockbourne Site Rejected For Terminal

A tract at Lockbourne and Refugee-rds, was eliminated by Columbus commission merchants Friday as a possible site for construction of a 1-million-dollar fruit and vegetable wholesale terminal.

Merchants reportedly feel the location of the terminal on the 28.5-acre tract would create delivery problems since truck drivers would be forced to pass through heavily congested areas in making deliveries to restaurants in the North and West Sides, according to Donald Tishman, attorney for Columbus Produce Terminal, Inc.

Commission merchants and two representatives of the New York Central Railroad attended the meeting held Friday at Central Market. The railroad favored the Lockbourne-Refugee site for the terminal.

The wholesale merchants will be displaced next year when the Market-Mohawk slum clearance program gets underway.

Tishman indicated that two building sites remain in consideration. They are located at Bagshaw-rd and E. Fifth-av, and at Joyce and Seventeenth-avs.

United Brethren Lists Christmas Week Services

Christmas services at the Ohio Evangelical United Brethren Church will include worship services at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. by Rev. Glendon Herbert, pastor. He will deliver a sermon entitled "Christ's Light and Our Darkness."

The Chancel Choir will sing "The Shepherd's Story" at 10:30 with soloists Miss Carolyn Frye, Dave Chatfield and William Gallagher. The Concordia Choir will sing at the 8:30 services.

The Christmas family program will be presented by the children of the church at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

On Christmas Eve at 11 p.m., the Chancel Choir will present the Cantata "The Christmas Story" with Terry Cromwell as narrator. Soloist will be Miss Sylvia Frye, Miss Bonna Bornshine, Dave Chatfield and Terry Cromwell.

Miss Elizabeth Moore is director and Miss Darlene Abshire is the organist.

CLUB PLANS YULE PARTY

Chapter 206, Women of the Moose, will hold its Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 8 p.m., at 36 W. Sycamore-st. There will be a gift exchange and all members of the chapter are invited. Senior Regent Mildred Peiree will preside.

Seniors Plan Active Yule Celebrations

The Christmas spirit is in full swing at the Senior Citizens Recreation Center, leading off with the Friday Forum program and Christmas Ball Dec. 12 and climaxing with the third annual Christmas party and gift exchange to be held Friday evening, Dec. 19.

Music is being brought to the senior citizens by the choir of the Broad Street Christian Church for their Christmas party, by the Mothersingers of the Clinton-Indian Springs PTA on Wednesday afternoon, and Christmas gifts and refreshments are being carried to children in one of the cottages at Columbus State School by members of the Tuesday Service Circle who have been busy for weeks making rag dolls, bed bags, and other gifts. They go to the cottage by bus following their own potluck luncheon and Christmas movie at the Center.

The Pilot Club of business and professional women are giving the Christmas party on Friday evening as they have on the two preceding years since the Senior Center was opened. The monthly birthday party which they also sponsor is being combined with the Christmas celebration. Mrs. Margaret Carroll heads their committee.

Dr. William J. Blackburn, Jr., the president of the Senior Citizens, is conducting another of his popular spelling bees Wednesday afternoon in connection with a program of Christmas games, and Galvy Gordon of the Public Library presented an unusual arrangement of Christmas film strips, recordings and movies at the Friday Forum meeting. The Social Welfare Club held its Christmas meeting at the center, to hear a special program given by the senior citizens.

The Senior Citizens Center in Old Memorial Hall is a unit of the Columbus Department of Public Recreation to serve men and women who have reached 60 years of age.

Rare Birds Steals Show At Feeder

The onslaught of snow and old-fashioned winter weather that started around Thanksgiving signaled the beginning of busy days at bird feeders. Before that, birds came casually and in small numbers. Since the first snow it has been "standing room only" at the free cafeterias.

The star attraction the last few days at our house has been an Oregon junco. This is a very rare bird in these parts, and is a close relative of our common slate-colored junco. The Oregon has been feeding regularly with a flock of his cousins. It is the first one I have ever seen in the wild.

Our neighbor Al Staffan spotted the bird at his feeder about a week before we saw it. It evidently is feeding at both places, and only if you are in the right place at the right time will you see this elusive guest from the West.

Only Five Recorded

After studying the bird for a while I consulted the "bible" of bird watchers, "A Check List of the Birds of Ohio," by Donald J. Borror, 1593 Minnesota-av. Dr. Borror states in the list that the Oregon junco has been recorded from only five locations in the state, the most recent being in 1949. It has been seen in Butler County, Lucas County, Akron, South Bass Island, and Columbus.

Arthur Harper, 559 Arden-rd another nationally known ornithologist from Columbus, did not include the Oregon in his book "Ohio's Birds and Where To Find Them." The bird is so extremely rare that he could not tell Ohioans where to find it.

When you can count the state records of a bird on the fingers of one hand, you have slight chances of ever seeing it. Harper's book, incidentally, is a gold mine of information for bird watchers and it is available for 10 cents from Ohio's Birds, Department of Natural Resources, 1500 Dublin-rd, Columbus 12.

The Oregon junco makes its slate-colored cousins look a bit drab. It has a black hood, brown back, and tan sides. The sides are almost pinkish. Oregons are easy to distinguish from slate-colored juncos, especially if you sight them together. Juncos belong to the sparrow family.

Considered a Stray

The Oregon is listed as an "accidental" in Ohio by bird students. This means that the bird is far out of its normal range — it has accidentally strayed. There is no way to predict the coming of strays. Wind storms probably play an important part in sprinkling "accidentals" across the country. Some years there will be sightings along the east coast of European birds, and storms are usually held responsible for blowing the birds off course.

Whatever the reason for its being here we have had unusual pleasure watching the Oregon at the feeders. Two years ago we had a pine siskin, another member of the sparrow family, at the feeder. The siskin is listed in the books as "very rare" during the winter here. But now the Oregon heads the list — a bird you could not expect to see in a lifetime of active bird watching.

Japan is currently producing a million television sets a year.

The Real Meaning Of Christmas

Christmas means many things to many people, but to most it means a time when thoughts are turned to the birth of Christ . . . to family . . . and to friends.

To youngsters . . . it may mean more joy than any other time of the year . . . a time filled with trees and lights, ribbon and wrapping paper, Santa Claus and surprises.

To Mother and Dad . . . Christmas may mean shopping and greeting cards, neighbors and family gatherings. And, most of all, the wonderful experience of seeing happy, excited children.

To grandparents . . . it may mean warm memories of old friends, helping out at church, preparing the traditional Christmas dinner. But, of more importance, it may mean having the children and grandchildren home again.

But to Christians the world over . . . no matter how young or old . . . Christmas is really a day kept in memory of the birth of Jesus Christ nearly two thousand years ago. It is a day when millions turn their thoughts to the Source of all that is good . . . and are reminded of the truly important things of life.

May the real meaning of Christmas . . . and the blessings of Christ . . . be with you and your families and bring you happiness the year around.

FOR UNTO YOU IS BORN THIS DAY IN THE CITY OF DAVID, A SAVIOUR, WHICH IS CHRIST THE LORD

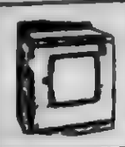
Presley Is Surrounded By 'Flames' On Monday



Elvis Presley was surrounded by "flames" Monday morning at the Musical Bar, 1930 Parsons-av, but it wasn't the kind that swoon over his music.

A fire broke out at the establishment causing an estimated $3,000 damage and scorching pictures of Presley and hillbilly singers Hank Snow and Chet Atkins.

The Musical Bar is scheduled to reopen Sunday.

The Real Meaning Of Christmas

Christmas means many things to many people, but to most it means a time when thoughts are turned to the birth of Christ . . . to family . . . and to friends.

To youngsters . . . it may mean more joy than any other time of the year . . . a time filled with trees and lights, ribbon and wrapping paper, Santa Claus and surprises.

To Mother and Dad . . . Christmas may mean shopping and greeting cards, neighbors and family gatherings. And, most of all, the wonderful experience of seeing happy, excited children.

To grandparents . . . it may mean warm memories of old friends, helping out at church, preparing the traditional Christmas dinner. But, of more importance, it may mean having the children and grandchildren home again.

But to Christians the world over . . . no matter how young or old . . . Christmas is really a day kept in memory of the birth of Jesus Christ nearly two thousand years ago. It is a day when millions turn their thoughts to the Source of all that is good . . . and are reminded of the truly important things of life.

May the real meaning of Christmas . . . and the blessings of Christ . . . be with you and your families and bring you happiness the year around.

FOR UNTO YOU IS BORN THIS DAY IN THE CITY

Two Killed In Mishaps Last Week

A head-on collision and auto-train crash cost the lives of two South Side women last week.

MRS. ESTER DOUGHTY, 52, 29 E. Morrill-av, passed away Friday at Mercy Hospital from injuries suffered in an auto accident Tuesday night.

Mrs. Doughty was riding with her husband, Fred C. Doughty, 55, when their car met head-on with an auto driven by Floyd Francis, 38, Rt. 1, Millersport.

Francis is scheduled to appear in Muncipal Court today to face a manslaughter charge and two other earlier traffic violations. He was cited at the time of the accident for driving left of center, drunk driving and driving while his license was under revocation.

MRS. WILDA RHYAN, 70, 401 Southwood-av, was killed Friday afternoon when her car apparently stalled on the N. Cassady-av crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad and was struck by a passenger train.

The train which struck the car was pulling seven coaches and three cabooses, according to Patrolman Walter Wilhelm. The car was carried about 100 feet.

Guarding the tracks are flasher and bell warning systems, which were both working according to railroad officials.

Mrs. Rhyan is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Henrietta Wolfe; a son, John Phillips, of Washington C.H.; brother, Frank Brown, of Springfield; sister, Mrs. Ivy Puckett, of London; 11 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

PFC Cordle Is Assigned To Ordnance Company

Army Pfc. Arvin Cordle, whose wife, Hilda, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Cordle, live at 3078 Lewis-rd, recently was assigned to the 18th Ordnance Company of the 66th Ordnance Battalion in Germany.

Cordle, a clerk in the company, entered the Army in November 1955 and was stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., before arriving in Europe in November 1956.

The 20-year-old soldier attended Marion Franklin High School and was employed by Schiff's Shoe Store in civilian life.

Farm machinery accidents are decreasing, but tractor accidents are increasing, according to the National Safety Council.

One of the happy families this holiday season is that of S/C Machinist's Mate, Ray Mincer. The happy occasion will be the 20-day Navy leave that will bring the sailor home on Dec. 28. Ray is stationed on the USS Essex, which just completed a 75,000 mile cruise.

He was in the Mediterranean during the Lebanon crisis. The South High graduate is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mincer, 1706 E. Kossuth-st, and the husband of Joyce (Bradford) Mincer, 576 E. Gates-st.

Two more newcomers in our neighborhood . . . Kathy Ann Hinson, who weighed in at five pounds, eight ounces, on Dec. 11. She's now the "star" performer at 1399 S. 6th-st, where she brightens the lives of her mommy and daddy, Darlene and Adrian Hinson. The other little tyke is "No. 3 Son" for Ginny and Oscar Wiechers, 236 E. Moler-st. The brand-new addition will answer to the name of "Timmy" when he gets a little older.

Our sympathy to Herb Weisenberger, who lost his wife, Mary, last week. The Weisenberger residence is at 284 Southwood-av. Our sympathy too, to the family of Cardie E. Foster, who had just passed away at Ben Franklin as we were there for the Gifts for Giving distribution. The Foster household is 688 Deshler-av.

Imagine having a birthday and Christmas on the same day! That is when Michael Hafner, of Hanford-st, celebrates his natal day. An extra big birthday wish to you, Michael, and lots more of them. Walter Wynd, a high school student, does almost the same thing, for he has a birthday on Dec. 26.

A get-well card would be the appropriate thing to send to Judy Johnson, 2039 Studer-av, who has been hospitalized in Children's Hospital. We didn't learn if she had been able to get home for Christmas but it was hoped that she would.

'Proud Mama'

Since the picture of the Camp Fire Girl in last week's Leader looked vaguely familiar, we read the accompanying article with interest. Yep, suspicions confirmed . . . it was our gal, whom we have written about as "the Tomboy." How they do grow up! And again we thank our editor for his nice words.

We were on a small spot, for it wouldn't be "seemly" to write about our offspring, even though that would have been our duty as public relations person for this Camp Fire Girl district. Mr. Shaffer kindly did the job for us, for which, thanks. Lest her South High classmates think she's graduating sooner than they, we'll tell them she's still "one of them" and will receive her high school diploma in June.

Lona Swartz spent a few days in Cincinnati, earlier this month.

Mrs. Joe Cherryholmes, 618 Markison-av, flew to Ypsilanti, Mich., for a weekend visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Edward C. Cherryholmes. The younger Cherryholmes have been in the northern state for about two months.

Peggy Joyce Stevens, 660 E. Moler-st, has only two more days to answer to "Miss Stevens." On Dec. 27 she will become the bride of David G. Burke, of Bellevue, O. Miss Stevens received her high school diploma from a North Carolina school before moving to Ohio. Her fiance is a senior at Capital and will enter the Theological Seminary next fall. The wedding will take place in Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Holiday Birthdays

Didn't mean to forgt birthday wishes for Jack and Gene Speakmon last Thursday, Dec. 18. We will rectify that right now! Other birthday celebrants are . . . Richard Ellis, 225 Southwood, Dec. 31; Beverly Blackburn, 1570 S. 4th-st, Dec. 30; Charles Melvin, 60 E. Woodrow, Dec. 26; Terry Wolfe, 117 Innis-av, Dec. 28; Chrisann Wolfe, 117 Innis-av, Dec. 28; Lou Evans, 1317 S. High-st, Dec. 29; Susan Willoughby, 81 Hanford-st, Dec. 30 and Linda Arnold, 16 E. Jenkins, Dec. 26.

Our good friends, Mrs. Rogers and son John, are enjoying a nice turkey feast today . . . and the "guest of honor" is the turkey she won a month ago. As a matter of fact, she won two turkeys, so it's really a feast. However, since the repast is at daughter Margaret Turner's house and there's a large family there, the turkey course will probably disappear pronto!

Camp Fire News

Ordinarily we'd write this item in the Camp Fire Girl column, but since this column is on the skimpy side, we'll use it here. The Horizon Club Brunch will be held Tuesday, Dec. 30, 11:30 to 2:00, in the Fort Hayes Hotel Ballroom. Connie Barber, 908 Studer-av, is in charge of the entertainment.

Now to make our report on the Gifts for Giving . . . there were enough donations that we were able to do a fine job, and we enjoyed the distribution greatly. The things were nice and we were proud to pass them along. There were enough items to give two and in some cases, three things. Surplus children's items were left for the children patients in the pediatric section.

Being the cautious type, we kept some of the items for a start for next year. (You don't know how scared we get every year, when we've written for several weeks about the project and "hear nothin' from noone!") Some of the used clothing was given to two needy families. That wonderful Zone 6 Sunshine Comfort Club gave us comforts also, for these needy families, and a thanks as warm as their contributions is given to them.

Gift Donors

Donors who helped the project "over the top" were Emily Fennell, the Zone 6 Club, Mrs. Hamilton, Mae Dean, Jean LaRue, Mary Mason, Dorothy Jolly, Mrs. Rice, Mary Merritt, Trudeau Guild 20, Mary Kennedy, Trudeau Guild 33; Erma Leonard, Nellie Kaufman, Barbara Ross, Sharon Dunkle, Rosemary Barnhart, the 4th grade students of Mrs. Vincent (of Stewart-av School), Mary O'Hara, and Miss McGarrity.

We have tried to keep track of all the donors, and hope we have missed none. If we have "boo-booed," forgive us! To EVERYONE who helped in any way, the biggest thanks possible, in helping the project be once again the success that it was. Helping us to distribute were these friends: our faithful Lana Itskin, who made the rounds with us again, as she has every year; Mrs. Bier, Fred Bier, Mary Merritt, Helen Souder and Mae Dean. Thanks! And now to everyone, A MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Moose Members Plan To Step Up '59 Civic Program

The Columbus Moose Lodge 11 will step up its 1959 civic affairs program according to Richard Gramlich, chairman of the committee and K. E. "Doc" Keeny, Lodge secretary.

The Boy Scouts Summer Camp will be added to their program as a new activity.

Continuation of the Senior Citizen Recreation program, participation in the March of Dimes campaign, the Moose sponsored Easter Lift, the Heart Fund Drive, and the Retarded Children's Campaign are to be intensified.

All of the 3300 members of the group are urged to get behind the 1959 civic affairs program by both Keeny and Gramlich.

Awards Given To 22 Scouters Of Cub Pack 105

Awards were presented to 22 Cub Scouts from Pack 105 at Smith Road School at the December pack meeting. The program featured sampling of each Den's Christmas project, with an explanation of how each was constructed.

Christmas carols were sung by the young Scouts, a preview of the songs sung later during their visit to the Franklin County Home on Dec. 15.

Harvey Riffle received a three-year Service Star as did Richard Zeller, who also was given his Denner Stripes. A one-year Star was given to Jimmy Kleinline.

Mark Larger and Tommy Boyd received Denner Stripes, and Assistant Denner Stripes were issued to Phillip Pfefferle and Mike Mileusnich.

Enhancing their visit to the County Home, the boys took gift items to help bolster the holiday spirit amid the oldsters.

Meat consumption in 1958 is expected to be around 152 pounds per person. This is seven pounds less than in 1957, Ohio State University Extension economists look for some increases next year, mostly in pork.

The most popular holiday green still comes from the U.S. Mint.—Tell City, Ind., News.

A WISH FOR PEACE AT CHRISTMAS

Through all his history man has sought peace, prayed for it, worked for it, lost it, and painfully renewed the struggle to achieve and hold on to it.

The greatest news ever told was received by shepherds watching their flocks, proclaimed the Divine promise of peace for man — peace with his Maker, himself and his fellowmen.

The greatest Christmas gift ever given, the Babe born in Bethlehem, taught the way of peace—through supreme love of God and all human beings.

At this Christmas season of 1958 this newspaper joins in the universal wish for peace on earth, good will among men.

CHRISTMAS IS A TIME TO CARE

KINDNESS SHOWERED—A young refugee in Hong Kong stands guard over the CARE food packages given to her family and neighbors as gifts of the American people. "Bamboo" and other "Iron Curtain" refugees in Asia and Europe are among the main groups of needy who will be fed through the current CARE Food Crusade. Contributions may be sent to the headquarters of the CARE Food Crusade, 660 First-av, New York City.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

May contentment and prosperity attend all your efforts through the days ahead and may this Yuletide Season be one of complete happiness for you and your loved ones...

BIBLE COMMENT:

Significance Of Christmas Is Important

We must never forget what the coming of the Babe of Bethlehem means to the world.

It is not enough to glorify or worship the Babe, to bring adoration, even as did the shepherds.

It is not enough to bring gifts as did the Wise Men.

It is not enough to rejoice, only.

The true celebration of Christmas must be related to the whole life, and death, and resurrection, in the ministry of the Saviour of men.

The note of tragedy, crowned with glory and triumph, is in the story of Christmas. It began in sadness as well as joy.

This Mary knew so well, as she pondered in her heart the strange sayings, and the prophecy of the sword that should pierce through her own heart.

That prophecy was fulfilled as she followed her Son to Calvary, and stood by the cross.

So, let our Christmas celebration be one of joy and beauty, of rejoicing in the glorious birth, of the sanctity of love, and home and children.

But let it be also a celebration of victory and triumph —the Christmas of a Christ who died that we, and all men, might live.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

HOLIDAY FOODS — citrus fruits, apples, vegetables for relish trays, variety of cheeses, milk and eggs for eggnog, popcorn, dates, nuts, food for last-minute gifts.

AFTER CHRISTMAS MEALS

The holiday season is one of hospitality. It's a time when family and friends gather in an atmosphere of warm affection and merriment. It is also a time when the family budget may get stretched a bit. This is the opportune time to fill your menus with the plentiful fresh fruits and vegetables. Local markets are overflowing with a wide selection of both that are inexpensive and healthful. They are easy to prepare and add lightness to the heartier-than-usual holiday meals.

Festive Fruit Trays, for either the family or a large group, can be made to include apples, pears, oranges, tangerines and bananas. You might like to use a fresh pineapple in the center. If you have received gifts of exotic fruits as persimmons or avocades, use them for appealing touches. Or tuck in a few sprigs of holly. For a frosted effect dip the fruit in slightly beaten egg whites, then roll in sugar. Chill in the refrigerator. Frosted grapes are especially attractive.

Vegetable Plates offer a variety in color and texture. Try such combinations as: baked yams, broccoli, buttered or Harvard beets, and boiled turnips sprinkled with cheese. Center the vegetables with a ramekin of creamed turkey, an individual meat loaf, or a poached egg.

HOLIDAY REFRESHMENTS

An easy to do and delightful mid-afternoon pickup drink can be made by combining equal parts of dairy eggnog and orange drink. Serve in tall glasses with a fresh orange slice.

TRY A GLOWING DESSERT to show the glow and warmth you feel on Christmas. Dip sugar cubes in lemon extract and place on individual servings of fruit cake or pudding. Light cube as dessert is served.

Strictly Fresh

Meanest man in town is the fellow who eats all the brittle with the peanuts in it and leaves the tile-like slabs of plain candy for the kids.

Difference between a delightful, snowy day and a blizzard depends on whether or not you can stay inside.

It can be determined quickly on Christmas morning those toys that were made to play with and the ones that were made to sell.

Britannica's '12' Is Missing From Parsons Library

There is mystery at Parsons Branch Library.

What has become of Volume 12 of the Encyclopedia Britannica?

This book has been missing from the shelf where it was kept for about a month. The Encylopedia Britannica is a reference set of books and is in constant demand. For these reasons they are never loaned to patrons to take home.

Librarians think that the book was borrowed by someone who needed information found only in book 12 and hope that the borrower, when finished, will return the book. Volume 12 is needed because it is impossible to replace unless a complete new set is bought. Single volumes of an encylopedic set are never sold individually and a complete new set is very costly.

Have you been looking for something different in the way of refreshments to serve a large group? Try a wreath of frozen fruits to float in the punch bowl. Pour fruit juice around fruit arranged in a ring mold. Freeze. A colorful cranberry punch for 80 punch-cup servings may be made by combining one 46-ounce can grapefruit juice, one 46-ounce can pineapple juice, six 16-ounce bottles of cranberry juice and two 28-ounce bottles gingerale Serve it very cold with your favorite cookies or cake.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS AND BEST WISHES FOR THE NEW YEAR FROM YOUR FRANKLIN COUNTY AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

CHRISTMAS CHEER FROM HONOLULU—Lover of flowers and plants, South Sider Mrs. Dorothy B. Deighton is displaying beautiful red flowers in her windows for the holidays but they are not the traditional poinsettias. The deep red, waxed-looking flowers with bright colored cone-like centers are called Anthuriums. Mrs. Deighton poses with these flowers, which she received unexpectedly last week from Honolulu, Hawaii.

South Sider's Holiday Decor Has Special Hawaiian Accent

Mrs. Dorothy B. Deighton, of 654 Stanley-av, loves flowers and has always wanted an orchid but has never received one. Last week, her prospective daughter-in-law in Honolulu, Hawaii, sent her one dozen Anthuriums, a rare flower, reportedly far more expensive than any orchid!

The flowers, sent special delivery, have a rather artificial look of being wax. They are usually a deep red or pink with a hard cone-like center of various pastel colors. When delivered, each flower's stem was fastened with a small tube of water. Large leaves were included along with directions for the proper way to arrange the flowers.

Mrs. Deighton, not recognizing the plants, took them to Helm's Flower Shop and was told that Anthuriums are a very rare flower native to Hawaii, with only a few having been successfully grown in California. The florist said they are so expensive that most shops in the United States won't even order them for customers.

Violet Kirsch, an advertising executive in Honolulu, originally from Wisconsin, sent the Anthuriums to Mrs. Deighton for Christmas. Miss Kirsch is engaged to Mrs. Deighton's son in the Navy, Charles Eugene, who is now stationed in Okinawa.

Mother of five grown children and South Sider for 35 years, Mrs. Deighton said the flowers are keeping nicely. She has them placed in a front window of her home and she reports they have become quite an eye-stopped to passers-by. Many friends, neighbors and strangers have come to my door asking what kind of plants they are.

Mrs. Deighton, whose home is filled with plants and flowers said, "the Anthuriums are the most terrific flowers I've ever had. I still haven't had an orchid, but these are far more wonderful."

Sincere Good Wishes

Refugee Girl Is Barrett's Play Heroine

Barrett Junior High School held its Christmas assembly Friday morning, Dec. 19, in the school auditorium.

The assembly program, directed by C. H. Stephenson, was an offering by Mr. Stephenson's ninth grade dramatics class, assisted by the Barrett orchestra, H. L. Germain, directing, and the combined Boys' and Senior Girls' Glee Clubs, A. N. Denman directing.

The play, "Room for Mary", is based on the story of a refugee girl, without home or family at Christmas time. It presents a somewhat typical American family meeting the situation. There are religious overtones throughout the presentation. The casting was as follows: Mother, Paula Martin; Jane, Nancy Paulus; Peggy, Beverly Hoeflich; Martha, Sharon Everett; Anne, Geraldine Cooke; Mary, Sheila Howe. Mary McClain was the student assistant director and Janet Endicott was the announcer.

The committee for costumes, make-up, properties, staging, and other details consisted of Harold Hammock, Carol Camper, Carol Sollner, Geraldine Howard, Jean Moore, Linda Houser, Diane Mutters, Glenna Jarrell, Twila Carter, Florence Eblen and Paul Petry.

The combined glee clubs sang a medley of "Angels We Have Heard on High," "Bring a Torch," and "What Child Is This?"

The orchestra played an overture, "Christmas Morning," using material from "O Holy Night" and "O Sanctissima."

Barrett dismissed for the Christmas and New Year holidays at 2:30 Friday afternoon, to reopen at 8:30 the morning of Jan. 5, 1959, the first Monday of the New Year.

STUDENTS DECORATE HALL AT BERRY SCHOOL

DECK THE HALLS—The Art Club of George C. Beery Jr. High School took well-spent time to make Christmas decorations for the breezeway in the school. Working on the decorations were Fritz Stimpfle, Bucky Chapman, Guy Luther, and Clifford Matthews. Kitty Fox, Judy Dunfee and Delores Mathews helped with the stars. The work was done under the supervision of Hans Rietenbach, art teacher.

Lions Club Gives New Knives To Settlement's Woodcarvers

By Ray Shaffer

The Woodcarving Class of South Side Settlement House, met last Wednesday evening for its Christmas party and was surprised with a special gift of one dozen new carving knives from the Southeast Lions Club.

Harry Vorrath, activities director at the Settlement, Martin Tischler, woodcarving instructor, and W. S. "Mike" Kranzley, of the Lions Club, were speakers at the party, at which members of the class, all boys, displayed the carvings they have completed thus far this year.

The boys, aged 12 to 18, under the tutoring of Tischler, have done some remarkably fine carving with little or no experience and in comparatively few lessons.

Tischler, who operates Tischler's Woodworking Shop, 492 Reinhard-av, has volunteered his services as an instructor at the Settlement for the past two years. He has been letting the boys use some of his older carving knives, which, he said, were really not suitable for good carving results.

Kranzley heard of the class's need for really fine knives and made the gift suggestion to the Lions Club. The club contacted Tischler to see what type of knife would be best, and promptly secured a dozen of them.

Class members were truly thrilled with the knives and were extremely grateful to the club. The boys have really "taken" to woodcarving and Tischler said they don't seem satisfied to meet for just two hours a week. They meet from 7 to 9 p.m. each Wednesday.

We feel that all of the Settlement's activities are well planned and are doing wonderful things for the youth of the South Side, but the woodcarving class seems even more outstanding in its offering an opportunity for learning an excellent craft and releasing some fine creative talents.

Any visitor to the class would quickly see what we mean. The boys take every chip of the wood seriously and use care in every knife stroke and in the sanding and finishing processes.

The pride they take in their finished work means far more than the material item. It builds confidence and self-discipline. These are important in keeping teenagers off the streets and out of trouble.

Tischler, who has been a woodworker since early childhood in Rumania, said that although woodcarving assignments have been comparatively simple, the results have been fine and the youths are learning to express themselves in a creative, practical and satisfying medium.

Eastern Firm Builds Large Share Of Homes

An east side construction company has ended its year with a surprisingly strong share of the home building market.

Jewel Builders, 3497 E. Livingston-av, revealed in its year-end report it erected one-eighth of all houses built since Jan. 1958, in Columbus.

Julius Cohen, president, said 371 of the 2,935 building permits issued by the city of Columbus in 1958 were for Jewel Homes.

Although much of their work has been in the east side, in Berwick Park, Berwick Manor and Oakwood Park, they have also built in other parts of town.

A community of Jewel Homes is at 17th and Woodland-aves, in the recently-opened New Amsterdam, off South High-st, contains Jewel Homes; and there are Jewel Homes in Luxair (Hilliards) and in Knapp Addition (Grove City).

Last week's report also showed their firm built slightly over 12 per cent of the apartment units granted permits in Columbus this year. Nearly 200 of the 1,603 units were built by this company.

Cohen, a native of New York, received his engineering degree from Columbia in 1950. Following work as an engineer in Alaska and South America, he served as a consulting engineer on the New Jersey Turnpike. Before coming to Columbus in May, 1957, he was associated with a Dayton construction company.

Married, he is the father of five sons and resides at 1034 S. Kellner.

Barrett Students Aid The Needy During Holidays

In the true spirit of Christmas, Barrett Junior High School pupils and staff members are reaching out to help make the day a bit brighter for others. Y-Teens have participated in the Adopt-A-Family program to the extent of $25.

Several rooms are preparing baskets of food for distribution through the facilities of the South Side Settlement House. The annual Shoe Fund Campaign, conducted for the purpose of obtaining shoes for needy school children, realized more than $40.00. To this end, friends of Beverly Howell, on the occasion of the death of Beverly's father, made a memorial gift to the Shoe Fund in an amount over and above that needed to purchase flowers.

Finally, the staff joined together in making a gift to Charity Newsies.

Schiller Recreation Center will hold a sock-hop Tuesday, Dec. 30, in the gymnasium, from 8 to 11 p.m. This big winter dance, the "Frosty Frolic," will have the music of Howard Mauger's Band furnished through the courtesy of the Columbus Federation of Musicians.

Rabbit Hunting-- One Memorable Day

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Everyone should enjoy a good rabbit hunt at least once a year. Telling you what makes a "good" hunt is rather difficult, but Jim Huffman, 2620 E. Broad-st, and I have had ours for this season.

It was one of those perfect afternoons when everything was right. The day was cold, the snow crunchy underfoot; but the sun was shining and it was pleasant to be out. Rabbits were out, too, and ran well before our dog. The beagle, Trudy, paid for her year's keep on this afternoon. Even on the dry, powdery snow she did not lose a single rabbit. She ran several to ground and brought the others around to us.

Every place you looked was a picture. Snow weighed heavily on forest green pine trees. Fenceposts had whipped cream toppings. A pair of cardinals sat loafing in a wild rose thicket along a brook. Squirrel tracks stitched their way from beech tree to oak. And a rabbit streaked through a briar patch to the accompaniment of Trudy's music in the distance.

MEET FRIENDLY NEIGHBORS

Jim and I heard shots in the distance and eventually came upon another hunter. It was the farmer from an adjoining farm, and we passed a few pleasant moments comparing notes and talking "neighbor talk". We found that Ed had two rabbits, and had seen others . . . and that Ed and his father would be hunting 'coons at the first thaw. Jim got himself an invitation to join them.

After we left Ed, Jim and I hunted over at a little stream with brushy banks. We followed the stream and flushed song birds and rabbits. We finished up by taking in a couple of blackberry patches and an old orchard.

EVERYTHING COUNTS

What then, makes a good hunt? It's all tied up with pleasant companionship, beautiful scenery, neat dog work, enough rabbits to keep dog and hunters busy, and a feeling of closeness to nature on a sunny winter afternoon.

While not every day afield can be so memorable, it is this perfection that hunters strive for. Every hunter has some red-letter days tucked away in his memory that he pulls out and savors now and then. Game in the bag is not the treasure of the hunter; a few unforgettable days afield are his reward.

HEARTY EATERS—Many hungry and strayed men receive food and aid at the City Mission, 40 E. Chestnut-st. This is a haven of refuge for distressed and unfortunate men and is operated solely on benevolent gifts to the Mission. Nearly 40 hungry men are fed every night of the week after gospel services. More than 14,000 were given a meal during this past year. Also pictured above is Rev. Albert H. Heinz, pastor of the West Second Avenue Presbyterian Church, mission director.

City Mission Has Been In Operation For 25 Years As Haven To Distressed

Cramped and almost hidden away among the downtown area of Columbus is the City Mission, located at 40 E. Chestnut-st.

This haven of refuge for distressed and unfortunate men is operated solely on benevolent gifts to the Mission. Nearly 40 hungry men are fed here every night of the week after regular gospel services.

More than 14,000 men were given a meal during this past year. Many hungry and strayed men receive aid and 75 to 80 men have come to the altar during the gospel services.

Special days, such as Thanksgiving or Christmas, attract more than 100 for the menu of turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, succotash, pumpkin pie and coffee.

April 24 is another special day at the mission. It was on this day in 1934 that Rev. and Mrs. Walter S. Hart opened the doors of the City Mission. These doors have never been closed a night in almost 25 years.

The Harts were converted to missionary work in 1913 by the late evangelist, Billy Sunday.

Rev. Hart passed away in 1944. Before his death he asked Rev. Albert H. Heinz to assist Mrs. Hart in the operation of the mission.

Mrs. Hart has continued as superintendent and cooks all the meals. Rev. Heinz has directed the financial operation since 1945. He serves without remuneration for his many long hours.

Rev. Heinz is pastor of the West Second Avenue Presbyterian Church and chaplain for the Columbus Police Department.

It takes from $500 to $600 for monthly operational expenses at the mission. So remember that Christmas is a time of thankfulness and giving.

Leach Files Last Brief In Hoermle Court Challenge

City Attorney Russell Leach Friday filed the final document to be submitted prior to a Jan. 8 hearing before the Ohio Supreme Court on William P. Hoermle's right to sit on city council.

Leach filed his reply in the suit challenging Hoermle's right to the council chair. Hoermle has been serving as an active member of the council since his appointment although Leach ruled prior to the appointment that Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner has no right to fill the vacancy.

Leach, representing County Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine, indicated in his brief that he felt the court would be limiting council's appointing power if it upholds the appointment.

Meat consumption of civilians in 1959 is expected to be slightly above the 152 pounds per person this year. Prospective increases will be almost entirely in pork, say Ohio State University Extension economists.

Those Less Fortunate Aided By Volunteers Of America

Who are the forgotten ones at Christmas?

That is of greatest concern to the Volunteers of America right now, according to Major Harriet McDonald, of the 379 W. Broad-st agency.

Receiving special attention are families of sick and unemployed, the destitute and lonely who have no homes or loved ones, the socially and physically handicapped, and the wives and the children of men in prison.

The West Side agency announced it will provide Christmas dinner to all who come on Christmas day from 12:30 to 10 p.m.

Other activity will include a Christmas musical for the men in the Volunteers' rehabilitation program, baskets of food for shut-ins, toys for needy children and Christmas boxes for men in penal institutions.

The national social welfare organization is dedicated to year-round aid to needy persons.

Need For Practical Nurses Exceeds School's Supply

NUTRITION — Preparation of nutritious, well-balanced meals, an important factor in any illness, is included in the school's study course. Charlotte Westrip and Thelma Smith take their turn at the range.

Nursing Field Offers Opportunities In Hospitals, Clinics, Private Duty

A dignified, well-paying profession in the time-honored field of nursing is now within the reach of many who once were denied the opportunity.

Practical nurse School, 1414 S. High-st, accepting women from 18 to 50, has the endorsement of hospitals and physicians.

Directed by the Columbus Board of Education in cooperation with affiliating hospitals, the school accepts any woman who qualified with its standards.

Columbus' tremendous hospital expansion program and the resulting demand for more and more trained nurses opens an unlimited field of opportunity for trained practical nurses.

Demand for their services by hospitals, clinics, and physicians is far ahead of the school's supply of graduates.

Paid at the scale of approximately three-fourths that of the registered nurse in the same work situation, a graduate practical nurse invests only a fraction of the time and cost in her training program.

The year-long course of study includes 17 weeks of pre-clinical training at the school and 33 weeks at affiliating Columbus Hospitals. During the eight-months clinical period, each student is paid $75 a month by the hospital.

A vacation of two weeks is also provided during the year.

Study course includes general nursing, body structure, conditions of illness, community health, human behavior, family living, nutrition and pediatrics.

A graduate, practical nurse, working under the supervision of a registered nurse, or physician, is capable of performing many services to the sick once that once were the responsibility of registered nurses only.

Her position in a hospital, clinic, physician's office or private duty in a home, conserves the technical skill of registered nurses, freeing them for more demanding assignments.

Information is available from the director of school.

Barrett Scores Over Hilltonia, Champion Teams

Barrett Junior High School won over Champion Junior High School in basketball Tuesday, Dec. 16, and over Hilltonia Junior High School Thursday, Dec. 18.

In the Champion game, Barrett scored first basket and kept the lead. Champion was a threat until the middle of the third quarter, when Barrett won a strong lead which was kept until the game ended. Final score was 51 to 36.

Champion's play was good. Burke, of Champion, rebounded, set up plays and scored 22 points of his team's 36.

Barrett showed much better all around team play than heretofore. Gerald Martin led in securing rebounds. Bell and Gaulke were close to Martin, and Bell and Martin led in scoring. Guards Burford and Wilson did very fine floor work, moving the ball to teammates who were in position to score. The win was definitely a team project.

In the Hilltonia game Barrett took an early lead and kept it. Bell led in rebounding with 11 rebounds, followed by Gaulke with seven. The scoring was as follows: Gaulke 14, Bell 13, Wilson eight, Martin five, and Burford two. Overall team play was adequate.

Barrett plays a non-league game at Roosevelt Tuesday, Jan. 6, and a league game with Starling Thursday, Jan. 8.

Pilgrim Holiness Church Plans Revival

The Pilgrim Holiness Church, located at the corner of Oakwood and Kossuth, will hold revival services nightly at 7:30 p.m. beginning Monday, Dec. 29, continuing through Sunday, Jan. 4. Rev. Charles Williams, will be the guest evangelist.

The pastor, Rev. Jacob Swisher, welcomes everyone in the community to these services. Special singing will be featured every night.

11 'Money' Prizes In Today's Ads

Misfortune of last week's South Side Leader winners last week means the increased good fortune of today's winner. No claimants on last week's "Confederate" prize money increases the value of today's jackpot insignia to $40.

The usual ten $1 insignia, also included on ads in ten other copies of the newspaper gives ten more readers a chance to cash in on the "Confederate" money game.

Insignia, printed in brightly colored ink, are stamped by hand in 11 copies of each week's issue.

They are always placed in full view on an ad and are never hard to find.

Lucky newspapers may be redeemed at the South Side Leader office, before 5 p.m. Friday.

Any merchant advertising in the current issue of South Side Leader will accept Confederate currency at face value in payment for any items in his store.

Crushing Retort

First Chorine (quarreling in dressing room) — Not only that, but you get uglier every day.

Second Ditto — Another thing that I can do and you can't.

REV. SCHLUER TO SPEAK

'YOU THINK YOU GOT TROUBLES!'

THIS WOEFUL looking "hungover" Basset presents a preview of what many of his people-friends will look and feel like tomorrow morning. The alcoholic Saint Bernard who used to "lush-it-up" on television's "Topper" show, has nothing on this Basset that demands one highball daily from his master, Herb Erwin. His name is Copper Duke and he recently completed his championship when he took top honors in a show at Marion, O. Now a youthful 18 months old, he can manfully point to more than 100 pups which he has sired.

South Side Riot Brings Orders To Get Tough

Columbus police were told Friday to "use all measures necessary to ward off attacks" including gunfire, following a vicious gang riot at Stone's Grill, 601 E. Livingston-av, early Christmas morning.

The police were given the instructions at a meeting with police officers, Safety Director Leo Phillips and Mayor Sensenbrenner after Sgt. Robert Brush was backed against a wall and beaten by at least eighth persons in their late teens and early 20's Thursday at the Grill. Some 25 other persons stood by and watched.

Mayor Sensenbrenner, enraged over the gang warfare said he also "wants the judges to give these kids the works. There's nobody who is going to take law and order into his own hands." He said an investigation of the grill will be held as witnesses to the riot told the attacked policeman that the bartender did not place a call to police for help until five minutes after the fight started. Then, the call was "only to send a police ambulance." When the ambulance arrived on the scene they quickly summoned 20 other policemen.

Seven arrests were made including the arrest of Roy E. Duke, 64 E. 11th-av, who has a record of six arrests on various charges since his discharge from Boys' Industrial School last spring. Duke was described by police as the brawl leader. Sgt. Brush says Duke met him with "a sucker punch" as he went to the back door of the grill to investigate reported trouble in the parking lot. Duke was charged with assault and battery.

Another 18-year old, Rowland E. Slaughter, 3967 Robins-st, Grove City, was also arrested on a charge of inciting a riot and resisting arrest. Both teenagers pleaded not guilty, and were placed under $1500 bond. Their cases will be heard Jan. 9.

A third teenager, Robert E. Pellce, 19, of 77 E. Seventh-av, failed to appear to face the same three charges and a bench warrant was issued to bring him in, after Municipal Court Judge Henry Holden declared his $1500 bond forfeited.

Five other persons pleaded not guilty to a charge of inciting a riot. Bond was set at $500 each, and their cases will be heard Jan. 9 also. Persons charged are Mrs. Doris Grant, 29, 642 E. Rich-st; Raymond W. Creamer, 23, 1057 E. Whittier-st; Alvin K. Anderson, 23, 393½ S. High-st; Sam E. Pearson, 19, 513 E. Rich-st; and William H. Hodge, 22, of 513 E. Rich-st.

New Traffic Regulations Confuse Local Motorists

By Ray Shaffer

This week, while driving in the South Side, three different motorists racked up a total of $40 in traffic fines in the short period of just 15 minutes.

Their misdemeanors were all part of the new parcel of traffic regulations that went into effect in this area nearly three months ago. Police are fining motorists when they disobey these laws, so perhaps a review of these regulations will save some driver from making a $10 or $20 "gift" to the Columbus Police Department.

Here is what they did: one driver ignored one of the new "Yield the Right of Way" signs — fine, $10; another made a left-hand turn on to Parsons-av from the right-hand lane of a one-way street — fine, $20; the third motorists made a left-hand turn at a signalized intersection where the turn was prohibited — fine $10.

The third violation is unforgivable in the eyes of the traffic officer. The first two however, are perhaps less familiar to motorists.

What They Mean

The "Yield" signs are new and differ from a stop sign in that a motorist need not bring his car to a complete halt, but may coast through the intersection if the way is clear. Many drivers knowing this, don't stop and don't slow down but race through an intersection with nary a look right or left, despite the "Yield" sign.

A motorist need not yield the right-of-way to the driver approaching on his right if that person's car is regulated by a "Yield" sign at that intersection. Therefore, if an accident results, the motorist who ignored the "Yield" sign will pay the damages plus the $10 fine!

The ten new one-way streets in the South Side have not caused any serious trouble according to police. However, it is still no rarity to see motorists traveling the wrong way in a one-way street here.

Several motorists have been surprised however, when

Sept. 11 — Traffic commissioners Tuesday approved the conversion of 10 South Side streets to one-ways, as well as left-turn bans on Parsons-av, and 7 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. parking bans on Parsons. The Council of South Side Organizations met last Thursday and elected new officers with Howard Henry named as the new chairman. South High School reports on its five new faculty members.

Sept. 18 — Mayor M.E. Sensenbrenner announced Tuesday his support of South Sider William P. Hoermle, Sr., for the vacancy on city council, created by the death of Council President W. Wesley Llewelyn last week. The Optimist Club of South Columbus urges high school students not to quit before graduating. The new Mothers of Twins Club held its first meeting Aug. 20, boasting a number of South Side members.

Sept. 25 — Prizes are now waiting for winners in the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Contest. United Appeals announced its plans to seek $3,428 from small businesses in the South Side. A group representing the South Side was on hand Monday at city council to suggest William Hoermle as a possible candidate for the council vacancy. Councilmen deadlocked in a vote between an East Sider and a North Sider. Hartley Newspapers' Football Guessing Contest is announced today.

Oct. 2 — One-way streets, left-turn bans, and parking bans on Parsons-av will go into effect Monday on the South Side. Sale of the Terrace Gardens housing project near Benjamin Franklin Hospital to the Metropolitan Housing Authority seems to be pending a transportation survey. City council deadlocked Monday for the second time in trying to fill its vacant seat. Mayor Sensenbrenner warned councilmen he will fill the vacancy himself if council fails to do so in 30 days.

Oct. 9 — South Siders this week are trying to adjust to the new traffic regulations which went into effect Monday morning. If Mayor Sensenbrenner carries through his previously announced intentions, William Hoermle will gain a council seat when city council reconvenes Oct. 20. Billy Wanner, 940 Oakwood-av, won the bicycle in the Hartley Newspapers' Carrier Boy Contest, recently concluded.

Oct. 16 — Mayor Sensenbrenner's threat to fill the city council vacant seat still remains uncertain as tension runs high for next week's city council session. Rev. Carl Mulkin, pastor of South Church of Christ, was named president this week of the South Side Ministerial Association. Lincoln Memorial Hospital is announced as formally open.

Oct. 23 — The South Side Business and Industrial Association's big annual auction sale will be held tonight. William P. Hoermle was appointed by Mayor Sensenbrenner Monday night to fill the seventh city council chair. However, the Ohio Supreme Court may be asked to rule on the legality of the appointment. The Columbus Maennerchor will celebrate its 110th anniversary Sunday. South High

English Brides, Parents Club Spans Ocean In Togetherness

"Together Again" is the title of the Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association's official newspaper and truly represents the purpose of this unusual club exclusive to British-born subjects.

The Columbus branch, founded in 1957 by an East Sider, boasts more than 40 active members now. South Sider Mrs. James W. Armstrong, of 902 S. Front-st, was the local group's first president. Mrs. Frances Bray, formerly of Hilltop, now living in the North Side, is the club's president now.

Mrs. Jocelyn Kirkendall, of 1209 Maetzel-dr, Bexley, with the aid of Mrs. Kathleen Light, founded the Columbus branch a little over a year ago. Most of the members were formerly active in the Overseas Wives Club but decided they would get more out of an organization designed strictly for British subjects.

After World War II, many English women who had married American soldiers and were living in the United States, became homesick for England and their families. Roundtrip fare to England or to America, for either the bride or her parents, was too expensive to permit the relatives to get "together again" very often.

The Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association was founded in London in 1946. Operating as a large group, members could receive sizeable discounts on plane and steamship tickets. A member saves about $100 on a roundtrip fare by plane and a little less by steamship.

Annual conferences, regular branch meetings, frequent visitors from "home," either America or England, and a club newspaper have helped members span the ocean with "togetherness."

The newspaper is filled with correspondence from branches in all parts of America, England and Canada. Meetings of the London club and the branches are all faithfully reported with just an occasional "dear old England" thrown in for flavor. Birthday and anniversary remembrances, cooking recipes, cartoons and club pictures also add to the "together again" spirit of the paper.

The local club meets four times a year at present. Plans for future trips to England are discussed and past journeys rehashed. Often a visitor from England drops in to a meeting and "how are things at home" becomes the main topic. Of course, only British refreshments are allowed!

Present club officers include Mrs. Bray, president; Mrs. Mary Hamilton, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lillian Pitt, membership secretary; and Mrs. Nancy Belcher, publicity.

LETTER FROM HOME—The founder and first president of the Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association look upon the club's publication, "Together Again," as practically a letter from home. Mrs. James W. Armstrong, left, of 902 S. Front-st, the first president, joins in her reading with Mrs. Jocelyn Kirkendall of 1209 Maetzel-dr, the Columbus branch's founder.

The Gadabout

Priscilla LaRue Lonas
HI. 4-1051

New Year's Day has many meanings to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Dohrman Frye, 1660 S. 4th-st. This year, the year's first day is also the 25th wedding anniversary of the Frye's and will be celebrated with an Open House at the residence, from 2:30 to 5 p.m. All friends are cordially invited, for no formal invitations have been issued.

In addition to the silver anniversary, Mr. Frye will be celebrating his birthday. Robert Frye, the couple's son, also has a January One birthday. Shirley Jean Beck, the Frye's daughter, nearly made the January 1st circle, for her natal day is Dec. 26.

Mrs. Beck will be the hostess for her parent's Open House, assisted by Mrs. John Bowers. Mrs. Frye's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Badot, of Clarksburg, W. Va., will be among the out-of-town guests who will be present at the festive affair.

While talking to Judy (Mrs. Frye, more formally speaking) we decided that this is one family that strives for as few "dates" as possible. Judy's birthdate is June 24, which is now the birthdate of the first grandchild, a date which Dohrman's sister also shares! Such timing . . . having all events on two dates only, and those six months apart!

Two families turned to northern Ohio for post Christmas family reunions . . . the Itskins and Ikehorns. The Itskins, of 1713 S. 3rd-st, visited relatives near Celina, O. The Ikehorns, 212 Welch-av, travelled a little further north, to Toledo, O.

Cheery cards would be appropriate for "Grandma" Johnson, 1708 S. Pearl-st, who did a "Humpty-Dumpty" down 11 steps, so doesn't feel very chipper these days.

1959 Birthdays

These kiddies celebrate birthdays in the Holiday Season . . . Richard Gaulke, 1267 City Park-av, Jan. 3; Evelyn Crego, 1422 S. 3rd-st, Jan. 2; James Burchette, 1384 S. 3rd-st, Jan. 5; Terry Bradley, 245 Southwood av, Jan. 4; Darrell Hughes, 1649 S. 3rd-st, Jan. 6; Charles O'Neill, 46 Southwood-av, Jan. 2; Roy Cassady, 17 E. Innis, Jan. 3; Robert Bean, 1353 City Park, Jan. 1; Larry Clear, Jan. 3 and Jane Smith, 34 W. Hinman, Jan. 6.

Due to the paucity of news at this wonderfully hectic time of the year, ye Gadabout has to resort to notes in her Christmas cards . . . this first one I think we mentioned previously, but we'll include it again. Harold and Clara Hirschman, who had lived at 265 Innis-av, will now be residents of the Keystone State. A promotion for Harold caused the move. We're glad for the family, but Columbus is the loser!

Ingrid Rausch is now in New York State with her mother, Isabelle. For Isabelle's friends who may not have her address, it is 85-40 161 St., Jamaica, N.Y.

Rosella Williams, who had lived on Frebis-av for years, is among the convalescents this holiday season. She had just returned home from an operation at the time her card was sent. (We'll miss her when "Cap" plays Heidelberg . . . we have to root against one another, as her son Joel is on Heidelberg's basketball team, and our interest lies in Cap's well-being.)

A cute little note from Mrs. Homer Doty, long-time Bruckner resident, told us about 84 degree temperatures in Temple City, Cal., and flowers in bloom, seven and eight foot tall. She said rain was needed . . . ye Gadabout is all for shipping some of our precipatation out west. Anyone want to join me in the donation?

Here we thought that George and Jayne McGraw were still on Whittier-st, and waddya know? They live in Canal Winchester. Their daughter, Polly, will be a full-fledged Practical Nurse, in February, and their son Johnny, who has been a G.I. since last March, is now in Korea. He has been through radio and electronics school at Ft. Knox, prior to his overseas duty.

June Robertson, who practically single-handedly formed the South Unit of the League of Women Voters, and was active in Lincoln Park PTA and the Camp Fire organization, wrote her "annual" note to tell us she is also a "Leaguer in Framingham, Mass. Her little one, born after the Robertsons moved from Moler-st, is a boy. He has been named Andrew. Anne and Jeff are learning to ice-skate.

Our Christmas exchange of notes with Velda Brown, who was a neighbor on S. 4th-st, when our young'uns were still babies, tells us that daughter Joyce is mommy to two little ones, with Mr. Stork preparing to visit a few months hence. Larry, the Brown's oldest son, has a little boy, Chuckie, to make the family circle a little larger.

Beautiful Karen Kell, of Monterey Park, Calif., was expecting to be a Columbus visitor during the Holiday season. Her fiance planned to accompany the Kell family.

Listed in our "unusual" card category were those sent by these nice folks . . . . Ruth and Bill Sherard; Monroe and Nancy Courtright, who are depicted in an airplane, flying "Merry Christmas greetings," and hoping for a Banner year in 1959; Rev. and Mrs. Norman Schreiber sent a beautiful card from Toledo, O. Mayor Sensenbrenner appropriately sent a card with the statue of Christopher Columbus and a Greeting Key, from Columbus, O., the "Greatest City in the World." A card from an aunt, Aletha Bennett, a Californian, told us to look for her town's float in the Rose Bowl parade, so maybe someone will see it. The float she's helped to make is from Indio, Calif.

Two late December birthdays are those of Buss McCaffrey and Gene Schrader. Early January birthdays are those of Helen Branscome, 1789 Goethe-av, on Jan. 1; Joyce Black, 1700 Frebis-av, Jan. 5; Marge Hoptry, 280 Southwood-av, Jan. 6; Priscilla Lenox, Jan. 7.

Sixty-two years of wedded life were attained on Dec. 30, by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cordray, 908 Oakwood-av. The couple are parents of six children, who are: Elva Grove, Ruth Pontious, Carrie Marie McCray, Carl, William and Howard. They have 14 grandchildren and 34 great-grandchildren.

Congratulations to Bonnie Bower, 1254 S. Ohio-av, who will be installed as honored queen of Bethel 5, Joh's Daughters, in a ceremony at South Gate Lodge, Jan. 3, at 8 p.m. Other elected officers are: Joy Fischer, Linda Junk, Bonnie Brown and Judy Noble.

Southway American Legion Auxiliary Unit 134 will have a business meeting at the Post Home, 874 S. High-st, Friday, Jan. 2, at 8 p.m.

Congratulations to Lawrence E. Capehart, 330 Southwood-av, who recently donated his eighth pint of blood to the Red Cross, to become a member of the Gallon Club.

A well-deserved vacation is being enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Howard I. Fyler, who left Ohio on Dec. 20 for Florida. The couple will be home by Jan. 4, so they will be able to attend the PVA meeting at the Orient State Institute. This meeting will begin at 2 p.m. Mr. Fyler is the retiring president of the PVA. The new president of the group is Mrs. Carol Boyer, 1752 Frank-rd.

May we add a postscript to our Gifts for Giving? Our final contributing group was the Sunday School department of the Southwood Church of Christ. We called Mrs. Mart, the special services director of Benjamin Franklin Hospital, and the decision was made to give the lovely things to the children of the pediatrics section of the hospital. (There are 11 children hospitalized at B.F.H.) The nurse in charge of the little ones will use the gifts to replace the toys that get broken, etc. Mrs. Mart was pleased to think of getting the toys, for she said it would help to prolong the Christmas season.

And now, may we wish for all the readers, a happy, healthful 1959!

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR PARENTS

1. Be less liberal with your money and more liberal with your time.
2. Be firm but fair.
3. Make your house a home.
4. Don't cheat your child out of his most valuable birthright—to know God. This is up to you.
5. Teach your child with patience and understanding. Don't let him get mixed up because of you.
6. God gave you one of His greatest gifts—love. Use it.
7. Be a pal as well as a parent.
8. Furnish inspiration which requires perspiration.
9. Solve your problems around the family table. It's better than at the Juvenile or Divorce Court Bench.
10. The Bible says to your child, "Honor Thy Father and Mother," but it says to you, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Judge Ben Schwartz of Hamilton Juvenile Court gave the above "Ten Commandments for Parents" at the meeting of the Lebanon Business and Professional Women's Public Affairs dinner. They should be read and read and applied by every parent.

Judge Schwartz pointed out that delinquency today is not alone a big city problem but records show that it is growing in the smaller places and this is a point to attract the attention of us folks in this community.

Judge Schwartz is as dedicated a man in his work with youth as any we have ever known. He has a story that should be told and impressed on every parent, or any citizen for the benefit of his neighbor's child. (Reprinted from The Lebanon Western Star).

Here's the Answer

Couple Marks Golden Wedding On Christmas

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Davis, now of Linden, gathered with members of their family Christmas Day not only to honor the true spirit of the day but also to mark their 50th wedding anniversary.

The celebration was held at the home of their daughter, Mrs. George Miller, of 1203 Innis-av. Their other daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Scheiderer and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crego, were present with their children.

This busy Christmas Day, with all the usual merriment and activity, was combined with the "golden" memories of the afternoon of Dec. 25, 1908, when the couple were married at the home of Mrs. Davis' mother, the late Mrs. Elizabeth Pierce, at 557 E. Mithoff-st.

Mrs. Davis recalled that their wedding day was an extremely busy one as Christmas dinner was served to guests and friends following the 2 p.m. ceremony. "Time flies by so fast and we've had so many happy years together," added Mrs. Davis.

Much of their happiness has stemmed from raising their three daughters and sharing the joys of six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A cabinetmaker by trade, Davis has been associated with the Teachout Sash Door and Glass Co. for 14 years. An inlaid table and several other pieces of Davis' own handiwork grace their home although now, at the age of 70, he doesn't do much extra work at home.

To make up for the wedding trip they didn't take 50 years ago, after their daughters were married, the Davis' have made five trips to Florida, have seen Yellowstone National Park and other United States points of interest.

BIBLE COMMENTS:

Basic Tenets Of Hebrew Faith Noted

Two basic facts, always present in the mind, attitude and outlook of all the Hebrew prophets, must be constantly borne in mind by those who would understand more fully their writings.

The first fact:

The prophets' strong and basic belief in God's call to Israel as a chosen people.

This choice was not inevitable, nor was it nonforfeitable.

It was established in a covenant, and a covenant is a two-party agreement.

The prophets of the Exile period, such as Jeremiah, told in stern and realistic terms of how Israel had broken that covenant, in failing to recognize God's call by their ways of idolatry, and their disregard of righteousness in personal life and in social injustice.

Integrity and purity of worship were constant themes. Worship was not a matter of formal sacrifice, but of right living, and of justice and mercy, man with man.

The second basic fact:

Israel's situation in the midst of the great pagan empire of the ancient world.

Egypt was always to the south and some great, pagan power to the north, east and west. The fear of invasion was great, the danger of entangling alliances with one or other of their powerful neighbors always a possibility, and with it all the deeper danger of corrupting forces destroying the moral and religious integrity of Israel.

Those basic factors appear constantly in the prophecies.

New Year's Resolutions Listed For Sportsmen

Making and breaking resolutions has become the standard way of starting a new year. Perhaps all resolutions are not as easily broken as television comedians would have us believe. In any event, the very fact that we make resolutions indicates that we want to do better.

The sportsman gets a lot of free advice just before the hunting and fishing season on how to conduct himself while afield. The day before he goes hunting or fishing, however, is too late to learn about safe gun handling, boat safety, gentlemanly conduct, or any other "lesson." The true sportsman lives his way of life the year around. So, now is the time to start—not next spring or next autumn.

With an attempt not to sound superior or preachy, we have compiled a list of New Year's resolutions for the sportsman. It is certainly not a complete list, but you can add whatever you think should be included. I will:

1. Take a boy or girl hunting and fishing this year, and expose him to the wonderful outdoor world.

2. Make farmer friends throughout the year, and be of some real assistance to them in return for the chance to hunt and fish on their land.

3. Obey all game laws and encourage my friends to do the same.

4. Join a sportsmen's club and work to help the cause of conservation at the local level—where I do my hunting, fishing, and boating.

5. Follow the state and national conservation picture, and make my opinions known to elected and appointed officials.

6. Help a youth group with firearm safety training, and boating and water safety too.

7. Encourage teachers and school administrators to teach conservation in classrooms everywhere, so that the adults of tomorrow will know that our very livelihood depends on our resources.

8. Be a good outdoor companion, and not complain if the creel or game bag is not full or if the tent leaks. I will add to the pleasures of my outdoor friends, and will be welcomed along on any juant afield.

9. Enjoy other outdoor sports this year in addition to hunting and fishing. This includes boating, camping, hiking—and that relaxed feeling that comes from just being out in the open.

10. Always conduct myself as a gentleman. This means I will operate my boat in a safe and courteous manner, will be a safe and sportsmanlike fisher and hunter, and will always conduct myself as a guest when on other people's property.

An applicant, a young lady, sought work as a stenographer.

Employer: "How do you spell Mississippi?"

Applicant (undaunted): "The river or the state?"

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs Estelle B. Franks

Fruits — Citrus fruit, bananas, apples, Emperor grapes.

Vegetables — broccoli, celery, lettuce, potatoes, acorn squash, turnips.

Other Foods — ham, chicken, chuck roast, eggs, dairy eggnog, ice cream, nuts, dates.

EATING COSTS VARY

Families planning food budgets for the New Year often ask how much money to allow for food. In these inquiries they usually report the size of the family, but not the ages of family members.

Because food needs vary so widely at different ages, age is an important consideration in estimating how much you should spend. Though it is often said that growing boys eat more than their fathers, and elderly people eat less than those who are younger, more definite information on food costs as related to age is needed for successful budgeting.

Food costs increase with age up to 20 years, then decrease, according to recent research studies by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. To illustrate, food economists used average country-wide prices for August, 1958, to estimate that, on a moderate-cost plan, feeding a three-year-old boy costs $4.50 a week compared to $11.50 for a 16-year-old boy, and $8.50 for a 75-year-old man. These estimates were based on home meals, not "eating out."

The cost of feeding children at any age under 12 years is the same for boys or girls. Over 12 years, boys and men need more food than girls and women of the same age, and thus their food costs are higher. It costs about a third more to feed a 16-year-old boy, on the average, than to feed a girl of the same age, according to these estimates. Next to the teenage boy, a man of 35 to 54 years averages highest in the cost of foods.

Other factors such as food preferences and special diets also affect the amount you spend for food. However, a table of averages does give some basis for comparison. If you would like a copy of a table showing "Estimated Cost of One Week's Food," with a breakdown for individual members by ages and activities, address your request to us at Room 317, Old Post Office Building, Columbus, or call CA. 1-6411, Extension 454.

EXPERIENCED ADVICE

"Well, my dear, said a businessman who had married his secretary, "I must get someone to replace you at the office."

"I've been thinking of that," replied the bride. "My cousin is just leaving school."

"What's her name?"

"John Henry Briggs," said the bride."—Montreal Star.

City Code May Be Gift To Schools By Council

A resolution will be drawn up soon by City Clerk Russell Drake asking City Council to donate 200 copies of the city code to Columbus schools. The code becomes obsolete Feb. 1 when a revised version comes off the presses.

Drake said the code, which contains the basic laws of the city, would be of value to classes studying government operation.

OUTWORN DEVICES

The trail of business progress is littered with the debris of outworn management devices . . .

Plans, systems and concepts have a rate of obsolescence just as does a piece of machinery . . .

Originally serving appropriate purposes, they tend to become encrusted with habit and tradition to a point where they actually become deterrents to fresh thinking.—M. P. McNair.

Where They Come From

Some people seem to have opinions that have been in their families for generations. — W. O. W. Magazine.

Phillip Stout Will Head Kiwanians

Phillip Stout

Between 400 and 500 representatives from Kiwanis clubs all over Ohio will flock to Columbus Monday, Jan. 5, to witness the installation of their state officers.

A Columbus man, Attorney Phillip V. Stout of 2494 W. Broad-st, will accept the gavel of Ohio District governor for a one-year term. The program will start with a dinner in the main ballroom of the Neil House at 7 p.m.

Hosting the affair will be the Hilltop Kiwanis club, of which Stout is a charter member and past president. He holds a 12-year perfect attendance record.

The new governor will be installed by Kiwanis International Trustee Harold O. Danner of Cincinnati.

Stout is the third man from the service organization's Tenth Division to be elected statewide governor. The division includes clubs in Columbus, Lancaster, Newark, Circleville and Grove City.

In addition to installation of lieutenant governors, 18 new district project appointees will be introduced. Among Columbus men named by Stout are Jay C. Flowers, public and business affairs; E. J. Wihl, inter-club relations; and Desso T. Mitchell, Dallas convention chairman.

Stout will preside over 264 service clubs flourishing in the state. In his 13 years of Kiwanis activity, he has held two state chairmanships and served as a lieutenant governor of the Eighth Division.

In other work he has held top positions in the Columbus Recreation Commission (on which he served for 10 years); the Hilltop Community Council and Hilltop Business Association.

He is a member of city, state and national bar associations, Westgate Masonic Lodge; Ohio Chapter No. 12, Royal Arch Masons; Scottish Rite, Aladdin Temple Shrine and is immediate past president of the Hilltop Shrine Club.

The installation ceremony Jan. 5 is being arranged by Ed Schaedler, outgoing president of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Deadline Three Weeks Off For Buying Pooch License

Deadline for the purchase of a 1959 license for your dog is only three weeks away, and Thomas C. Justice, general manager of the Humane Society of Columbus, issues a reminder that all dogs three months of age or older are required by law to have a license and to wear it at all times.

For the convenience of dog owners in outlying districts, humane officers will have applications for licenses at the following locations beginning Friday, Jan. 2:

Licenses may still be purchased at the Animal Shelter, 2770 Groveport-pk, or from the office of the County Auditor in the Court House. They may also be obtained by sending to the County Auditor:

1) The fee of $2.00;

2) A full description of the dog giving sex, breed, age, color, markings, long or short hair;

3) A stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

Deadline for 1959 licenses is Jan. 20, after which date a penalty of $1.00 will be assessed.

Toll-Free Calls Extended To All County Villages, And West Jeff

The Public Utilities Commission has approved a new schedule of rates for the Ohio Bell Telephone Company in Columbus and Franklin County, calling for increases in basic monthly rates and adjustments in other charges which partially offset the increased rates.

The new rates are effective Jan. 1.

The new schedule enlarges the Columbus base rate area to eliminate two rate zones on the city's perimeter. This brings more than 5,800 subscribers, who formerly paid zone differentials, under the same rates that apply in the city proper.

The commission also approved Ohio Bell's proposal to eliminate extra charges on calls between Franklin County communities. Also, West Jefferson is added to the calling area, and the same basic rates will apply there as in Columbus.

Columbus rates will continue to apply to the exchange areas of Alton, Canal Winchester, Dublin, Gahanna, Grove City, Groveport, Harrisburg, Hilliards, New Albany, Reynoldsburg, Westerville and Worthington. However, each of these communities will be able to call, without charge, all of the other towns as well as Columbus and West Jefferson.

J. Philip Gibbs, District Commercial Manager of Ohio Bell, stressed this method of calling. "Customers in these communities should continue to dial the same points they do now. In addition, they can now reach the other Franklin County communities and West Jefferson without charge, by dialing "Operator," who will complete the call for them. Page 3 of the Telephone Directory Information Pages shows the communities, plus West Jefferson, that can be reached without charge as a result of this latest PUCO order."

The commission order increases the charge for individual residence lines by 80 cents per month to $5.50. Two and four party residence service is increased by 55 cents per month to $4.40 and $3.85 respectively.

In business service, an individual flat rate line will be increased to $16.55 while the new rate for measured business service will be $8.25, with the charge for additional calls over the monthly allowance upped from 4¾ to 5¼ cents. But at the same time, the monthly allowance is increased from 85 to 90 calls.

In addition to eliminating zone differentials, eliminating extra charges for calls between Franklin County communities, and adding West Jefferson, the new schedule contains several other provisions which will work to the telephone subscriber's benefit. It will:

1. Reduce rates for station-to-station long distance calls over 64 miles within the state, and increase rates for most short-haul long distance calls and person-to-person toll calls.

2. Eliminate charges on most special type telephone cords.

3. Eliminate the $3.30 installation charge per residence telephone and substitute a flat $4.75 charge on visits to the subscriber's residence regardless of the number of telephones installed or moved. As currently, repair and maintenance visits will be made without charge.

The new rates also include a 10-cent increase to 95 cents a month for residence extension telephones, as well as boosts in charges for PBX switchboards, mobile service in vehicles and in other special service offerings.

The new rates approved by the commission represent a 40 per cent cut-back in the amount of the increase originally sought by Ohio Bell last February.

Christmas Seal Sale Falls $42,000 Short In 1958

Sale of Christmas seals by the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County fell $42,000 short of the $200,000 needed for operation in 1959.

It was announced last Wednesday that $152,000 had been received from the sale, which furnishes the society's entire budget.

Last reminders were mailed by the society between Christmas and New Year's to those who delayed their contributions.

The fiscal year begins Apr. 1, and money received before then will be credited toward the sale.

The society's Christmas seal finance program includes free chest X-rays, health education programs conducted primarily in the schools, rehabilitation of patients, and medical research in tuberculosis.

The society plans to launch its first mass-skin-testing program—using the needletype Mantoux test—early next year.

Ohio Bell Urges Customers To Fight For Repeal Of Tax

Ohio Bell Telephone Co. is calling on its 1,650,000 customers to throw their weight behind the fight for repeal of what it calls the unfair 10 per cent federal excise tax in telephone service paid by all telephone users.

In the January issue of the company bill insert, "Hello," Ohio Bell urges its subscribers throughout the state to "write your protests to your congressman," pointing out that telephone service is the only household utility singled out to bear the tax.

Beginning the last week in December and continuing through the first three weeks in January, the company publication will tell the story of how the tax was begun as a temporary war-time measure to provide funds and restrict general use of the telephone during the emergency. But the "temporary" emergency tax has been continued through the years.

The tax does not apply to electricity, gas or water. It's a tax in the same class as the federal taxes on such luxury items as furs, jewelry, liquor and night clubs.

"The government needs money," the company said, "but the revenue should be obtained in a manner fair to everyone and not through a discriminatory burden on you as a user of a recognized necessity like telephone service."

Ohio Bell collects over $20,000,000 a year from its customers in excise taxes and turns this over to the U. S. Government. This is in addition to the $52,000,000 paid by the company in corporate taxes.

Dec. 31 Final Day To File Request For Korean Bonus

Today is the final day for filing a valid Ohio Korean Bonus application.

When post offices throughout the world set their postmark devices to read, "1959", any eligible claimant who has not already filed an application will have lost his right to do so under Section 2c Article VIII of the Ohio Constitution, Director C. W. Goble of the Korean Conflict Compensation Fund, explained today.

He urged applicants to file completely filled out and notarized claims before the deadline even though they may not be able to include all necessary supporting documents, which can be obtained later on.

Eligible living veterans must have been a resident of the State of Ohio on the first day of active duty within the compensable period — June 25 1950 to July 19, 1953 — and for one year prior to such first day of active duty. Surviving wife or husband may be eligible as next-of-kin of veterans who were residents of Ohio as stated above. Eligible next-of-kin includes any surviving children if there is no surviving spouse of a deceased veteran. If there is no surviving spouse or surviving children, surviving mothers and fathers — including parents in "loco parentis" may be eligible.

Service officers in each county of Ohio, in each State of the United States and at military installations throughout the world were sent application blanks March 11, 1957.

Since that time more than $58 million has been paid to some 222,684 living veterans and 4,282 next-of-kin through today, Goble reported.

Of the total $58,374,656.24 paid, Goble reported that $27,572,682.78 went to veterans of the Army, $16,295,718.20 Navy, $13,491,463.44 Air Force, and $1,014,591.82 to next-of-kin.

The 4,282 checks sent to next-of-kin were to settle 2,977 claims.

Nearly 229,000 claims have been filed to date. More than 6,000 claims were received this month.

Claims on hand and still unpaid are being examined further to resolve legal questions of eligibility, Goble explained.

Life is prattle, rattle, tattle, then battle.

Fellow Hunter Writes To Rod

December 24, 1958

Dear Rod,

"I would like to take this opportunity to commend you on your feature in this week's Eastern Review — "Rabbit Hunting, etc."

You have expressed a feeling which I very often get while in the fields hunting. I doubt very much if there are many hunters in the fields today that can capture a feeling of closeness to nature — and to me this is one of the best feelings a hunter or any person can have.

Merry Christmas and many happy hunting days."

Sincerely,
Albert C. Mansfield
87 Beechcreek-rd.

P.S. I'm having pheasant for Christmas.

Ohio Real Estate Taxes Double, Franklin Is Fifth

State Auditor James A. Rhodes, judging by reports given to him, announced recently that taxes collected on real estate and public utility and property in the 88 counties in Ohio have more than doubled in the past seven years.

Tax settlement sheets filed with him by county auditors showed a total of $542,003,300 was collected this year, said Rhodes. This was an increase of almost $57 million over collections in 1957 and compares with $264,375,744 collected in 1951.

The collections totaled $29,186,586 in Franklin County this year as against $20,633,548 in 1957. Franklin, standing third in the state in county population, was fifth in tax collections. It was surpassed by Summit County with $32,009,966, and Montgomery with $30,020,083.

South Sider Completes Parts Specialist Course

Pvt. Morton I. Freedman, son of Harry Freedman, 714 Wagerst, recently completed the seven-week parts specialist course at the Army's Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga.

Freedman was trained in record keeping, item identification and in the application of Army supply and storage practices to signal equipment.

He entered the Army last June and completed basic training at Fort Benning, Ga. The 23-year-old soldier is a 1954 graduate of South High School. He attended Ohio State University.

GROUND IS BROKEN FOR SOUTH SIDE'S NEW $150,000 FIRE STATION

ADDED SAFETY—More extensive, modern and improved fire protection for the South Side was started late in October as ground was broken for the new fire station to be constructed at the northwest corner of Southgate-dr and Parsons-av, at a cost of around $150,000. The structure is slated for completion by May 1, 1959.

$100,000 CHURCH ADDITION IS ANNOUNCED

ST. PAUL TO EXPAND—St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church, Stewart-av at Bruck-st, announced plans early in June to build a $100,000 educational unit addition in the near future. The new unit is to contain six large classrooms, an assembly room, a lounge and an office. The pastor, Rev. John O. Lang, announced at the time, that $55,000 had been collected in the building fund.

OPTIMISTS AID SOUTH HIGH GRIDDERS

OPTIMISTS IN DENTAL TRAINING — Early in September, the Optimist Club of South Columbus, a new group in this community, joined forces with dentists of the South Side to provide protective mouthpieces for the members of South High School's football team. Applying latex to the plaster-like casts are: left to right, Henry Pfaltzgraf, Stan Owens, chairman of the project; Jim Welch, a student in OSU's Dental College; John Miklos, vice-president of the club, and Jim Kraner, president.

WHO PULLED THE PLUG?

SUMMER'S END—Larry Joe Perry of 1635 S. Champion-av, was very disgruntled to find that even though good weather persisted, someone had pulled the plug at Crystal Swimming Pool, signifying the end of summer.

CAP Speakers Talk To Amateur Radio Members

"Communications and the Civil Air Patrol" is the topic to be discussed at the meeting of the Columbus Amateur Radio Association on Friday, Jan. 2, in the cafeteria of the Central YMCA, at 8 p.m.

Major William Savage, Director of Communications, and Lt. Joseph Holbrook, Information Services Officer, both of Group 8, Ohio Wing of the Civil Air Patrol, will be the principal speakers. They will explain the operation of the Civil Air Patrol with emphasis on the importance of communications.

Major Savage will also describe and demonstrate some of the equipment used.

Party Planning Aids Now Ready At Local Library

Planning parties is a perennial problem, and especially so at this time of the year. Party planning can be easier and the results more successful with the help of books from the Parsons Branch Public Library.

A number of excellent books are available at the library which cover all aspects of party planning. Books like "A Good Time At Your Party" by Fisher, "The Seventeen Party Book" by Seventeen, and "The Complete Book of Party Games" by Van Rensselaer, tell all you need to know about giving a successful party.

Youth must be served—and carried out.

HOERMLE NAMED TO COUNCIL

FINALLY MADE IT!—William P. Hoermle, Sr., was no doubt one of the most controversial persons in Columbus news in 1958. His appointment to City Council by Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner in October, is still shaky and comes before the Ohio Supreme Court soon. Here, he smiles when he received word from the mayor of his appointment.

Traffic Regulations—

they received a traffic fine for making a left-hand turn from a one-way street on to another thoroughfare. The reason they were fined was because they made the turn from the right side of the one-way street probably from habit of driving on regular two-direction streets.

According to our city law, a motorist must make a left-hand turn from a one-way street from the extreme left side of that street. Failing to do so is called an "improper left-hand turn" and carries a price tag of $20!

Traffic Studies

When the one-way streets, Parsons-av parking and left-hand turn bans, went into effect Oct. 6 this year, police were lenient with violations for a while. This is not the case now. Various traffic problem studies are being carried on in the South Side and motorists are more likely to be caught in their errors.

One-way streets are not "through" streets. Unless an intersection is protected by a traffic signal, stop sign or "yield" sign, whether or not a one-way street is involved, a motorists must always yield the right-of-way to the car approaching from the right, it is reminded.
